Savings Assn. Sues to Stop Davis St. Plan

Village and Bank Named Defendants

The village of Arlington Heights and the Arlington Heights National Bank, presently at odds in court, are now being sued jointly by a third party, the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Assn.

The controversy centers around the bank's plans for expansion of its present facilities at the corner of Campbell Street and Dunton Avenue.

There the simplicity ends in a battle which dates back more than a year and has consumed hundreds of hours in attempts at compromise and agreement.

The savings and loan association, located across the street from the bank at the corner of Campbell and Evergreen Avenue, filed suit in Circuit Court Monday seeking to have an agreement between the village and the bank declared void.

THE AGREEMENT, signed in May of 1963, provided for vacation of Davis Street between Evergreen and Dunton and deeding over to the adjacent bank in return for construction of Commuter Street by the bank and subsequent deeding to the village.

But the agreement also included certain restrictions on development of the Davis Street area once it passed into hands of the bank—and here the controversy arose.

When the village refused to approve development plans for the bank property, several attempts were made at compromise. Arlington Federal entered discussion as an adjacent property owner.

Differences arose over plans for construction of four drive-in windows across the Davis Street area, and over subsequent plans to build a second story over the drive-in windows.

WHEN THE village finally approved an order vacating Davis Street in the single block, it was made conditional upon several factors including a nine-foot height limit on the windows—excluding any second story.

Then the bank sued the village, claiming that the conditions spelled out in the vacation ordinance were contrary to the original May agreement. The court was expected to rule this week in favor of the bank, but that is not the end.

While the village contemplates an appeal to reverse the Circuit Court decision, and is still seeking a possible compromise from the two-story drive-in addition contemplated by the bank, the second suit further complicates matters.

The village and the bank, still at odds, would be put in the position of court allies against the savings and loan association.

OFFICIALS OF the savings institution claim that their main concern is traffic congestion in the central business district which would be caused by vacation of the Davis segment and substitution of drive-in access.

In addition, they contend that the bank proposal is not in keeping with the Downtown Plaza Plan, most recent of redevelopment plans for the business area.

A third prime factor, and perhaps the most important, is the proposed second story over drive-in windows extending into Davis Street, which would block view of the savings institution from several high-traffic areas.

The second story is also planned to sport a billboard-type sign reading "Arlington Heights National Bank" on both sides.

IN EFFECT, the new suit is an attempt to put the whole matter back at its beginning, but one problem looms large: Commuter Street has already been constructed at bank expense in compliance with the May agreement.

Neither village officials nor officials of the Arlington Heights National Bank had received formal notification of the new suit at press time, but the action was tied by all parties to previous attempts by the savings institution to intervene in the village-bank suit.

The association's petition to intervene was denied at that time.

3 Named To Village Plan Board

The Arlington Heights Plan Commission was brought up to full strength with three appointments confirmed by the village board Monday.

The appointments were made, subject to board approval, by Village Pres. John G. Woods, and submitted by letter in Woods' absence from Monday's meeting.

Included in the appointments was Nick C. Barkulis, whose first term on the plan commission expired in April of 1963. Though his term had expired, Barkulis sat on the commission through the entire year before reappointment.

NEW MEMBERS are O. V. Anderson, 701 S. Walnut, appointed for a term which expires April 30, 1966; and Carl K. Schmidt III, 1825 N. Kaspar, for a term expiring in April, 1969.

Barkulis' new term will expire next year. The short terms are those left by two resigning members—Mathew J. Brost and Robert D. Chodera.

2 Inches Of Rain In 3 Hours

Nearly two inches of rain in a three-hour period Tuesday night was recorded on the rain gauge atop the Arlington Heights Fire Department's northside station.

A resident's gauge in the west side of the village recorded more than two inches in the same period, 10:55 p. m. to 1:25 a. m. The short storm caused minor street flooding throughout the village.

Gas Station Owners Picket Auto Wash on Price Cutting

Pickets—looking like a union force but representing management of several Arlington Heights service stations—Tuesday night turned away a gasoline delivery truck from another station they accuse of selling gasoline "below cost."

In a confusing scene after a full day's picketing of the Arlington Auto Wash, 900 W. Euclid Ave., members of the line first told police their protest was not connected with any union, and later called forth cards of Teamsters Local 705 to halt the truck driver attempting to cross.

Arlington Heights police were called to the scene, but during the half-hour incident from 10 to 10:30 p. m. they acted primarily as mediators.

The picketers insist that sale of gasoline at the auto wash for 25.9 cents a gallon, plus sales tax, is "uneconomic" and "un-American" because it is lower than their wholesale price "together with rent, utilities, insurance and labor costs."

BUT SEVERAL other stations in the northwest suburbs are selling gasoline at the same per-gallon price, and the Northwest Firestone Store in Arlington Heights was still selling gasoline Tuesday for 25.9 cents per gallon.

Signs advertising the low price at the Firestone Store, 630 W. Northwest Hwy., were removed Tuesday, but owner Jack Walsh said he would keep the 25.9 price unless the auto wash changed.

Carlo Pecora, one of the owners of the Arlington Auto Wash, commented Tuesday night that he does not intend to change his prices.

He said that, though one gasoline delivery truck was turned away, he will still be able to pump gas from reserves and does not anticipate that more trucks will be turned away.

POLICE ALLOWED pickets to stand in the way of the Phillips "66" delivery truck Tuesday night on the basis that several of the picketers hold cards in the Teamsters Local 705—union for both service station attendants and gasoline truck drivers.

Picketers would not comment though, on whether they have any authorization from the union for the strike; and while they stopped the driver Tuesday members of the same union were working in the picketed station.

In a leaflet being passed out to the public at picket lines, the members were identified only as "businessmen and service station operators in Arlington Heights."

Pecora insisted the men were simply grievance picketers, not strikers from any union; and that the delivery truck had simply stopped because the driver did not want to hit any of the pickets standing before his cab—not because he did not want to cross a union line.

WHILE THERE was no union representative at the scene, a representative of the Gasoline Retailers' Association was present. Virgil K. Horath, a local gasoline dealer for more than 30 years, stated that the association is an authorized bargaining agent, and that union members will not cross an association picket line.

Pecora complained that in his opinion, "It is against the law to dictate price to anyone." He said the price he now advertises has remained fairly constant over the last year and a half o fthe station's four and a half years at the present location.

He and Walsh both said the complaining group had only been talking of picket action for a few days before it began. Persons on the line were supplied, though, with lettered apparel commonly worn by union pickets.

The marchers continued around the clock Tuesday night through torrential rains, and were still on the scene Wednesday. "We will continue until we dry him up unless he talks to us," Horath said.

Contract Given for Paving in Park Manor

Despite a motion that all bids be refused, a contract was awarded last week by the Arlington Heights Board of Local Improvements for construction of streets in Park Manor subdivision totalling nearly one-half million dollars.

Allied Asphalt Paving Co., with a bid of $479,582.36, received the contract after a motion by Harold Klingner to reject all bids died for lack of a second.

Klingner commented that it was the first time in his seven years on the board that he had seen bids come in so close, and that it seemed more than coincidence.

Of five bids on the paving project, including three alternate types of surface, the spread between low and high bidders was less than $7,000.

BOARD MEMBER Russell Colvin commented that he did not think the similarity of bids was "mere coincidence," but added that it seemed more practical to accept the Allied bid than to take a chance on re-advertising.

All bids were below engineers' estimates on the cost of the special assessment work and, according to the board's attorney, any re-bids on the project would have to be below the first low bid in order to meet state approval.

Engineers also advised that there would be an advantage in getting installation of storm sewers — a part of the paving project — under way in conjunction with installation of sanitary sewer and water mains in the area which has now started under a separate contract.

The giant special assessment project, in two contract sections, was designed to allow development of the major portion of Park Manor subdivision, now lying vacant.

A report to the improvements board by William W. Townsend of Consoer, Townsend and Associates, consulting engineers, at last Thursday's meeting states that the paving portion of the Allied contract is to be done primarily between May 1 and Sept. 1, 1965.

APLICATION of the final asphalt surface is to be deferred until May, 1966, to allow for settlement of fill used in installation of sewers and water mains beneath the streets.

Townsend recommended the asphalt paving bid by Allied over an alternate concrete pavement because of the settling problem, which would be aggravated by construction trucks during anticipated development of the area.

Under a redevelopment plan for the area, south of Northwest Highway at the east edge of the village, part of the original housing tract has been rezoned for business, and part for apartments.

Hoped to Join Mt. Prospect

Mount Prospect's plans to annex a large tract of land south of Golf Road, east of Goebbert Road and west of Meier Road if it were extended, were ruined by a recent annexation of the property by Arlington Heights.

The land is commonly referred to as the Curtis Farms property. Salvatore DiMucci, a Mount Prospect builder, discussed his plans for the property during a secret meeting with the Mount Prospect village board about two weeks ago.

DiMucci, who has built several apartment projects in the village as well as Elk Ridge Villa, a subdivision, presented a plat to the board indicating his desires to erect about 19 acres of single family residences and 8 acres of multi-family dwellings.

DI MUCCI'S PLAT also indicated some business was planned for about 4½ acres. The property is slightly larger than 34 acres.

During the secret meeting, DiMucci told the board memebrs he desired a unanimous vote from the board on the proposal or there would be no deal. He was told the unanimous vote would not be forthcoming.

DiMucci told the board he would bring Pesche's florist business into Mount Prosepct with the Curtis Farms annexation. However, Pesche has since asked Arlington Heights for annexation. A sign in front of the business states: "Pesche's Florists of Arlington Heights."

The annexation by Arlington Heights was involuntary on the part of the owner, option holder or developer. The village long ago annexed land to get water and sewer service for then newly constructed Forest View High School.

At the time DiMucci, who owns a private water company, was hoping to sell water to the school.

FOLLOWING the original annexation, a group of property owners objected and filed suit. The group had been involuntarily included in the annexation.

Subsequently the annexation was remanded for reconsideration by the court, but the village began procedures anew, taking a different path to the school, omitting the more vocal of the objectors.

In addition, the Curtis Farms property was tacked onto the annexation for a two-fold reason according to John G. Woods, Arlington Heights village president.

The main reason was to comply with an agreement signed and ratified by Arlington Heights and still on the table in Mount Prospect, that Meier Road would be a common boundary between them.

MOUNT PROSPECT has never signed the agreement.

The second reason was to upgrade the development in the area.

The minimum lot size for a single family residence in Arlington Heights is 8,750 square feet, but developers are commonly required to plan even larger lots. Mount Prospect allows a minimum of 7,200 square feet. DiMucci's plat calls for the 7,200 square feet figure.

Although news of the pending deal was kept from residents of Mount Prospect, Arlington Heights village officials apparently knew of the proposed development and began wondering how to tell the former village that the land was in Arlington Heights.

A MAN, WHO identified himself as an employe of DiMucci, asked for a plat of the annexation from Arlington Heights but was unsuccessful.

The news was broken to the village board without any action by Arlington Heights, however.

Trustee Frank Bergen, who says he is an avid reader, noted the annexation story in the Arlington Heights Herald and Tuesday night reported on it to the board.

Said Bergen: "About two weeks ago we had a meeting to discuss a proposal about the Curtis Farms. Well, if you keep a pending file like I do, I just thought I'd pass it on that you can remove this item. Arlington Heights annexed it and Forest View high School about Sept. 7 or 8."

Parker Ekren, chairman of the judiciary committee, said he had read of the annexation in a Chicago newspaper and added "It wasn't clearly written and I couldn't tell if Curtis Farms was included or not."

EKREN ASKED Village Manager Harold G. Appleby to get a plat of the annexation and Appleby said he would try.

Village President C. O. Schlaver, after the meeting, said DiMucci had an option to buy the land and had discussed briefly putting single family residence, some business and a small area of multi-family residences on the property.

Schlaver said DiMucci had made no application for annexation of the property. He confirmed the proposal was made by DiMucci during the meeting two weeks ago and that DiMucci made the unanimity statement.

Schlaver also said "Frankly, it looks like Sal has worked himself into a box this time."

Planners Okay New Downtown Zone Law

A second high-rise zoning classification for Arlington Heights — this time for commercial and apartment structures up to 90 feet in the central business district — received unanimous approval by the plan commission last week and was passed on to the village board for consideration.

The continued public hearing at which the ordinance draft was brought into final form Wednesday, Sept. 16, drew only three citizens to the audience.

But the contemplated high-rise zoning of the downtown ordinance, and previously passed zoning for a ring of apartments up to six stories around the central district, are viewed by village officials as a major key for redevelopment of the area.

THE APARTMENT ordinance, an R-6 zoning classification, also passed quietly through the hands of the plan commission, but was approved over a wall of homeowners' opposition by the village board.

The plan commission is in a position only to recommend passage of any zoning law — not to pass it; but the great majority of working and reworking on such ordinances is generally done by the commission.

The downtown class, tagged B-5, is to be considered by the village board at its next regular meeting, Oct. 5.

As the draft goes to the board, it permits both apartments and commercial uses singly or in combination within buildings in the downtown area — bounded by State Road, Sigwalt Street, Vail Avenue, and St. James Street.

BUT A bonus is offered in terms of building density if developers place at least some commercial use in the structure. The bonus was planned primarily to keep a solid bank of commercial use on the ground floor of buildings in the central area, with apartment units limited to upper floors.

Required lot area per apartment unit rises sharply for buildings which would contain no commercial use — from 450 square feet to 750 for an efficiency unit, and from 900 to 1300 for a two-bedroom unit. Other jumps are proportionate.

The ratio of floor area in a building to lot area is held to 3.5 in strictly residential buildings, while there is no limit for buildings containing commercial uses.

Front, side and rear yards are required only for residential uses in the ordinance draft, and when such use begins at an upper level of a building, the setback must begin there too with the exception of front setback.

COMMERCIAL uses allowed in the proposed B-5 class are a combination of those now allowed in the village's two most restrictive commercial categories — B-1 and B-2.

These uses range from small retail operations to new car sales agencies and hotels, but drive-in restaurants are excluded specifically.

In going back to the village board for consideration, the B-5 ordinance draft will actually be returning to its point of origin. First draft was prepared by Village Atty. Jack Siegel at the request of the board, then referred to the plan commission for revision. (AF

Spots Still Open In Night Classes

Many adult evening classes are still open for registration in the High School District 214 program.

Still accepting registrants are the high school credit courses, travel and adventure series, great books, dog obedience, driver education, first aid, know your car, humanities, bridge classes, shop courses (except upholstery), safe boating, men and women's physical education, golf, fencing, foreign language, some business courses, and a few others.

Most of the sewing classes, floral arrangement and interior decorating classes are closed, due mainly to an extremely large mail registration.

THE COLLEGE credit courses offered by extension from Northern Illinois University, University of Illinois and National College met for the first time this week but will still accept late registrations.

Other adult evening offerings will meet for the first time next week.

It is anticipated that when the final registrations are tallied, close to 3,000 adults will have signed up which will mean that the program has continued to grow. This has been true since the program's inception 15 years ago, Director W. L. Randle pointed out.

Anyone interested in registering for one or more of the offerings in the adult program is invited to call CLearbrook 2-1700. (ACM-EG

Planners Okay New Downtown Zone Law

A second high-rise zoning classification for Arlington Heights — this time for commercial and apartment structures up to 90 feet in the central business district — received unanimous approval by the plan commission last week and was passed on to the village board for consideration.

The continued public hearing at which the ordinance draft was brought into final form Wednesday, Sept. 16, drew only three citizens to the audience.

But the contemplated high-rise zoning of the downtown ordinance, and previously passed zoning for a ring of apartments up to six stories around the central district, are viewed by village officials as a major key for redevelopment of the area.

THE APARTMENT ordinance, an R-6 zoning classification, also passed quietly through the hands of the plan commission, but was approved over a wall of homeowners' opposition by the village board.

The plan commission is in a position only to recommend passage of any zoning law — not to pass it; but the great majority of working and reworking on such ordinances is generally done by the commission.

The downtown class, tagged B-5, is to be considered by the village board at its next regular meeting, Oct. 5.

As the draft goes to the board, it permits both apartments and commercial uses singly or in combination within buildings in the downtown area — bounded by State Road, Sigwalt Street, Vail Avenue, and St. James Street.

BUT A bonus is offered in terms of building density if developers place at least some commercial use in the structure. The bonus was planned primarily to keep a solid bank of commercial use on the ground floor of buildings in the central area, with apartment units limited to upper floors.

Required lot area per apartment unit rises sharply for buildings which would contain no commercial use — from 450 square feet to 750 for an efficiency unit, and from 900 to 1300 for a two-bedroom unit. Other jumps are proportionate.

The ratio of floor area in a building to lot area is held to 3.5 in strictly residential buildings, while there is no limit for buildings containing commercial uses.

Front, side and rear yards are required only for residential uses in the ordinance draft, and when such use begins at an upper level of a building, the setback must begin there too with the exception of front setback.

COMMERCIAL uses allowed in the proposed B-5 class are a combination of those now allowed in the village's two most restrictive commercial categories — B-1 and B-2.

These uses range from small retail operations to new car sales agencies and hotels, but drive-in restaurants are excluded specifically.

In going back to the village board for consideration, the B-5 ordinance draft will actually be returning to its point of origin. First draft was prepared by Village Atty. Jack Siegel at the request of the board, then referred to the plan commission for revision. (AF

LWV Rings Doorbells For $800 Action Fund

League of Women Voters members, seeking $800 to finance LWV service projects during the coming year, have been ringing doorbells and knocking on office doors all week.

Their finance drive began Saturday, Sept. 19, the last day of Women Voters Week, and will continue until the money the League needs is raised.

"We hope to be able to wind our drive up in a couple of weeks," commented Mrs. Ralph Waterhouse of Mount Prospect, financial chairman for the LWV.

She said public response to League appeals so far has been quite encouraging. Many donations were received by LWV workers who called on prospective donors last weekend.

"Timing the drive to follow Women Voters Week," Mrs. Waterhouse said, "has really been a help. It has pointed up the many ways the League of Women Voters serves this northwest suburban area and illustrates the many services our money underwrites."

"All our voter service projects are carried out by members, who are volunteers," she added, "but we still need money for paper, printing and training aids. A major part of the $800 we're seeking in the current finance drive goes for such materials."

TYPICAL OF League citizen service projects is last week's registration effort. Some 3,000 reminders, listing places where citizens could register, were passed out at locations in the five communities this League serves.

They were given to commuters at Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights suburban stations, passed out in booths at Randhurst and Rolling Meadows shopping centers, and made available in stores and banks in Wheeling, Elk Grove Village, Mount Prospect, Arlington and Prospect Heights.

Other leaflets, telling new residents how to apply for Illinois' special Presidential ballot for newcomers, were also made available by the League. It proved so popular that Mrs. Donald Krezek, voter service chairman, had to have the information sheet reprinted — and she still ran out.

Other voter service projects that will be supported by contributors to the League include candidates' questionnaires on the House at-large election and other elections in November and next year, reprinting of the LWV's Voter Information Guide listing local governmental boards and their members, and the new League Speakers Bureau which local groups may book without charge.

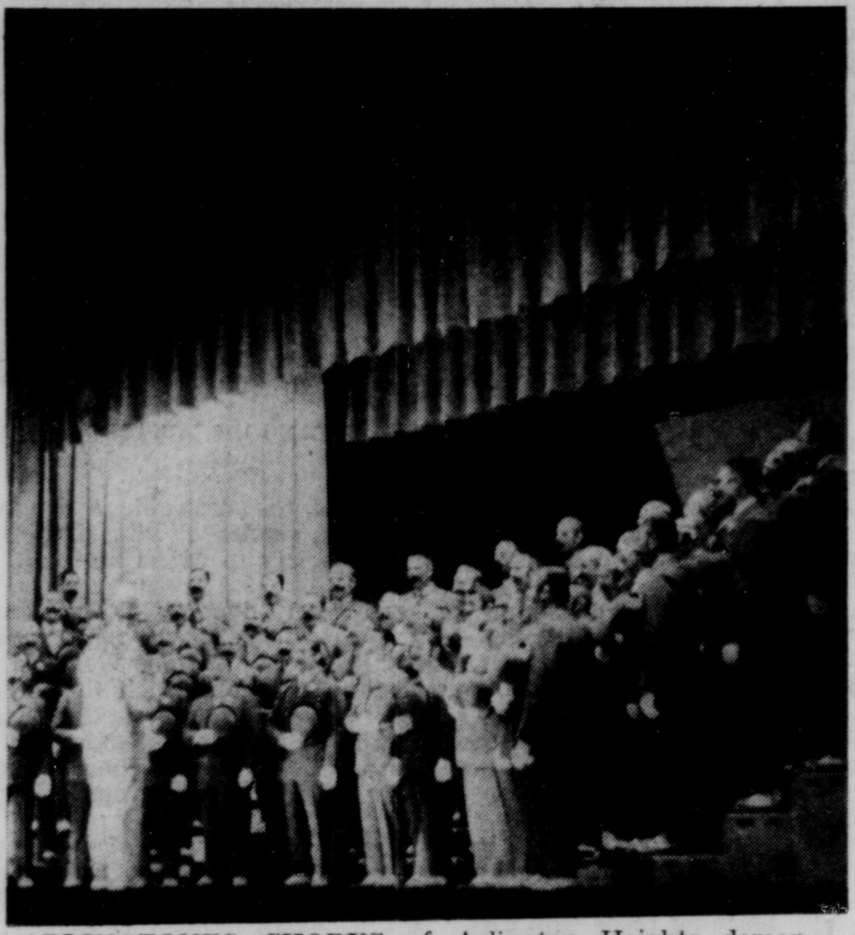
Arlingtones Win State Chorus Title



ARLINGTONES CHORUS of Arlington Heights demonstrates form which brought second Illinois District championship in competition at Rock Island last Saturday. (A

The Arlingtones, Arlington Heights barbershop chorus, won the Illinois District chorus championship for the second consecutive year Saturday in competition at the district convention of the Society for Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America (SPEBSQSA).

In addition, the Foursome quartet, made up of members of the Arlington Heights chapter of the international singing society, placed fourth in the quartet branch of district competition.

the chorus, directed by Earl Auge, took honors among 23 choruses competing and will again represent the district in international competition next summer.

Last summer, after special performances and record sales to finance a trip to the international convention in San Antonio, Tex., the chorus placed fifth among other district winners.

MEMBERS are hoping to better their international showing next summer with the experience of the previous competition behind them. Last summer was their first attempt.

Stan Myers, chapter president, accepted the championship trophy for the Arlingtones at the district sing, held this year in Rock Island.

Members of the Foursome quartet are still hoping to gain eligibility for the international competition, which depends in their category not on competition at the convention, but on a later quartet contest.

The international convention is to be held next June in Boston. (A

Variety Spices Park District Fall Program

THE MASTER SHEET, filled with events for the Arlington Heights Park District's fall season, brings smiles to the faces of the people who planned it, who note that there's hardly a space left. The planners are recreation superintendent Bill Appleby and his assistant, Miss Demmaree Sunkel. (A

From judo to millinery, the Arlington Heights Park District is offering a host of activities beginning over the next few weeks designed to interest every member of the community.

Registrations are open now for most of the fall activities, and the entry lists already include persons from age three to the ranks of the "Over 50."

Pre-school children from ages three to five may enroll at either the Hasbrook or Recreation Park playschool, where there are still vacancies.

The first playschool sessions at all parks begin Tuesday, Sept. 29, at 9 a.m. Mothers are urged to bring their children to the opening class in order to have any questions answered.

APPLICATIONS are being taken from local seventh and eighth grade students who are interested in the Junior High Dance Club. Ten lessons, two parties and a cavalcade are conducted by the Delores Eiler School of Dance.

Lessons will be held at the Recreation and Pioneer Park fieldhouses on the second and fourth Fridays of each month, beginning this Friday, Sept. 25. Classes meeting at Hasbrook Park, including Palatine area students, start Oct. 2 and continue on the first and third Fridays of the month.

Fee for the dance club is $13, and telephone registrations are accepted.

Judo lessons, taught by Richard Jankiewicz, will be offered for 10 weeks in the park district, beginning Oct. 1. Junior high students (6th-8th grade) will receive instruction at 7 p.m. and teens and adults will attend classes at 8:30 p.m. in Recreation Park fieldhouse. Course fee is $4.

Women interested in learning to dance their way to health, happiness and trim figures may enroll in the district's women's dancing class, again instructed by Delores Eiler. Charge for the eight-week session, starting Monday, Oct. 5, at 1:30 p.m., is $7.

Those enrolling will incorporate the fun and rhythmical routine of modern jazz, soft shoe and ballet with the convenience of supplied baby sitters.

Also beginning Oct. 5 is a square dance class instructed by Merrill Tibbetts. The 20-week course prepares most people to join the Swingin' Squares, Arlington Squares or Palatine Squares, local dance clubs.

Each couple pays $20 for the Monday night activity at Recreation Park. An advanced refresher course (eight weeks) is designed for those who may have forgotten steps and dances and wish to jog their memories. This session starts Dec. 28.

MILLINERY classes will be conducted by Mrs. William Esterquest at Pioneer Park. Time will be allowed for workmanship to supplement lectures in both beginner and advanced classes. There will be eight two-hour classes on Mondays, starting Oct. 5.

Children and teenagers may enroll in gymnastics classes, in which both the basic techniques and advanced methods will be taught on Monday evenings at Arlington High School.

Tom Walthouse, gymnastics coach for the high school, will be instructing grade school students from 7 to 8:30 p.m., and high school students from 8:30 to 10 p.m., starting Oct. 5 for an eight-week session.

The Sports Center at Recreation Park fieldhouse also opens for activity Oct. 5, and will remain open through April 2. Equipment is available for basketball, table tennis, shuffleboard, volleyball, volley tennis and table games. Students through high school age are encouraged to attend Monday through Friday.

Bridge lessons will begin on Tuesday evening, Oct. 6, at Pioneer Park. A continuous beginners' program has been scheduled to allow players to build up confidence and receive additional assistance. The 7:30 p.m. class is instructed by Chester Rumpf, a life master player.

In the field of dramatics, classes will be offered for both teens and children in local grade schools.

Teen Theater, with membership open to all 13 - to 18-year olds, will meet for the first time Oct. 6 at Recreation Park. Club members will decide on phases of the theater to be emphasized and on training desired.

PERFORMANCE of short plays and entertainment for other groups will be featured, under directorship of Mrs. Ann Hume, a member of Village Theatre. Dues will be charged on a monthly basis to assist in paying Teen Theater expenses.

For the younger set with an interest in creative dramatics, classes will be held from 3:45 to 5;15 p.m. every Tuesday at Pioneer Park. Fun and training for children in fourth through eighth grades will be coordinated with basic stage techniques, pantomime, and creative drama. Mrs. Hume will instruct the young performers for 12 sessions.

Also in the line of entertainment, the Arlington Heights Park District has extended its summer innovation of guitar lessons into a fall session, open to all persons 12 or over. Clifford T. Stewart, summer instructor, will again teach the 10-week class to be held at Hasbrook fieldhouse Thursday evenings at 7:30 p.m. Both beginner and advanced instruction will be given.

The park district's swimming season will also be extended through the fall, through use of the St. Viator High School pool. A revised father-son program enables all boys and their fathers to use facilities from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Thursdays, beginning Oct. 8.

Passes for 10-week sessions will cost $5, and nightly passes may be obtained at the pool. The activity is not restricted to Arlington Heights residents.

A Boy's Competitive Swim Club will also meet Saturday mornings at the St. Viator pool. All boys over seven years may receive instruction beginning at 9 a.m. Oct. 10 from Charles Mondi. Again the activity is not restricted to Arlington Heights residents.

The first session of tumbling and trampoline classes, to be taught at Pioneer, Recreation and Hasbrook Park fieldhouses, also begins Oct. 10. An hour is devoted to each class, and youngsters will be categorized according to ability.

CHILDREN ages 6-8 and just beginning are scheduled for 9 a.m. The 9 - 13 year old beginners will attend a 10 a.m. class, and advanced children will receive instruction at 11 a.m. Advanced students must be at least eight years old, and have taken at least one previous session.

Enrollment is limited in most park district activities, and the park district requests that registrations, when necessary, be early enough to assure space. (A

Brochure Mailed to Residents

A fall - winter - spring brochure outlining activities offered by the Arlington Heights Park District was mailed recently to every residence within the district.

Persons who have given thought to developing new interests or physical activities are asked to browse through the brochure in addition to the adjoining article and choose from the wide selection.

THE BROCHURE contains all necessary information needed to enroll in any class. To join any group or class, registration is imperative for all activities conducted on a fee basis.

Park district officials urge persons to sign up previous to the first meeting of any activity to avoid confusion and the possibility of exclusion.

All registrations and fees are handled in the park district office, located in Pioneer Park fieldhouse. Additional information may be obtained by calling the office, CL 3-0620. (A

Flower Arranging School Plans Show

The Chicago Misho Kai (Japanese flower arranging school) and Madam Seiho Arakawa will hold their annual fall exhibit of Japanese flower arrangements Oct. 11, at the McCormick YWCA, Dearborn and Oak Streets, Chicago.

Over 100 different and individual arrangements will be on display from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. These arrangements will embrace three basic styles, the classical and traditional Kakubana and Nageire and the more modern Moribana styles.

Demonstrations in arranging all of these styles will be given at 1 p.m., 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. Tea will be served. In addition, a movie of the tea ceremony will be shown preceding the demonstrations. A typical Japanese garden will also be on display.

Members of the Misho Kai living in this area are Mrs. Ralph Sundeen, 21 S. George St., and Mrs. Donald Gardner, 1002 Pendleton Drive, both of Mount Prospect, and Mrs. E. L. Trendel, 2701 Elayne Court, Arlington Heights. (ACM

Why Dance?

Dear parents:
Let us look into the benefits of dancing for the three year old.

1. It develops their powers of concentration.
2. It teaches them to take directions and to cooperate with a group.
3. It develops their powers of mental and physical coordination.
4. It develops the ability to remember.
5. It builds self-confidence and poise.
6. It gives them excellent pre-school training by providing a classroom situation in which the process of learning is taking place.
7. It serves to establish many of the desirable attitudes which the individual must learn sooner or later if he is to be an integral part of the society in which he lives.

These are the major benefits. If dancing did nothing more than this for the child, it would still be the most valuable contribution to his educational foundation. We firmly believe there is no other medium through which the child can be given so much for so little time, effort and money expended (only $7.00 per month) — in fact, we know of no medium other than dance instruction wherein these seven items listed above may be acquired by the very young child.

The teacher of 3 yr. olds must be a paragon of patience. She must also have a genuine liking for the cute little rascals, and be well versed in the very specialized methods of teaching these tiny tots.

Be assured that your tiny tot's teacher at any one of the Delores Eiler Schools of Dancing will be as described above. Be sure you select the proper school to start your precious little one's exciting journey to learning. A good start is so important.

Sincerely,
Delores Eiler

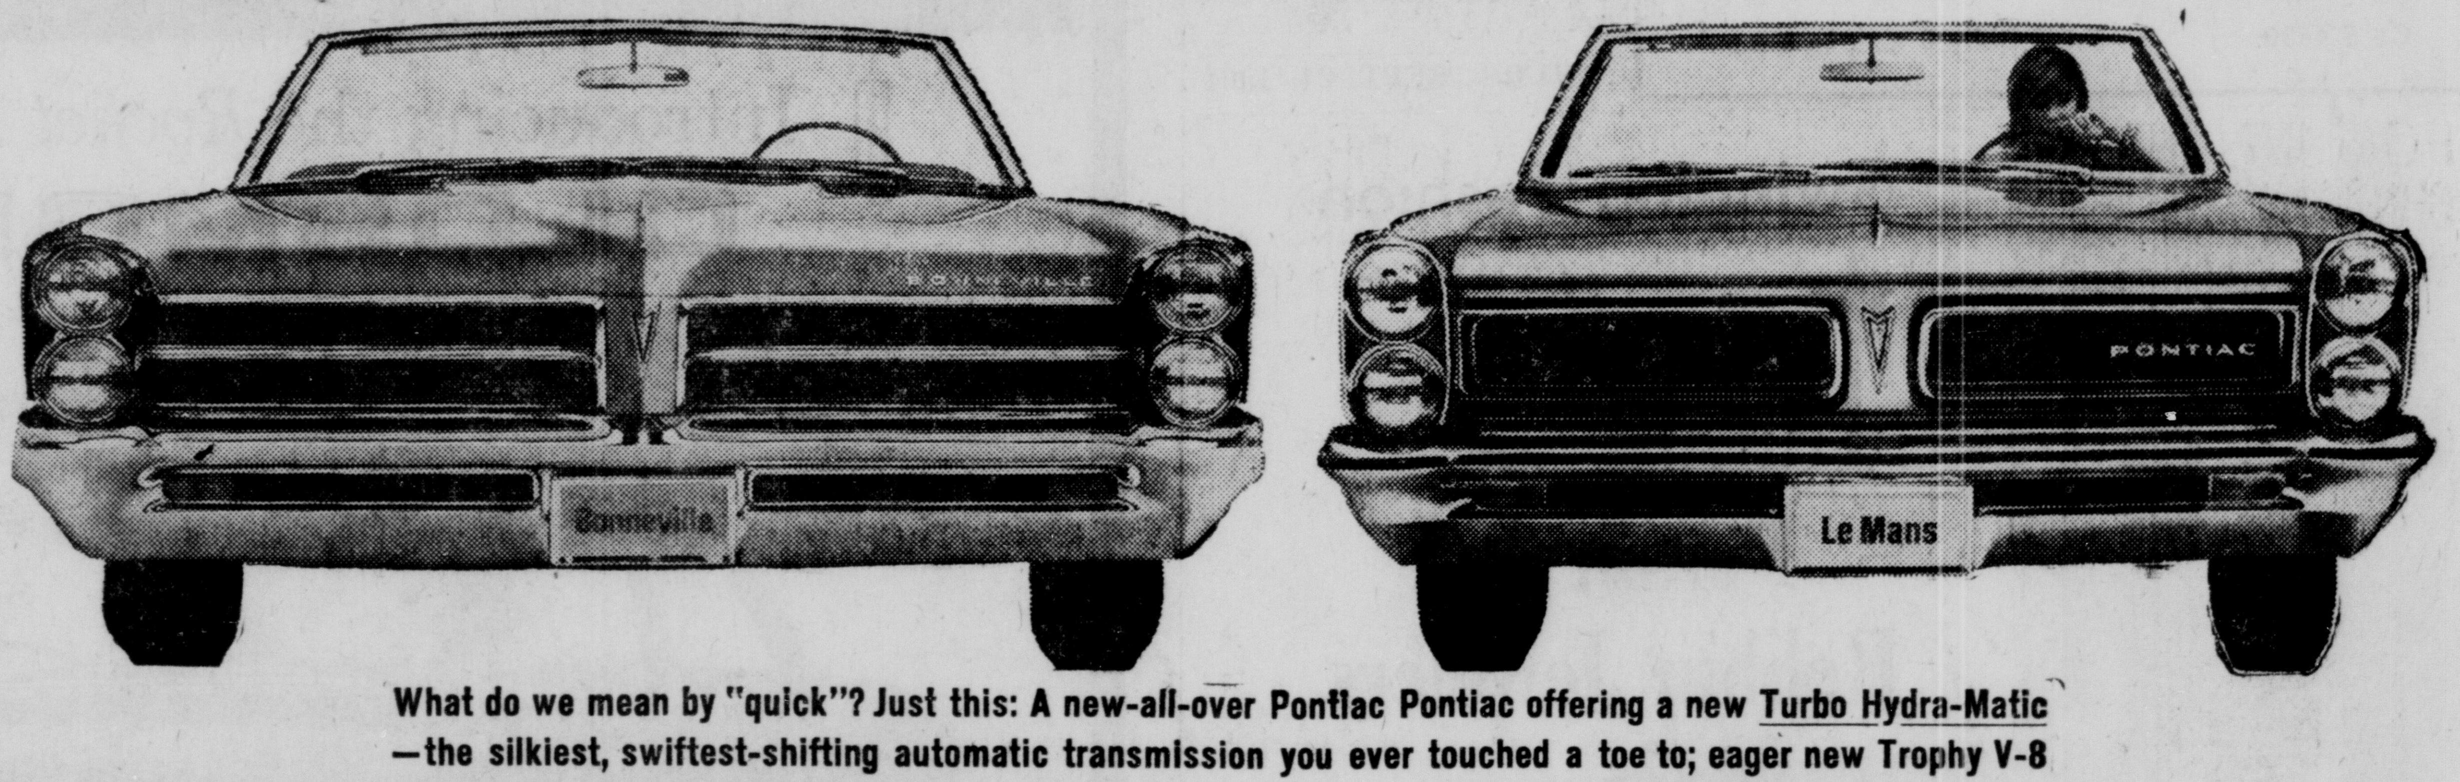
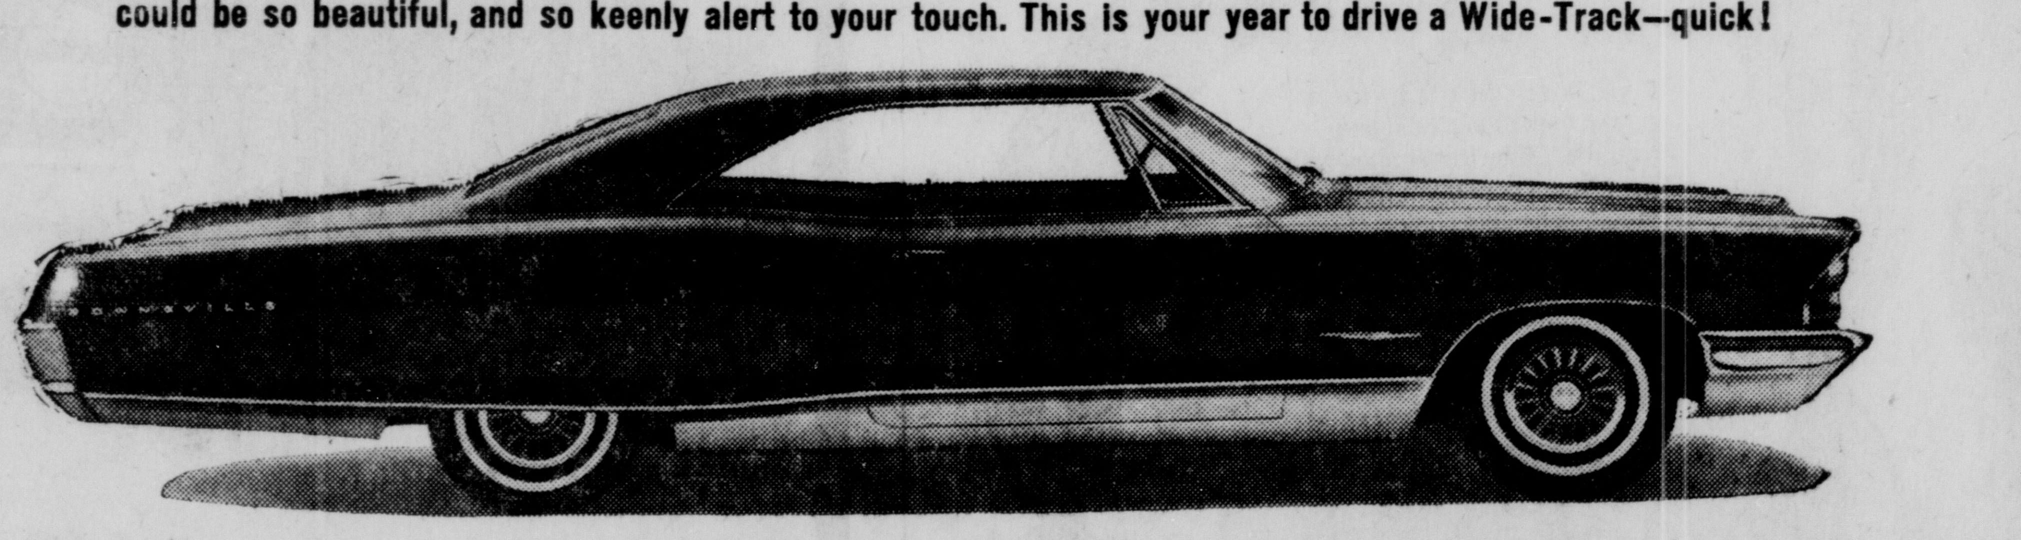
Today is '65 Pontiac Day.

1965: The year of the Quick Wide-Tracks



What do we mean by "quick"? Just this: A new-all-over Pontiac Pontiac offering a new Turbo Hydra-Matic—the silkiest, swiftest-shifting automatic transmission you ever touched a toe to; eager new Trophy V-8 power; new steering agility; a surer-footed Wide-Track ride. And a new Pontiac Tempest that's become even more of a Pontiac with new style, new length and Pontiac-quick reflexes to match. You never knew cars could be so beautiful, and so keenly alert to your touch. This is your year to drive a Wide-Track—quick!



'65 Pontiac Pontiac How does the success car outdo itself for 1965? Beautifully, just beautifully. But this Pontiac has no intention of getting by on looks alone, though it could. So there's new quickness, Pontiac style. A new nimbleness. New fuel savings. A smooth, easy new ride. Drive a '65 Pontiac and see how one success leads to another.

'65 Pontiac Tempest Tempest's even more of a Pontiac now, and what more could a car be than that! The '65 Tempest looks like a Pontiac, as you can see. Rides like a Pontiac on Wide-Track. Goes like a Pontiac, too: a 140-hp six is standard. Or you can get a quick V-8, up to 285 hp. You'll wonder how we can keep the price so low on so much car.

Variety Spices Park District Fall Program

From judo to millinery, the Arlington Heights Park District is offering a host of activities beginning over the next few weeks designed to interest every member of the community.

Registrations are open now for most of the fall activities, and the entry lists already include persons from age three to the ranks of the "Over 50."

Pre-school children from ages three to five may enroll at either the Hasbrook or Recreation Park playschool, where there are still vacancies.

The first playschool sessions at all parks begin Tuesday, Sept. 29, at 9 a.m. Mothers are urged to bring their children to the opening class in order to have any questions answered.

THE MASTER SHEET, filled with events for the Arlington Heights Park District's fall season, brings smiles to the faces of the people who planned it, who note that there's hardly a space left. The planners are recreation superintendent Bill Appleby and his assistant, Miss Demmaree Sunkel. (A

APPLICATIONS are being taken from local seventh and eighth grade students who are interested in the Junior High Dance Club. Ten lessons, two parties and a cavalcade are conducted by the Delores Eiler School of Dance.

Lessons will be held at the Recreation and Pioneer Park fieldhouses on the second and fourth Fridays of each month, beginning this Friday, Sept. 25. Classes meeting at Hasbrook Park, including Palatine area students, start Oct. 2 and continue on the first and third Fridays of the month.

Fee for the dance club is $13, and telephone registrations are accepted.

Judo lessons, taught by Richard Jankiewicz, will be offered for 10 weeks in the park district, beginning Oct. 1. Junior high students (6th-8th grade) will receive instruction at 7 p.m. and teens and adults will attend classes at 8:30 p.m. in Recreation Park fieldhouse. Course fee is $4.

Women interested in learning to dance their way to health, happiness and trim figures may enroll in the district's women's dancing class, again instructed by Delores Eiler. Charge for the eight-week session, starting Monday, Oct. 5, at 1:30 p.m., is $7.

Those enrolling will incorporate the fun and rhythmical routine of modern jazz, soft shoe and ballet with the convenience of supplied baby sitters.

Also beginning Oct. 5 is a square dance class instructed by Merrill Tibbetts. The 20-week course prepares most people to join the Swingin' Squares, Arlington Squares or Palatine Squares, local dance clubs.

PERFORMANCE of short plays and entertainment for other groups will be featured, under directorship of Mrs. Ann Hume, a member of Village Theatre. Dues will be charged on a monthly basis to assist in paying Teen Theater expenses.

For the younger set with an interest in creative dramatics, classes will be held from 3:45 to 5:15 p.m. every Tuesday at Pioneer Park. Fun and training for children in fourth through eighth grades will be coordinated with basic stage techniques, pantomime, and creative drama. Mrs. Hume will instruct the young performers for 12 sessions.

Also in the line of entertainment, the Arlington Heights Park District has extended its summer innovation of guitar lessons into a fall session, open to all persons 12 or over. Clifford T. Stewart, summer instructor, will again teach the 10-week class to be held at Hasbrook fieldhouse Thursday evenings at 7:30 p.m. Both beginner and advanced instruction will be given.

The park district's swimming season will also be extended through the fall, through use of the St. Viator High School pool. A revised father-son program enables all boys and their fathers to use facilities from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Thursdays, beginning Oct. 8.

Interracial Housing Is Topic for Panel

"Interracial Housing and Its Problems" will be the subject for a panel discussion when the Arlington Heights Community Council meets at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 29, at Pioneer Park.

The program is one of a series arranged by Community Council at the request of the Arlington Heights village board. The field of property values, effect on the community, and social implications, if any, after a community is integrated will be discussed.

The panel discussion will be followed by coffee, after which there will be a written question-and-answer period. The moderator will select and ask questions of the panel.

ROGER BURKE, past president of the Arlington Heights District 25 school board, will be moderator for the evening. Burke is also a past president of both Toastmasters and Little League. He has been a resident of Arlington Heights for 13 years.

The panel will consist of five members outstanding in their respective fields:

Eugene J. Callahan is the executive director of the Chicago Conference on Religion and Race. He is a graduate of Loyola University and has done graduate work in economics at Northwestern University.

He is a former human relations officer in the Civil Rights Services Department of the Chicago Commission on Human Relations, having worked particularly with the tensions of the changing neighborhood and police-community relations, and he has written mortgage studies on real estate transactions in racially changing neighborhoods.

Erwin A. Salk is president of Salk, Ward & Salk, Inc., a leading mortgage banking institution. He is the recipient of an M.A. degree from the University of Chicago, and is active in the Urban Renewal Committee of the Chicago Real Estate Board, the Forum Committee of the Evanston-North Shore Urban League, and the Robert R. McCormick Chicago Boys Club. He was formerly associated with UNESCO and the military government of Japan.

REV. ROBERT CHRIST is a graduate of McCormick University. He is a member of the professional staff of Presbytery and director of Presbytery's Commission on Religion and Race. He was formerly pastor of the Seventh Presbyterian Church of Chicago.

John A. McDermott is executive director, Catholic Interracial Council of Chicago and executive secretary, Chicago Conference on Religion and Race. He is a graduate of Villanova University and has pursued graduate study at both Georgetown University and the University of Pennsylvania.

McDermott has been associated with the National Conference of Christians and Jews, Philadelphia Commission on Human Relations, the Neighborhood Rehabilitation Program in Philadelphia, and was a specialist in Intergroup Relations for the FHA.

He spent the summer of 1960 in Africa on a work-study tour under the auspices of the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation, and is the author of numerous articles and pamphlets, such as "Helping the Panic Neighborhood."

WILLIAM MOYER is a member of HOME, Inc. (Home Opportunities Made Equal), associated with the American Friends Service Committee. HOME is a non-profit organization which provides services to buyers, sellers and neighbors who wish to live in an unrestricted community.

The Arlington Heights Community Council is made up of representatives of various civic, service and religious organizations in Arlington Heights. The general public is invited to attend all Community Council meetings.

Busse Buick Will Show Fantasy Car

A $75,000 "Fantasy Car" that can be driven by remote control and responds to spoken commands will be on display at Busse Buick in Mount Prospect today (Thursday), tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday.

Called the "Golden Sahara II," the hand-built automobile was featured in the recent movie production of "Cinderfella." Since that time it has been displayed in cities throughout the country as a prototype of the latest futuristic automotive design and accessories.

THE "GOLDEN Sahara II" is powered by a 525 h.p. special type engine. A paint made from pulverized fish scales imported from the Orient gives the car its lustrous pearl finish. Trim is 24-karat gold plated, and white mink floor mats adorn the inside.

"It's the most fantastic car I've ever seen," said Busse. "There's even a TV set and a refreshment bar on the inside."

Five different and independent steering systems control the "Golden Sahara II," voice, radio, unitrol, push button and a conventional steering wheel. The car responds to a series of oral commands, such as, Open the doors, start the engine, close the doors, shut off the engine.

When the "Golden Sahara II" is being operated by automatic drive controls, a specially designed radar system monitors the road ahead and detects obstructions in the car's path. The instrument panel of the cockpit has a radar screen which projects a picture of the road hazard. It is also equipped with gold transparent glass tires which illuminate and are referred to as "gold slippers."

THE "GOLDEN Sahara II" will be demonstrated to the public during the showing.

Busse has also arranged to display the hot rod used by Edd "Kookie" Byrnes on the television series, "77 Sunset Strip." This $8,500 car is a rebuilt 1924 model on a lowered frame. It has a 400 h.p. full race engine and a chromed undercarriage and exhaust system. This car is fitted with racing-type slick tires and chrome-plated reversed rims.

Parents to Get Data On College

Senior Parent Night will be held at the Forest View High School cafeteria, at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 6.

Mrs. Virginia Kercheval and Floyd Hillman, senior counselors, will be in charge of the meeting. They will give information to parents on college testing, scholarships and financial aid. They will also discuss different methods of applying for college admission.

A question and-answer period will assist parents in getting detailed information.

All parents of senior students at Forest View High School are invited to attend.

Interracial Housing Is Topic for Panel

"Interracial Housing and Its Problems" will be the subject for a panel discussion when the Arlington Heights Community Council meets at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 29, at Pioneer Park.

The program is one of a series arranged by Community Council at the request of the Arlington Heights village board. The field of property values, effect on the community, and social implications, if any, after a community is integrated will be discussed.

The panel discussion will be followed by coffee, after which there will be a written question-and-answer period. The moderator will select and ask questions of the panel.

ROGER BURKE, past president of the Arlington Heights District 25 school board, will be moderator for the evening. Burke is also a past president of both Toastmasters and Little League. He has been a resident of Arlington Heights for 13 years.

The panel will consist of five members outstanding in their respective fields:

Eugene J. Callahan is the executive director of the Chicago Conference on Religion and Race. He is a graduate of Loyola University and has done graduate work in economics at Northwestern University.

He is a former human relations officer in the Civil Rights Services Department of the Chicago Commission on Human Relations, having worked particularly with the tensions of the changing neighborhood and police-community relations, and he has written mortgage studies on real estate transactions in racially changing neighborhoods.

Erwin A. Salk is president of Salk, Ward & Salk, Inc., a leading mortgage banking institution. He is the recipient of an M.A. degree from the University of Chicago, and is active in the Urban Renewal Committee of the Chicago Real Estate Board, the Forum Committee of the Evanston-North Shore Urban League, and the Robert R. McCormick Chicago Boys Club. He was formerly associated with UNESCO and the military government of Japan.

REV. ROBERT CHRIST is a graduate of McCormick University. He is a member of the professional staff of Presbytery and director of Presbytery's Commission on Religion and Race. He was formerly pastor of the Seventh Presbyterian Church of Chicago.

John A. McDermott is executive director, Catholic Interracial Council of Chicago and executive secretary, Chicago Conference on Religion and Race. He is a graduate of Villanova University and has pursued graduate study at both Georgetown University and the University of Pennsylvania.

McDermott has been associated with the National Conference of Christians and Jews, Philadelphia Commission on Human Relations, the Neighborhood Rehabilitation Program in Philadelphia, and was a specialist in Intergroup Relations for the FHA.

He spent the summer of 1960 in Africa on a work-study tour under the auspices of the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation, and is the author of numerous articles and pamphlets, such as "Helping the Panic Neighborhood."

WILLIAM MOYER is a member of HOME, Inc. (Home Opportunities Made Equal), associated with the American Friends Service Committee. HOME is a non-profit organization which provides services to buyers, sellers and neighbors who wish to live in an unrestricted community.

The Arlington Heights Community Council is made up of representatives of various civic, service and religious organizations in Arlington Heights. The general public is invited to attend all Community Council meetings.

Busse Buick Will Show Fantasy Car

A $75,000 "Fantasy Car" that can be driven by remote control and responds to spoken commands will be on display at Busse Buick in Mount Prospect today (Thursday), tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday.

Called the "Golden Sahara II," the hand-built automobile was featured in the recent movie production of "Cinderfella." Since that time it has been displayed in cities throughout the country as a prototype of the latest futuristic automotive design and accessories.

THE "GOLDEN Sahara II" is powered by a 525 h.p. special type engine. A paint made from pulverized fish scales imported from the Orient gives the car its lustrous pearl finish. Trim is 24-karat gold plated, and white mink floor mats adorn the inside.

"It's the most fantastic car I've ever seen," said Busse. "There's even a TV set and a refreshment bar on the inside."

Five different and independent steering systems control the "Golden Sahara II," voice, radio, unitrol, push button and a conventional steering wheel. The car responds to a series of oral commands, such as, Open the doors, start the engine, close the doors, shut off the engine.

When the "Golden Sahara II" is being operated by automatic drive controls, a specially designed radar system monitors the road ahead and detects obstructions in the car's path. The instrument panel of the cockpit has a radar screen which projects a picture of the road hazard. It is also equipped with gold transparent glass tires which illuminate and are referred to as "gold slippers."

THE "GOLDEN Sahara II" will be demonstrated to the public during the showing.

Busse has also arranged to display the hot rod used by Edd "Kookie" Byrnes on the television series, "77 Sunset Strip." This $8,500 car is a rebuilt 1924 model on a lowered frame. It has a 400 h.p. full race engine and a chromed undercarriage and exhaust system. This car is fitted with racing-type slick tires and chrome-plated reversed rims.

Parents to Get Data On College

Senior Parent Night will be held at the Forest View High School cafeteria, at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 6.

Mrs. Virginia Kercheval and Floyd Hillman, senior counselors, will be in charge of the meeting. They will give information to parents on college testing, scholarships and financial aid. They will also discuss different methods of applying for college admission.

A question and-answer period will assist parents in getting detailed information.

All parents of senior students at Forest View High School are invited to attend.

VIRGINIA TERRACE

Returning Sunday from a 10-day vacation in the east were Hal and Joan Woodruff and son, Mark, 1114 N. Race. They visited Hal's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Woodruff in Clifton, N. J., and also enjoyed seeing many of Hal's friends in the area. Hal and Joan spent a day at the New York World's Fair and on their way home, the Woodruffs stopped at Niagara Falls.

The Terrace welcomes Lloyd and Lois Lenzen and their children, Lloyd, 13, Christine, 11, Myra, 10, Karen, 6, Terry, 5, Patricia, 3, and Marilyn, 1, who moved to 1205 N. Illinois from Lake Zurich in August. Lloyd is employed by Wille Lumber in Mount Prospect. Bowling is one of Lloyd's hobbies; both he and Lois enjoy playing cards.

Saturday night dinner guests of Leslie and Charlene Bang 1315 N. Illinois, were Fred and Valerie Good and Bob and Karen Murphy.

Weekend guests of Maynard and Elaine Cocker, 1318 N. Illinois, were Maynard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Cocker of Chatfield, Minn.

JOHN AND MURIEL Fenzel and son, John, 1328 N. Yale, returned Sept. 13 from a week's vacation in the east. In Washington, D. C., they enjoyed a complete tour of the city, where one of their favorite sites was the Justice Building where they took an FBI tour. Next stop for the Fenzels was Baltimore, where they visited friends of John. Gettysburg was their last stop. There they were thrilled by the exhibits in the new Cyclorama building.

Accompanying the Fenzels on their trip was Muriel's sister, Patricia Donovan of Seattle, who spent a week with the Fenzels before they started their trip. She left them at Baltimore to spend a week in New York and then came to Arlington Heights again before returning home.

Tuesday was a busy day for Dawn Olson. She celebrated her fourth birthday. Dawn, daughter of the Glenn Olsons, 1342 N. Chicago, was honored at an afternoon party for Jack and Jimmy Kelley, Tina and Debbie Wiley, Darin Elder, Pam Oross, Laura Zaucha, Cheryl Vonderheide, and Rolling Meadows' friends, Danny and Julie Marsiglia.

Tuesday evening Dawn and her grandfather, Virgil Rolfs of Arlington Heights, enjoyed a dual birthday celebration. Present for the evening party were Dawn's grandparents, the Rolfs and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Olson of Palatine. Other guests included her great-grandmother, Mrs. Edna Hoffman, her godfather and uncle, Wayne Rolfs and his wife and daughters, Tammy and Pam, of Rolling Meadows, Mrs. Marie Connor and son, Bob, and Dawn's godmother, Mrs. Wilburt Grandt and family.

KATHY SCHMIDT, daughter of the Bob Schmidts, 1201 N. Race, enjoyed a belated celebration of her 10th birthday on Sept. 12; Kathy was 10 Sept. 2. Enjoying a trip to Lincoln Village Amusement Park with Kathy were Loni, Thea and Mark Larson and Kathy's sisters. The guests enjoyed refreshments at the park and then returned to Schmidts' for ice cream and cake.

Sunday a family party will be given for Kathy and Vicki Schmidt, who was 11 Sept. 19. Relatives coming to the party are the girls' grandparents, the Charles D. Browns of Evanston and the J. W. Kennedys of Chicago, their parents and their sister, Barbara.

Kim Wiederhold, son of the Ralph Wiederholds, 1322 N. Chicago, attended the Northwestern-Oregon football game Saturday.

A recent guest of Don and Jan Munn, 1314 N. Illinois, was Don's brother, Rev. David Munn of Granite City.

Saturday, Jim and Janice Murphy, 1326 N. Chicago, attended the wedding and evening reception of Janice's cousin, Joyce Ippolito, and Dick Dominelli in Chicago.

On Sunday the Murphys, including Gail, Jim and Christine, attended a family reunion in Schiller Park for 75 members of Janice's mother's family; her mother, Mrs. Larry Muthers, resides in Melrose Park.

Attending the play at Old Orchard Country Club Tuesday evening were Kathy Martin, 1107 N. Wilke, and Barrington friend, Berta Petersen. They saw "The Marriage-Go-Round."

Recent dinner guests of Bob and Sandra Nelson, 1710 Oakton, were Sandra's sister, Audrey Johnson of Chicago, and her cousin, Cheri Anderson of Minneapolis.

On Sept. 13, the Nelsons hosted a dinner party for Mrs. Thelma Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Miller of Skokie, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Duncan Sr. and Mrs. Hoffman of Chicago, the junior Dave Duncan family of Des Plaines and Bob's parents, the Gunnar Nelsons of Chicago.

DEE DEE LEISTER, daughter of the Le Roy Leisters, 1440 N. Yale, was 8 Sept. 16 and a party was given for her on Saturday. Partygoers were Susan and Sherry Furner, Cheryl Speer, Mickey and Valerie Moser, Wendy and Cheryl Bloom and Dee Dee's sister, Sharon.

On Sept. 21, Danny Bartel, son of the Frank Bartels, 1210 N. Race, celebrated his fourth birthday. Helping him celebrate were Peter Jessen, Billy Sommerfield and Don Shubeck.

A cowboy theme was used for the birthday celebration of Brian Pendleton, 4 Sept. 16. Brian, son of the David Pendletons, 1240 N. Yale, had as his guests Faye Gabel, Karen and Scott Anderson and Shelly Lefort.

Visiting in Lake Geneva for five days last week were Rosemary Shellander and children, Tom, Mary and Margaret. They visited Rosemary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jonas. Mrs. Jonas brought her daughter and family back to Arlington Heights Wednesday and spent two days here before returning home.

Fred and Valerie Good and sons, Jimmy and Johnny, 1310 N. Illinois, returned Sept. 17 from a five-day trip to St. Louis. Vacation highlights included a visit to the zoo and the planetarium and eating out.

Pat Kolle, 1511 Clarendon, was honored at a baby shower given by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Herbert Kolle, Saturday night and attended by some 60 guests, including Rose Marie Amann of the Terrace.

Karl and Carla Edwards and son, Jeffrey, 1204 N. Race, spent Sunday at Pistakee Bay. Along with Chicago friends, they spent the day at a Swedish lodge. They enjoyed a typical Swedish breakfast, went bowling, boating and water skiing.

VFW Collects Items for Vets

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Arlington Heights Post 981, are still collecting pocket book novels, jig saw puzzles, records and playing cards for veterans in the Elgin Hospital.

Any articles may be taken to the VFW clubhouse, 811 N. Yale Ave., or Mrs. Shirley McDougal, CL 3-6151, or E. R. Doyle, HE 7-2864, will provide pick-up service.

Notes from Arlington Acres

Marie Marshall CLearbrook 5-2936

The board of directors of the Arlington Acres Civic Association has been busy planning a street dance for members and newcomers to the area, to be held Friday evening, Sept. 25, on Park Street between Forrest and Prindle. Although all board members are working on the plans, those who are especially busy include Mayme Ehlen, Arlene Novy, Vonnie Donovan, Joan Brunsfeld and Jim Brady.

The first hour, from 8 to 9 o'clock is mostly for the young people and will feature the music of the "Esquires," a local group consisting of three electric guitars and a drum, specializing in the type of music they enjoy. Dance contests will be held for them and prizes and favors will be given. After 9 o'clock, dancing will continue for the grown-ups under the direction of a well-known professional square dance caller, Merrill Tibbetts of Rolling Meadows.

Prizes will be given to the adults and refreshments will be furnished for all. A rain date has been set - Saturday, Sept. 26. This is the second street dance given by the association. It is hoped everyone in the area will come to enjoy the dancing and spend a pleasant evening with his neighbor.

MRS. CARL Schmidt, 515 S. Gibbons, enjoyed an unexpected and delightful two-day vacation in San Francisco last week when she accompanied her husband on a business trip there. Carl's business was taken care of in a short time and the couple had 48 hours to spend seeing "everything." They rented a car and drove along the 90-mile scenic coastal highway and through the Presidio. Dining was a happy experience at Fisherman's Wharf and at Omar Khayyam's and at a Japanese restaurant in, paradoxically, Chinatown. A tour of Chinatown was taken as well as a ride on a cable car. Before flying home, Carl and Vicki made a point of visiting Seal Rock and seeing San Francisco from the Top of the Mark.

Arlington Acres residents are welcoming two new families to the area. Mr. and Mrs. Max Brittain are at home at 409 S. Gibbons with their children, Max Jr., a senior at Prospect High School, 10 year-old Lyn-El, and Bill, soon to be 9. Mr. Brittain is with the Worthington Corporation in Chicago and brought his family here from St. Louis.

MR. AND MRS. Robert Shawhan came to Arlington Acres from another part of Arlington Heights and settled in their new home at 532 S. Prindle in time to see their oldest son, Garrett, off to begin his freshman year at the University of Illinois. The Shawhans have a younger son, Steve, 15, and a 10-year-old daughter Maureen. Mr. Shawhan is in the real estate business in Arlington Heights.

Susan Marshall spent a three-day weekend in Toronto and Kingston, Ontario, visiting friends with her fiancee and his family. The trip included a view of Niagara Falls at sunrise and tours of the famous Casa Loma Castle in Toronto and Old Fort Henry, a defense against the Americans in the War of 1812. High point of the trip was an all-day cruise in the host's cabin cruiser through the Thousand Islands region of the St. Lawrence River.

MR. AND MRS. S. L. Johnson, 512 S. Prindle, marked their 15th wedding anniversary Sept. 15. They celebrated on the Saturday before the big day by a day's sightseeing tour of their home state. Their ultimate destination was the Iowa state line, and their daughter Nancy, a new first grader, was thrilled by the sight of the Mississippi River and the trip across the bridge to Davenport where they enjoyed a celebratory dinner.

Nancy Jo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Byrnes, 437 S. Phelps, enjoyed the "Best ninth birthday she ever had" by her own words, despite the lack of a formal party. The success of the Sept. 20 birthday was due to Nancy's gift from her parents, a Beagle puppy which she named "Birdgett."

Mark Larsen, 437 S. Prindle, wanted to take over the arrangements for his own eighth birthday party Sept. 20, and started out by addressing and sending out the invitations. He did accept his mother's help though. When it came to refreshments, a gaily decorated cake and chocolate milk shakes. Six of Mark's neighborhood friends attended the affair, played birthday games and shared his delight in the log cabin which was his birthday gift from his parents, the Don Larsens.

MR. AND MRS. Edward McMullen, 413 S. Prindle, celebrated their sixth wedding anniversary by "doing" Old Town Saturday evening. After dinner at the 1759 House, a French restaurant, Ed and Barbara spent several hours strolling through the neighborhood and visiting the shops.

The vacation which they postponed more than once this summer finally came true for Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fritz, 420 S. Phelps, who are back home after being away almost two weeks on a trip through the Great Smoky Mountains. After a stop of two days at Detroit to visit Ray's sister and her family, the vacationers drove on to Gatlinburg, Tenn., and an unhurried trip through the mountains, before returning home Ray and June stopped in Cleveland for a few days to visit friends there and again in Indianapolis. Three-year-old Randy stayed home in the care of his grandmothers and his big sister, Madeline.

BEST WISHES of their friends and neighbors went with the Lynn Lemons family of 504 S. Prindle, who left Friday for their new home in Monticello, Ill. Joan reports her regret at leaving the area is tempered a little by the prospect of getting settled in a much larger house which is more than 100 years old.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kremer, 417 S. Prindle, who were married 19 years Sept. 17.

Another couple in line for congratulations are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Streng, 524 S. Waterman, who enjoyed a quiet celebration of their 14th wedding anniversary Sept. 16.

The Sealock and Kulisch families of the 500 block on S. Prindle were happily surprised over the weekend to receive an unannounced visit from Mr. and Mrs. William McClure, former close neighbors who are now living in Cleveland.

Arlington Greens

The departing of summer also brought an end to vacation trips as Greens folk settled down once again to routine for another year, with just weekend trips to satisfy their remaining desires to "hit the road."

Such weekend jaunts were enjoyed by the Howard Schick family of East Olive. Their mid-September trip took them to Champaign for a Sunday visit with a brother and family, the Elmer Dicksons. Saturday their destination was Minonk, where they attended the wedding of another brother, Fred Dickson, to Connie Von Baron with a reception in the church hall following the ceremony. Later that evening, a buffet supper was held in the Von Baron home.

Sunday ended a week's vacation to New York City and the World's Fair for Jay Parkin, North Beverly Lane. On Monday evening, Jay departed again, but this time to Carbondale and classes at Southern.

EARLIER IN the month Mrs. Kushner and son, Mark, traveled by train to Detroit, for a four-day visit with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Dymion.

College bound Mary Coleman of North Beverly Lane has begun her first year at St. Norbert's. Going along for the ride to West DePere, Wis., were her parents and sister, Jean.

The motor trip to school was also a family affair for Sandy Johnson and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson of East Olive. Freshman classes at Denison University in Granville, Ohio, began for Miss Johnson shortly after her arrival the weekend of Sept. 11. The Johnsons returned in time to greet grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Dash of Carmel, Calif., who were on a cross country vacation.

Mrs. Tony Tomaso returned home Sunday from a three-day stay in Northwest Community Hospital. Get well wishes by mail and phone found her making a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Weeg hosted the main course of a progressive dinner in their North Beverly Lane home Saturday evening for members of the Couples Club from their local church.

ALSO HOSTING a main course of the same progressive dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sell, North Hickory.

Mrs. Len Hauskey hosted the September gathering of Haddow Court ladies once a month coffee. Attending the Wednesday evening affair earlier this month were Mrs. Tony Bengal, Mrs. Mark Jenkins, Mrs. William Gardner, Mrs. Harry Kushner and Mrs. Mel Kasen.

A recent guest of Don and Jan Munn, 1314 N. Illinois, was Don's brother, Rev. David Munn of Granite City.

Saturday, Jim and Janice Murphy, 1326 N. Chicago, attended the wedding and evening reception of Janice's cousin, Joyce Ippolito, and Dick Dominelli in Chicago.

On Sunday the Murphys, including Gail, Jim and Christine, attended a family reunion in Schiller Park for 75 members of Janice's mother's family; her mother, Mrs. Larry Muthers, resides in Melrose Park.

Attending the play at Old Orchard Country Club Tuesday evening were Kathy Martin, 1107 N. Wilke, and Barrington friend, Berta Petersen. They saw "The Marriage-Go-Round."

Recent dinner guests of Bob and Sandra Nelson, 1710 Oakton, were Sandra's sister, Audrey Johnson of Chicago, and her cousin, Cheri Anderson of Minneapolis.

On Sept. 13, the Nelsons hosted a dinner party for Mrs. Thelma Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Miller of Skokie, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Duncan Sr. and Mrs. Hoffman of Chicago, the junior Dave Duncan family of Des Plaines and Bob's parents, the Gunnar Nelsons of Chicago.

DEE DEE LEISTER, daughter of the Le Roy Leisters, 1440 N. Yale, was 8 Sept. 16 and a party was given for her on Saturday. Partygoers were Susan and Sherry Furner, Cheryl Speer, Mickey and Valerie Moser, Wendy and Cheryl Bloom and Dee Dee's sister, Sharon.

On Sept. 21, Danny Bartel, son of the Frank Bartels, 1210 N. Race, celebrated his fourth birthday. Helping him celebrate were Peter Jessen, Billy Sommerfield and Don Shubeck.

A cowboy theme was used for the birthday celebration of Brian Pendleton, 4 Sept. 16. Brian, son of the David Pendletons, 1240 N. Yale, had as his guests Faye Gabel, Karen and Scott Anderson and Shelly Lefort.

Visiting in Lake Geneva for five days last week were Rosemary Shellander and children, Tom, Mary and Margaret. They visited Rosemary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jonas. Mrs. Jonas brought her daughter and family back to Arlington Heights Wednesday and spent two days here before returning home.

Fred and Valerie Good and sons, Jimmy and Johnny, 1310 N. Illinois, returned Sept. 17 from a five-day trip to St. Louis. Vacation highlights included a visit to the zoo and the planetarium and eating out.

Pat Kolle, 1511 Clarendon, was honored at a baby shower given by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Herbert Kolle, Saturday night and attended by some 60 guests, including Rose Marie Amann of the Terrace.

Karl and Carla Edwards and son, Jeffrey, 1204 N. Race, spent Sunday at Pistakee Bay. Along with Chicago friends, they spent the day at a Swedish lodge. They enjoyed a typical Swedish breakfast, went bowling, boating and water skiing.

The board of directors of the Arlington Acres Civic Association has been busy planning a street dance for members and newcomers to the area, to be held Friday evening, Sept. 25, on Park Street between Forrest and Prindle. Although all board members are working on the plans, those who are especially busy include Mayme Ehlen, Arlene Novy, Vonnie Donovan, Joan Brunsfeld and Jim Brady.

The first hour, from 8 to 9 o'clock is mostly for the young people and will feature the music of the "Esquires," a local group consisting of three electric guitars and a drum, specializing in the type of music they enjoy. Dance contests will be held for them and prizes and favors will be given. After 9 o'clock, dancing will continue for the grown-ups under the direction of a well-known professional square dance caller, Merrill Tibbetts of Rolling Meadows.

Prizes will be given to the adults and refreshments will be furnished for all. A rain date has been set - Saturday, Sept. 26. This is the second street dance given by the association. It is hoped everyone in the area will come to enjoy the dancing and spend a pleasant evening with his neighbor.

MRS. CARL Schmidt, 515 S. Gibbons, enjoyed an unexpected and delightful two-day vacation in San Francisco last week when she accompanied her husband on a business trip there. Carl's business was taken care of in a short time and the couple had 48 hours to spend seeing "everything." They rented a car and drove along the 90-mile scenic coastal highway and through the Presidio. Dining was a happy experience at Fisherman's Wharf and at Omar Khayyam's and at a Japanese restaurant in, paradoxically, Chinatown. A tour of Chinatown was taken as well as a ride on a cable car. Before flying home, Carl and Vicki made a point of visiting Seal Rock and seeing San Francisco from the Top of the Mark.

Arlington Acres residents are welcoming two new families to the area. Mr. and Mrs. Max Brittain are at home at 409 S. Gibbons with their children, Max Jr., a senior at Prospect High School, 10 year-old Lyn-El, and Bill, soon to be 9. Mr. Brittain is with the Worthington Corporation in Chicago and brought his family here from St. Louis.

MR. AND MRS. Robert Shawhan came to Arlington Acres from another part of Arlington Heights and settled in their new home at 532 S. Prindle in time to see their oldest son, Garrett, off to begin his freshman year at the University of Illinois. The Shawhans have a younger son, Steve, 15, and a 10-year-old daughter Maureen. Mr. Shawhan is in the real estate business in Arlington Heights.

Susan Marshall spent a three-day weekend in Toronto and Kingston, Ontario, visiting friends with her fiancee and his family. The trip included a view of Niagara Falls at sunrise and tours of the famous Casa Loma Castle in Toronto and Old Fort Henry, a defense against the Americans in the War of 1812. High point of the trip was an all-day cruise in the host's cabin cruiser through the Thousand Islands region of the St. Lawrence River.

MR. AND MRS. S. L. Johnson, 512 S. Prindle, marked their 15th wedding anniversary Sept. 15. They celebrated on the Saturday before the big day by a day's sightseeing tour of their home state. Their ultimate destination was the Iowa state line, and their daughter Nancy, a new first grader, was thrilled by the sight of the Mississippi River and the trip across the bridge to Davenport where they enjoyed a celebratory dinner.

Nancy Jo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Byrnes, 437 S. Phelps, enjoyed the "Best ninth birthday she ever had" by her own words, despite the lack of a formal party. The success of the Sept. 20 birthday was due to Nancy's gift from her parents, a Beagle puppy which she named "Birdgett."

Mark Larsen, 437 S. Prindle, wanted to take over the arrangements for his own eighth birthday party Sept. 20, and started out by addressing and sending out the invitations. He did accept his mother's help though. When it came to refreshments, a gaily decorated cake and chocolate milk shakes. Six of Mark's neighborhood friends attended the affair, played birthday games and shared his delight in the log cabin which was his birthday gift from his parents, the Don Larsens.

MR. AND MRS. Edward McMullen, 413 S. Prindle, celebrated their sixth wedding anniversary by "doing" Old Town Saturday evening. After dinner at the 1759 House, a French restaurant, Ed and Barbara spent several hours strolling through the neighborhood and visiting the shops.

The vacation which they postponed more than once this summer finally came true for Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fritz, 420 S. Phelps, who are back home after being away almost two weeks on a trip through the Great Smoky Mountains. After a stop of two days at Detroit to visit Ray's sister and her family, the vacationers drove on to Gatlinburg, Tenn., and an unhurried trip through the mountains, before returning home Ray and June stopped in Cleveland for a few days to visit friends there and again in Indianapolis. Three - year - old Randy stayed home in the care of his grandmothers and his big sister, Madeline.

BEST WISHES of their friends and neighbors went with the Lynn Lemons family of 504 S. Prindle, who left Friday for their new home in Monticello, Ill. Joan reports her regret at leaving the area is tempered a little by the prospect of getting settled in a much larger house which is more than 100 years old.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kremer, 417 S. Prindle, who were married 19 years Sept. 17.

Another couple in line for congratulations are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Streng, 524 S. Waterman, who enjoyed a quiet celebration of their 14th wedding anniversary Sept. 16.

The Sealock and Kulisch families of the 500 block on S. Prindle were happily surprised over the weekend to receive an unannounced visit from Mr. and Mrs. William McClure, former close neighbors who are now living in Cleveland. (A

Arlington Greens

The departing of summer also brought an end to vacation trips as Greens folk settled down once again to routine for another year, with just weekend trips to satisfy their remaining desires to "hit the road."

Such weekend jaunts were enjoyed by the Howard Schick family of East Olive. Their mid-September trip took them to Champaign for a Sunday visit with a brother and family, the Elmer Dicksons. Saturday their destination was Minonk, where they attended the wedding of another brother, Fred Dickson, to Connie Von Baron with a reception in the church hall following the ceremony. Later that evening, a buffet supper was held in the Von Baron home.

Sunday ended a week's vacation to New York City and the World's Fair for Jay Parkin, North Beverly Lane. On Monday evening, Jay departed again, but this time to Carbondale and classes at Southern.

EARLIER IN the month Mrs. Kushner and son, Mark, traveled by train to Detroit, for a four-day visit with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Dymion.

College bound Mary Coleman of North Beverly Lane has begun her first year at St. Norbert's. Going along for the ride to West DePere, Wis., were her parents and sister, Jean.

The motor trip to school was also a family affair for Sandy Johnson and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson of East Olive. Freshman classes at Denison University in Granville, Ohio, began for Miss Johnson shortly after her arrival the weekend of Sept. 11. The Johnsons returned in time to greet grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Dash of Carmel, Calif., who were on a cross country vacation.

Mrs. Tony Tomaso returned home Sunday from a three-day stay in Northwest Community Hospital. Get well wishes by mail and phone found her making a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Weeg hosted the main course of a progressive dinner in their North Beverly Lane home Saturday evening for members of the Couples Club from their local church.

ALSO HOSTING a main course of the same progressive dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sell, North Hickory.

Mrs. Len Hauskey hosted the September gathering of Haddow Court ladies once a month coffee. Attending the Wednesday evening affair earlier this month were Mrs. Tony Bengal, Mrs. Mark Jenkins, Mrs. William Gardner, Mrs. Harry Kushner and Mrs. Mel Kasen.

Hope Fiesta Will Lead to Bigger Friendship Program

Concealed in big plans for a Latin America fiesta Oct. 10 at Arlington Park Race Track are even bigger hopes for a long step towards the two primary goals of the Arlington Heights Inter-American Friendship Program.

The program, which began with the foundation of small committees in Arlington Heights and Comas, Peru, in 1961, set about to help natives of the Peruvian city better themselves, and to promote mutual understanding.

Since then the residents of Arlington Heights have sent food, clothing, medicine, sewing machines and a dump truck to the southern sister-city.

And through these first efforts an organization has grown which is now putting the finishing touch on plans for the Comas Day Fiesta at Arlington Park—a full day of fun and entertainment which will bring as much of Latin America to the scene as is possibly portable.

THE ARLINGTON Heights Inter-American Friendship Committee is now hoping for 35,000 persons from the entire Chicago area to attend—nearly as many as the race track drew on Labor Day.

From this fiesta, the committee hopes, will come funds to continue a more intensive aid program in material terms, and a greater understanding of many of the brighter aspects of Latin-American life.

On Saturday morning, Oct. 10, the Chicago and North Western Railway will add a special stop at Arlington Park on its 10:30 run from Chicago, and at 6:31 p. m. there will be a return run.

Between 11 a. m. and 6:30, the race track grounds will be alive with activities, entertainment and exhibits.

FROM THE MAIN entrance beneath the grandstands, a Calle de Comas (Street of Comas) will stretch more than 500 feet, complete with tropical plants and vegetation native to the South American continent—supplied by Klehm Nurseries of Arlington Heights.

The street will be lined with carnival booths, manned by volunteers from several area organizations, and decked with flags and bunting.

A Comas information booth is planned to detail past activities of the Friendship Committee and future plans, and to distribute a booklet designed to acquaint visitors with the background of the fiesta.

Also on the street, a red Mustang will await the person whose $1 admission ticket can win him the door prize. Children under 16 will be admitted free to the Fiesta

AT THE FAR end of the street, on a center stage, local talent show performances are planned to alternate throughout the day with Latin-American entertainment.

To one side of the stage, a sidewalk cafe will serve Latin American food and beverages. To the other side, in a closed off area, the Cole Marionette circus from Palos Park will offer three performances of a special new show.

Another feature for the youngsters will be the famous Shriner Camels. Shriners in full regalia, attending the camels, will boost children aboard for free rides at three peri during the day.

Also in the main grandstand area, the Peruvian Arts Society will show native art and handicrafts. Local artists will display their talents in a special exhibit of arts, crafts and ceramics.

THROUGH THE auspices of the Pan American Assembly, representatives of Chicagoland's many Latin American groups will be on hand to discuss and explain exhibits.

To add to the fiesta flavor, at 3 p. m. an exhibition soccer match will be played on the Arlington Park infield, beside the lake. The Peruvian Inca team of Chicago will play the Ecuadorian team in a 45-minute match.

The game will be visible from within the building or from the grandstands above, but sports enthusiasts will also be able to move closer to the action by walking across the track on a specially constructed boardwalk to the infield proper.

At locations throughout the park a commemorative program will be on sale featuring a Fiesta grounds map, and short articles on Comas, the Inter-American Friendship Program and Comas Day activities.

TO USHER IN the day of the fiesta, a formal dinner-dance will be held on Friday evening, Oct. 9, in the Post and Paddock Club at Arlington Park. Bands will alternate North American and Latin American music.

Tickets for the Fiesta are available at the Insurance Center, 15 N. State Rd., Arlington Heights, and at the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Assn., 25 E. Campbell, or from committee members. They will also be on sale Oct. 10 at Arlintgon Park.

SENIOR TROOP NEWS

Senior Scout Troop 1 of South Palatine is off to a fine start. Sixteen girls, led by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lethem, spent the Sept. 11-13 weekend camping at Happy Hollow near Elkhorn, Wis.

Upon arriving, the girls unloaded their gear and pitched their tents. Caretaker Sandy Ramsey arrived just in time to show the Scouts how to fix a torn grommet. After dinner, guitars and ukes popped out of tents for a fun-filled evening of singing around the campfire.

The girls divided into groups Saturday. One group went for a nature hike, another sang the afternoon away, and the third took showers in the open-air shower recently built by Sandy. Before dinner, some of the girls visited a nearby dairy farm to watch the cows being milked.

Admiring Mr. Lethem's cooking technique, the girls agreed that Sunday lunch of barbecued chicken was the best meal. After lunch, tents were struck and gear packed away for the trip home after a memorable camping weekend.

Election Officials to View Vote Exhibit

A voting machine exposition preview of a new motion picture which outlines the correct use of voting machines will be staged on Sept. 30 by the Cook County Board of Election Commissioners.

Exhibitors will display the latest developments in mechanical and electronic voting machines and vote counting systems at the exposition in Chicago's Sherman House. The exhibits will be viewed by the election board, the Election Laws Commission of Illinois and representatives of more than 30 civic organizations interested in the conduct of elections.

Those attending the session will also be asked to evaluate the 16 mm., sound and color motion picture titled "In Your Hand," which was produced by the Board of Election Commissioners and filmed by Pilot Productions Inc. of Evanston. The film gives instruction on voting the special paper ballet to be used in the at-large election of state representatives on Nov. 3.

The film will be available for loan without cost to political and civic organizations after Sept. 30.

Addresses Soil Society

Marion Monk of Batchelor, La., president of the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, addressed the Northern Illinois Chapter of the Soil Conseravtion Society of America last week at Hyatt Chalet in Elk Grove Village.

"The Challenges of Soil and Water Conservation Districts in Our Changing Times" was the theme of Monk's address. He said one of the primary problems facing districts is making information available to groups who have responsibility for land use planning in the urban areas.

Morris Fonda of Arlington Heights, past president of the Soil Conservation Society of America, was a member of the arrangements committee for this meeting.

In attendance were H. H. Hopper of LaFayette, Calif., and Minott J. Silliman Jr., of Madison, Wis., president and president-elect of the Society.

Ridge Park–Sherwood

FROM RIDGE PARK

The leisurely pace of summer has given way to autumn and recent days have been busy ones for many families who have been helping sons and daughters prepare for departure to college campuses.

Jim Kilbury, who was awarded a trustee scholarship to the University of Southern California, has now enrolled at the Los Angeles school where he will be majoring in physics. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Kilbury, 1011 N. Illinois, drove Jim to california. Before returning from their two-week trip Saturday they visited relatives in Los Angeles as well as enjoying many of the favorite tourist sight-seeing regions.

Tom Black arrived home on army leave too late to see his sister, Linda, before she left for Drake University. While in Arlington with his parents, the Charles Blacks of 812 N. Kaspar, Tom was able to travel to Des Moines where he and Linda were together for a short visit. Following his 10-day leave, Tom returned to duty at Ft. Benning, Ga., last Tuesday.

For Jan Klinkey, the new address will be Monmouth College, Monmouth, Ill. Jan, daughter of the Martin Klinkeys, 808 N. Ridge, begins life as a college freshman this week.

ALSO AMONG the ranks of campus freshmen is Nan Rathsam, at Western Illinois University in Macomb. Nan's parents, Russell and Helen Rathsam of 905 N. Patton, had a pleasant trip to Auburn, Neb. in late August when they attended Helen's high school class reunion. They then came home and were soon travelers again, as they made another journey to Door County, Wis.

Beginning her sophomore year at Illinois State University at Normal is Susan Palmer, daughter of the Roy Palmers, 820 N. Yale. She left for Normal on Sept. 16.

Another Ridge Park sophomore, Charles Vlcek resumes studies at Northwestern where he will again be a member of the University's Band. Charles will be living at the Psi Upsilon Fraternity House during the school term. He is the son of Charles and Stephanie Vlcek, 832 N. Salem.

The fall semester has a new meaning for Valerie Juhl, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Juhl, reside at 831 N. Salem. Valerie, a June graduate of Northern Illinois University, is now a first grade teacher at Ridge School in Elk Grove Village.

PEGGY BENSINGER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bensinger, 945 N. Ridge, was feted at a miscellaneous bridal shower held at the American Legion Hall on Sept. 13. The shower was given by two cousins, Carol Ann Golab and Nancy Tokarz with the assistance during the evening of Mrs. Bensinger and her younger daughters. Among the 75 guests in attendance were Peggy's future mother-in-law, Mrs. Rose Klask, and Mrs. Klask's sister and niece, all of Detroit. Peggy will be married to Joseph Klask on Oct. 24.

The Raymond Doyles, 828 N. Kaspar, spent Sunday in Ottawa, Ill., visiting his sister and her husband, the Allen Ramsays. The families also went to see the Indian ceremonials which took place in Ottawa on the weekend. Thirty tribes were renresented in the rituals.

Kevin Wilson, son of Roger and Alice Wilson, 820 N. Patton, celebrated his fourth birthday Sept. 17, with a party a day early. His guests were John Korte, Chris Marquis, Kevin and Paul Grady.

The Ralph Hostlers, 927 N. Kennicott, attended Booth Fisheries annual outing recently at Woodridge Country Club in Lisle. Ralph ventured out early in the day to be among the golfers, with Lou joining him later for dinner and dancing.

Ridge Park welcomes Ray and Iola Denson, new residents of 1020 N. Kennicott, following their marriage this summer at Southminster United Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Denson is now teaching Spanish at Arlington High School, and Mr. Denson is employed as a salesman for Photo Press Inc. in Chicago.

NEIGHBORS AND friends of the Werner Beckers, 1004 N. Ridge, were indeed sorry to learn of the automobile accident that seriously injured his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Becker of Northrop, Minn., on Sept. 12. At the present time, both remain in the hospital; Mrs. Becker having undergone lengthy surgery following the accident. The elder Beckers are known by many Arlington residents, since they formerly lived here and he worked as a janitor at St. Peter Lutheran School.

Russell Elenz was 7 Sept. 14 and a belated party honoring the event was held Sunday at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kauphusman of Chicago. Russell's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Elenz of 1008 N. Ridge.

A weekend at the Edgewater Beach Hotel was enjoyed by Joe and Anne Pecoraro and their son, Mike, of 727 N. Kennicott. They joined friends at the hotel and Saturday evening attended the dance given by the Independent Order of Foresters.

The A. L. Danes welcomed their 26th wedding anniversary Sept. 17 by dining out with their daughter and son-in-law, the Glen Franks of Des Plaines. More anniversary greetings came their way on Saturday, when a family get-together was held at the Danes' home, 725 N. Harvard, and incuded their sonl Kent from the Glenview Naval Base.

FROM SHERWOOD

Irene Campbell of Riverside, Cal., arrived in Arlington last Thursday. She will be the guest of Tiny and Marian Edwards, 1112 N. Princeton, and other friends during the next several weeks.

The Donald Jessens, 1212 W. Clarendon, took a "doctor's holiday" during the past weekend, as they traveled to Lake Lawn to relax and indulge in some swimming and golfing.

Jim Jakubiec, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jakubiec, 1014 Watling Road, leaves Friday for Michigan State University at East Lansing to begin his freshman year.

Robin Auld, son of John and Charlotte Auld, 1009 Watling, departed Wednesday for his sophomore year at Knox College, Galesburg.

Returning as a junior at Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Iowa, is Sue Cornelius, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Cornelius of 1108 Watling Road. She left Sept. 15. (A

Dinner to Honor Rights Volunteers

Au Arlington Heights resident will be among many Mississippi Summer Project volunteers honored at a Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) benefit dinner in Chicago Oct. 3.

Jack Kirby, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lenehan, 631 S. Belmont, spent the summer in Meridian, Miss., working on voter registration in the student civil rights effort.

THE MISSISSIPPI Report Dinner will feature talks by Summer Project leaders. Robert Moses, project director, will discuss the philosophy and objectives of the summer work. Mrs. Fannie Lou Hamer, who gave the account of voter registration terrors to the Credentials Committee at the Democratic National Convention, will outline needs for the future.

SNCC Executive Secretary James Forman will preview plans for the coming months. One of the field secretaries, Stokely Carmichael, and several volunteers will relate personal experiences from the summer.

JACK KIRBY

The purpose of the dinner is to raise funds for a continuation of the work in Mississippi. It will be held at 7:30 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 3, in the Grand Ballroom of the Sherman House. Ticket information may be obtained by phoning 268-5077.

YOU WILL WALK 65,000 MILES
It is estimated the average person walks that far during a lifetime. Of course it is done in short trips across a room, a walk around the block or in stores while shopping.

THEN, WHY TORTURE YOUR FEET?
Most people buy shoes that are stylish at the expense of comfort. Too high heels throw the body off balance. A wise precaution is to select a dependable shoe store and follow its fitter's advice about size and shape. Often you can get both comfort and style.

NEVER IGNORE FOOT SORES OR INFECTIONS
If immediate application of antiseptics or healing ointments do not give quick relief, consult a physician or podiatrist. Never cut corns or callouses yourself. Your own bathroom surgery can lead to an infection. Diabetics should not use corn removers. Trim your toe nails regularly and straight across to keep them from growing into the skin.

BATHE YOUR FEET DAILY
And, if you will use luke warm water and afterward a little colder water followed by a brisk massage, carefully drying between the toes, your feet will soon feel like new.

WE STOCK MANY FOOT-AIDS
Whatever your physician or podiatrist may specify, — we have it. For continuous and protective foot comfort follow this plan. Get from us an antiseptic foot soap, an antifungi foot powder and a jar of soothing cream to help prevent the dryness which leads to corns and callouses. The cost is low and we will help you select a dependable quality.

Parents Nights, Teas, Potlucks Kick-Off '64-'65 PTA Season

MINER JUNIOR HIGH

Parents' Night at Miner Junior High School will open the PTA program for this school year. Because of the size of the enrollment this will be held on two nights. Parents of all seventh and eighth grade students are invited Monday evening, Sept. 28, and parents of sixth grade students, Tuesday, Sept. 29. Both sessions will start at 7:30 p.m.

Parents will spend the evening following their child's daily schedule, meeting teachers and the parents of classmates and learning about the subject matter and class procedure for the coming year.

SOUTH JUNIOR HIGH

PTA at South Junior High School will have for its first meeting, a Parents Night, Tuesday, Sept. 29, at 8 p.m. Theme for 1964-1965 is "Fostering Personal Development. Parents will follow their child's daily routine and meet their teachers.

PTA Memberships will be sold, as will subscriptions to the PTA Magazine.

THOMAS JUNIOR HIGH

Parents Night will be on the agenda for the first fall meeting of the Thomas Junior High School PTA. The meeting is scheduled for Sept. 29 at 8. Parents of all students are invited to meet the teachers and briefly follow their child's daily schedule.

PTA membership enrollments will be available from 7:45 to 8 in the first period class room. School sweatshirts will also be available. Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria following the meeting.

Sept. 2, the PTA Board hosted a breakfast for all teachers, who were presented by Robert Spinks, principal.

A Room Representative Tea was held Sept. 15 introducing room representatives to their respective home room teachers.

Bicycle inspection is scheduled for Oct. 7, at 1 at Thomas Junior High School.

KENSINGTON

"What can school do for you?" "What can you, as parents, do for the school?" These were two of the questions posed for parents by Kensington School principal, Mrs. Kathryn McElroy, in her talk "Cooperative Living-Home and School," before the Kensington PTA Tuesday evening, Sept. 15.

1964-65 PTA board members and the teaching staff of Kensington were introduced to the membership. Miss Katherine Bubolz's kindergarten class, section 3, won the attendance award for the meeting.

Kensington teachers and room representatives were entertained at a "Get Acquainted Tea" last Thursday afternoon.

GREENBRIER

Decorative sugar cubes and imported tea provided the finishing touches to the Room Representatives Tea given by the Parent-Teacher Association of the newly-opened Greenbrier School Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 15.

Prior to the serving of refreshments, a brief meeting was held to acquaint the representatives with their duties and with the teachers they will be assisting during the year.

Mrs. Herbert Cleveland, president, and Mrs. Elliott Johnson, hospitality chairman, were hostesses for the affair.

Greenbrier PTA had also welcomed the teachers to the new school with an informal coffee Sept. 1.

RIDGE

Ridge School PTA will kick off its fall season with a potluck supper in the Multi-purpose Room at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 29.

Entertainment will be furnished by the "Talented Teens."

All parents and teachers are invited. (A

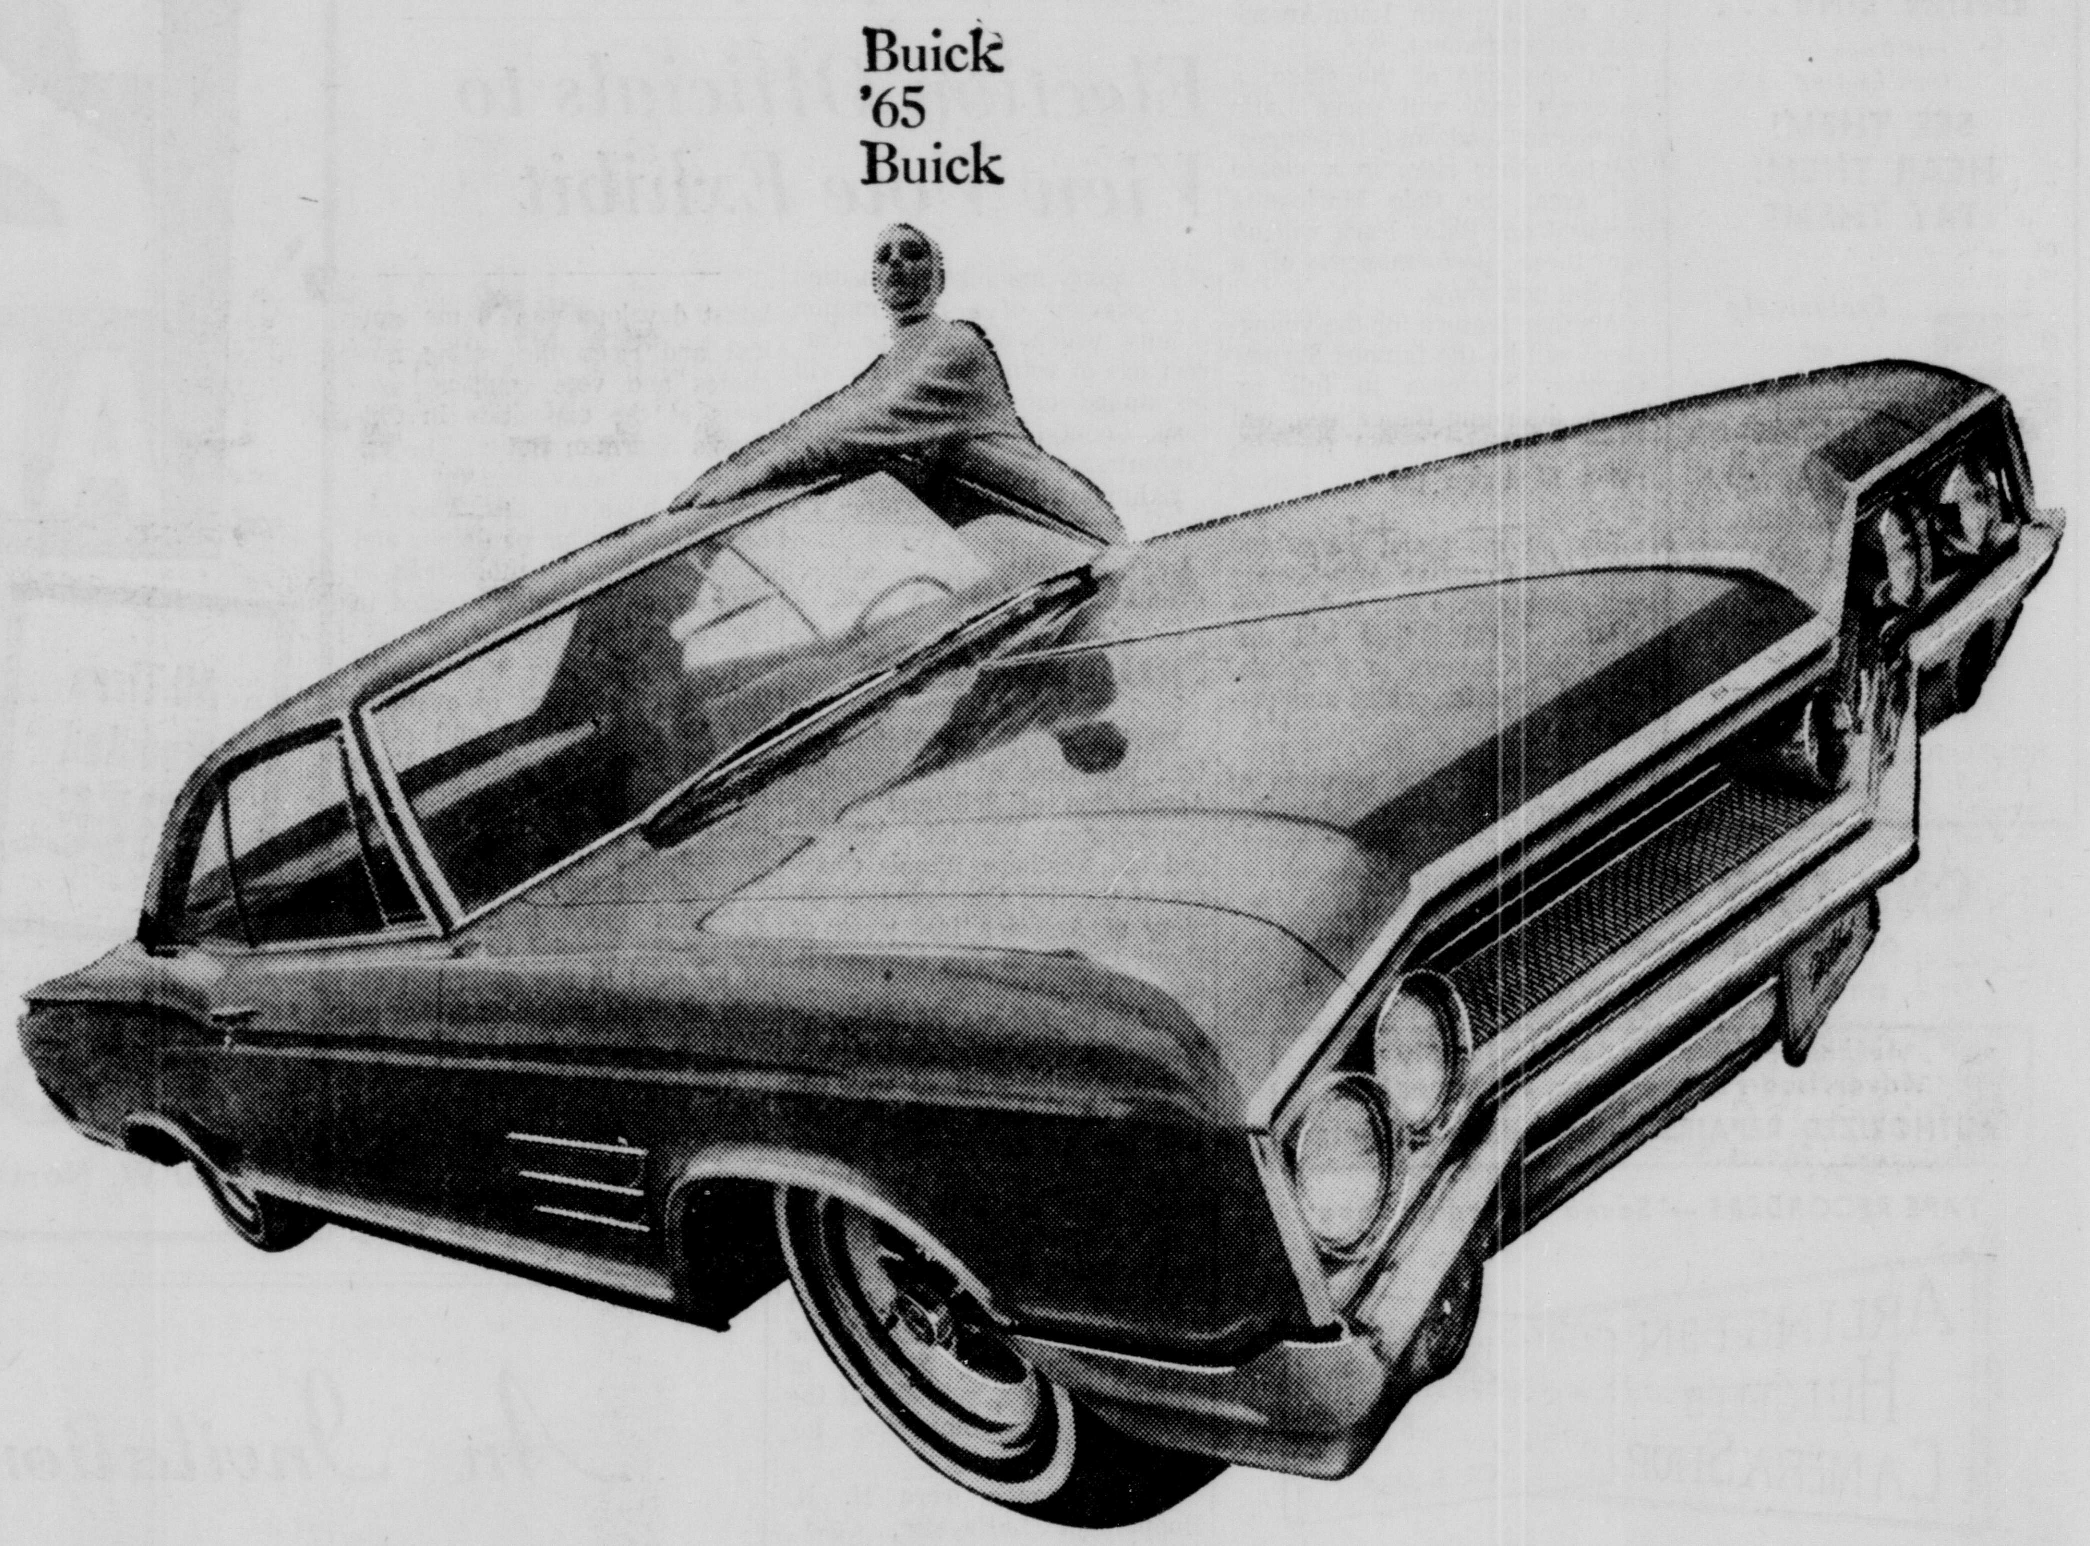
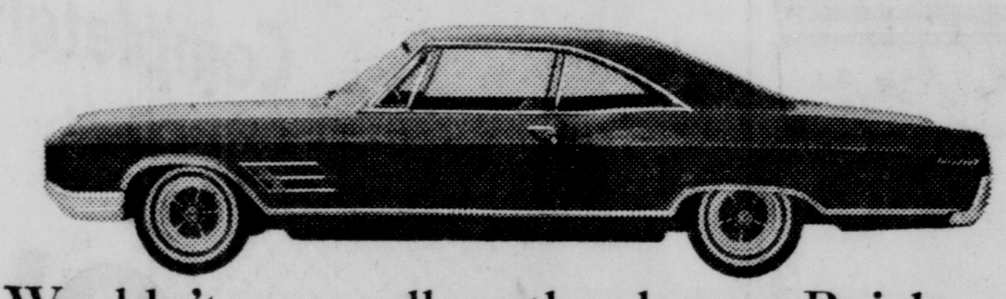
ELECTION AND ELSE

If YOU were to ask me if I would vote Democratic in the coming national election, I would imitate a certain Englishman who was asked if he would vote for a certain candidate and he replied "I will." Whereupon there was great applause from the candidate's followers. But the speaker continued, "Not." Whereupon there was great applause from the other side. But the speaker was not yet done. "tell you," he concluded. He thus won applause from both sides and told them nothing.

So if you were to ask me if I would vote Democratic in the coming national election, I would reply, I will not tell you. And now, that I have exercised the right of privacy in my voting, I would call your attention to a more important matter for your decision.

It is the answer to a question asked a long time ago — Jesus asked, "What think ye of Christ?" Regardless of the circumstances under which the question was asked, here is a query that stands alone — "What think ye of Christ?" Unlike our usual elections, the answer to this question does not decide the issue for the person whose name is up, but it decides the eternal destiny of the man who votes.





We changed the Buick a lot this year. And you may never be the same again yourself.

We doubt you'll want to be the same. Not once you set eyes on our new Buicks. On the Buick Special and the Skylark. The LeSabre, Electra 225, Riviera. And on the sleek, modified fastback of the wild, wilder, Wildcat in the picture.

True, there's a new high-style touch. But that's hardly all. Engineering still has the emphasis. It's a Buick tradition. So are the extras Buick spends a little extra on. Like finned brake drums that do a little better. And smoother drivelines. A tuned suspension to smooth ribcage roads. Now add Buick's Super Turbine transmissions–and you have an idea of what Buick owners have always liked about Buick. We think you'll feel the same.

New $350,000 Convent Planned by St. James

Saint James Parish, Arlington Heights, has announced plans to begin construction of a new $350,000 convent next spring.

The cost of the new convent will be financed by a three-year fund raising program which will be launched in a mass appeal in the parish Sunday, Oct. 11.

The fulfillment of the construction plans depends on the success of the initial appeal to secure a necessary loan from the Chancery Office of the Catholic Archdiocese of Chicago.

THE PROGRAM, to be called the Saint James Building Program, seeks a minimum goal of $450,000 over three years to cover the cost of the new convent and to reduce the parish debt.

Edward Weirich, 715 E. Clarendon, is program chairman. The program co-chairmen are: Dan Healy, 821 N. Haddow, and Joseph Orgler, 733 N. Beverly.

The Parish Lay Advisory Committee, who have set the policies and procedures for the program include: Anthony Bohorfoush Jr., 415 E. Frederick; Robert Buckley, 222 N. Derbyshire; William Cadigan, 508 S. Dale, and John J. Walsh Jr., 404 E. Marshall. The Rev. Edward J. Laramie, pastor, will serve as honorary program chairman.

Plans for the parish-wide effort to construct a new convent and to reduce the parish debt were announced by Father Laramie following a recent meeting the the Parish Lay Advisory Committee.

Father Laramie praised the past generous support of all the parishioners and expressed his confidence in the program's success: "The Saint James parishioners are known throughout the Chicago Archdiocese for their active support of the parish programs. The best example of this is the accomplishments of the parish in the last 12 years. Since 1952 the parishioners of Saint James have built over $1,000,000 worth of excellent buildings. Such a record is clear evidence of our parishioners' love of God and generous spirit."

WEIRICH said success of the Oct. 11 drive is necessary to demonstrate to the Chancery Office the parishioners' intention to suport the building program. "People are working and are in a good financial position to support the program at this time."

The program will be launched with an Appeal Sunday effort by 450 men of the parish to contact their fellow parishioners to secure the necessary support. According to Father Laramie there will be no quotas assigned and no one will be instructed as to what he is expected to give.

The program appeal team will have one simple mission, to explain the program to the parishioners, he said. Payments will be made at the option of the contributor either in one sum, annually, quarterly, monthly or weekly.

THE PROGRAM committee is being organized at this time. Currently, the 12 Area Chairmen have been selected.

They are: George Barry, 409 E. Euclid; William Bolash, 719 N. Forest; Joseph Dunne, 1016 N. Illinois; William Flynn, 801 E. Oakton; Vincent Ford, 723 N. Highland; James Hahn, 919 N. Ridge; Thomas Kain, 432 S. Rammer; Bernard Malburg, 1502 Kensington; Robert McMullen, 1005 N. Harvard; David Morehan, 1615 E. Frederick; Robert Scanlon, 816 N. Haddow, and Anthony Willow, 635 N. Belmont.

An additional 430 men will be added to the program between now and Oct. 11. All meetings wil be held in the St. James Junior High School hall.

The 1,450 pupil parish school is staffed by 20 School Sisters of Saint Francis and 14 lay O.F.S., is principal. The curates serving at Saint James are the Rev. James J. Doherty and the Rev. Robert J. Hinterberger.

New $350,000 Convent Planned by St. James

Saint James Parish, Arlington Heights, has announced plans to begin construction of a new $350,000 convent next spring.

The cost of the new convent will be financed by a three-year fund raising program which will be launched in a mass appeal in the parish Sunday, Oct. 11.

Even the Calendar Confirms Autumn's Sly Arrival

He was right again — I mean that fellow who, on the Fourth of July, always says, "Before you know it, the summer'll be gone." Parents are home from taking-kids-to-college vacation trips, leaves are falling, and now even the calendar confirms the fact that autumn's here. And that same fellow is probably muttering. "Before you know it, it'll be Christmas."

There's currently a lot of quiet in the Jack Keller household and it's being well-used to offset an earlier lack of same. A week ago Friday, right after getting younger members of the family back to school, the Kellers took Kathy to Des Moines where she began her freshman year in Drake University. Mom and Dad returned last Monday to 512 W. South, and immediately began helping Sue wind up her campus-ho preparations. She left for DeKalb Tuesday to start her sophomore-junior year in Northern Illinois University, and Wednesday Mom sat around wondering what that funny noise was. A settling lull always sounds odd at first.

BARBARA Swanson is back at the books in Bradley University after a final weekend "bash" with six Chi Omega sisters who were her guests at the Swanson family cottage in Fontana, Wis. The weekend was final as far as both coeds and cottage were concerned, the coeds leaving Sunday for Peoria and the cottage housing its last weekend guests of the vacation season.

Mrs. Swanson spent most of the summer in Fontana while the rest of the family commuted regularly; now everyone's back in place at 901 S. Highland, wondering where the summer went.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mueller, 110 S. Vail, returned Saturday night after combining an eastern back-to-college trip and a family visit. Back to college is their son, Thomas, in his second year at Cornell University. After delivering Tom to Ithaca, Mr. and Mrs. Mueller stopped in Johnstown, Pa. for a brief stay with Mueller's sister and her husband, the Marshall Lanphears.

An early report from Barbara to the other Rothers at 710 S. Walnut is that her first week at Western Illinois University is wonderful, the townspeople of Macomb are wonderful and college life in general is more of the same. The other Rothers are happy about it all, too.

SINCE THE J. A. Smiths' visit with their daughters in Seattle late last month, they too have had happy news. Sharon, a registered nurse studying for her bachelor of science degree in University of Washington, has been awarded a traineeship (scholarship) to assist with her schooling. The Smiths' stay with Sharon and Marilyn was less than perfect, weatherwise, but the family-all-together session was so happy no one paid much attention to the climate. They returned to 909 S. Dunton over the Labor Day weekend.

Rick Pelland, 45 S. Salem, reached his teenhood a week ago Friday, a fact noted at a family dinner party that night and reviewed happily the following Sunday. Guests in the Pelland home at the Sunday gathering were 20 fellow members of a church youth group, all fond of birthday cake, fun and Rick.

Thirty-five adults plus kids too mobile for a nose count represented 20 neighborhood families at a recent block party mutually given and enjoyed by residents along 1200 N. Chestnut. Originator and organizer of the let's-all-get-together idea was Mrs. Jack Crump, 1211 N. Chestnut, who was assisted by game, food and spread-the-word committees of enthusiastic neighbors.

A potluck supper included the specialty dish of each housewife. Reports from several of the women praised everyone else's culinary genius, at the same time noting that the kids concentrated on the hot dogs and hamburgers and demolished an impressive amount of each.

At game time the well-stocked youngsters vied mightily for the "block-buster champion badge," then watched in awe and admiration as their parents began throwing eggs at each other.

OF COURSE the egg toss was just a contest, not warfare, and no doubt will account for the future salvation of many a falling egg. Other entertainment included a pantomime by three beatniks, normally recognized as conformist members of the society of housewives. There was a roving guitarist, too, the visiting son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Oswald.

James' music caused a lot of hand-clapping and foot-stomping which in turn warmed up an otherwise chilly evening. Especially warmed by the total sociability of the get-together were several newcomers to the neighborhood who had not previously met all of their fellow N. Chestnut Street residents.

Mickey Stoffel, son of the Harold Stoffels, 133 S. Highland, is just plain "mister" again after four years and 12 days in the army, and he's not minding the cut in rank at all. Mister Stoffel is an insurance investigator now, a job perhaps not too far removed from one he performed in the Army when he was on duty along the east-west border in Berlin, insuring a somewhat shaky peace, and investigating threats to that peace.

BETTY BUCK returned from a 2-week vacation with her parents, the James Bucks, 705 S. Vail, just in time to go through the suitcase routine again in preparation for college. The family visited relatives in Newport, Long Island and in Philadelphia, then hurried home to get the coed back to De Pauw University for her senior year.

Mrs. Glenn Terrell Jr., 814 S. Fernandez, entertained Friday morning with a coffee for northwest suburban members of the faculty wives' association of the University of Illinois, Navy Pier campus. Among her 15 guests were Mrs. Norman Parker, wife of the university's vice-president, and Mrs. Leonard Currie, president of the association.

New members were welcomed and the group's purpose, that of acquainting the public with the association's aims, was outlined to them. The hostess' husband is the dean of liberal arts and sciences on the Chicago campus of the university.

Three late summer showers feted the former Miss Frances Friedrichs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Friedrichs, 1538 N. Evergreen, who was married Saturday to the junior Andrew Andersen of Palatine. The first party, a would-be surprise that the honor guest suspected, was followed the very next night by one which completely caught the bride-elect off guard.

A third shower was a cross between the first two, originally planned as a surprise, then revealed to insure the presence of Miss Friedrichs, who was amazed to learn of the plans. All three parties were socially successful, totally happy occasions.

MISS FRIEDRICHS' cousins and bridesmaids-elect, Miss Diane Lumpp and Miss Marilyn Beck, were hostesses at the initial pre-nuptial party, given in the Mount Prospect home of Miss Lumpp. Twenty family members semi-surprised the honor guest, showered her with miscellaneous gifts and enjoyed a final pre-wedding reunion with her. The party was recorded on film.

Next night Miss Friedrichs went to the home of her matron-of-honor, Mrs. David Cary, to pick up the camera used the night before and walked right into another shower in her honor. Twenty-five personal friends shouted, "Surprise!" and meant it. Assisting the hostess at 713 N. Patton was bridesmaid-elect, Miss Phyllis Muran, also of Arlington Heights.

Fellow workers in the local telephone office climaxed the shower series for Miss Friedrichs at a party given by Mrs. John Baker and Mrs. William Barrett in the Baker home, 30 S. Mitchell. Twenty unnecessarily successful secret-keepers feted the honor guest, showering her with miscellaneous gifts and good advice.

Parents of the groom also hosted a pre-nuptial party for their future daughter-in-law who was welcomed to the family circle midst a shower of gifts and good wishes. Following their wedding Saturday in St. Mary of Villanova Catholic Church in Palatine, the bridal couple left on a brief honeymoon. They will return next week to make their home in Palatine.

THE JOSEPH Connery family recently returned to 303 S. Gibbons from a late summer camping trip that took them through state parks in Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri. The Ozarks were beautiful, so was the swimming and two fine weeks of take-it-easy sightseeing.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Myers, 403 E. Eastman, were among local barber-shoppers attending the state convention in Rock Island of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America. Our boys, the Arlingtones, did it again, retaining the state championship in the men's chorus division.

Mrs. Myers had been in the East for two weeks just prior to the SPEBSQSA convention and her suitcases hadn't cooled off before she was packing them again. A family wedding in Stanford, Conn. was the main reason for her eastern trip, and while she was "in the neighborhood" Mrs. Myers also toured the New York World's Fair and Washington, D.C. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Warren Leak of Amboy, and a cousin, Mrs. Marion Wald of Chicago, mother of the Stanford groom.

MRS. JOHN Haberstroh, 1207 Mayfair, flew to Sea Girth, N.J. Saturday, to attend her high school class reunion. She remained in the East just for the weekend, dividing her stay with her sister and family, the Fred Beyers of Neptune City and friends, the James Hutchinsons of Sea Girth.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bredehoft, 201 S. Wilshire, had as their houseguest, Saturday, Walter Ryan of Dublin, Ireland, who is here for the American Management Association Seminar to discuss industrial opportunities in Ireland.

Monday the Bredehofts and Mr. Ryan attended a reception in the Drake Hotel given by the Consul General of Ireland and Mrs. O. Kelly, to meet the Ambassador of Ireland and Mrs. Fay.

The Bredehofts' eldest son, Bill, who spent the summer working at Glacier National Park, has returned to Dartmouth University for his sophomore year. He left early to serve as leader of the Dartmouth Freshman Outing Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl V. Anderson, 1185 Mayfair, went to New York City to bid bon voyage to their daughter, Nancy, who sailed on the SS France for Europe. Miss Anderson will spend nine months at the Sorbonne University in Paris, studying for her Master's degree in French. She was joined by two Middlebury College classmates who will also be students at the Sorbonne.

Before returning to Arlington Heights, the Andersons visited the New York Fair and saw several Broadway plays, including "Funny Girl." Their younger daughter, Carla, leaves Saturday for her sophomore year at Michigan State University.

THE LESTER Schreibers, 123 S. Brighton, are home after a 10-day motor trip during which they took their younger son, Don, to Luther College in Decorah, Iowa where he is a freshman. They then went on to Roland to spend several days visiting Mrs. Schreiber's mother, Mrs. Bertha Shafland and brother, John. Afterwards, they drove to St. Paul to visit their eldest son, David, a student at the Lutheran Theological Seminary, and to spend several days with long-time friends, the Harold Balakers of Minneapolis. During their stay, they attended the Minnesota Viking-Baltimore Colt football game.

Richard Dunlop, 1115 Mayfair, returned home Monday after spending 12 days in Alaska gathering material for his travel stories. His research work took him to many parts of Alaska including the Arctic Circle and to the homes of Eskimos.

Mrs. Lee Kiesig, 1709 Kensington, entertained at a dinner party Saturday for the Walter Kellins, the John Sullivans and the Robert Mitchells.

The Douglas F. Gutzmans, 344 S. Windsor, were pleased to learn that their daughter, Barbara, has been named to the Dean's list at Smith College. She left for Northampton, Mass. Sunday for her sophomore year.

LT. AND MRS. Patrick C. McNamee and their two children, Mike and Cheryl, were in Arlington Heights last week for a 5-day visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Burnett, 317 S. Derbyshire.

Lt. McNamee and his family are being transferred from Nashville, N. C., where he served in the Transport Air Command to Topeka, Kan. where he will be permanently stationed.

The Burnetts' younger daughter, Ginger, has begun her teaching career in Arlington Heights and is teaching third grade in the new Greenbrier school.

Shelly Sutton, daughter of the James Suttons, 627 S. State, celebrated a belated birthday Sept. 12 with a luncheon and afternoon at Santa's Village in Dundee with three friends. Afterwards, they had birthday cake and ice cream at the Sutton home. Shelly, who was 9 years old Sept. 4, was in New York that week vacationing with her parents.

Vicky Lilleberg, daughter of the Richard Lillebergs, 314 E. Rockwell, marked her 12th birthday last Friday at a supper party followed by a treasure hunt. Her guests included Ridgely Jackson, Adrian Voise, Sue McGrath, Sue Pretto, Bonnie Walworth, Celest Landon, Gail Sauers and Ellie Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Chambers, 520 S. Pine, spent the weekend in LaCrosse, Wis. They visited their son, Frank, a freshman at Wisconsin State University, and attended the Dad's Day program.

MR. AND MRS. C. H. Rosene, 404 E. Fairview, recently returned from a 2-week motor trip through the New England states, returning home through Canada, visiting Quebec, Ottawa and Montreal. While in Maine, they attended a lobster festival and went lobster fishing, a first experience for both of them.

Their son, Roger, who has been living in San Francisco while working in the Bank of America, joined them in New York for a week, and their daughter and son-in-law, the Robert Turners, who are living in Sacramento, just returned from a 3-week vacation in Europe.

Miss Ginny Mann, daughter of the Anthony Manns, 304 E. Fairview, is back home after spending the summer in Europe where she visited almost all the countries. She has now returned to her teaching post in Villa Park. The Manns' son, Bill, is teaching first and second year Spanish at Marquette University while studying for his Master's degree in Languages.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Colburn, 535 Burton, returned home last Thursday from a 2½-week vacation on Cape Cod, visiting friends at Bass River and Falmouth.

The R. A. Hibners, 110 S. Belmont, will mark their 38th wedding anniversary Friday, Sept. 25, with no special celebration, but will entertain long-time friends Saturday evening.

The Joseph Faners, 615 Mayfair, took their son, Rick, to De Pauw University, where he is a freshman. They stayed through the weekend and met former Scarsdale residents, the Harold Vaughns of Klinger Lake in Sturgis, Mich., who came down with their son. Peter, a sophomore. The Vaughns returned to Arlington Heights to spend several days with the Faners and to visit many of their old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwin Elliott were recently here from California for a 2-week visit with the John R. Graysons, 768 S. Belmont. (A

Park District Sponsors Many Different Programs

(Another in a series of articles on the aims and activities of member organizations of the Arlington Heights Community Council.)

Arlington Heights residents can look forward to a winter season of learning, exercise and fun when they participate in the fall and winter program of the Arlington Heights Park District, which includes nearly 50 different activities for children, teenagers and adults. (The fall program is detailed in another article in this issue.)

New to the program this year will be classes in guitar and folksinging, gymnastics, and two charm classes — Teen Charmer and Tween Charmer—for girls in their teens and preteens. A teen theater club will also be organized this year for 13 to 18 year olds who are interested in acting.

MANY SPECIAL events are also planned. There will be Halloween Parties for children, holiday story hours, and a trip to Santa's Village. A basketball tournament will be held during Christmas vacation, followed by an Ice Karnival in January, a Kite Karnival and an Easter egg hunt in April.

The nine-day fishing season, when the swimming pools are stocked with fish, is always a popular event with anglers young and old.

The Over 50 Club offers unique opportunity for social and intellectual enrichment to senior citizens of Arlington Heights. The members meet at Pioneer Park on the second and fourth Thursday of each month for social hours, luncheons, bus trips and tours, card games, lectures and a variety of interesting special events.

There is also a new Drop-In Center at Recreation Park on the first and third Thursday afternoons, where members are invited to participate in unorganized activities.

In addition, dancing, ceramics, and arts and crafts classes are offered as a part of the Over 50 program. For further information, call the director, Mrs. Elizabeth Meyer, at CL 5-8850.

THE PARK District also sponsors BO-GI, a club for boys and girls of high school age, which meets on Friday and Saturday nights and provides opportunity for members to dance and play cards and other table games. Times and events are coordinated with school activities.

The Arlington Heights Park District has been an active function of the village for many years. It was declared duly organized on July 9, 1925.

Land for the first park, Memorial Park, was obtained when the village board voted on July 3, 1925 to turn over to the Park District the triangular plot located at Chestnut, Park and Fremont. In 1927 a World War monument was erected, and the park remains one of the scenic attractions of the village today.

In 1936 the village passed a bond referendum to build a fieldhouse and swimming pool at Recreation Park. These were constructed as a Works Progress Administration project and were opened to the public in 1939. In response to a rapidly increasing population, a fieldhouse and swimming pool were constructed at Pioneer Park in 1957 and a fieldhouse at Hasbrook Park in 1963.

TODAY, the Arlington Heights Park District includes these three major parks, plus ten neighborhood parks, many of which also have scheduled activities. It also maintains the parkways in the Stonegate and Scarsdale areas which serve as park area.

Approximately 227,000 persons were admitted to the Arlington Heights swimming pools during the 1964 summer season. With the programs being offered throughout the year, park facilities are being utilized to a remarkable degree. It is the purpose of the program to supplement the activities offered by the various local organizations and not to compete with them.

Park fieldhouses are available without charge to all qualifying organizations for meetings and activities. Small rental fees are charged organizations not qualifying for free use. Arrangements can also be made for the use of a 16mm sound movie projector by groups using park facilities.

Any local groups or clubs may also make arrangements for roller skating parties at the Recreation Park Fieldhouse at a nominal charge.

ELECTED commissioners for the Arlington Heights Park District are E. Elliott Ormsbee, 605 S. Mitchell; George Schaefer, 25 S. Salem; Charles Cronin, 904 W. Grove; Douglas Thomson, 802 Catino St., and John C. Edwards, 1612 N. Ridge.

The administration of the park district is headed by Thomas Thornton, 901 E. Talbot, director of parks and recreation; William G. Appleby, 415 Bob-o-Link, Mount Prospect, superintendent of recreation, and Richard Jullison, 726 S. Dennis, Wheeling, superintendent of maintenance. (A

Court of Honor Held At Picnic

Boy Scout Troop 32, sponsored by the Men's Club of the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights, held a family picnic and Court of Honor Sunday, Sept. 20, at Deer Grove.

Scouts receiving awards at the Court of Honor were: Ken Hawkes, Life Socut and camping, hiking, pioneering, marksmanship, nature and woodcarving merit badges; Terry Kluesing, Star Scout and hiking, swimming, canoeing and basketry merit badges; Mike Mohr, hiking, swimming and camping merit badges; Bob Jensen, swimming and basketry merit badges; John Cummings, camping and basketry merit badges; Bill Graham, swimming merit badge, and David Drachman, Indian lore merit badge.

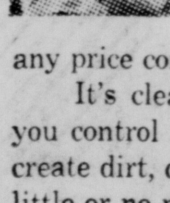
Troop 32's program for 1964-65 was discussed with the parents by Scoutmaster Al Kluesing.

Over 50 Club Will Travel to Starved Rock

A group of 90 members of the Over 50 Club of Arlington Heights area will travel to Starved Rock State Park today (Thursday).

The regular Drop In Center day at Recreation Park will be held from noon to 4 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 1, with games and crafts. Coffee and tea will be served. Those attending may bring lunch.

Ceramic and craft class will continue every Friday from 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Members may bring lunch and tea and coffee will be served.



"If you're ready for the better things in life, you're ready for electric heat"

(and the rates are down 50% since 1958!)

That's Bob Appel talking. His RCA Associates, Inc., have built more than 600 homes in the North Aurora area.

Like an ever-growing number of his friends in the building trades, Bob Appel believes that electric heat is today's great home improvement.

And, if you are ready for the better things in life, no other heating system at any price comes close to giving you all the benefits of electric heat.

It's clean, safe, the most comfortable heat by a wide margin. Separate thermostats let you control the heat in every room. And because electric heat burns no fuel, there's nothing to create dirt, dust, and fumes. Walls, ceilings, curtains, and furniture stay clean longer. And there's little or no maintenance.

Besides—what else can you think of that costs 50% less today than it did in 1958?

Even the Calendar Confirms Autumn's Sly Arrival

Sidelights
Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate
Dorothy Meyer, CL 3-2298   Elsie Jedd, CL 3-5982

He was right again — I mean that fellow who, on the Fourth of July, always says, "Before you know it, the summer'll be gone." Parents are home from taking-kids-to-college vacation trips, leaves are falling, and now even the calendar confirms the fact that autumn's here. And that same fellow is probably muttering. "Before you know it, it'll be Christmas."

There's currently a lot of quiet in the Jack Keller household and it's being well-used to offset an earlier lack of same. A week ago Friday, right after getting younger members of the family back to school, the Kellers took Kathy to Des Moines where she began her freshman year in Drake University. Mom and Dad returned last Monday to 512 W. South, and immediately began helping Sue wind up her campus-ho preparations. She left for DeKalb Tuesday to start her sophomore-junior year in Northern Illinois University, and Wednesday Mom sat around wondering what that funny noise was. A settling lull always sounds odd at first.

BARBARA Swanson is back at the books in Bradley University after a final weekend "bash" with six Chi Omega sisters who were her guests at the Swanson family cottage in Fontana, Wis. The weekend was final as far as both coeds and cottage were concerned, the coeds leaving Sunday for Peoria and the cottage housing its last weekend guests of the vacation season.

Mrs. Swanson spent most of the summer in Fontana while the rest of the family commuted regularly; now everyone's back in place at 901 S. Highland, wondering where the summer went.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mueller, 110 S. Vail, returned Saturday night after combining an eastern back-to-college trip and a family visit. Back to college is their son, Thomas, in his second year at Cornell University. After delivering Tom to Ithaca, Mr. and Mrs. Mueller stopped in Johnstown, Pa. for a brief stay with Mueller's sister and her husband, the Marshall Lanphears.

An early report from Barbara to the other Rothers at 710 S. Walnut is that her first week at Western Illinois University is wonderful, the townspeople of Macomb are wonderful and college life in general is more of the same. The other Rothers are happy about it all, too.

SINCE THE J. A. Smiths' visit with their daughters in Seattle late last month, they too have had happy news. Sharon, a registered nurse studying for her bachelor of science degree in University of Washington, has been awarded a traineeship (scholarship) to assist with her schooling. The Smiths' stay with Sharon and Marilyn was less than perfect, weatherwise, but the family-all-together session was so happy no one paid much attention to the climate. They returned to 909 S. Dunton over the Labor Day weekend.

Rick Pelland, 45 S. Salem, reached his teenhood a week ago Friday, a fact noted at a family dinner party that night and reviewed happily the following Sunday. Guests in the Pelland home at the Sunday gathering were 20 fellow members of a church youth group, all fond of birthday cake, fun and Rick.

Thirty-five adults plus kids too mobile for a nose count represented 20 neighborhood families at a recent block party mutually given and enjoyed by residents along 1200 N. Chestnut. Originator and organizer of the let's-all-get-together idea was Mrs. Jack Crump, 1211 N. Chestnut, who was assisted by game, food and spread-the-word committees of enthusiastic neighbors.

A potluck supper included the specialty dish of each housewife. Reports from several of the women praised everyone else's culinary genius, at the same time noting that the kids concentrated on the hot dogs and hamburgers and demolished an impressive amount of each.

At game time the well-stocked youngsters vied mightily for the "block-buster champion badge," then watched in awe and admiration as their parents began throwing eggs at each other.

OF COURSE the egg toss was just a contest, not warfare, and no doubt will account for the future salvation of many a falling egg. Other entertainment included a pantomime by three beatniks, normally recognized as conformist members of the society of housewives. There was a roving guitarist, too, the visiting son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Oswald.

James' music caused a lot of hand-clapping and foot-stomping which in turn warmed up an otherwise chilly evening. Especially warmed by the total sociability of the get-together were several newcomers to the neighborhood who had not previously met all of their fellow N. Chestnut Street residents.

Mickey Stoffel, son of the Harold Stoffels, 133 S. Highland, is just plain "mister" again after four years and 12 days in the army, and he's not minding the cut in rank at all. Mister Stoffel is an insurance investigator now, a job perhaps not too far removed from one he performed in the Army when he was on duty along the east-west border in Berlin, insuring a somewhat shaky peace, and investigating threats to that peace.

BETTY BUCK returned from a 2-week vacation with her parents, the James Bucks, 705 S. Vail, just in time to go through the suitcase routine again in preparation for college. The family visited relatives in Newport, Long Island and in Philadelphia, then hurried home to get the coed back to De Pauw University for her senior year.

Mrs. Glenn Terrell Jr., 814 S. Fernandez, entertained Friday morning with a coffee for northwest suburban members of the faculty wives' association of the University of Illinois, Navy Pier campus. Among her 15 guests were Mrs. Norman Parker, wife of the university's vice-president, and Mrs. Leonard Currie, president of the association.

New members were welcomed and the group's purpose, that of acquainting the public with the association's aims, was outlined to them. The hostess' husband is the dean of liberal arts and sciences on the Chicago campus of the university.

Three late summer showers feted the former Miss Frances Friedrichs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Friedrichs, 1538 N. Evergreen, who was married Saturday to the junior Andrew Andersen of Palatine. The first party, a would-be surprise that the honor guest suspected, was followed the very next night by one which completely caught the bride-elect off guard.

A third shower was a cross between the first two, originally planned as a surprise, then revealed to insure the presence of Miss Friedrichs, who was amazed to learn of the plans. All three parties were socially successful, totally happy occasions.

MISS FRIEDRICHS' cousins and bridesmaids-elect, Miss Diane Lumpp and Miss Marilyn Beck, were hostesses at the initial pre-nuptial party, given in the Mount Prospect home of Miss Lumpp. Twenty family members semi-surprised the honor guest, showered her with miscellaneous gifts and enjoyed a final pre-wedding reunion with her. The party was recorded on film.

Next night Miss Friedrichs went to the home of her matron-of-honor, Mrs. David Cary, to pick up the camera used the night before and walked right into another shower in her honor. Twenty-five personal friends shouted, "Surprise!" and meant it. Assisting the hostess at 713 N. Patton was bridesmaid-elect, Miss Phyllis Muran, also of Arlington Heights.

Fellow workers in the local telephone office climaxed the shower series for Miss Friedrichs at a party given by Mrs. John Baker and Mrs. William Barrett in the Baker home, 30 S. Mitchell. Twenty unnecessarily successful secret-keepers feted the honor guest, showering her with miscellaneous gifts and good advice.

Parents of the groom also hosted a pre-nuptial party for their future daughter-in-law who was welcomed to the family circle midst a shower of gifts and good wishes. Following their wedding Saturday in St. Mary of Villanova Catholic Church in Palatine, the bridal couple left on a brief honeymoon. They will return next week to make their home in Palatine.

THE JOSEPH Connery family recently returned to 303 S. Gibbons from a late summer camping trip that took them through state parks in Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri. The Ozarks were beautiful, so was the swimming and two fine weeks of take-it-easy sightseeing.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Myers, 403 E. Eastman, were among local barber-shoppers attending the state convention in Rock Island of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America. Our boys, the Arlingtones, did it again, retaining the state championship in the men's chorus division.

Mrs. Myers had been in the East for two weeks just prior to the SPEBSQSA convention and her suitcases hadn't cooled off before she was packing them again. A family wedding in Stanford, Conn. was the main reason for her eastern trip, and while she was "in the neighborhood" Mrs. Myers also toured the New York World's Fair and Washington, D.C. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Warren Leak of Amboy, and a cousin, Mrs. Marion Wald of Chicago, mother of the Stanford groom.

MRS. JOHN Haberstroh, 1207 Mayfair, flew to Sea Girth, N.J. Saturday, to attend her high school class reunion. She remained in the East just for the weekend, dividing her stay with her sister and family, the Fred Beyers of Neptune City and friends, the James Hutchinsons of Sea Girth.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bredehoft, 201 S. Wilshire, had as their houseguest, Saturday, Walter Ryan of Dublin, Ireland, who is here for the American Management Association Seminar to discuss industrial opportunities in Ireland.

Monday the Bredehofts and Mr. Ryan attended a reception in the Drake Hotel given by the Consul General of Ireland and Mrs. O. Kelly, to meet the Ambassador of Ireland and Mrs. Fay.

The Bredehofts' eldest son, Bill, who spent the summer working at Glacier National Park, has returned to Dartmouth University for his sophomore year. He left early to serve as leader of the Dartmouth Freshman Outing Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl V. Anderson, 1165 Mayfair, went to New York City to bid bon voyage to their daughter, Nancy, who sailed on the SS France for Europe. Miss Anderson will spend nine months at the Sorbonne University in Paris, studying for her Master's degree in French. She was joined by two Middlebury College classmates who will also be students at the Sorbonne.

Before returning to Arlington Heights, the Andersons visited the New York Fair and saw several Broadway plays, including "Funny Girl." Their younger daughter, Carla, leaves Saturday for her sophomore year at Michigan State University.

THE LESTER Schreibers, 123 S. Brighton, are home after a 10-day motor trip during which they took their younger son, Don, to Luther College in Decorah, Iowa where he is a freshman. They then went on to Roland to spend several days visiting Mrs. Schreiber's mother, Mrs. Bertha Shafland and brother, John. Afterwards, they drove to St. Paul to visit their eldest son, David, a student at the Lutheran Theological Seminary, and to spend several days with long-time friends, the Harold Balakers of Minneapolis. During their stay, they attended the Minnesota Viking-Baltimore Colt football game.

Richard Dunlop, 1115 Mayfair, returned home Monday after spending 12 days in Alaska gathering material for his travel stories. His research work took him to many parts of Alaska including the Arctic Circle and to the homes of Eskimos.

Mrs. Lee Kiesig, 1709 Kensington, entertained at a dinner party Saturday for the Walter Kellins, the John Sullivans and the Robert Mitchells.

The Douglas F. Gutzmans, 344 S. Windsor, were pleased to learn that their daughter, Barbara, has been named to the Dean's list at Smith College. She left for Northampton, Mass. Sunday for her sophomore year.

LT. AND MRS. Patrick C. McNamee and their two children, Mike and Cheryl, were in Arlington Heights last week for a 5-day visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Burnett, 317 S. Derbyshire.

Lt. McNamee and his family are being transferred from Nashville, N. C., where he served in the Transport Air Command to Topeka, Kan. where he will be permanently stationed.

The Burnetts' younger daughter, Ginger, has begun her teaching career in Arlington Heights and is teaching third grade in the new Greenbrier school.

Shelly Sutton, daughter of the James Suttons, 627 S. State, celebrated a belated birthday Sept. 12 with a luncheon and afternoon at Santa's Village in Dundee with three friends. Afterwards, they had birthday cake and ice cream at the Sutton home. Shelly, who was 9 years old Sept. 4, was in New York that week vacationing with her parents.

Vicky Lilleberg, daughter of the Richard Lillebergs, 314 E. Rockwell, marked her 12th birthday last Friday at a supper party followed by a treasure hunt. Her guests included Ridgely Jackson, Adrian Voise, Sue McGrath, Sue Pretto, Bonnie Walworth, Celest Landon, Gail Sauers and Ellie Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Chambers, 520 S. Pine, spent the weekend in LaCrosse, Wis. They visited their son, Frank, a freshman at Wisconsin State University, and attended the Dad's Day program.

MR. AND MRS. C. H. Rosene, 404 E. Fairview, recently returned from a 2-week motor trip through the New England states, returning home through Canada, visiting Quebec, Ottawa and Montreal. While in Maine, they attended a lobster festival and went lobster fishing, a first experience for both of them.

Their son, Roger, who has been living in San Francisco while working in the Bank of America, joined them in New York for a week, and their daughter and son-in-law, the Robert Turners, who are living in Sacramento, just returned from a 3-week vacation in Europe.

Miss Ginny Mann, daughter of the Anthony Manns, 304 E. Fairview, is back home after spending the summer in Europe where she visited almost all the countries. She has now returned to her teaching post in Villa Park. The Manns' son, Bill, is teaching first and second year Spanish at Marquette University while studying for his Master's degree in Languages.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Colburn, 535 Burton, returned home last Thursday from a 2½-week vacation on Cape Cod, visiting friends at Bass River and Falmouth.

The R. A. Hibners, 110 S. Belmont, will mark their 38th wedding anniversary Friday, Sept. 25, with no special celebration, but will entertain long-time friends Saturday evening.

The Joseph Faners, 615 Mayfair, took their son, Rick, to De Pauw University, where he is a freshman. They stayed through the weekend and met former Scarsdale residents, the Harold Vaughns of Klinger Lake in Sturgis, Mich., who came down with their son. Peter, a sophomore. The Vaughns returned to Arlington Heights to spend several days with the Faners and to visit many of their old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwin Elliott were recently here from California for a 2-week visit with the John R. Graysons, 768 S. Belmont. (A

Park District Sponsors Many Different Programs

(Another in a series of articles on the aims and activities of member organizations of the Arlington Heights Community Council.)

Arlington Heights residents can look forward to a winter season of learning, exercise and fun when they participate in the fall and winter program of the Arlington Heights Park District, which includes nearly 50 different activities for children, teenagers and adults. (The fall program is detailed in another article in this issue.)

New to the program this year will be classes in guitar and folksinging, gymnastics, and two charm classes — Teen Charmer and Tween Charmer—for girls in their teens and preteens. A teen theater club will also be organized this year for 13 to 18 year olds who are interested in acting.

Professor to Do Modern Art Satire

George Buehr, currently writing professor of art at Drake University, Des Moines, will be the guest of the Countryside Art Center Thursday, Oct. 1, 8 p.m. at Pioneer Park in Arlington Heights.

Buehr, internationally known artist, teacher and lecturer, will demonstrate for the membership and guests his satirical impression on "techniques of the modern painters." Buehr was asked to repeat his part in an end-of-summer party program presented by the teaching staff this past August at Oxbow, the Summer School of Painting at Saugatuck, Mich., where Buehr taught landscape painting.

REMINISCENT OF "The 500 Hats of Bartholomew Gibbons" is Buehr's spoof of the various hats an artist wears. Another is a see-saw run across a huge canvas with an incidental stroke of the paint brush, which he calls "Potluck With Pollock."

Buehr was head of the Museum Education Department at the Art Institute of Chicago from 1958 to 1960 and for three years prior was chairman of the art department, American University, Beirut, Lebanon.

He is noted for his watercolors and work in landscape and has won many awards. He has exhibited extensively, including such museums as the Whitney, Carnegie, Art Institute of Chicago and Pennsylvania Art Institute. He will havea one-man show of collages at Fairweather Harden Gallery in February. He will then leave for Beirut to teach second semester, followed by a trip around the world.

Circulate Petition For Open Occupancy

Seeking to verify homeowners' backing for the principle of open occupancy, the Northwest Suburban Council on Human Relations is sponsoring petitions to pay for an advertisement proclaiming the principle.

The council voted July 21 to back the statement of principle, which was already being circulated in the northwest area on a limited basis at the time. It is similar in wording to several petitions which have been circulated in north shore communities

Titled "Northwest Community Statement," the document briefly states ". . . we want it known that we do not want persons excluded from living in our community on the basis of their race, color or creed."

Those circulating the petition already have more than 200 signatures, for which couples or individuals signing are asked to contribute $1.

The funds raised are to be used to purchase an advertisement in area papers carrying the statement and names of all those signing.

Obituaries

Kenneth W. Wagner

Services for Kenneth W. Wagner, 54, 327 Longacres Lane, Palatine, were held Sept. 22 in his home town of WaKeeney, Kan. Mr. Wagner died Saturday in a WaKeeney hospital where he had been a patient for five days. Interment was also in WaKeeney.

He leaves his wife, Ethel; a daughter, Jan; a son, First Lt. Jon G. Wagner of the U. S. Air Force; two grandchildren; and a brother, William Wagner of WaKeeney.

A graduate of Fort Hays Kansas State College, he received his law degree from Washburn University of Topeka. He has served as an attorney for the Kansas Corporation Commission, the Federal Power Commission in Washington and the Natural Pipeline Company of America. Since 1956 he had been associated with a Chicago law firm, Ross, Hardies, O'Keefe, Babcock and McDugald.

He was affiliated with the Federal Bar Association, the American Bar Association, the National Lawyers Club, Illinois Bar Association, Chicago Bar Association and formerly the Kansas Bar Association. Over the past several years he had served in a research department of the Hoover Commission.

He was a member of First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights.

Professor to Do Modern Art Satire

George Buehr, currently writing professor of art at Drake University, Des Moines, will be the guest of the Countryside Art Center Thursday, Oct. 1, 8 p.m. at Pioneer Park in Arlington Heights.

Buehr, internationally known artist, teacher and lecturer, will demonstrate for the membership and guests his satirical impression on "techniques of the modern painters." Buehr was asked to repeat his part in an end-of-summer party program presented by the teaching staff this past August at Oxbow, the Summer School of Painting at Saugatuck, Mich., where Buehr taught landscape painting.

REMINISCENT OF "The 500 Hats of Bartholomew Gibbons" is Buehr's spoof of the various hats an artist wears. Another is a see-saw run across a huge canvas with an incidental stroke of the paint brush, which he calls "Potluck With Pollock."

Buehr was head of the Museum Education Department at the Art Institute of Chicago from 1958 to 1960 and for three years prior was chairman of the art department, American University, Beirut, Lebanon.

He is noted for his watercolors and work in landscape and has won many awards. He has exhibited extensively, including such museums as the Whitney, Carnegie, Art Institute of Chicago and Pennsylvania Art Institute. He will havea one-man show of collages at Fairweather Harden Gallery in February. He will then leave for Beirut to teach second semester, followed by a trip around the world.

SQUARE DANCE CLUB NEWS

Dorothy Meyer CL 3-2298

FOR TEENS ONLY

One of the many beginners' classes scheduled this fall will interest local teens who are tired of being on the outside looking in where square dance fun is concerned. Jim McCall, caller for the Circle Eight Teen Club of Wheeling, will begin teaching interested teens Sunday, Oct. 4, in classes to be held weekly in the fieldhouse at Emmerich Park, Wheeling. Learnin' time, 2:30 to 5 in the afternoon.

Classes (as well as the Circle Eight Club) are open to any teen, boy-type or girl-type, and students may come in bunches, couples, singles or any other way they can think of. To reach the park take Buffalo Grove Road to St. Mary's Parkway, go west on St. Mary's to Raupp Boulevard (first stop sign), turn right and cross the bridge. There's the brand new fieldhouse, waiting for teens who want to learn to square dance. Additional information may be had by calling the McCalls, LE 7-4508.

KIM CLASS MOVED

A last-minute shift from High Ridge Knoll School in Des Plaines to Brentwood School, also in Des Plaines, caused a little confusion for Bob Kim's beginners' round dance class, meeting weekly on Monday night at 8 o'clock. Kim regrets the unavoidable switch in the locale of his classes and urges disappointed first-time-out couples to try once more — he guarantees there'll be no more changes.

Brentwood School is at Brentwood and Dulles Streets. To reach it take Golf Road (Route 58) to Marshall, south on Marshall three blocks to Dulles and east on Dulles for two blocks.

Registration will remain open through Monday, Sept. 28. Further information may be had by calling the Kims, 529-6089.

MORE CLASSES

Complete information about beginners' classes being sponsored by the Arlington Heights Park District may be found in the district's annual brochure recently mailed to all local residents. "Tib" Tibbetts opens the 20 weekly sessions Monday, Oct. 5, at 8 p.m. in Recreation Park Field House, 500 E. Miner. Cosponsors with the park district are three local clubs, the Swingin' Squares, Palatine Squares and Arlington Squares.

Bucks and Does of Elk Grove Village are also sponsoring a series of weekly beginners' classes, held every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in Dempster Junior High School, Dempster and Elmhurst Roads. Bob Lewis instructs. Complete information is yours via Danny Hagen, 824-3870.

Slowpokes of Mount Prospect are the sponsors of Wednesday night classes to be held weekly in Indian Grove School on Lee Street in Des Plaines. Next Wednesday will be the last opportunity to register. Full information may be obtained by calling Mitzie Brush, 392-2316, or Chuck Levecke, CL 3-4509.

PALATINE SQUARES

Jim Stewart will square 'em up at 8:30 Saturday night to begin the second dance of the new season for the Palatiners. Dot and Jerry Daniels will lead the rounds between tips, and "coffee-and" will wind up the evening's sociability in Paddock School.

Membership is still open, guests are still welcome, and fun is still tops in Palatine Squares. They meet regularly in Paddock School, the second and fourth Saturday nights of every month, with Art Mathews on duty the second Saturday and Jim Stewart at the mike the fourth Saturday night. The Daniels' "rounders" are 'round each dance night.

A group of club members joined local caller Don Finfrock to give a recent square and round dance exhibition for the residents of the Plum Grove Nursing Home in Palatine. It was a Sunday afternoon wonderfully well-spent according to one of the group who, like the rest, found pleasure in bringing pleasure to the "old-timers." Don has been doing it for several years.

SLOWPOKES

Tomorrow night's the night for the Mount Prospect club, trying a twice-a-month schedule in this, its second season. A half-hour brush-up session preceded the 8:30 square-'em-up call at the first dance, and is planned for tomorrow night, too.

Gene Tidwell is the caller, Euclid School is the place and guests are welcome to come out and see how members can call themselves "Slowpokes" and not mean it. Euclid School is on Euclid Avenue, about a block east of the north end of Randhurst Shopping Center. Y'all come!

BUCK AND DOES

There were 24 guests at the Elk Grove club's first dance of the new season, and the banner business started all over again! Bucks and Does wound up last season by snatching the club pennant of the Village Squares of Milton Junction, Wis., and said squares came down from Wisconsin two weeks ago to reclaim it. Bucks and Does were among last season's busiest banner thieves, and it looks as though nobody's reforming this year.

Other guests helping to get the Elk Grovers going were the Cross Trailers, Square Wheels, North Shore Alamanders, Flying Squares and The Wrestlers, from just about everywhere in the Chicago and suburban area. The Wisconsin club's caller, Joe McKeowen, treated the whole bunch to a McKeowen special, giving a breather to Bucks and Does caller, Bob Lewis. Bill and Ginny Davis, round dance specialists, substituted for club regulars, Carl and Marie Peterson, who are due back from Saturday night's dance.

Rover badges (reserved for those who travel 1,000 miles or more to dance, and are therefore 10 times more "way out" than Knotheads, who go 100 miles to do-ci-do) are now possessed by the Norman Ores and the Danny Hagens. The Ores did a bit of dancing with a club in Sun City, Ariz., and the Hagens were recent guests of a Rapid City, S. D., club.

Guests are welcome to attend the Bucks and Does next dance Saturday night in Dempster Junior High School, Elk Grove Village. Bob Lewis will square 'em up at 8 o'clock. Be there?

ARLINGTON SQUARES

There were lots of guests in Miner Junior High School when Arlington Squares began their new season with Lenny Roos and Jim Smith keeping the crowd happy and busy. Members were delighted to see so many area clubs represented among the guests, and say they plan to return the visits throughout the coming season.

Roos and Smith, who provided a program full of pep and variety at the season's opener, will alternate at coming dances, scheduled for the second and fourth Friday nights of every month. Tomorrow night's dance will be held in South Junior High School, South and Highland Streets, Arlington Heights, and will feature Lenny Roos.

Interest in square dancing is a family affair where the Rooses are concerned; mother, dad, his children and wife are frequent dancers when Lenny calls. Dancing starts at 8:30; guests are welcome.

PLAIDS AND CALICOS

Old members and new ones, guests from Miami, Fla., the Flying Squares of Addison and Lords and Ladies of Elgin were all part of the Hoffman Estates' club's first dance of the new season. Bob and Rose Kim led the rounds between Bob's square dance calls, beating their own hard-to-beat performances of the past.

Plaids and Calicos dance again tomorrow night and everybody's welcome. The Kims will be there, too, with one of their as-usual unusual programs. Everybody come! Square-'em-up time is 8:30, meetin' place is Schaumburg Elementary School (formerly the Schaumburg Junior High School), located on Schaumburg Road, about a mile east of Roselle Road. Refreshments and sociability wind up the evening.

There is a sorrowful p.s. to the Plaids and Calicos report, telling of the sudden death Sept. 16 of Mrs. William (Del) Hausherr, vice president of the club. Del, 32, and the mother of seven children, died in Sherman Hospital, Elgin. Club members and other friends extend sincere sympathy to the Hausherr family.

PUBLICITY RULES

Your easily confused square dance editor earnestly requests that all publicity chairmen give full details with each report. The beginning of each new season brings many changes in time, callers, meeting places and schedules, and it's well nigh impossible to remember all the facts about all the clubs in the area.

Lacking the full information your reporter is faced with having to call the publicity chairman concerned, and square dance news is usually typed around midnight Sunday! To guarantee a good night's sleep as well as accurate reporting about your club, do remember to repeat the where, when and who every time you report. And don't forget the deadline: Saturday noon mail delivery, or to Sunday noon if item is delivered in person to: 1205 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights.

Cook Only Court to Trim Backlog of Civil Cases

The Circuit Court of Cook County is the only one of the state's 21 judicial districts which showed progress in eliminating its backlog of civil cases, according to a report from the Illinois Supreme Court.

John W. Freels, Cook County administrator for the Supreme Court, presented copies of the report to John S. Boyle, chief judge of the Cook County Circuit Court and Joseph J. McDonough, clerk of the court.

The report stated that the court disposed of 174,029 civil cases for the first six months of the year, while there were only 167,339 suits filed for the same period.

This means that the county court gained 6,690 cases in its effort to eliminate the huge backlog during the first half year of judicial amendment.

Freels said all other Circuits throughout the state had more filings than cases disposesd of during the six month period. Other Circuits had a loss in the number of disposals ranging from 176 to 4,004, the administrator said.

EVEN WITH its gains, Cook County still has the longest waiting period for trial because of the large number of cases filed here, Freels pointed out.

He added, however, that the county is making progress and is expected to continue doing so. In 1962, he said, the average waiting period between the filing of a suit and the trial verdict was six years and five months.

The wait has now been reduced to 4 years, 8.3 months, he said. The shortest wait for trial is in District 14, which includes Moline and Sterling, where a verdict can be had within nine months of filing, Freels said.

Freels said the report indicates that Cook County was the best prepared Circuit when judicial court reform went into effect on Jan. 1, 1964. The six-month period is the first time since court records were kept that the number of disposals have exceeded the number of new filings, Boyle pointed out.

FREELS PRAISED Judge Boyle, Judge Harold G. Ward, head of the law division, and McDonough, for the achievements.

SQUARE DANCE CLUB NEWS

Dorothy Meyer CL 3-2298

FOR TEENS ONLY

One of the many beginners' classes scheduled this fall will interest local teens who are tired of being on the outside looking in where square dance fun is concerned. Jim McCall, caller for the Circle Eight Teen Club of Wheeling, will begin teaching interested teens Sunday, Oct. 4, in classes to be held weekly in the fieldhouse at Emmerich Park, Wheeling. Learnin' time, 2:30 to 5 in the afternoon.

Classes (as well as the Circle Eight Club) are open to any teen, boy-type or girl-type, and students may come in bunches, couples, singles or any other way they can think of. To reach the park take Buffalo Grove Road to St. Mary's Parkway, go west on St. Mary's to Raupp Boulevard (first stop sign), turn right and cross the bridge. There's the brand new fieldhouse, waiting for teens who want to learn to square dance. Additional information may be had by calling the McCalls, LE 7-4508.

KIM CLASS MOVED

A last-minute shift from High Ridge Knoll School in Des Plaines to Brentwood School, also in Des Plaines, caused a little confusion for Bob Kim's beginners' round dance class, meeting weekly on Monday night at 8 o'clock. Kim regrets the unavoidable switch in the locale of his classes and urges disappointed first-time-out couples to try once more — he guarantees there'll be no more changes.

Brentwood School is at Brentwood and Dulles Streets. To reach it take Golf Road (Route 58) to Marshall, south on Marshall three blocks to Dulles and east on Dulles for two blocks.

Registration will remain open through Monday, Sept. 28. Further information may be had by calling the Kims, 529-6089.

MORE CLASSES

Complete information about beginners' classes being sponsored by the Arlington Heights Park District may be found in the district's annual brochure recently mailed to all local residents. "Tib" Tibbetts opens the 20 weekly sessions Monday, Oct. 5, at 8 p.m. in Recreation Park Field House, 500 E. Miner. Co-sponsors with the park district are three local clubs, the Swingin' Squares, Palatine Squares and Arlington Squares.

Bucks and Does of Elk Grove Village are also sponsoring a series of weekly beginners' classes, held every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in Dempster Junior High School, Dempster and Elmhurst Roads. Bob Lewis instructs. Complete information is yours via Danny Hagen, 824-3870.

Slowpokes of Mount Prospect are the sponsors of Wednesday night classes to be held weekly in Indian Grove School on Lee Street in Des Plaines. Next Wednesday will be the last opportunity to register. Full information may be obtained by calling Mitzie Brush, 392-2316, or Chuck Levecke, CL 3-4509.

PALATINE SQUARES

Jim Stewart will square 'em up at 8:30 Saturday night to begin the second dance of the new season for the Palatiners. Dot and Jerry Daniels will lead the rounds between tips, and "coffee-and" will wind up the evening's sociability in Paddock School.

Cook Only Court to Trim Backlog of Civil Cases

The Circuit Court of Cook County is the only one of the state's 21 judicial districts which showed progress in eliminating its backlog of civil cases, according to a report from the Illinois Supreme Court.

Are Some Children Riding Too-Old Buses?

State Officials' Answer Is 'Yes'

by BEN BURNS
Staff Writer

Faded, ancient school buses, rattling down the highways and byways of Illinois, pose a major problem to state officials concerned with the safety of youngsters.

While the buses—no longer on regular school runs—can be in excellent condition from daily maintenance, the case is often true that the vehicles don't meet minimum safety requirements set up by the Illinois Commerce Commission, according to state officials.

However, both bus company operators and state officials are cagey about speaking out for publication on the problem of unfit buses.

"I would be just guessing if I gave you a figure on the number of these buses there are on Illinois highways," said Fred Petit, chief of the motor bus division of the ICC.

"However, I will say I would be very surprised if all the buses now used solely on charter work on Illinois highways would be able to pass our inspection. There are some companies with outstanding records, while others apparently don't even use a grease gun," Petit said.

A gap exists in the state law governing motor buses, which allows no control by the ICC over buses operated solely on a charter basis, Petit said.

Other state officials said they plan to seek remedial legislation from the state legislature at the next session.

ASKED IF they thought new regulations should extend to church and day camp buses used for transporting children on the highways, the officials said. "If the lawmakers in their wisdom see fit to give that power, we certainly would appreciate it."

Petit, who for 17 years was an attorney for a bus firm, said, "I was aware of the invasion of this particular field (charter buses) by operators who are not in a position to provide adequate insurance and safe equipment."

Bus company managers in the Northwest suburbs said they were aware there are firms operating in the charter field with old and unsafe buses.

Mrs. Georgia Davidsmeyer, of the Davidsmeyer Bus Service Inc. of Elk Grove Village said, "We have had drivers come to us from other companies because the maintenance on their buses was so poor.".

SHE SAID, "Yes, there are definitely buses operating on Illinois roads which are unsafe." However, she said she had no idea whether any were operating in the Northwest suburbs. Davidsmeyer runs 14 buses and 22 special education vehicles.

The oldest two buses owned by the Davidsmeyers are 1954 and 1955 models and they are contemplating trading them in on new equipment, Mrs. Davidsmeyer said.

The Ritzenthaler Bus Lines Inc. of 2001 E. Davis in Arlington Heights never keeps a bus in its 100-vehicle fleet more than four years.

Manager Elvis Foster said, "We like to run them for three years and then the fourth year they generally become our spare bus. We have about 50,000 miles on them when we trade them in."

"WE GO primarily by age," he said. "Basically speaking when the vehicle gets older than that you have an older bus that does not have all the new safety features and is probably in dire need of a lot of work.

"After four years they can get pretty shabby," he said.

Ritzenthaler, Davidsmeyer, the Cook County Bus Co. and DuPage Cab Service of Addison all said they use a regular schedule of daily maintenance on their buses.

This, according to Petit, is more important than the age of a bus in its driving condition today.

HE SAID a bus can be 10 to 15 years old and in excellent condition if it has been carefully maintained. However, he added that he felt there were about two companies in the entire state which would not be found with a major defect in their vehicles if the state inspectors checked them.

A major defect coud include bad lights, bad brakes or some fault which would rule the vehicle off the roads.

The Commerce Commission has regulations as regards safety and nechanical features of the buses, Petit said.

However, Commerce officials, who preferred to remain anonymous, said, "We have serious doubts whether the safety and mechanical regulations insofar as school buses are concerned are effectively enforced."

THESE BUSES are under the regulation of the Department of Public Instruction rather than the Commerce Commision which regulates common carriers.

The oldest bus in the possession of any of the companies interviewed was a 1951 model owned by the DuPage Cab Service.

Cab Service owner John Thornbery said the 34-passenger vehicle was in excellent condition. He purchased it from the Circle "M" day camp in Wheeling, which had bought the bus used some seven or eight years ago. It will be used to transport kindergarten students at Oak and Fullerton schools, Addison.

Church groups and persons seeking a bus to convert into a camper were the main responders to an advertisement offering Thornbery's bus and a 1949 bus for sale, according to the Circle "M" owners.

Asked when a bus company would sell a vehicle, Petit said, "When the cost of operation and maintenance exceeds the combined cost of investing in a new bus." He said part of the problem of old buses on the highway is brought about by the narrow profit margin transportation firms are operating on today. This causes some operators to hedge on necessary maintenance, he said.

Surprise Plaque

City's Youth Program Praised at Institute

The City of Rolling Meadows along with dozens of suburban police juvenile officers received honors at last week's dinner meeting of the Delinquency Control Institute.

The Institute is an annual seminar for suburban juvenile officers, sponsored by the Illinois Juvenile Officers Information File with the cooperation of DePaul University and the Illinois Youth Commission.

"Rolling Meadows is a community with a heart that took a real interest in its youth and decided to do something for young people before they had a chance to get in trouble," commented John A. Troike, chairman of the IYC when he surprised Mayor John J. Woods by inviting him to come forward and receive a plaque signed by Gov. Otto Kerner commending the city for its outstanding service in furtherance of the battle against juvenile delinquency.

"THE WHOLE community has been on the team," Troike said, "and Mayor Woods is the leader."

Dr. James McKeown, chairman of the department of sociology of DePaul University and mentor of the juvenile officers during the seminars, gave the "commencement" address before lapel pins were awarded the graduates. He urged the professionalization of police work.

The cooperative effort of police departments and sociologists was hailed by Rolling Meadows Chief Cy Campbell.

"We need formal training to help the true delinquent, who is a mixed up person," added Lt. John Mielke of the Park Forest police department. "We need a combination of theories plus experience."

ROLLING MEADOWS was singled out for recognition because city officials were instrumental in bringing the IYC to the suburbs. When the North Shore Police Chiefs Association was looking for a home base to start the juvenile information file, Chief Campbell, although his department headquarters was then a tiny bedroom in the house used for a city hall before the present building was constructed, offered to house the file.

The city was one of the first to organize a youth bureau, known as the Police Juvenile Advisory Commission, and two years ago an all-day youth conference was called by Mayor Woods to consider the program and facilities offered to the city's young people.

"The work being done in the suburbs reaffirms the conviction held for many years on the Youth Commission that there are human resources that can be tapped but must be mobilized to carry on a constructive program of dealing with the youth problem," said Anthony Sorrentino, in charge of IYC community services in Cook County.

Protection and prevention is the job of the juvenile officer, one of the "new breed of police officers," said Troike. "He must have a feeling for kids. His handling of youth may have a lasting effect, for he serves as a bridge between childhood and adulthood."

Troike was credited with securing the cooperation of DePaul University in the Delinquency Control Institute, to bring to the police officers the views and philosophies of sociologists.

Enthusiasm of the juvenile officers for the training program was evidenced by the thunderous applause for Dr. McKeown and their request for an advanced program for the graduates.

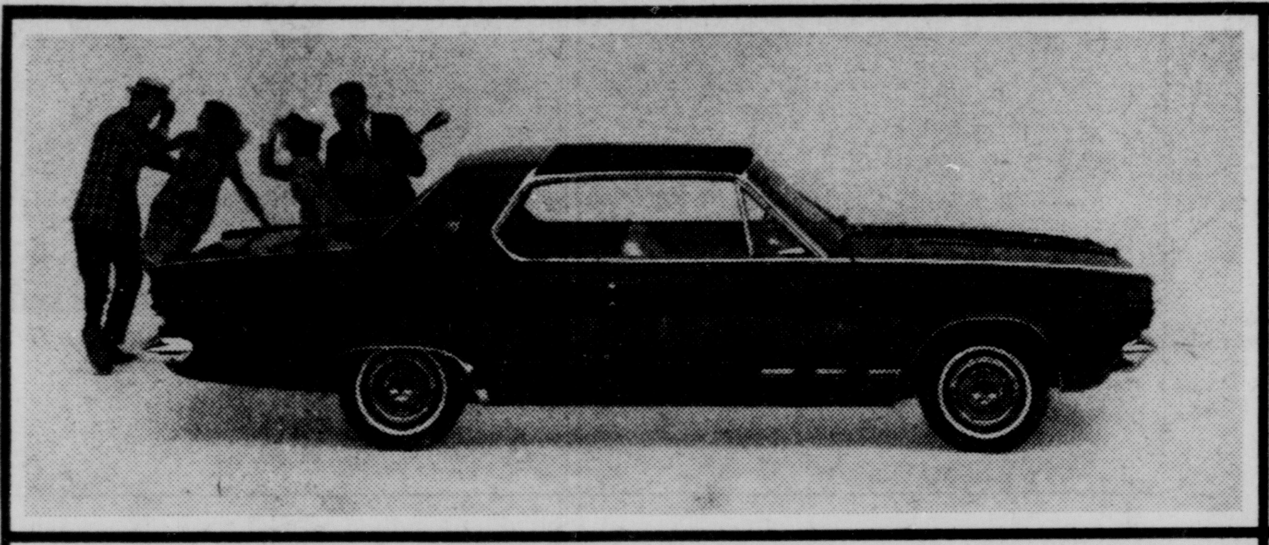
Dodge comes on big for '65

What does Dodge do after two record-breaking years in a row? Go for a third. Dodge comes on big for '65, with four brand-new cars that are big, quick, fresh . . . backed by the strongest warranty* in the business. See them.

'65 Dodge
DODGE DIVISION CHRYSLER MOTORS CORPORATION

'65 DART: The Dodge-size compact. If you'd like to live a little, we'd like to let you in on something big—Dodge Dart for '65. Big beauty. Big comfort. Big ride. And big savings. At your Dodge dealer's now.

'65 POLARA: Beautiful way to leave the low-price field. Inches bigger and a lot better-looking than anything near the price. Why settle for less? Why, indeed? Ask for Polara at your Dodge dealer's.



'65 CORONET: A hot new Dodge at a new lower price. An all-new car that's as comfortable as a standard-size Ford or Chevy, yet priced with Fairlane, Chevelle. Refreshing new styling. Oceans of room. Coronet '65—drive it.

'65 CUSTOM 880: If elegance were spelled in numbers, this would be it. From exclusive 6-window sedan to elegant convertible, this one will wear well with your appreciation of luxury and your sense of good taste.

*HERE'S HOW DODGE'S 5-YEAR, 50,000-MILE ENGINE AND DRIVE TRAIN WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU: Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts of its 1965 cars for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excepting manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings. REQUIRED MAINTENANCE: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. Simple enough for such important protection.

Are Some Children Riding Too-Old Buses?

State Officials' Answer Is 'Yes'

by BEN BURNS
Staff Writer

Faded, ancient school buses, rattling down the highways and byways of Illinois, pose a major problem to state officials concerned with the safety of youngsters.

While the buses—no longer on regular school runs—can be in excellent condition from daily maintenance, the case is often true that the vehicles don't meet minimum safety requirements set up by the Illinois Commerce Commission, according to state officials.

However, both bus company operators and state officials are cagey about speaking out for publication on the problem of unfit buses.

"I would be just guessing if I gave you a figure on the number of these buses there are on Illinois highways," said Fred Petit, chief of the motor bus division of the ICC.

"However, I will say I would be very surprised if all the buses now used solely on charter work on Illinois highways would be able to pass our inspection. There are some companies with outstanding records, while others apparently don't even use a grease gun," Petit said.

A gap exists in the state law governing motor buses, which allows no control by the ICC over buses operated solely on a charter basis, Petit said.

Other state officials said they plan to seek remedial legislation from the state legislature at the next session.

ASKED IF they thought new regulations should extend to church and day camp buses used for transporting children on the highways, the officials said. "If the lawmakers in their wisdom see fit to give that power, we certainly would appreciate it."

Petit, who for 17 years was an attorney for a bus firm, said, "I was aware of the invasion of this particular field (charter buses) by operators who are not in a position to provide adequate insurance and safe equipment."

Bus company managers in the Northwest suburbs said they were aware there are firms operating in the charter field with old and unsafe buses.

Mrs. Georgia Davidsmeyer, of the Davidsmeyer Bus Service Inc. of Elk Grove Village said,"We have had drivers come to us from other companies because the maintenance on their buses was so poor."

SHE SAID, "Yes, there are definitely buses operating on Illinois roads which are unsafe." However, she said she had no idea whether any were operating in the Northwest suburbs. Davidsmeyer runs 14 buses and 22 special education vehicles.

The oldest two buses owned by the Davidsmeyers are 1954 and 1955 models and they are contemplating trading them in on new equipment, Mrs. Davidsmeyer said.

The Ritzenthaler Bus Lines Inc. of 2001 E. Davis in Arlington Heights never keeps a bus in its 100-vehicle fleet more than four years.

Manager Elvis Foster said, "We like to run them for three years and then the fourth year they generally become our spare bus. We have about 50,000 miles on them when we trade them in."

"WE GO primarily by age," he said. "Basically speaking when the vehicle gets older than that you have an older bus that does not have all the new safety features and is probably in dire need of a lot of work.

"After four years they can get pretty shabby," he said.

Ritzenthaler, Davidsmeyer, the Cook County Bus Co. and DuPage Cab Service of Addison all said they use a regular schedule of daily maintenance on their buses.

This, according to Petit, is more important than the age of a bus in its driving condition today.

HE SAID a bus can be 10 to 15 years old and in excellent condition if it has been carefully maintained. However, he added that he felt there were about two companies in the entire state which would not be found with a major defect in their vehicles if the state inspectors checked them.

A major defect coud include bad lights, bad brakes or some fault which would rule the vehicle off the roads.

The Commerce Commission has regulations as regards safety and nechanical features of the buses, Petit said.

However, Commerce officials, who preferred to remain anonymous, said, "We have serious doubts whether the safety and mechanical regulations insofar as school buses are concerned are effectively enforced."

THESE BUSES are under the regulation of the Department of Public Instruction rather than the Commerce Commision which regulates common carriers.

The oldest bus in the possession of any of the companies interviewed was a 1951 model owned by the DuPage Cab Service.

Cab Service owner John Thornbery said the 34-passenger vehicle was in excellent condition. He purchased it from the Circle "M" day camp in Wheeling, which had bought the bus used some seven or eight years ago. It will be used to transport kindergarten students at Oak and Fullerton schools, Addison.

Church groups and persons seeking a bus to convert into a camper were the main responders to an advertisement offering Thornbery's bus and a 1949 bus for sale, according to the Circle "M" owners.

Asked when a bus company would sell a vehicle, Petit said, "When the cost of operation and maintenance exceeds the combined cost of investing in a new bus." He said part of the problem of old buses on the highway is brought about by the narrow profit margin transportation firms are operating on today. This causes some operators to hedge on necessary maintenance, he said.

Surprise Plaque

City's Youth Program Praised at Institute

The City of Rolling Meadows along with dozens of suburban police juvenile officers received honors at last week's dinner meeting of the Delinquency Control Institute.

The Institute is an annual seminar for suburban juvenile officers, sponsored by the Illinois Juvenile Officers Information File with the cooperation of DePaul University and the Illinois Youth Commission.

"Rolling Meadows is a community with a heart that took a real interest in its youth and decided to do something for young people before they had a chance to get in trouble," commented John A. Troike, chairman of the IYC when he surprised Mayor John J. Woods by inviting him to come forward and receive a plaque signed by Gov. Otto Kerner commending the city for its outstanding service in furtherance of the battle against juvenile delinquency.

"THE WHOLE community has been on the team," Troike said, "and Mayor Woods is the leader."

Dr. James McKeown, chairman of the department of sociology of DePaul University and mentor of the juvenile officers during the seminars, gave the "commencement" address before lapel pins were awarded the graduates. He urged the professionalization of police work.

The cooperative effort of police departments and sociologists was hailed by Rolling Meadows Chief Cy Campbell.

"We need formal training to help the true delinquent, who is a mixed up person," added Lt. John Mielke of the Park Forest police department. "We need a combination of theories plus experience."

ROLLING MEADOWS was singled out for recognition because city officials were instrumental in bringing the IYC to the suburbs. When the North Shore Police Chiefs Association was looking for a home base to start the juvenile information file, Chief Campbell, although his department headquarters was then a tiny bedroom in the house used for a city hall before the present building was constructed, offered to house the file.

The city was one of the first to organize a youth bureau, known as the Police Juvenile Advisory Commission, and two years ago an all-day youth conference was called by Mayor Woods to consider the program and facilities offered to the city's young people.

"The work being done in the suburbs reaffirms the conviction held for many years on the Youth Commission that there are human resources that can be tapped but must be mobilized to carry on a constructive program of dealing with the youth problem," said Anthony Sorrentino, in charge of IYC community services in Cook County.

Protection and prevention is the job of the juvenile officer, one of the "new breed of police officers," said Troike. "He must have a feeling for kids. His handling of youth may have a lasting effect, for he serves as a bridge between childhood and adulthood."

Troike was credited with securing the cooperation of DePaul University in the Delinquency Control Institute, to bring to the police officers the views and philosophies of sociologists.

Enthusiasm of the juvenile officers for the training program was evidenced by the thunderous applause for Dr. McKeown and their request for an advanced program for the graduates.

Local Artist Takes Honors At Waukegan Exhibit

Winning of the First Purchase Award at the Waukegan Art Show this month by Mrs. Christl Hansen, 110 S. Edward, Mount Prospect, was the highlight of a month of exhibiting by members of the Mount Prospect Art League.

Mrs. Hansen's sketch, "Study of a Girl," done in oil on paper was purchased by the city of Waukegan to be hung permanently in the city's public library.

Mrs. Hansen was the principal founder of the Art League in 1959.

Other League representatives at the Waukegan show Sept. 11 and 12 were Mrs. Lucille Anderson, 1215 W. Sigwalt, Arlington Heights and Victor Bittner, 300 W. Milburn, and Mrs. Hedvic Vlasak, 611 S. Emerson, both Mount Prospect.

League members exhibiting at the recent Des Plaines Art Guild fair were Mrs. Hansen; Mrs. Vlasak; Mrs. Anderson; Mary Osgood, 1712 E. Foundry Road; Mrs. Arlene Schult, 808 S. Ioka and Mrs. Evelyn Mitchell, 106 S. Edward, all of Mount Prospect, and Mrs. Grace Fosler, 7141 Beckwith Road, Morton Grove.

The same day Bittner was showing his work at the Oak Park Art Festival.

BITTNER, MRS. Hansen, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Vlasak together with Mrs. Dorothy Kruse, 718 S. William, Palatine, and Mrs. Fred Buhrke, 249 Prospect Ave., Mount Prospect, had work on display at Golf Mill Sept. 20.

Mrs. Vlasak and Christl Hansen are exhibiting at Randhurst through Sunday, and Mrs. Vlasak currently has pictures on exhibit at the Plum Grove Country Club, at Dohl's Morton House in Morton Grove and will exhibit in October at the Maitre d' in Elkj Grove Village.

Mrs. Jeane Westcott of 404 N. Tomah, Prospect Heights, and Mrs. Mary Fergus of 306 W. Willow, Prospect Heights, are currently exhibiting at the Thunderbird Bowling Lanes on Rand Road in Mount Prospect.

The Northbrook Art Fair next Sunday will end the September calendar for members of the Mount Prospect Art League.

Gardeners Meet Monday Evening

Plum Grove Garden Club has set its next meeting for Monday, Sept. 28 at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Tom Conforti, 625 S. Bennett, Palatine.

Mrs. R. H. Golterman is president of the club, which meets the fourth Monday of each month. Among the philantropies which the group supports are Lincoln Memorial in Springfield and the Fruit and Flower Guild. Members also planted a maple tree on Arbor Day at Pleasant Hill School in Palatine.

Announce Art Classes For Adults, Children

Beginning in October a variety of art classes for adult men and women and for children will be available through the Countryside Art Center in Arlington Heights.

A class in drawing and painting for those adults with some art background will be held at Recreation Park both morning and afternoon beginning Oct. 12. The class will be instructed by Martel, internationally known artist from Roselle. Persons interested should contact class monitor, Helen Anderson, PO 6-4290.

Another class in drawing and painting is being offered for those adults, both men and women, who have had little or no art instruction or who would like to get back to art work again after intervening years of other duties and occupations. It will be instructed by Countryside Gallery artist Louise Elam, formerly of Seattle, Wash., and now residing in Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Elam received her B.F.A. from the University of Washington and did graduate work as well as additional study with renowned artists Mark Tobey and Kenneth Callahan. Her award-winning paintings have been exhibited widely in the Seattle area as well as in Chicago. Seattle Art Museum tour guide for 10 years, she is also a veteran teacher of art with experience both in private instruction and in public school and is currently a director at the Countryside Gallery, 10 W. Miner St.

THOSE INTERESTED may contact Mrs. Elam directly by calling 392-2960. The class will be held Mondays from 7 to 10 p.m. at Recreation Park beginning Oct. 5.

A new class in print-making, instructed by Arlington Heights artist Robert Borchard, will claim the attention of those interested in learning the graphic techniques of woodcut, paperplate lithography and serigraph.

Currently a teacher of silkscreening at Nichols Junior High in Evanston, Borchard received his B.A. in art education from the University of Wisconsin. His work has won top prizes in quality art shows in other states as well as in the Chicago area, notably at the Suburban Fine Arts Center and at the Old Orchard Festival of Art.

Borchard's printmaking class will be held Wednesday evenings from 7 to 10 o'clock at Recreation Park beginning Oct. 5. Contact class monitor Jean Tibbitts 392-2762, for further information.

AN ADULT class in woodcarving will be instructed by master woodcarver John Torrel in his Palatine studio beginning Wednesday, Oct. 7. Call Fran Shillington at CL 3-9521 for full information.

Portrait painting, instructed by Vincent O'Connor, starts Monday evening, Oct. 5, at Recreation Park. Beginning and advanced portrait-painters call class monitor Irene Mueller, FL 9-0736, for details.

For children in 3rd through 8th grades a class is being offered at Pioneer Park on Saturdays from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., beginning Oct. 3. The instructor will be Lester Rebbeck, Countryside Gallery artist and South Junior High art teacher. Call Mrs. Shillington at CL 3-9521 for further information.

Classes are filling rapidly, and as enrollment has to be limited, all interested are advised to contact class monitors immediately.

'La Boheme' Scheduled For Oct. 1

A performance of "La Boheme" will launch the Lyric Opera season in the northwest suburbs Oct. 1.

Presented by the Northwest Countryside Chapter of the Lyric, it will be given in the barn on the Charles H. Shaner country estate on Kelsey Road north of Barrington at 1:15 p.m.

Sung in costume and in English, the production will be enhanced by a Bohemian setting. Members and guests will be seated at small tables reminiscent of Paris famed Cafe Momus and served during the performance.

THE ROLES of Mimi and Mussetta will be sung by Mrs. Robert Nelson, 306 Firth Road, Palatine, and Mrs. Lois Palermo of Barrington. Tenor Earl Marks and baritone Dolph Zielinski, members of the Lyric Opera Company of Chicago, will sing the male roles. The chorus is made up of area residents.

Area residents active in the northwest chapter and in the "La Boheme" production are Mrs. Richard Impey, 621 S. Bristol, chairman; Mrs. David Sutton, 425 N. Plum Grove, Palatine, and Mrs. Carleton Heiberger, Arlington Heights.

The Oct. 1 performance is open to persons interested in becoming members of the Lyric Opera.

Democrat Hopeful Reports

Remap, Revenue Are Key State Issues

DAVID BAYLOR, DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR STATE SENATOR, 4TH DISTRICT: "A BULLMOOSER AT HEART."

Baylor Seeks Senate Seat

by JOAN LORENSON
Staff Writer

Keeping his shoes soled is a problem for David Baylor, who has set a walking-handshaking political campaign for himself.

He showed the beginning of a hole in one shoe.

Baylor, a 29-year-old lawyer, is seeking election to the Illinois State Senate from the 4th District, a 125-square-mile area covering Wheeling, Northfield, New Trier, Niles, and Evanston Townships. He was interviewed last Thursday by Paddock Publications Staff editors.

Re-apportionment and a change in the Illinois revenue article are the major campaign issues seen by the young Democrat.

BAYLOR believes his GOP opponent, State Sen. W. Russell Arrington of Evanston is "in cahoots with downstate legislators." He allows the people he represents in the fourth district with four times the population "to have their vote diluted," Baylor said. "He has turned his back on the people of his district."

Arrington is held by special interests such as rural and banking interests, Baylor claimed.

The rural areas that would become a minority if the state were re-apportioned, would have protection so the majority could not trample their rights, Baylor said. In the past the rural majority did not worry about protecting a city minority.

Cumulative voting where a voter can give more than one vote to a man would provide adequate protection, he said.

Republicans and opponents of re-apportionment who suggest "marking time" are actually helping the power flow to Washington, Baylor said in his interview Thursday with Paddock Publications news editors.

"THEY'RE A roadblock. I'm for meeting responsibility here in the state of Illinois," Baylor declared.

Adjusting a lanky form in the conference chair, the candidate admitted he was not in accord with the Democratic platform on income tax. "I believe the legislature should have the power to levy taxes as needed and when needed," he explained. "I say send better people to the legislature" when people say the legislature would run away with it.

He would not earmark so many of the state funds with the exceptions of education and mental health. He would not earmark motor fuel tax funds.

A state income tax seems to be needed, according to Baylor who would favor an amendment to allow it.

"Although it may seem strange for a liberal-progressive, I favor sales taxes," Baylor said. Some exceptions, however, he favors in the sales tax would be on food, clothing, and necessities.

THE NEWCOMER to politics explained away the Democratic Party opposition to state income tax as, "Why should they commit political suicide to back something you're not going to get anyway?"

He sees the need for caution in increasing corporate taxes for companies in Illinois. If a company passes its tax along to the consumer, the tax may not do what is intended.

If he had been a state senator during the last session of the legislature, Baylor said he would not have voted for ceilings on Illinois Public Aid relief payments. That "is juggling the symptoms," he said. The problem is removing people from the relief rolls.

BAYLOR CITED three paths to help minorities: education, upgrading of culture and housing, and fair employment.

Minorities such as the Negroes in Chicago are "trapped in slum prisons," Baylor said. Unless there is some re-location, "we'll have to pay the piper for minorities whatever they cost."

He used this opportunity to attack GOP gubernatorial candidate Charles H. Percy's stand on freedom of residence. He accused Percy of "weaseling" on freedom of residency laws. Percy says he favors freedom of residency but he doesn't want a law. Open occupancy will not take care of itself without a law as Percy suggests, Baylor declared.

Even though it is not popular to push for minorities Baylor will keep pushing because he hopes the effect will be "germs of contagious ideas."

Baylor who holds a bachelor of science degree in labor relations and economics from Butler University and a law degree from DePaul University, strongly favors education as one step to solve welfare problems.

HE SEES the danger of increasing frictional unemployment and advocates more training that is flexible, educating a man for more than one job.

Arrington "is an outmoded man, certainly not fit in a space age," said Baylor, commenting on the Republican's vote against a bill designating the state board of higher education act as the channeling agency for federal funds for college facilities.

Baylor defended Gov. Otto Kerner's veto on increasing state aid for schools by saying the GOP-dominated legislature did not appropriate for it. "I believe Gov. Kerner," he answered to the statement that the state did have surplus money.

GREATER STATE aid for schools is needed, said the sandy-haired candidate. He pointed out the wide disparity of funds available for schools. Slum schools are more in need of heavy tax endowment than suburban schools where familiy ties of the children are deeper. Yet, suburban schools usually have double the tax base, he said.

Baylor does not want to sponsor any special piece of legislation. He reiterated his belief that revenue reform is critical and it will not come until there is redistricting. Legislation is meaningless without any funds, he said. The "logjam in the Senate" has to be broken, he said. "The Senate with Arrington just sit like dutch uncles."

The senate should return to a two party system, he added.

Baylor sees his opponent as having "no touch of knowledge of urban-suburban problems."

He believes like a man in a fight picks up a chair, "you must use any governmental tool whether local or federal to solve a problem."

SWITCHING to another topic, Baylor called for Illinois to begin a program of conservation that provides for land acquisition. Urban areas should be the center of the conservation movement in his opinion. The surburban area should not be the slum of the future. Baylor, admitting he was a "bullmooser at heart," said Isaiah's statement "Thou shalt not join house unto house" remained valid.

Baylor who might be considered one of the "new breed" of politicians takes the approach "I'm going to win." But he admits he faces a lot more walking. The best a Democratic opponent did against Arrington was to gather 56,000 votes to 108,000 votes.

But Sen. William Proxmire of Wisconsin who spent six years on his campaign before being successful and the former Sen. Estes Kefauver provide examples that success is possible.

Goldwater Campaign Aides Named

Mrs. C. Jerome Sullivan, 919 S. Emerson, Mount Prospect, former president of the Elk Grove Township Republican Women's Auxiliary, has been named co-chairman of the 13th Congressional District Citizens for Goldwater-Miller.

Paul E. Collins, president of the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Association, has been appointed to the Goldwater-Miller 13th Congressional District finance committee. Collins, who lives at 243 Brookdale, Palatine, will work with a group of businessmen in the area to obtain financial support for the presidential campaign.

Named treasurer of the Goldwater-Miller organization in the 13th District is John M. Alogna, 344 S. Maple, Mount Prospect. Alogna, treasurer of the Mount Prospect Townhome Association, is an investment counselor with Standard & Poor's Corp., Chicago.

"Never before has a candidate gone into the Presidential race with as much volunteer support from people who previously had not participated actively in politics," Mrs. Sullivan said of Goldwater.

"We begin our campaign in the 13th District with more than 2,000 persons who joined the work of the Goldwater for President Committee in this area during the primary. Democrats, Independents, Republicans are all welcome to join in the citizens' effort for Goldwater-Miller."

Mrs. Sullivan, mother of five children, is vice president of the St. Raymond's Catholic Women's Club, Mount Prospect. She was an area chairman of the Goldwater for President Committee during the 1964 primary.

Northwest Suburban headquarters office of Citizens for Goldwater-Miller is at 104 S. State St., Arlington Heights, phone 392-0659. Regular Republican offices for the townships of Wheeling, Palatine, Barrington, Elk Grove and Schaumburg also are local headquarters for the Goldwater-Miller forces.

Site of the
OLD DUTCH MILL
Built in 1850

The DuPage County Historical Society presented an AWARD OF HONOR to MOUNT EMBLEM CEMETERY in 1956 for preserving the Old Dutch Mill as an educational and historic exhibit.

Visitors to the Old Dutch Mill are always welcome.

Autumn brings a glorious burst of color to the superb landscape of Mount Emblem. This is one of Nature's most impressive moments which we invite you to enjoy.

You will see acre upon acre of multi-colored effects from our great variety of trees and shrubs each lending its particular hue to the scene.

For such extensive landscaping you could reasonably expect to pay more. Yet our prices are moderate. It costs no more to own the best.

Cook County Clubs To Mark 4-H Week

More than 1,500 Cook County 4-H boys and girls will join observance of National 4-H Club Week Sept. 26 to Oct. 3. The theme will be "4-H: Learning for Living."

Members of the North and South Cook County 4-H Federations have planned several 4-H activities in observance of this special week.

One of the special activities will be a 4-H window display activity for organized local 4-H clubs. Each local 4-H club will prepare at a business establishment in the community one 4-H window exhibit illustrating some phase of 4-H club work. The window exhibits will remain on display throughout the week. A special committee will judge the exhibit this Saturday.

TWO 4-H rally programs have been planned by the 4-H Federations. The North Cook 4-H Federation will sponsor its Rally on Saturday evening at the Miner Junior High School, Miner and Dryden Streets, in Arlington Heights.

The programs which will start at 7:30 p.m. will include announcement of ratings and awarding of ribbons for the window display contest, the installation of 1965 4-H Federation officers, the induction of first year 4-H members into the 4-H Federation, the awarding of certificates to Cook County businesses making contributions to the Illinois 4-H Foundation, entertainment and recreation.

All 4-H members, prospective members, their families and friends of 4-H are invited to attend the rally meetings.

Art League to Be Featured on Radio Program

The Mount Prospect Art League will be featured on radio station WNWC's "Open House" program Wednesday, Sept. 30.

Victor Bittner, 300 W. Milburn Ave., Mount Prospect, League president from 1961 through 1963 and a member of its board for most of the League's five years of existence, will be interviewed on the 3:30 p.m. show.

Since his retirement from Commonwealth Edison Co., Bittner has traveled much, sketching scenes which he later translates to watercolor. Four of his pictures are on display this month at the Mount Prospect State Bank, and he has exhibited at many local art fairs.(Bill

Rotarians Attend Institute

Nearly 300 Rotarians attended the district institute meeting Sept. 18 at Northwest Suburban YMCA at which district governor Ted Gifford, a LaGrange dentist, officiated.

Past district governors Monty Montague of Evanston, Mitch Davis of Chicago, Ken Reeling of Evanston, Sandy Sandberg of Homewood and Thor Holter of Elmhurst spoke at the morning sessions.

Montague discussed qualifications for membership, including some recent changes in the Rotary constitution. Davis reviewed the challenge to club presidents of how to assimilate new members into Rotary. Reeling enumerated various facents of Rotary information.

THE IMPORTANCE of a good club bulletin was discussed by Sandberg, and Holter recapped progress of new clubs in the district.

Park Ridge, Des Plaines and Wheeling groups joined the institute by transferring their regular Friday meetings to the "Y" for the day. The afternoon program included group discussions with adjournment at 4 p.m.

Attendance was reported to be the largest in history for any district conference. Rotarians from Palatine, Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Wheeling were present. (B10

Democrat Hopeful Reports

Remap, Revenue Are Key State Issues

Baylor Seeks Senate Seat

by JOAN LORENSON
Staff Writer

Keeping his shoes soled is a problem for David Baylor, who has set a walking-handshaking political campaign for himself.

He showed the beginning of a hole in one shoe.

Baylor, a 29-year-old lawyer, is seeking election to the Illinois State Senate from the 4th District, a 125-square-mile area covering Wheeling, Northfield, New Trier, Niles, and Evanston Townships. He was interviewed last Thursday by Paddock Publications Staff editors.

Re-apportionment and a change in the Illinois revenue article are the major campaign issues seen by the young Democrat.

BAYLOR believes his GOP opponent, State Sen. W. Russell Arrington of Evanston is "in cahoots with downstate legislators." He allows the people he represents in the fourth district with four times the population "to have their vote diluted," Baylor said. "He has turned his back on the people of his district."

Arrington is held by special interests such as rural and banking interests, Baylor claimed.

The rural areas that would become a minority if the state were re-apportioned, would have protection so the majority could not trample their rights, Baylor said. In the past the rural majority did not worry about protecting a city minority.

Cumulative voting where a voter can give more than one vote to a man would provide adequate protection, he said.

Republicans and opponents of re-apportionment who suggest "marking time" are actually helping the power flow to Washington, Baylor said in his interview Thursday with Paddock Publications news editors.

"THEY'RE A roadblock. I'm for meeting responsibility here in the state of Illinois," Baylor declared.

Adjusting a lanky form in the conference chair, the candidate admitted he was not in accord with the Democratic platform on income tax. "I believe the legislature should have the power to levy taxes as needed and when needed," he explained. "I say send better people to the legislature" when people say the legislature would run away with it.

He would not earmark so many of the state funds with the exceptions of education and mental health. He would not earmark motor fuel tax funds.

A state income tax seems to be needed, according to Baylor who would favor an amendment to allow it.

"Although it may seem strange for a liberal-progressive, I favor sales taxes," Baylor said. Some exceptions, however, he favors in the sales tax would be on food, clothing, and necessities.

THE NEWCOMER to politics explained away the Democratic Party opposition to state income tax as, "Why should they commit political suicide to back something you're not going to get anyway?"

He sees the need for caution in increasing corporate taxes for companies in Illinois. If a company passes its tax along to the consumer, the tax may not do what is intended.

If he had been a state senator during the last session of the legislature, Baylor said he would not have voted for ceilings on Illinois Public Aid relief payments. That "is juggling the symptoms," he said. The problem is removing people from the relief rolls.

BAYLOR CITED three paths to help minorities: education, upgrading of culture and housing, and fair employment.

Minorities such as the Negroes in Chicago are "trapped in slum prisons," Baylor said. Unless there is some re-location, "we'll have to pay the piper for minorities whatever they cost."

He used this opportunity to attack GOP gubernatorial candidate Charles H. Percy's stand on freedom of residence. He accused Percy of "weaseling" on freedom of residency laws. Percy says he favors freedom of residency but he doesn't want a law. Open occupancy will not take care of itself without a law as Percy suggests, Baylor declared.

Even though it is not popular to push for minorities Baylor will keep pushing because he hopes the effect will be "germs of contagious ideas."

Baylor who holds a bachelor of science degree in labor relations and economics from Butler University and a law degree from DePaul University, strongly favors education as one step to solve welfare problems.

HE SEES the danger of increasing frictional unemployment and advocates more training that is flexible, educating a man for more than one job.

Arrington "is an outmoded man, certainly not fit in a space age," said Baylor, commenting on the Republican's vote against a bill designating the state board of higher education act as the channeling agency for federal funds for college facilities.

Baylor defended Gov. Otto Kerner's veto on increasing state aid for schools by saying the GOP-dominated legislature did not appropriate for it. "I believe Gov. Kerner," he answered to the statement that the state did have surplus money.

GREATER STATE aid for schools is needed, said the sandy-haired candidate. He pointed out the wide disparity of funds available for schools. Slum schools are more in need of heavy tax endowment than suburban schools where familiy ties of the children are deeper. Yet, suburban schools usually have double the tax base, he said.

Baylor does not want to sponsor any special piece of legislation. He reiterated his belief that revenue reform is critical and it will not come until there is redistricting. Legislation is meaningless without any funds, he said. The "logjam in the Senate" has to be broken, he said. "The Senate with Arrington just sit like dutch uncles."

The senate should return to a two party system, he added.

Baylor sees his opponent as having "no touch of knowledge of urban-suburban problems."

He believes like a man in a fight picks up a chair, "you must use any governmental tool whether local or federal to solve a problem."

SWITCHING to another topic, Baylor called for Illinois to begin a program of conservation that provides for land acquisition. Urban areas should be the center of the conservation movement in his opinion. The surburban area should not be the slum of the future. Baylor, admitting he was a "bullmooser at heart," said Isaiah's statement "Thou shalt not join house unto house" remained valid.

Baylor who might be considered one of the "new breed" of politicians takes the approach "I'm going to win." But he admits he faces a lot more walking. The best a Democratic opponent did against Arrington was to gather 56,000 votes to 108,000 votes.

But Sen. William Proxmire of Wisconsin who spent six years on his campaign before being successful and the former Sen. Estes Kefauver provide examples that success is possible.

Goldwater Campaign Aides Named

Mrs. C. Jerome Sullivan, 919 S. Emerson, Mount Prospect, former president of the Elk Grove Township Republican Women's Auxiliary, has been named co-chairman of the 13th Congressional District Citizens for Goldwater-Miller.

Paul E. Collins, president of the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Association, has been appointed to the Goldwater-Miller 13th Congressional District finance committee. Collins, who lives at 243 Brookdale, Palatine, will work with a group of businessmen in the area to obtain financial support for the presidential campaign.

Named treasurer of the Goldwater-Miller organization in the 13th District is John M. Alogna, 344 S. Maple, Mount Prospect. Alogna, treasurer of the Mount Prospect Townhome Association, is an investment counselor with Standard & Poor's Corp., Chicago.

"Never before has a candidate gone into the Presidential race with as much volunteer support from people who previously had not participated actively in politics," Mrs. Sullivan said of Goldwater.

"We begin our campaign in the 13th District with more than 2,000 persons who joined the work of the Goldwater for President Committee in this area during the primary. Democrats, Independents, Republicans are all welcome to join in the citizens' effort for Goldwater-Miller."

Mrs. Sullivan, mother of five children, is vice president of the St. Raymond's Catholic Women's Club, Mount Prospect. She was an area chairman of the Goldwater for President Committee during the 1964 primary.

Northwest Suburban headquarters office of Citizens for Goldwater-Miller is at 104 S. State St., Arlington Heights, phone 392-0659. Regular Republican offices for the townships of Wheeling, Palatine, Barrington, Elk Grove and Schaumburg also are local headquarters for the Goldwater-Miller forces.

Cook County Clubs To Mark 4-H Week

More than 1,500 Cook County 4-H boys and girls will join observance of National 4-H Club Week Sept. 26 to Oct. 3. The theme will be "4-H: Learning for Living."

Members of the North and South Cook County 4-H Federations have planned several 4-H activities in observance of this special week.

One of the special activities will be a 4-H window display activity for organized local 4-H clubs. Each local 4-H club will prepare at a business establishment in the community one 4-H window exhibit illustrating some phase of 4-H club work. The window exhibits will remain on display throughout the week. A special committee will judge the exhibit this Saturday.

TWO 4-H rally programs have been planned by the 4-H Federations. The North Cook 4-H Federation will sponsor its Rally on Saturday evening at the Miner Junior High School, Miner and Dryden Streets, in Arlington Heights.

The programs which will start at 7:30 p.m. will include announcement of ratings and awarding of ribbons for the window display contest, the installation of 1965 4-H Federation officers, the induction of first year 4-H members into the 4-H Federation, the awarding of certificates to Cook County businesses making contributions to the Illinois 4-H Foundation, entertainment and recreation.

All 4-H members, prospective members, their families and friends of 4-H are invited to attend the rally meetings.

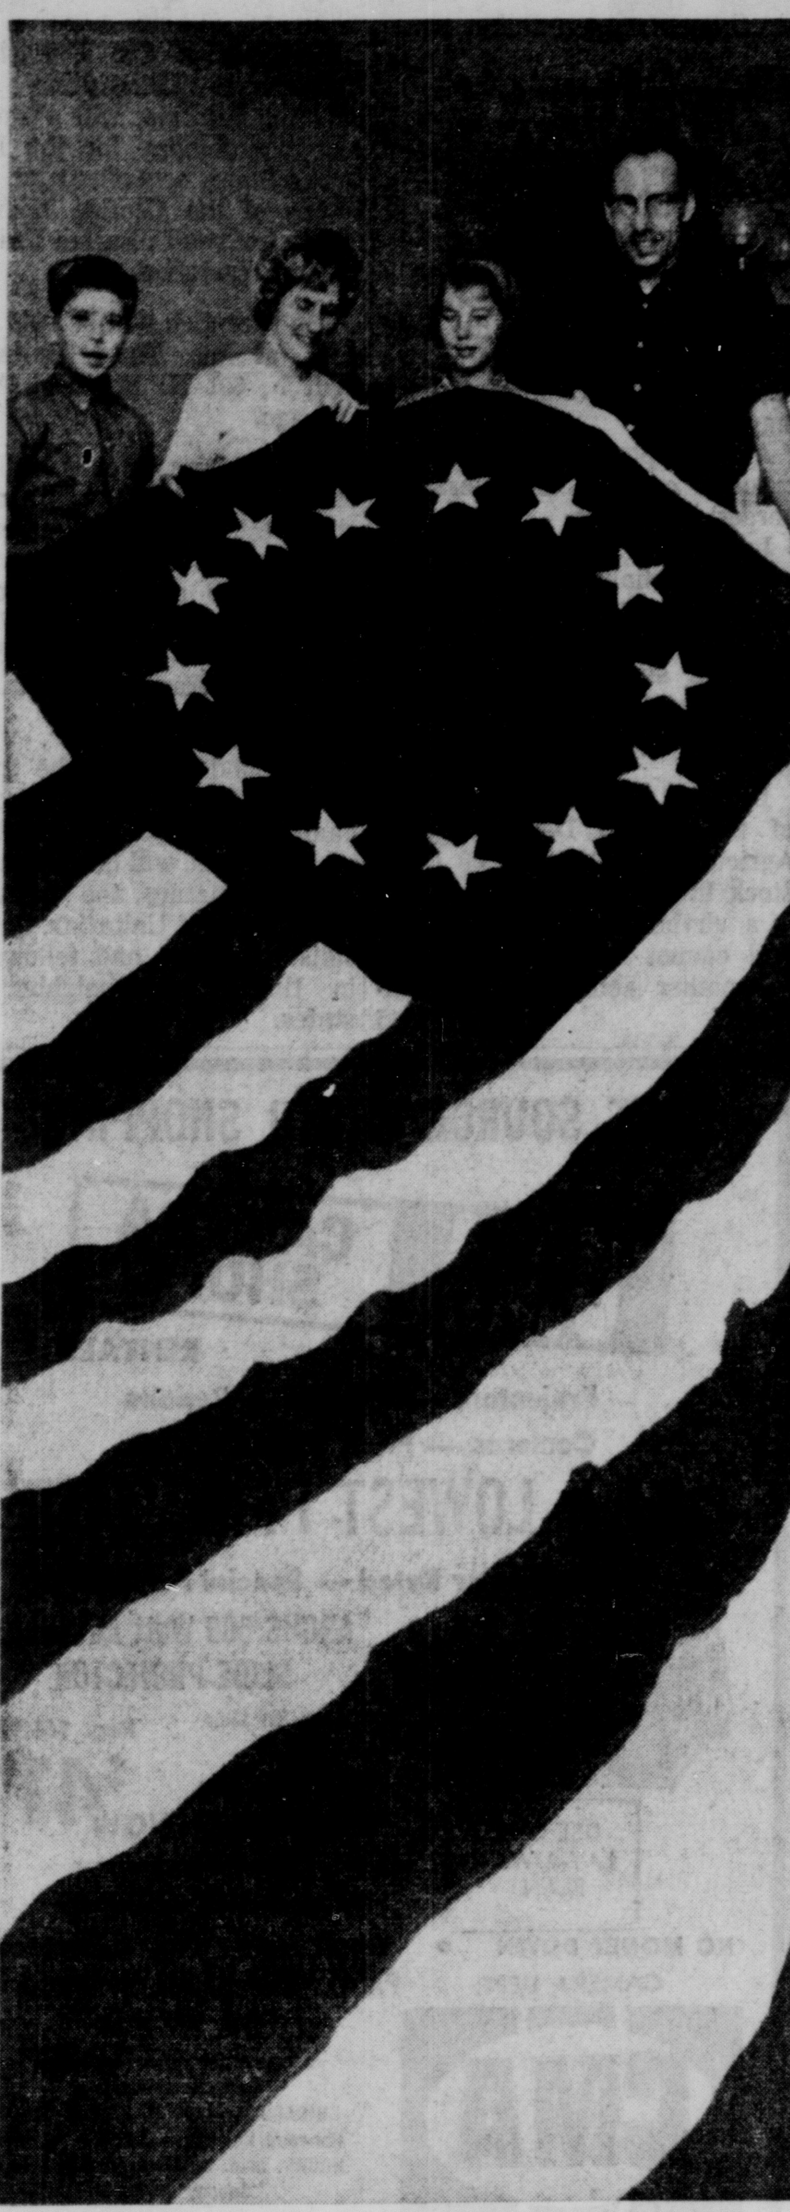
Sewing 13-Star Flag Becomes Big Project



BETSY ROSS? NO, Mrs. Robert Scheman of 1601 Willow Lane, Mount Prospect. Mrs. Scheman converted a 48-star flag into this one of Revolution design for the North Star District of the Boy Scouts. She's aided in holding the flag by Loren, 12, her son; Randy, 13, her daughter; and her husband, assistant commissioner of the district. (B10

Banner to Help Scouts Celebrate

by HOWARD HARMENING
Staff Writer

If some casting director needs a Betsy Ross for an upcoming epic, a good choice may be Mrs. Robert Scheman of 1601 Willow Lane, Mount Prospect, although she doesn't consider herself an actress.

Mrs. Scheman, however, does have one prime qualification for such a role: she's changed a 48-star flag into a 13-star in the best tradition that legend ascribes to Betsy Ross.

A 9x15 regulation Revolution banner, the standard now hangs in the North Star District headquarters of the Boy Scouts and will be used by the district in their pack-in camporee Oct. 17-18 at Eagle, Wis.

Unlike Betsy, Mrs. Scheman has an automatic sewing machine, but the task was far from easy.

"Before I could start sewing," she said, "all of the stars had to come off. That was the hardest part. It took 40 minutes to get the first star off."

MRS. SCHEMAN was joined in her star-removal efforts by her husband, assistant commissioner of the district and an engineer for American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

But even with the two of them working, the hours were still long, ultimately totaling an estimated 50 at the project's completion Sept. 1.

"One night we sat up to midnight," Mrs. Scheman said. "It took us three weeks to remove all the stars,"—Step one completed. Now came the job of getting them back on in a circle which had to be even matched on both sides.

Mrs. Scheman, who at one time sewed draperies for a company in Kansas, took on this phase of the project alone and completed it in three days. The flag, though, still wasn't ready.

"To make it like the flag of the Revolution," she said, "I had to cut a foot off the field. I know you're not supposed to cut up a flag, but we had to.

THE WHOLE project was an emotional strain on the patriotism of the Scheamn family. The son, Loren, 12, a first class Boy Scout, couldn't stand to see the flag worked on.

"We had to wait until Loren went somewhere or was in bed before we could do anything on it," said Mrs. Scheman. "He couldn't stand to see it on the floor, but it was the only place we could work on it because of the size (originally 10 by 15)."

Mrs. Scheman admitted she suffered also, though. "It's just a horrible feeling to have to do something like this."

The Schemans, however, felt the emotional strain worthwhile, since the flag is to be used in conjunction with this year's theme of the Boy Scouts, "Strengthen America's Heritage," which is being sponsored in cooperation with the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge.

THE WHOLE Scheman family is active in Scouting. Mrs. Scheman is a Girl Scout troop leader, while daughter, Randy, 13, is a first class Girl Scout.

"Our son got Bob started in Scouting four years ago when we lived in Prairieville (a suburb of Kansas City), Kans.," said Mrs. Scheman. "They do things differently there. If a son or daughter is in Scouting, so are the parents. When the parents don't help, then the son or daughter isn't a Scout anymore."

When Randy entered the Scouts, so did Mrs. Scheman, a den mother for three years. After moving to Mount Prospect in December, 1963, the Scheman family continued their Scouting activities.

Loren joined the Lincoln School troop; Randy, Cadet Girl Scout Troop 299 at Dempster; father went onto the staff of the district headquarters and mother became a troop leader.

THE SCHEMANS even took part of their vacation to pursue the Scouting program by going to the Philmont Scout Ranch at Cimarron, N. Mex., in mid-August. There, in addition to having their vacation, the Schemans also studied more about the Scouts.

All of their efforts have won the praise of Scouting officials. "I know of no other family in the area so dedicated," said one. "The Schemans are so pleasant. We have yet for them to refuse to do anything."

Anything, that is, except possibly transform another 48-star flag into one with 13 stars. The emotional strain may prove overpowering.

Plans Campaign to Raise School Aid

The Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers (ICPT) will undertake a statewide campaign to raise the level of state financial aid to schools, it was announced at the September quarterly meeting of the board of managers held in Chicago.

"We hope to involve everyone of the 687,884 PTA members of the PTA local units in the state of Illinois, in this major campaign to help relieve the dire financial condition of the Illinois public schools," said Dr. Milton R. Litterst, ICPT president and director of special instruction for Peoria public schools.

Mrs. Barry Norton of Chicago, ICPT legislation chairman, said that many school districts have reached the limit of their taxing powers, but more money is needed if Illinois children are to get quality education. She outlined the details of the campaign which will be announced publicly within the next few months.

Mrs. Norton urged all PTA members to support the Blue Ballot for the annual sessions of the Illinois state legislature.

Promotional material in support of the Blue Ballot has been distributed to each director of the 36 PTA districts in the state of Illinois. (A15

Howlett Asks Reform Of Cemetery Fund Law

Greater uniformity in Illinois legislation regulating administration of cemetery care trust funds was advocated Monday by Michael J. Howlett, state auditor.

Howlett was the principal speaker at the convention banquet of the Illinois Cemetery Assn. in the Pere Marquette Hotel.

Under a new law, the 73rd General Assembly transferred administration of the Cemetery Care Act to the auditor's office from the state Department of Financial Institutions.

"More than $38 million is now involved in cemetery care trusts, in Illinois," Howlett said. "My experience has indicated that the rules governing the trust funds are inconsistent, and in some cases inadequate.

"TRUST FUNDS for cemetery care are now held in three different ways. About $13 million is held and administered by banks and trust companies as trustees with no bond required.

"Another $15 million is administered by licensed cemetery authorities, who can invest the funds as a prudent man might invest his own money with some risk of losing the capital. Before investing, the authority must put to 10 per cent of the assets but not less than $1,000 or more than $100,000.

"The remaining $10 million is administered by cemetery authorities under agency contracts with trust companies. The trust companies are not responsible for the investment, and the cemetery authorities can make withdrawals at will. No bond is required, but the agency contracts must be approved by the auditor.

"DURING MY term of office, I have not approved any new agency contracts. Those now in operation were approved by my prodecessors.

"I do not believe there should be difference in requirements demanded by the state upon trustees administering cemetery care funds.

"Even if we cannot legislate uniformly, I think bond requirements should be raised where circumstances dictate.

"The legislature should inquire into these situations where there are no bond requirements and no surveillance and where securities can be withdrawn from the bank by the cemetery authority and sold without notice to anyone.

"THE AUDITOR'S office has received splendid cooperation from the Illinois Cemetery Assn. and your retiring president, Hershel Auerbach, in trying to improve administration of the cemetery care law.

"I've met already with Mr. Auerbach and officers of the American and Greater Chicago cemetery associations, and we the working with legal counsel to formulate legislation we can propose to the General Assembly.

"The staff of the auditor's office is as anxious as I am to work cooperatively with the cemetery authorities to provide maximum protection to Illinoisans who are trying to provide in advance for cemetery care." (A-15

Explains History Of Ribbon-Cutting

The director of the Illinois Department of Public Works and Buildings recently explained the historical ceremonies scheduled to be held soon for more than 12 completed highway construction projects.

"The custom originated hundreds of years ago, prior to the signing of the Magna Carta when British feudal aristocracy received their lands from the King," said Francis S. Lorenz.

"Quite frequently villagers from adjoining estates cut pathways through the woods and fields, and in time these pathways became accepted travel routes although crossing privately owned property.

"UNDER OLD English law, if the use of these pathways was not protested over a period of years, they became public thoroughfares."

To avoid this, Lorenz said, feudal lords erected barriers or ribbons stretched across the pathways to indicate they were not public lanes of travel. The villagers would remove the barriers or cut the ribbons with the consent of the landowners and continue to use the pathways. As a result, these ceremonies developed into annual festivals.

Traditional ribbon cutting ceremonies will take place in Illinois between now and November, Lorenz said.

The biggest of these is the Oct. 24 opening of the 17-mile, $200 million Southwest Expressway, one of the nation's top construction projects. The highway department anticipates this new traffic artery will be used by 50,000 to 70,000 vehicles each day from the day it is opened.

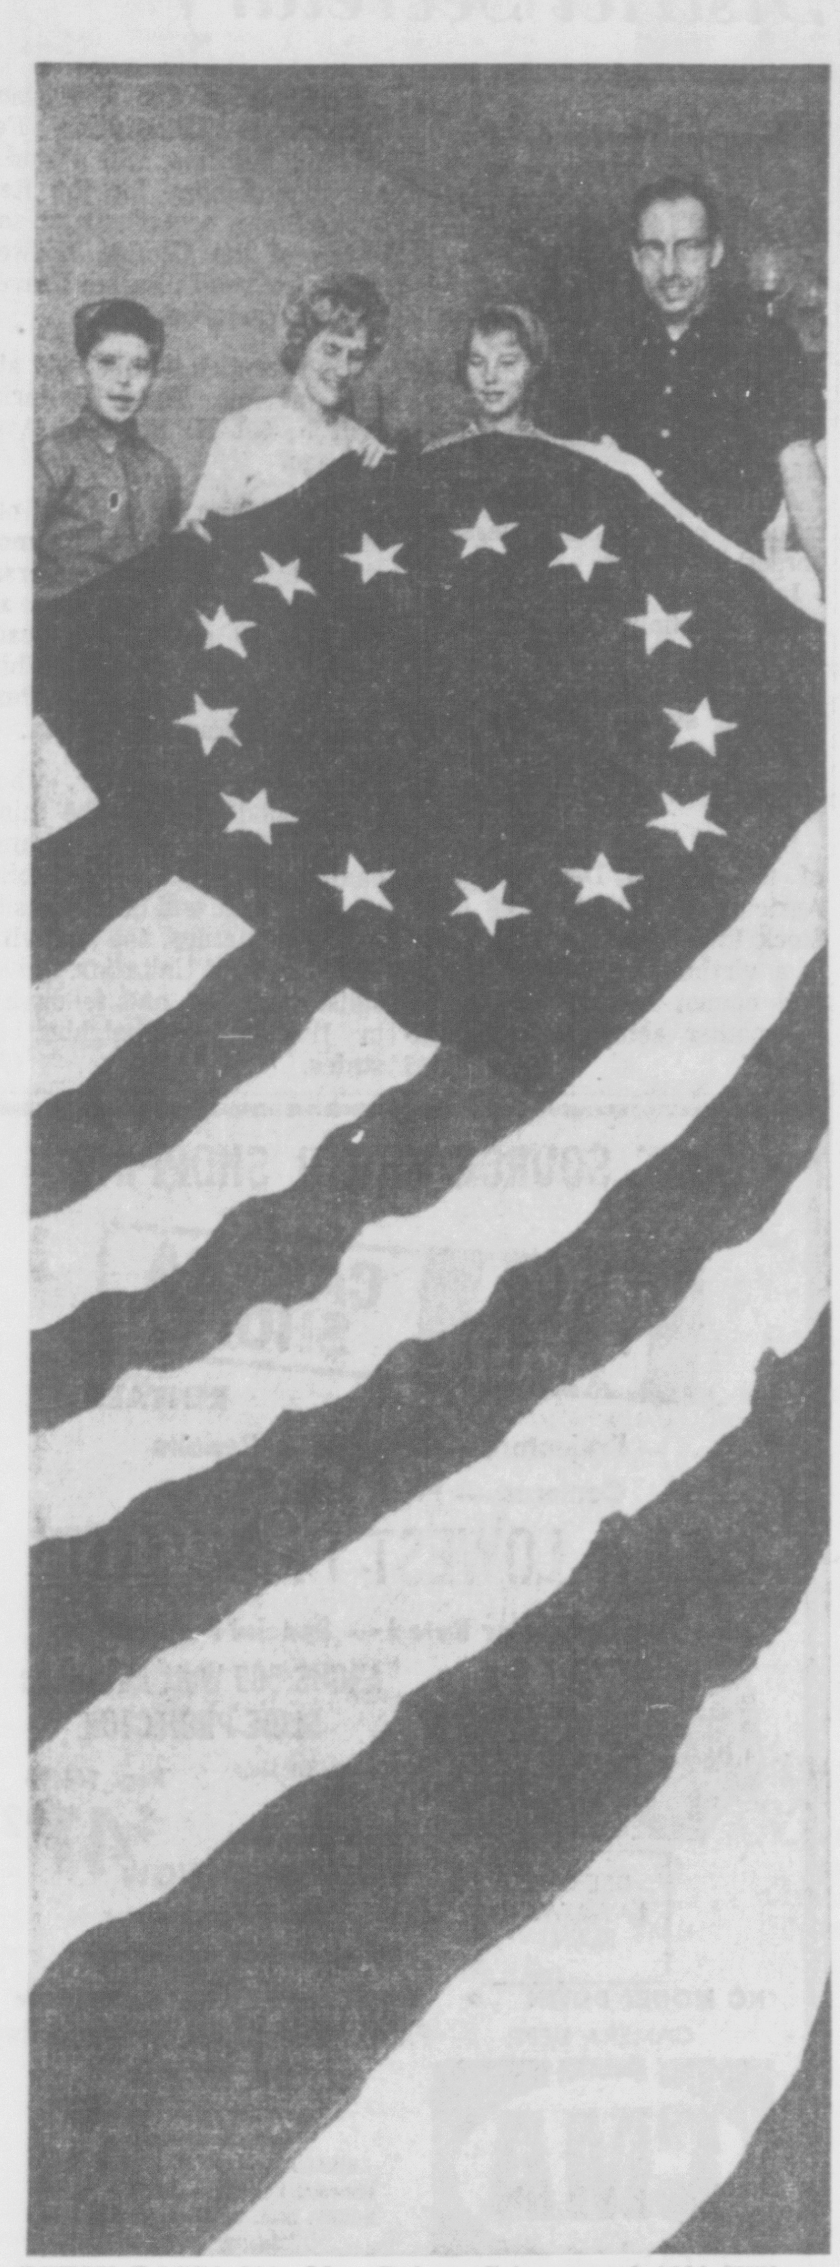
Sewing 13-Star Flag Becomes Big Project



BETSY ROSS? NO, Mrs. Robert Scheman of 1601 Willow Lane, Mount Prospect. Mrs. Scheman converted a 48-star flag into this one of Revolution design for the North Star District of the Boy Scouts. She's aided in holding the flag by Loren, 12, her son; Randy, 13, her daughter; and her husband, assistant commissioner of the district. (B10

Banner to Help Scouts Celebrate

If some casting director needs a Betsy Ross for an upcoming epic, a good choice may be Mrs. Robert Scheman of 1601 Willow Lane, Mount Prospect, although she doesn't consider herself an actress.

Mrs. Scheman, however, does have one prime qualification for such a role: she's changed a 48-star flag into a 13-star in the best tradition that legend ascribes to Betsy Ross.

A 9x15 regulation Revolution banner, the standard now hangs in the North Star District headquarters of the Boy Scouts and will be used by the district in their pack-in camporee Oct. 17-18 at Eagle, Wis.

Unlike Betsy, Mrs. Scheman has an automatic sewing machine, but the task was far from easy.

"Before I could start sewing," she said, "all of the stars had to come off. That was the hardest part. It took 40 minutes to get the first star off."

MRS. SCHEMAN was joined in her star-removal efforts by her husband, assistant commissioner of the district and an engineer for American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

But even with the two of them working, the hours were still long, ultimately totaling an estimated 50 at the project's completion Sept. 1.

"One night we sat up to midnight," Mrs. Scheman said. "It took us three weeks to remove all the stars,"—Step one completed. Now came the job of getting them back on in a circle which had to be even matched on both sides.

Mrs. Scheman, who at one time sewed draperies for a company in Kansas, took on this phase of the project alone and completed it in three days. The flag, though, still wasn't ready.

"To make it like the flag of the Revolution," she said, "I had to cut a foot off the field. I know you're not supposed to cut up a flag, but we had to.

THE WHOLE project was an emotional strain on the patriotism of the Scheamn family. The son, Loren, 12, a first class Boy Scout, couldn't stand to see the flag worked on.

"We had to wait until Loren went somewhere or was in bed before we could do anything on it," said Mrs. Scheman. "He couldn't stand to see it on the floor, but it was the only place we could work on it because of the size (originally 10 by 15)."

Mrs. Scheman admitted she suffered also, though. "It's just a horrible feeling to have to do something like this."

The Schemans, however, felt the emotional strain worthwhile, since the flag is to be used in conjunction with this year's theme of the Boy Scouts, "Strengthen America's Heritage," which is being sponsored in cooperation with the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge.

THE WHOLE Scheman family is active in Scouting. Mrs. Scheman is a Girl Scout troop leader, while daughter, Randy, 13, is a first class Girl Scout.

"Our son got Bob started in Scouting four years ago when we lived in Prairieville (a suburb of Kansas City), Kans.," said Mrs. Scheman. "They do things differently there. If a son or daughter is in Scouting, so are the parents. When the parents don't help, then the son or daughter isn't a Scout anymore."

When Randy entered the Scouts, so did Mrs. Scheman, a den mother for three years. After moving to Mount Prospect in December, 1963, the Scheman family continued their Scouting activities.

Loren joined the Lincoln School troop; Randy, Cadet Girl Scout Troop 299 at Dempster; father went onto the staff of the district headquarters and mother became a troop leader.

THE SCHEMANS even took part of their vacation to pursue the Scouting program by going to the Philmont Scout Ranch at Cimarron, N. Mex., in mid-August. There, in addition to having their vacation, the Schemans also studied more about the Scouts.

All of their efforts have won the praise of Scouting officials. "I know of no other family in the area so dedicated," said one. "The Schemans are so pleasant. We have yet for them to refuse to do anything."

Anything, that is, except possibly transform another 48-star flag into one with 13 stars. The emotional strain may prove overpowering.

Plans Campaign to Raise School Aid

The Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers (ICPT) will undertake a statewide campaign to raise the level of state financial aid to schools, it was announced at the September quarterly meeting of the board of managers held in Chicago.

"We hope to involve everyone of the 687,884 PTA members of the PTA local units in the state of Illinois, in this major campaign to help relieve the dire financial condition of the Illinois public schools," said Dr. Milton R. Litterst, ICPT president and director of special instruction for Peoria public schools.

Mrs. Barry Norton of Chicago, ICPT legislation chairman, said that many school districts have reached the limit of their taxing powers, but more money is needed if Illinois children are to get quality education. She outlined the details of the campaign which will be announced publicly within the next few months.

Mrs. Norton urged all PTA members to support the Blue Ballot for the annual sessions of the Illinois state legislature.

Promotional material in support of the Blue Ballot has been distributed to each director of the 36 PTA districts in the state of Illinois. (A15

Howlett Asks Reform Of Cemetery Fund Law

Greater uniformity in Illinois legislation regulating administration of cemetery care trust funds was advocated Monday by Michael J. Howlett, state auditor.

Howlett was the principal speaker at the convention banquet of the Illinois Cemetery Assn. in the Pere Marquette Hotel.

Under a new law, the 73rd General Assembly transferred administration of the Cemetery Care Act to the auditor's office from the state Department of Financial Institutions.

"More than $38 million is now involved in cemetery care trusts, in Illinois," Howlett said. "My experience has indicated that the rules governing the trust funds are inconsistent, and in some cases inadequate.

"TRUST FUNDS for cemetery care are now held in three different ways. About $13 million is held and administered by banks and trust companies as trustees with no bond required.

"Another $15 million is administered by licensed cemetery authorities, who can invest the funds as a prudent man might invest his own money with some risk of losing the capital. Before investing, the authority must put to 10 per cent of the assets but not less than $1,000 or more than $100,000.

"The remaining $10 million is administered by cemetery authorities under agency contracts with trust companies. The trust companies are not responsible for the investment, and the cemetery authorities can make withdrawals at will. No bond is required, but the agency contracts must be approved by the auditor.

"DURING MY term of office, I have not approved any new agency contracts. Those now in operation were approved by my prodecessors.

"I do not believe there should be difference in requirements demanded by the state upon trustees administering cemetery care funds.

"Even if we cannot legislate uniformly, I think bond requirements should be raised where circumstances dictate.

"The legislature should inquire into these situations where there are no bond requirements and no surveillance and where securities can be withdrawn from the bank by the cemetery authority and sold without notice to anyone.

"THE AUDITOR'S office has received splendid cooperation from the Illinois Cemetery Assn. and your retiring president, Hershel Auerbach, in trying to improve administration of the cemetery care law.

"I've met already with Mr. Auerbach and officers of the American and Greater Chicago cemetery associations, and we the working with legal counsel to formulate legislation we can propose to the General Assembly.

"The staff of the auditor's office is as anxious as I am to work cooperatively with the cemetery authorities to provide maximum protection to Illinoisans who are trying to provide in advance for cemetery care." (A-15

Explains History Of Ribbon-Cutting

The director of the Illinois Department of Public Works and Buildings recently explained the historical ceremonies scheduled to be held soon for more than 12 completed highway construction projects.

"The custom originated hundreds of years ago, prior to the signing of the Magna Carta when British feudal aristocracy received their lands from the King," said Francis S. Lorenz.

"Quite frequently villagers from adjoining estates cut pathways through the woods and fields, and in time these pathways became accepted travel routes although crossing privately owned property.

"UNDER OLD English law, if the use of these pathways was not protested over a period of years, they became public thoroughfares."

To avoid this, Lorenz said, feudal lords erected barriers or ribbons stretched across the pathways to indicate they were not public lanes of travel. The villagers would remove the barriers or cut the ribbons with the consent of the landowners and continue to use the pathways. As a result, these ceremonies developed into annual festivals.

Traditional ribbon cutting ceremonies will take place in Illinois between now and November, Lorenz said.

The biggest of these is the Oct. 24 opening of the 17-mile, $200 million Southwest Expressway, one of the nation's top construction projects. The highway department anticipates this new traffic artery will be used by 50,000 to 70,000 vehicles each day from the day it is opened.

Discusses Conflicts That Block Learning

School dropouts can often be attributed to the fact that "learning itself is involved in neurotic conflict," according to Dr. Dover Roth, Forest Hospital psychiatrist and the Des Plaines hospital's former medical director.

Speaking the the annual meeting of the Illinois School Nurse Association in Chicago Sept. 19, Dr. Roth of knowledge is based upon the need to compete, to advance in one's studies and achieve an ultimate success in a career.

"To avoid the conflicts involved in these aims of education the child may inhibit his capacity to learn," Dr. Roth said.

This inhibition has its origin in his guilt about "sibling rivalry" or rivalry with the father.

"Repudiation of learning," Dr. Roth continued, "can also result from education, as such, having a feminine or masculine quality for the child. If the mother is interested in learning while the father is indifferent, the boy may regard learning as a feminine attribute and reject it."

THE SPEAKER noted that the child who is over-protected may not have been taught to tolerate anxiety which the school experience involves. A dropout may be the result of this.

Many types of students, he continued, cannot learn in a "strictly academic setting," despite the fact that there may be no emotional problem or lack of general intelligence among them. For such children, an "apprenticeship" or vocational training may be the answer, he said. Psychiatric intervention is indicated only when the child continues to fail in vocational or other settings where the academic atmosphere does not prevail.

"There is wide difference in a readiness to learn," Dr. Roth added. "Special teaching methods must be employed where there is evidence that the child cannot keep up with his classes or, on the other hand, is far ahead of it."

Another reason for a decreased capacity to learn may be due to physical exhaustion from "simply growing up," the speaker continued.

HE NOTED that a boy of eight years of age feared to learn lest his colleagues despise him as a sissy and teacher's pet.

"Difficulty in finding a model to imitate in growing up is sometimes behind this difficulty," Dr. Roth said. "The father goes off to the office for long hours every working day of the week. With no close model to imitate and with the father's authority questioned in present-day society, the boy may develop a serious problem of self-identity. Gang loyalty and an aversion to adults generally may be his private solution."

Another factor which decreases the capacity to learn is normal "distractability," which may begin in the latency period of growth and continue throughout adolescence when increased sexual interests arise and emotional conflicts develop.

The adolescent takes one step forward and two steps back, he said. He asked his audience, as nurses, to help the teacher obtain a larger prospective on this and related problems so that school dropouts, sometimes the result of administrative ignorance, may be reduced.

National Merit Scholarship Semifinalists Announced

The names of 14,000 semifinalists in the nationwide competition for Merit Scholarships have been announced by the National Merit Scholarship Corp.

They became semifinalists in the 1964-65 Merit program through their outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test, administered last March in more than 17,000 high schools. This test of educational development is the first step toward winning a four-year Merit Scholarship to a college of the student's choice.

THE SEMIFINALIST group is composed of the highest-scoring students in each state and in United States territories.

Semifinalists must substantiate their qualifying test performance on a second examination, be endorsed by their schools and fulfill certain routine requirements to become finalists. All Merit Scholars are then selected from the finalist group.

In past years, about 98 per cent of the semifinalists have become finalists. All finalists receive a Certificate of Merit in recognition of their outstanding performance in the program. As finalists, the students will be eligible for scholarship awards sponsored by NMSC and about 230 business corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, trusts, professional associations and individuals.

In this last phase of the competition, the high school grades, creative accomplishments, leadership qualities, extracurricular activities and school citizenship of the students will be evaluated along with their scores on the tests. About April 28, 1965, the names of the Merit Scholars will be announced.

EACH MERIT Scholarship is a four-year award to cover the undergraduate college years. The recipient's stipend is tailored to his need.

The list of semifinalists included the following students residing in Paddock newspapers circulation area or attending schools in the area:

Jeffrey M. Peek, Arlington High School, Arlington Heights.

Glenn J. Mitchell and Richard F. Plzak, St. Viator High School, Arlington Heights.

Karen D. Anderson, Fenton High School, Bensenville.

Kent W. Hutchings, a resident of Wayne, Elgin High School, Elgin.

Cleveland S. Smith, Lake Park High School, Medinah.

Cynthia Kessel, John Stuart MacKay, John T. Mellen and George Q. Morris, Prospect High School, Mount Prospect

STEVEN J. Kast, a resident of Mount Prospect, Notre Dame High School, Niles.

Vastislav Chalupa, Charles A. McCaslin and John C. Schaefer, Palatine High School, Palatine.

Suburbanite Emergency Protection Personal Accident Policy

ISSUED EXCLUSIVELY TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS AND THEIR FAMILY HOUSEHOLD MEMBERS

- Each member of the family spends the greater part of every 24-hour period at home and far more accidents occur here than anywhere else. Falls on stairs, floors, rugs, in the bathroom, from chairs and ladders, cause injuries to many people. Cuts and burns through the simplest of household chores are very common. Power lawn mowers seem to be an extreme hazard.
- The entire family should have this protection—man, woman and children.
- Policy will help pay those expenses resulting from bodily injury—whether simple or serious—when accidents strike at home, while traveling, at work, on the farm, at school, or at play.
- Subject to its provisions, the policy includes indemnity for: Loss of Life, from $500 to $10,000; Loss of Limb, $250 to $10,000; Loss of Sight, $175 to $10,000; Total Disability, up to $500, pro-rated on a daily basis; First Aid, up to $5 for non-disabling injury; Ambulance, up to $10 for this service; Hospital, up to $200, pro-rated on a daily basis; X-Ray, up to $10 for injury examination.
- Issued without medical examination.
- No age limits (Specific Loss and Total Disability Indemnities are reduced fifty per cent (50%) when insured is or becomes age 70 or over).
- Pays in addition to other personal accident insurance carried.
- Pays on work accidents that are covered by State Compensation Laws.
- Specific Loss Indemnities increase in value ten per cent (10%) each year during first 5 years of consecutive renewal.
- The policy is issued by Old Republic Life Insurance Company, Chicago, Illinois. Protection begins at NOON on the actual date of issuance of the policy.

Attend Campers Meeting

Two Palatine families attended the three-day fall campout of the Illinois State Association of the National Campers & Hikers Association at Cornell, Ill.

They were Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Herbershoff and daughter, Lynn, North State Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Odell, 217 N. Hale. They belong to the Wheel-Go Campers.

They were among the 1,946 association members at the campout on the banks of the Vermillion River.

THE STATE president, Don Thompson of Waterman, reported that the group is beginning to take part in a campaign to correct poor sanitary facilities at camping grounds in Illinois state parks. It also is working with other organizations to acquire, preserve and protect the few remaining sites of unspoiled natural lands and waters in the state, he said.

The association has members in Palatine, Arlington Heights, Elk Grove Village and Itasca. (A15

Opposes Annual Sessions

The board of directors of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry has voted to oppose the amendment to the Illinois Constitution which would authorize annual sessions of the state legislature.

The board said that the amendment is unnecessary because the Governor now has the power to call the legislature into special session at any time to meet an emergency or contingency.

Regular annual sessions, the board pointed out, inevitably would increase the costs of state government.

IN ANOTHER action, the Board voted to oppose the amendment which would provide for continuity of state government in case of enemy attack. While agreeing with the principle behind the amendment, the board opposed the amendment itself on grounds it does not contain adequate safeguards to protect individual civil liberties guaranteed by the Constitution.

The two amendments will be submitted for approval at the general election on Nov. 3.

Horse Revue Scheduled Oct. 16-18

Medinah Temple's world-famed Black Horse Troop, official mounted escort for the city of Chicago and winner of international awards, will present its 11th annual Horsecapades revue Oct. 16 through 18, at the Chicago Avenue Armory, 234 E. Chicago Ave.

Proceeds will go to Medinah Temple charities and activities fund.

Members of the mounted unit include Harold F. Keeling, 117 W. Main St., Bensenville, executive officer and captain, and William L. Gossage, Medinah.

According to Keeling, some of the nation's finest equine attractions have been signed to appear along with the Black Horse Troop. These include Arthur Konyot, the White Rider who trained Arthur Godfrey's horses, the Bill Buschbom and Joe Zoppe family troupes and Elaine Kramer Roman-riding on six steeds.

Horsecapades will open with a free matinee for 5,000 underprivileged children Oct. 16. Public performances are scheduled that night at 8, the 17th at 2:30 and 8 p.m. and the 18th, at 1 and 6. Tickets are now on sale at Medinah Temple, 600 N. Wabash Ave., Chicago. (A-15

Dimes Drive Chairmen Announced

Names of eight community chairmen for the 1965 March of Dimes were announced this week by Edward P. Kelly, general campaign chairman for metropolitan Chicago.

In DuPage County the following persons will serve as director in their respective communities in the January drive to raise funds to support residual polio, arthritis and birth defects treatment and research:

Miss Linda Mangels, 403 White Oak, Roselle; Richard O. Peters, 26 Janice, Addison; Richard Venere, 390 N. Central, Wood Dale; Mrs. Robert Fogel, 233 S. Parkside, Itasca, and Mrs. Wallace Geils, 116 S. Maple, Bloomingdale.

Northwest suburban chairmen who have accepted appointment as community leaders include Ralph H. Lyerla, 282 Westview St., Schaumburg; Walter T. Barrington, 300 N. Broadway, Palatine, and Leo F. Boyle, 703 Cathy, Mount Prospect. (A15

Unitarians to Greet District Secretary

Members of the Unitarian-Universalist Countryside Fellowship, Palatine, will attend a reception Sunday for the Rev. Deane Starr, new executive secretary of the Central Midwest District of the Unitarian Universalist Association.

The reception will be held at 7 p.m. at the Third Unitarian Church, 301 N. Mayfield Ave., Chicago.

All members, friends and others interested in knowing more about the Unitarian Universalist churches in this area are welcome to attend. For transportation contact Bi White, chairman, CL 3-8332, or Pearl Asher, secretary, FL 8-3804.

The Rev. Mr. Starr, whose background includes the ministry, public schools, summer camps and social responsibility organizations, will be responsible for coordinating the activities and growth of Unitarian Universalist churches and fellowships in Illinois and neighboring states. (A15

Sleeping Sickness Hits Horses

Humans are not the only creatures to become victims of the recent outbreak of "sleeping sickness."

As of Sept. 14 there were 64 reported cases of the disease in horses in Illinois.

Incidences of suspected equine viral encephalitis have been reported in 35 Illinois counties and all but three of these were reported since Aug. 27. There have been 14 reported deaths to date, and several complete recoveries.

Dr. Paul Doby, superintendent of the Illinois Department of Agriculture's Division of Livestock Industry, said "The horse is a victim just as a human is and cannot spread the disease to another animal or to a human." (A15

Now on display: the most beautiful Chrysler ever built.

This is Chrysler '65. The big one that delivers. Luxury that reflects your good taste, for one thing. A fast answer to your demands, for another.

Look at it. Clean-lined. Big. Beautiful. Eighteen feet of comfort. Two tons of security. Called Chrysler.

It's easier to get into and out of. There's lots of headroom, and legroom and hiproom.

Get in and drive it. The first thing you'll notice is best described as "scorch." Model 1965 is a very quick automobile.

And there's an improvement in ride you can really feel.

One more point. A Chrysler isn't all that expensive. Seven Newport models are actually priced just a few dollars a month more than some of the most popular smaller cars.

Visit your Chrysler dealer and see them all: economical Newport; sports-bred 300; and the luxurious New Yorker. Move up to Chrysler. Model 1965. The man who sells them will make it easy.

Personal Accident Policy

ISSUED EXCLUSIVELY TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS AND THEIR FAMILY HOUSEHOLD MEMBERS

- Each member of the family spends the greater part of every 24-hour period at home and far more accidents occur here than anywhere else. Falls on stairs, floors, rugs, in the bathroom, from chairs and ladders, cause injuries to many people. Cuts and burns through the simplest of household chores are very common. Power lawn mowers seem to be an extreme hazard.
- The entire family should have this protection—man, woman and children.
- Policy will help pay those expenses resulting from bodily injury—whether simple or serious—when accidents strike at home, while traveling, at work, on the farm, at school, or at play.
- Subject to its provisions, the policy includes indemnity for: Loss of Life, from $500 to $10,000; Loss of Limb, $250 to $10,000; Loss of Sight, $175 to $10,000; Total Disability, up to $500, pro-rated on a daily basis; First Aid, up to $5 for non-disabling injury; Ambulance, up to $10 for this service; Hospital, up to $200, pro-rated on a daily basis; X-Ray, up to $10 for injury examination.
- Issued without medical examination.
- No age limits (Specific Loss and Total Disability Indemnities are reduced fifty per cent (50%) when insured is or becomes age 70 or over).
- Pays in addition to other personal accident insurance carried.
- Pays on work accidents that are covered by State Compensation Laws.
- Specific Loss Indemnities increase in value ten per cent (10%) each year during first 5 years of consecutive renewal.
- The policy is issued by Old Republic Life Insurance Company, Chicago, Illinois. Protection begins at NOON on the actual date of issuance of the policy.

Opposes Annual Sessions

The board of directors of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry has voted to oppose the amendment to the Illinois Constitution which would authorize annual sessions of the state legislature.

The board said that the amendment is unnecessary because the Governor now has the power to call the legislature into special session at any time to meet an emergency or contingency.

Regular annual sessions, the board pointed out, inevitably would increase the costs of state government.

IN ANOTHER action, the Board voted to oppose the amendment which would provide for continuity of state government in case of enemy attack. While agreeing with the principle behind the amendment, the board opposed the amendment itself on grounds it does not contain adequate safeguards to protect individual civil liberties guaranteed by the Constitution.

The two amendments will be submitted for approval at the general election on Nov. 3.

Horse Revue Scheduled Oct. 16-18

Medinah Temple's world-famed Black Horse Troop, official mounted escort for the city of Chicago and winner of international awards, will present its 11th annual Horsecapades revue Oct. 16 through 18, at the Chicago Avenue Armory, 234 E. Chicago Ave.

Proceeds will go to Medinah Temple charities and activities fund.

Members of the mounted unit include Harold F. Keeling, 117 W. Main St., Bensenville, executive officer and captain, and William L. Gossage, Medinah.

According to Keeling, some of the nation's finest equine attractions have been signed to appear along with the Black Horse Troop. These include Arthur Konyot, the White Rider who trained Arthur Godfrey's horses, the Bill Buschbom and Joe Zoppe family troupes and Elaine Kramer Roman-riding on six steeds.

Horsecapades will open with a free matinee for 5,000 underprivileged children Oct. 16. Public performances are scheduled that night at 8, the 17th at 2:30 and 8 p.m. and the 18th, at 1 and 6. Tickets are now on sale at Medinah Temple, 600 N. Wabash Ave., Chicago. (A-15

Attend Campers Meeting

Two Palatine families attended the three-day fall campout of the Illinois State Association of the National Campers & Hikers Association at Cornell, Ill.

They were Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Herbershoff and daughter, Lynn, North State Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Odell, 217 N. Hale. They belong to the Wheel-Go Campers.

They were among the 1,946 association members at the campout on the banks of the Vermillion River.

THE STATE president, Don Thompson of Waterman, reported that the group is beginning to take part in a campaign to correct poor sanitary facilities at camping grounds in Illinois state parks. It also is working with other organizations to acquire, preserve and protect the few remaining sites of unspoiled natural lands and waters in the state, he said.

The association has members in Palatine, Arlington Heights, Elk Grove Village and Itasca. (A15

Unitarians to Greet District Secretary

Members of the Unitarian Universalist Countryside Fellowship, Palatine, will attend a reception Sunday for the Rev. Deane Starr, new executive secretary of the Central Midwest District of the Unitarian Universalist Association.

The reception will be held at 7 p.m. at the Third Unitarian Church, 301 N. Mayfield Ave., Chicago.

All members, friends and others interested in knowing more about the Unitarian Universalist churches in this area are welcome to attend. For transportation contact Bi White, chairman, CL 3-8332, or Pearl Asher, secretary, FL 8-3804.

The Rev. Mr. Starr, whose background includes the ministry, public schools, summer camps and social responsibility organizations, will be responsible for coordinating the activities and growth of Unitarian Universalist churches and fellowships in Illinois and neighboring states. (A15

Sleeping Sickness Hits Horses

Humans are not the only creatures to become victims of the recent outbreak of "sleeping sickness."

As of Sept. 14 there were 64 reported cases of the disease in horses in Illinois.

Incidences of suspected equine viral encephalitis have been reported in 35 Illinois counties and all but three of these were reported since Aug. 27. There have been 14 reported deaths to date, and several complete recoveries.

Dr. Paul Doby, superintendent of the Illinois Department of Agriculture's Division of Livestock Industry, said "The horse is a victim just as a human is and cannot spread the disease to another animal or to a human." (A15

Now on display: the most beautiful Chrysler ever built.

This is Chrysler '65. The big one that delivers. Luxury that reflects your good taste, for one thing. A fast answer to your demands, for another.

Look at it. Clean-lined. Big. Beautiful. Eighteen feet of comfort. Two tons of security. Called Chrysler.

It's easier to get into and out of. There's lots of headroom, and legroom and hiproom.

Get in and drive it. The first thing you'll notice is best described as "scorch." Model 1965 is a very quick automobile.

And there's an improvement in ride you can really feel.

One more point. A Chrysler isn't all that expensive. Seven Newport models are actually priced just a few dollars a month more than some of the most popular smaller cars.

Visit your Chrysler dealer and see them all: economical Newport; sportsbred 300; and the luxurious New Yorker. Move up to Chrysler. Model 1965. The man who sells them will make it easy.

Cadillac

A Letter from Kurt L. Stier, president of General Pool Corporation

On behalf of myself, the General Pool Corporation and Mr. Martin Feinne, our sales manager, we express our sincerest thanks to you for making Cadillac Pool the largest selling, pre-engineered fiberglas swimimng pool in the midwest and in the world!

Many years of research and field-testing plus practical application have been incorporated in the creation of the Cadillac Pool. We have always felt and believed that the pre-engineered principle of pool construction was the only sound and feasible system of building a swimming pool in an area confronted with extreme climatic changes. Cadillac Pool owners have proven our story. And we have proven that quality materials, superior engineering and technical know-how do make a difference. Thank you again for your endorsement of the Cadillac Pool and may you all enjoy many years of happiness in Cadillac Pools.

sincerely yours,
Kurt Stier

Change in Vets Dental Care Rules

Under a law passed Aug. 14, veterans previously denied dental service and treatment because of the nature of their discharge may file for this treatment if their discharge has been changed by competent authority to conditions other than dishonorable.

According to Edward B. Akin, administrator of the Illinois Veterans Commission, applications for such dental care may be filed within one year from date of the law's enactment or one year from date of discharge correction, whichever is later.

Those needing this service may contact Walter T. Stock, service officer at the commission office at 5241 W. 25th St., Cicero. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. (15-WUS

Cadillac

A Letter from Kurt L. Stier, president of General Pool Corporation

On behalf of myself, the General Pool Corporation and Mr. Martin Feinne, our sales manager, we express our sincerest thanks to you for making Cadillac Pool the largest selling, pre-engineered fiberglas swimimng pool in the midwest and in the world!

Many years of research and field-testing plus practical application have been incorporated in the creation of the Cadillac Pool. We have always felt and believed that the pre-engineered principle of pool construction was the only sound and feasible system of building a swimming pool in an area confronted with extreme climatic changes. Cadillac Pool owners have proven our story. And we have proven that quality materials, superior engineering and technical know-how do make a difference. Thank you again for your endorsement of the Cadillac Pool and may you all enjoy many years of happiness in Cadillac Pools.

sincerely yours,
Kurt Stier

END-OF-THE-SEASON WISE-BUYERS' SALE!

TALK YOUR OWN TERMS!

Yes! This is a wise buyers sale because the savings offered is actual savings in your pocket. Also, the wise buyer knows that this is the time of the year that assures you of a better-than-average quality pool for the following reasons:

- Ground and soil conditions are most ideal at this time of the year!
- You save yourself the trouble of re-landscaping your grounds during the height of the season!
- More attention is paid to construction details and requirements because we have the time and the availability of top-quality crews!
- Best of all, you won't have to stand in line next Spring. Your Cadillac Pool will be ready for you from the first day of the season!

GARDEN GAMUT

Congratulations were received by the new officers of the Arlington Heights Gardens Home Owners Association at a party given by Carol and George Leonard, 1135 S. Mitchell, after the meeting Sept. 16. The new officers are: Bob Walsh, president; Mike Cusack, vice president; Kay Borucki, secretary; Egon Langhammer, treasurer; and Al Sturek, sergeant at arms.

Pat Farmer entertained at a toy demonstration Sept. 9. Demonstrator was Jeri Kommer of Villa Park and attending from the Gardens were Pat Dinse, Shirley Engmann, Barbara Kempsell, Kay Borucki, Verlene Walsh, Pat Garrity, Peggy Leonarduzzi and Joanne McGill.

The previous weekend Pat and Don Farmer were at the Wisconsin Dells, vacationing at their cottage.

The weekend of Sept. 12 was spent in Milwaukee by the Al Sturek family, 1186 S. Mitchell.

MARK TROCKI, 4 Sept. 2, celebrated with a party for Michael and Tommy Stoiber, Jimmy, Jeff and Gary Thommes, Chrissy Shaver, Lori and Darlene Artner, Bobby and Janice Adamczyk, Linda and Mike Shields, his brother, Billy, and sister, Lynn Trocki. A celebration for the relatives was held in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bertolani, 304 W. White Oak, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary at a party in their home for 50 people on Sept. 5. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Celestine of Elmwood Park, both in their 80's attended as did the Bob Adamczyks, John Trockis and the John Stoibers of the Gardens. Their son, Leo, flew in from Ft. Knox, Ky., to help them celebrate the big event.

Elaine and Gene Rudnicki, 1119 S. Mitchell attended the theatre and then went to the Blackhawk with Gene's parents, the John Rudnickis, in honor of his father's birthday Sept. 12.

A WELCOME is extended to the new neighbors at 9 W. White Oak, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Hendrick and their daughter, Kathy, 7, from Chicago.

Attending the Chicagoland Model Airplane Club dinner dance Sept. 19 at the Billy Caldwell VFW were Nan and Ken Wendt, Boots and Gene Potas and Kay and John Borucki.

The weekly coffee get-together nteew soallretSsrtc- Mhtatier on Mitchell Street was started again by Carol Leonard on Sept. 11 for Ruth Bjerkness, Mary Ann Ambrose, Pat Birkenheier, Elaine Rudnicki and Diane McMahon.

Barbara and George Kempsell, 414 W. Cypress, gave a combined birthday party Sunday for her mother, Mrs. Ethel Nelson, and her nephew, Bobby Mann.

LAWRENCE WELK was featured at the Chicago Amphitheatre on Tuesday at a party sponsored by the Illinois Bell Telephone Co., where Gene Potas works. Boots and Gene and Nan and Ken Wendt reportedly enjoyed the evening.

Birthday wishes were extended to Dawn, 3, and Mike Finney, 4, who celebrated together at a party Sept. 16 for some of the neighborhood children. Included were Billy Potas, Dale Wendt, Debby and Johnny Borucki, Patty Merges, Michael Gajewski, Billy Szeremeda, Joseph Smuda, Kirk and Perry Birkenheier and Wendy and Debby Meyers.

Mary Ann and Wally Ambrose entertained Fran and Conrad Strauch of Chicago on Sept. 19 in their home at 1127 S. Mitchell. Conrad and Wally were Weber High School buddies. (A

JOINING THE LONG LIST of celebrities and dignitaries who have signed the autograph ball is Mayor Edward Pinger of Hoffman Estates. The golden sphere will be on display Saturday, Sept. 26, when Alexian Brothers Hospital Auxiliary holds its second annual ball at Itasca Country Club. Watching the mayor sign the ball are Mrs. Darryl Skarda, president of the Auxiliary, and Mrs. Leslie Larson, committee member.

2 Boys on Bikes Hurt in Collisions

Two auto-bicycle accidents within an hour of each other in Arlington Heights Monday evening resulted in a broken leg for one youth and a bumped head for another.

Eldon E. Miller, 315 E. Foster, Arlington Heights, was charged with failure to yield right-of-way at a stop sign in the first incident at 4 p. m. at the intersection of State Road and Maple Street.

Craig Casburn, 9, of 908 S. State Rd., suffered a broken leg when he was struck as Miller made a right turn from Maple south onto State. The youth was going north on State, according to police report.

THE SECOND accident, at 5 p. m. involved Thomas Gilfillan, 8, of 201 S. Princeton, and Mrs. Doris A. Sleger, 525 S. Reuter, near the intersection of Yale Avenue and Sigwalt Street.

According to the report, Mrs. Sleger was driving south between two bicycles heading in the same direction when the boy cut in front of her to join his companion.

Her car stopped just as she hit the bicycle.

Eastwood Events

While the Albrecht Kochs of 420 N. Hickory Ave. and their four-year-old son, Peter, vacationed in the east, young Frank, who is just 18 months old, remained at home under the capable care of his grandparents, the F. E. Merciers of Evanston. Via Niagara Falls, the Kochs drove to their destination in Tenafly, N. J., where they visited with the Vauclair family.

Naturally, a trip to the Fair was on their entertainment agenda and the Kochs saw it with the utmost ease, no waiting in line at all! They were the guests of the Vauclairs daughter Marguerite, a student at Bowling Green University, who was working as a summer replacement for a Tenafly newspaper. Marguerite's press pass entitled the entire party free entrance to all the exhibits and, what was most important, immediate entry through the bjack doors.

THE KOCHS enjoyed the Fair immensely and certainly recommend their way of seeing it. Their homeward journey included a trip to Mt. Vernon and from there along the scenic Blue Ridge Drive to Williamsburg.

Making the trip with them was Mr. Koch's mother, Mrs. Maria Koch, who has been visiting this past summer from her home in Germany. Before leaving New York the Kochs bid her farewell on her homeward journey via the SS Rotterdam.

THE GORDON MOSBY family and their six children, who have been living at 720 N. Hickory Ave. for many years, have left the community and are now making their home in Palatine. Residents now at 720 are new to the house, but not to the Eastwood area. The Rev. Carl and Mrs. Nowak and their children, Julie, Elisabeth, Mary Robin and Stephen, have returned to Arlington and are now at home in the former Mosby residence. Rev. Nowak is with the Lutheran General Hospital.

Before moving back to Eastwood the Nowaks spent seven weeks of the summer at Lily Lake near Lake Geneva, Wis. We are happy to welcome them once again to the community.

Boating on Lake Mendota in Madison, Wis. was enjoyed several times this summer by the William Stuebers and Karen and Kurt of 414 N. Beverly, but they decided to take a farther away trip for their last vacation before school reopened. For this jaunt they trailered their boat to Kentucky Dam at Lake Kentucky and had a wonderful week boating, water skiing and swimming at this large lake just 20 miles south of Paducah.

ALAN GROTEFEND of N. Dryden Avenue is once again back at his books - this time studying for his master's in chemistry research at Roosevelt University, but he has exciting memories of his trip to Alaska. Nine thousand miles by land and 700 by boat through inland waters were covered on his three-week trip, camping and cooking out all the way.

Alan says the roads in Alaska were very rough and that they wore out quite a few tires. It took a week for his party to arrive in Fairbanks and from there they went to Anchorage. The 700 mile inland boat trip enabled them to view all the Alaskan inland islands.

With their boxer Schatze, who is a real veteran traveler, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carlman of Lincoln Lane vacationed from Thursday of last week till Sunday at Peninsula State Park near Ephraim, Wis. An evening at Gordon's Lodge and sightseeing the already autumn hued upper peninsula provided them a most relaxing weekend. (A

Congratulations were received by the new officers of the Arlington Heights Gardens Home Owners Association at a party given by Carol and George Leonard, 1135 S. Mitchell, after the meeting Sept. 16. The new officers are: Bob Walsh, president; Mike Cusack, vice president; Kay Borucki, secretary; Egon Langhammer, treasurer; and Al Sturek, sergeant at arms.

Pat Farmer entertained at a toy demonstration Sept. 9. Demonstrator was Jeri Kommer of Villa Park and attending from the Gardens were Pat Dinse, Shirley Engmann, Barbara Kempsell, Kay Borucki, Verlene Walsh, Pat Garrity, Peggy Leonarduzzi and Joanne McGill.

The previous weekend Pat and Don Farmer were at the Wisconsin Dells, vacationing at their cottage.

The weekend of Sept. 12 was spent in Milwaukee by the Al Sturek family, 1186 S. Mitchell.

MARK TROCKI, 4 Sept. 2, celebrated with a party for Michael and Tommy Stoiber, Jimmy, Jeff and Gary Thommes, Chrissy Shaver, Lori and Darlene Artner, Bobby and Janice Adamczyk, Linda and Mike Shields, his brother, Billy, and sister, Lynn Trocki. A celebration for the relatives was held in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bertolani, 304 W. White Oak, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary at a party in their home for 50 people on Sept. 5. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Celestine of Elmwood Park, both in their 80's attended as did the Bob Adamczyks, John Trockis and the John Stoibers of the Gardens. Their son, Leo, flew in from Ft. Knox, Ky., to help them celebrate the big event.

Elaine and Gene Rudnicki, 1119 S. Mitchell attended the theatre and then went to the Blackhawk with Gene's parents, the John Rudnickis, in honor of his father's birthday Sept. 12.

A WELCOME is extended to the new neighbors at 9 W. White Oak, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Hendrick and their daughter, Kathy, 7, from Chicago.

Attending the Chicagoland Model Airplane Club dinner dance Sept. 19 at the Billy Caldwell VFW were Nan and Ken Wendt, Boots and Gene Potas and Kay and John Borucki.

The weekly coffee get-together nteew soallretSsrtc- Mhtati er on Mitchell Street was started again by Carol Leonard on Sept. 11 for Ruth Bjerkness, Mary Ann Ambrose, Pat Birkenheier, Elaine Rudnicki and Diane McMahon.

Barbara and George Kempsell, 414 W. Cypress, gave a combined birthday party Sunday for her mother, Mrs. Ethel Nelson, and her nephew, Bobby Mann.

LAWRENCE WELK was featured at the Chicago Amphitheatre on Tuesday at a party sponsored by the Illinois Bell Telephone Co., where Gene Potas works. Boots and Gene and Nan and Ken Wendt reportedly enjoyed the evening.

Birthday wishes were extended to Dawn, 3, and Mike Finney, 4, who celebrated together at a party Sept. 16 for some of the neighborhood children. Included were Billy Potas, Dale Wendt, Debby and Johnny Borucki, Patty Merges, Michael Gajewski, Billy Szeremeda, Joseph Smuda, Kirk and Perry Birkenheier and Wendy and Debby Meyers.

Mary Ann and Wally Ambrose entertained Fran and Conrad Strauch of Chicago on Sept. 19 in their home at 1127 S. Mitchell. Conrad and Wally were Weber High School buddies. (A

JOINING THE LONG LIST of celebrities and dignitaries who have signed the autograph ball is Mayor Edward Pinger of Hoffman Estates. The golden sphere will be on display Saturday, Sept. 26, when Alexian Brothers Hospital Auxiliary holds its second annual ball at Itasca Country Club. Watching the mayor sign the ball are Mrs. Darryl Skarda, president of the Auxiliary, and Mrs. Leslie Larson, committee member.

2 Boys on Bikes Hurt in Collisions

Two auto-bicycle accidents within an hour of each other in Arlington Heights Monday evening resulted in a broken leg for one youth and a bumped head for another.

Eldon E. Miller, 315 E. Foster, Arlington Heights, was charged with failure to yield right-of-way at a stop sign in the first incident at 4 p. m. at the intersection of State Road and Maple Street.

Craig Casburn, 9, of 908 S. State Rd., suffered a broken leg when he was struck as Miller made a right turn from Maple south onto State. The youth was going north on State, according to police report.

THE SECOND accident, at 5 p. m. involved Thomas Gilfillan, 8, of 201 S. Princeton, and Mrs. Doris A. Sleger, 525 S. Reuter, near the intersection of Yale Avenue and Sigwalt Street.

According to the report, Mrs. Sleger was driving south between two bicycles heading in the same direction when the boy cut in front of her to join his companion.

Her car stopped just as she hit the bicycle.

Eastwood Events

While the Albrecht Kochs of 420 N. Hickory Ave. and their four-year-old son, Peter, vacationed in the east, young Frank, who is just 18 months old, remained at home under the capable care of his grandparents, the F. E. Merciers of Evanston. Via Niagara Falls, the Kochs drove to their destination in Tenafly, N. J., where they visited with the Vauclair family.

Naturally, a trip to the Fair was on their entertainment agenda and the Kochs saw it with the utmost ease, no waiting in line at all! They were the guests of the Vauclairs daughter Marguerite, a student at Bowling Green University, who was working as a summer replacement for a Tenafly newspaper. Marguerite's press pass entitled the entire party free entrance to all the exhibits and, what was most important, immediate entry through the bjack doors.

THE KOCHS enjoyed the Fair immensely and certainly recommend their way of seeing it. Their homeward journey included a trip to Mt. Vernon and from there along the scenic Blue Ridge Drive to Williamsburg.

Making the trip with them was Mr. Koch's mother, Mrs. Maria Koch, who has been visiting this past summer from her home in Germany. Before leaving New York the Kochs bid her farewell on her homeward journey via the SS Rotterdam.

THE GORDON MOSBY family and their six children, who have been living at 720 N. Hickory Ave. for many years, have left the community and are now making their home in Palatine. Residents now at 720 are new to the house, but not to the Eastwood area. The Rev. Carl and Mrs. Nowak and their children, Julie, Elisabeth, Mary Robin and Stephen, have returned to Arlington and are now at home in the former Mosby residence. Rev. Nowak is with the Lutheran General Hospital.

Before moving back to Eastwood the Nowaks spent seven weeks of the summer at Lily Lake near Lake Geneva, Wis. We are happy to welcome them once again to the community.

Boating on Lake Mendota in Madison, Wis. was enjoyed several times this summer by the William Stuebers and Karen and Kurt of 414 N. Forest View News

Mrs. Jan Dews, 1204 Green Acres Drive, a troop organizer for the junior girl scouts, will have a meeting at 3:45 p.m., Sept. 24 at Forest View Elementary School.

Mrs. Jean Loeschen and Mrs. Louise Foster, both of Briarwood Drive, held a meeting at the school on Wednesday for mothers and daughters interested in a Brownie Troop.

The Robert Englehardts West Algonquin Road, had as a recent houseguest, Mrs. Louis Dopyera of Taft, Calif.

The Chris Hilgeman family, South Busse Road, spent the weekend at the Wisconsin Dells. They stayed at Uphoff's Motel on Lake Delton. They enjoyed swimming, a boat trip to the Upper and Lower Dells and toured Storybook Gardens. Highlight of the trip for Mary Kay was the tour of Fort Dells, where the children were made deputy sheriffs and Mary Kay helped the sheriff capture "Black Bart" and put him in jail after he robbed the train.

WEEKEND GUESTS of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Rosiak and Angelicia, 1716 Rust Drive, was the Raymond Lee family from Racine.

Mr. and Mrs. George Menard, Rusty Drive, drove to Lemont on Saturday to visit their son, Gene, who has entered the seminary, then on to Harvey to visit Penny's godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Piscitello, before going to Chicago to attend a house warming party for the John Menards, George's parents.

Friday the David Buckley family, 1721 Robbie Lane, entertained David's aunts, the Misses Dorothy and Carolyn Martin from East Orange, N.J.

A welcome is extended to Mr. and Mrs. David Kasmen and children, Kim, 7, David, 3½, and Karen, 2, who moved from Rolling Meadows to Deborah Lane on Aug. 29.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hill and daughters, 1721 Rusty Drive, visited Jack's sister, Mrs. Nancy Alverado and children, who had moved back to Chicago from Seattle.

MR. AND MRS. John Finnerty, Kim Drive, spent a recent day in Glenview with the Robert Onuser family. They enjoyed a cook-out in the evening and the children spent the afternoon at the Glenview Park District swimming pools, which had been stocked with gold fish. Each child was given a paper cup and then was allowed to keep the fish they could catch in the cup. The Finnerty children came home with two.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shumelo and Renee, 1712 Robbie Lane, entertained Maurine and Jack 13. Maurine and Mary Lou worked together before they Napoline of Chicago on Sept. were married.

Mrs. Enelyn Menard and Mrs. Jerry Kingsborough enjoyed dinner and entertainment at the Chicago-Sheraton Hotel on Sunday.

Miss Tillie Borowsky, 1706 Rusty Drive, entertained for her great niece's birthday. Laurie Jane was 6 Sept. 20. Guests were Laurie Jane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kauth, all of Mount Prospect.

MR. AND MRS. Lloyd Trznadel and children, 1719 Rusty Drive, had a surprise visit on Thursday from friends from Boonton Manor, N.J., Mrs. Lucy Ninni and Mrs. Mildred Rezino.

Friday Mrs. Otto Gorgius, S. Busse Road, drove to Northern Illinois University in DeKalb to pick up Lynne, Richard Koepke, Belmont Avenue, and Alan Hamilton of Franklin Park, who had spent Freshman Week on campus. The H. Koepkes drove the boys back Sunday evening and the Gorgiuses drove Lynne back after having dinner with Loraine's aunt and uncle, the Henry Gallerts in Plano.

Birthday wishes go to Linda Nitz, Carol Giesler, Robert Ayres, Barbara Bongirno, Steven Press, Frank Buffa, Mark Markwell and Kim Kasmen.

Anniversary greetings go to Mr. and Mrs. David Kasmen, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Press and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Baldassari. (AME

LWV Chapter to Hear State Officer

A member of the state League of Women Voters board, Mrs. Daniel C. Anderson of Western Springs, will be the speaker at the Arlington Heights League of Women Voters meeting tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. in Pioneer Park fieldhouse.

Mrs. Anderson, whose length of time on the LWV state board is exceeded only by Mrs. Ezra Levin, state president, will discuss the ways Leagues progress from study to action programs.

It will be the first meeting this fall for the local LWV, whose membership includes women from Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights, Rolling Meadows, and Wheeling as well as Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Paul Richardson is in charge of a "sneak preview" of the year's activities, featuring local board members wearing sandwich board-type placards.

MRS. ANDERSON will be introduced by Mrs. Russell Gardner, local LWV president. In charge of local league organization, water resources chairman, and supervisor of inter-League cooperative programs for the state board, Mrs. Anderson will use water resources as an example in discussing the ways Leagues work.

Tonight's meeting is open to all women interested in activities of the League. Persons wishing more information are asked to contact Mrs. Richardson, membership chairman, at CL 9-2658.

Seven League members attended a regional workshop today at Lake Forest. They were Mrs. Stephen Caruso of Prospect Heights, Mrs. Hal Cress, Mrs. Bruce Bremberg of Mount Prospect, Mrs. Ralph Waterhouse of Mount Prospect, Mrs. Frank Moore, Mrs. R. J. Schlott, Mrs. R. N. Hill of Prospect Heights and Miss Esther Noffke of Wheeling.

Mrs. Louis H. Nye Jr. and Mrs. Frank Psota attended a similar regional meeting in Park Ridge Sept. 17. (A(K

Grace Church Plans Anniversary Events

The Church Council of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, Euclid and Wolf Roads, appointed Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haugh of Mount Prospect as the cochairmen of the congregation's Fifth Anniversary Committee.

Grace was formally organized as a Lutheran congregation on Dec. 20, 1959, under the direction of the Rev. Lavern C. Anderson of the Board of American Missions of the Augustana Lutheran Church. Since then, Augustana has merged into the Lutheran Church in America.

THE HAUGHS, charter members of Grace, have selected four other charter member families to serve on the committee. They are: Mr. and Mrs. John Brickwood, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brandeau, Mr. and Mrs. C. Paul Carlstedt, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Eckman.

Already busy at work, the committee is developing a special Fifth Anniversary book and scheduling three other events, including a choir concert, a special children's service, and a congregational banquet. Albert W. Weidlich is pastor of Grace Church.

Big Crowd Throngs GOP Headquarters

Several hundred people attended the open house commemorating the opening of the new Wheeling Township Republican Headquarters Sunday.

The headquarters is located at the Mount Prospect Plaza Shopping Center at Central and Rand Roads.

Incuded in the Republican dignitaries attending the festivities were Rep. Donald Rumsfeld, (R-13th), John Bickley, candidate for Cook County state's attorney; William Martin of Prospect Heights, a candidate for the Illinois House of Representatives in the at-large election; Thomas Houser, township committeeman and campaign manager for Charles H. Percy, candidate for governor; Eugene Schlickman of Arlington Heights, an at-large candidate for the Illinois House of Representatives.

ATTORNEY Edward Hofert of Mount Prospect, a judicial candidate, was also in attendance. Taking a poke at President Lyndon Johnson's medicare bill, Hofert said "After they pass Medicare, we attorneys are going to ask for legacare. It will guarantee every man, woman and child in the United States two divorces, a will, several contracts and other legal advice."

The headquarters is located in a building formerly housing a hosiery store. The headquarters was formerly in Arlington Heights. (ACM

LWV Chapter to Hear State Officer

A member of the state League of Women Voters board, Mrs. Daniel C. Anderson of Western Springs, will be the speaker at the Arlington Heights League of Women Voters meeting tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. in Pioneer Park fieldhouse.

Mrs. Anderson, whose length of time on the LWV state board is exceeded only by Mrs. Ezra Levin, state president, will discuss the ways Leagues progress from study to action programs.

It will be the first meeting this fall for the local LWV, whose membership includes women from Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights, Rolling Meadows, and Wheeling as well as Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Paul Richardson is in charge of a "sneak preview" of the year's activities, featuring local board members wearing sandwich board-type placards.

MRS. ANDERSON will be introduced by Mrs. Russell Gardner, local LWV president. In charge of local league organization, water resources chairman, and supervisor of inter-League cooperative programs for the state board, Mrs. Anderson will use water resources as an example in discussing the ways Leagues work.

Tonight's meeting is open to all women interested in activities of the League. Persons wishing more information are asked to contact Mrs. Richardson, membership chairman, at CL 9-2658.

Seven League members attended a regional workshop today at Lake Forest. They were Mrs. Stephen Caruso of Prospect Heights, Mrs. Hal Cress, Mrs. Bruce Bremberg of Mount Prospect, Mrs. Ralph Waterhouse of Mount Prospect, Mrs. Frank Moore, Mrs. R. J. Schlott, Mrs. R. N. Hill of Prospect Heights and Miss Esther Noffke of Wheeling.

Mrs. Louis H. Nye Jr. and Mrs. Frank Psota attended a similar regional meeting in Park Ridge Sept. 17. (A(K

Grace Church Plans Anniversary Events

The Church Council of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, Euclid and Wolf Roads, appointed Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haugh of Mount Prospect as the cochairmen of the congregation's Fifth Anniversary Committee.

Grace was formally organized as a Lutheran congregation on Dec. 20, 1959, under the direction of the Rev. Lavern C. Anderson of the Board of American Missions of the Augustana Lutheran Church. Since then, Augustana has merged into the Lutheran Church in America.

THE HAUGHS, charter members of Grace, have selected four other charter member families to serve on the committee. They are: Mr. and Mrs. John Brickwood, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brandeau, Mr. and Mrs. C. Paul Carlstedt, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Eckman.

Already busy at work, the committee is developing a special Fifth Anniversary book and scheduling three other events, including a choir concert, a special children's service, and a congregational banquet. Albert W. Weidlich is pastor of Grace Church.

Big Crowd Throngs GOP Headquarters

Several hundred people attended the open house commemorating the opening of the new Wheeling Township Republican Headquarters Sunday.

The headquarters is located at the Mount Prospect Plaza Shopping Center at Central and Rand Roads.

Incuded in the Republican dignitaries attending the festivities were Rep. Donald Rumsfeld, (R-13th), John Bickley, candidate for Cook County state's attorney; William Martin of Prospect Heights, a candidate for the Illinois House of Representatives in the at-large election; Thomas Houser, township committeeman and campaign manager for Charles H. Percy, candidate for governor; Eugene Schlickman of Arlington Heights, an at-large candidate for the Illinois House of Representatives.

ATTORNEY Edward Hofert of Mount Prospect, a judicial candidate, was also in attendance. Taking a poke at President Lyndon Johnson's medicare bill, Hofert said "After they pass Medicare, we attorneys are going to ask for legacare. It will guarantee every man, woman and child in the United States two divorces, a will, several contracts and other legal advice."

The headquarters is located in a building formerly housing a hosiery store. The headquarters was formerly in Arlington Heights. (ACM

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Rev. ROBERT H. HARPER

A TIME FOR PRAYER

WE BOYS at school had a game called "foot and a half." No paraphernalia was needed except a makeshift springboard, and the objective was to spring over the boy who was "down" a certain distance away, at a point which the "setter" called. If the setter could not make the leap, he had to go down himself, that is if some other boy made it. But if the setter called it "one and over" and no one challenged it, the one and over stood, and the setter and the others would jump as far as they could and then from the place where they landed would leap over the down.

At least that is the way I remember it. Of an incident I am sure. The spot where many boys' feet had landed had been gouged out in the soft earth a little depression, and when one of the "big boys" landed he fell over with a broken ankle, and as he tried to crawl away I could see one foot dragging helplessly. And one of the smaller boys said to me afterward, "Henry, did you notice how when a fellow gets in great trouble he calls upon God? When Roy tried to crawl away, he said, "O God."

Years afterward, when the fortunes of life brought Roy and me to live in the same city, I recalled to him the mishap of his boyhood. Soon afterward, he as an official of one of our banks asked to make the opening prayer at a bankers' convention to be held in the city. Later he told me that he had thought of telling of the incident I have related when he presented me. But he seemed to think it might not have been the thing to do to remind the men that they needed prayer. But I assured him that it would have been a fitting thing.

The women are members of the planning committee for the Hi Fever Follies, a benefit being presented by Holy Family Hospital Auxiliary Oct. 23 and 24. Tryouts for the all amateur revue are being held at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 6, in the Villa Venice, with doctors and nurses of the hospital staff among those seeking parts in the revue.

Everything Set for GOP Picnic Sunday

Thomas J. Houser, Wheeling Township Republican Committeeman, reports that plans for the first annual Republican picnic have been completed.

Co-chairmen Gerald Moe, Buffalo Grove, and John Walsh Jr., Arlington Heights, have announced that activities will begin at 1 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 27, and will continue until 6 at Buffalo Bill's Picnic Grove on Buffalo Grove Road, north of Dundee Road.

There will be games with prizes for all age groups, including races for the children and an egg throwing contest for adults.

HOUSER ALSO stated there will be no political speeches, but there will be opportunities to meet and talk with many Republican candidates for county and state offices. The response to invitations sent to these candidates has indicated many will be present at the picnic.

Ice cream and pop will be available for the children through the afternoon and at 5 p.m. roast beef sandwiches will be served to all.

Special invitations have been sent to members of the various township Republican organizations, but all interested Republicans are urged to attend.

Deny Request for Over-sized Sign

The Arlington Heights village board voted Monday to deny a request for a permit to erect a sign at Winkelman's Bicycle Shop, 115 E. Davis St., in excess of the legal size limit.

The appeal was made by Accurate Sign Co., represented by George D. Beecher, who said the sign had been constructed for the store before restrictions of the sign and structure ordinance were known.

Area of each side of the projecting sign proposed for the property was 60 square feet. The ordinance only allows 20.

IN ADDITION, Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson said the village had been attempting to establish a policy of only allowing wall signs in business areas as opposed to the type which hang out over the sidewalk.

He said the previous board had talked of a five-year amortization period for all overhanging signs, and Beecher verified that the proposed sign was guaranteed to last more than five years.

The company representative said he would attempt to convert the sign, which is already made up, into a wall sign, and work with Building Commissioner Harold C. Best on an acceptable solution from an ordinance standpoint.

Board members and Best complimented Beecher on the company's previous work in the village and said the denial was a "reluctant" one.

BENEFIT SHOW

Comedian Bob Newhart will share the spotlight with Count Basie and his orchestra Saturday, Sept. 26, in a benefit show sponsored by the Camp Fire Girls, Inc. Set for 8:30 p.m., the benefit is being held in the Arie Crown Theatre, McCormick Place.

The evening will mark the first time Camp Fire has undertaken a professional show to raise funds. In past years, an annual Chicago area doughnut sale provided the additional funds necessary for maintaining the Camp Fire group.

"The Community Fund has approved this fund-raising benefit," said Mrs. Eileen Deunk of Arlington Heights, district chairman. "They provide 17 per cent of our yearly operating budget and we must raise the remaining 83 per cent through our own efforts. That's why the success of any fund-raising project we undertake is so important to us."

"The program is designed for adults, but will be in keeping with good taste for all members of the family," added Mrs. Pat Miresse of Arlngton Heights, chairman of the Leaders Association. Also working on the benefit is Mrs. Virginia Netter of Hoffman Estates.

ROLLING MEADOWS

How to make a bed, how to set a table and how to bathe a baby, will be among the things a new group of Blue Birds will be learning in the coming year under the leadership of Mrs. John Bennett and assisted by Mrs. William Plough.

Six mothers of new Blue Birds met for coffee Sept. 10, at 9:30 a.m. at Mrs. Plough's home to organize and plan the activities for the girls. Besides things to learn, also discussed were service projects, picnics and trips to interesting places.

HOFFMAN ESTATES

A skate and swim party is in the offing for girls in fourth grade and up on Saturday, Oct. 3 at the Northwest Suburban YMCA starting at 6:30 p.m. The Hoffman Estates Camp Fire Girls, as a part of the Arlington Heights District, is sponsoring the party. Information on tickets can be obtained from Mrs. John Slayhor, 529-1057.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Basic training for leaders of Blue Bird, Camp Fire and Junior Hi girls will be held Wednesday, Oct. 7, and Wednesday, Oct. 14, at Pioneer Park from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Organization, ceremonials, camping, and handicrafts will be some of the topics covered by this training. Leaders should bring sack lunches and coffee will be served. No arrangements have been made for baby sitters for younger children at this training.

MOUNT PROSPECT

Last Sunday the Junior-Hi Mother-Daughter Tea was held in Mount Prospect Country Club Sky Light Room. Eighth grade Camp Fire Girls welcomed the seventh grade groups into the Jr-Hi program. Mrs. Dorothy Deppen's group presented ties to the seventh grade girls. Entertainment was provided by girls in groups, held by Mrs. Marge Schroeder, Mrs. Eileen Fischer and Mrs. W. Hinze.

Mrs. Marie Laflen, Mount Prospect Assistant General Chairman, welcomed the girls and their mothers. Mrs. Sally Coyle of the Chicago Area Council spoke in honor of the occasion. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Delores Lunardi and Mrs. Mary Weiler's groups. More than 100 girls and their mothers were present.

More than 200 second and third grade Blue Birds attended the Blue Bird Leader-Girl picnic last Thursday at Lions Park. Girls brought hot dogs and hamburgers and cooked them on grills. Games were led and directed by Jr-Hi Camp Fire Girls. Mrs. Debra Meyers, Music Chairman, led the Blue Birds in singing.

Three groups recently made an overnight camping trip to Camp Reinburg. Two Fire Maker Groups, led by Mrs. Charles Dittmer and Mrs. William Michela, and a Jr-Hi group led by Mrs. Peter Weiler, spent a Friday night and Saturday cooking over open fires, hiking and enjoying the beauties of autumn. Three fathers, Messrs Dittmer, Moisan and Michela, joined the girls on their campout. One of the highlights of the event was singing folk songs with a Camp Reinburg counselor who played the guitar.

Gardens Group to Act on Water Bills

Residents of Arlington Gardens Subdivision in Arlington Heights who have objected to recent annexation of the area are scheduled to meet tonight (Thursday) for a decision on their threatened refusal to pay water bills.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Elk Grove Township Hall, 2400 S. Arlington Heights Road.

The group failed last week in an attempt to elect its slate of officers for the Arlington Gardens Homeowners' Association, but has continued plans to fight village takeover of Citizens' Utility Co., a private utility company which had provided water and sewer service for the area.

THE VILLAGE took over Sept. 15 on a lease-purchase arrangement which is to be paid by homeowners in the subdivision through an extra charge on water bills of $10.25 per month for the next eight years.

Members of the protest group have said they will pay the water charge of 40 cents per 1,000 gallons, but will not pay the $10.25.

In answer, Village Atty. Jack Siegel has issued the opinion that their water may be turned off if they refuse to pay.

The group is also fighting the completed annexation of the Gardens area in court and has filed an appeal after the Circuit Court ruled against a petition to have the original annexation petition ruled invalid.

Gardens Group to Act on Water Bills

Residents of Arlington Gardens Subdivision in Arlington Heights who have objected to recent annexation of the area are scheduled to meet tonight (Thursday) for a decision on their threatened refusal to pay water bills.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Elk Grove Township Hall, 2400 S. Arlington Heights Road.

The group failed last week in an attempt to elect its slate of officers for the Arlington Gardens Homeowners' Association, but has continued plans to fight village takeover of Citizens' Utility Co., a private utility company which had provided water and sewer service for the area.

THE VILLAGE took over Sept. 15 on a lease-purchase arrangement which is to be paid by homeowners in the subdivision through an extra charge on water bills of $10.25 per month for the next eight years.

Members of the protest group have said they will pay the water charge of 40 cents per 1,000 gallons, but will not pay the $10.25.

In answer, Village Atty. Jack Siegel has issued the opinion that their water may be turned off if they refuse to pay.

The group is also fighting the completed annexation of the Gardens area in court and has filed an appeal after the Circuit Court ruled against a petition to have the original annexation petition ruled invalid. (A

Everything Set for GOP Picnic Sunday

Thomas J. Houser, Wheeling Township Republican Committeeman, reports that plans for the first annual Republican picnic have been completed.

Co-chairmen Gerald Moe, Buffalo Grove, and John Walsh Jr., Arlington Heights, have announced that activities will begin at 1 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 27, and will continue until 6 at Buffalo Bill's Picnic Grove on Buffalo Grove Road, north of Dundee Road.

There will be games with prizes for all age groups, including races for the children and an egg throwing contest for adults.

HOUSER ALSO stated there will be no political speeches, but there will be opportunities to meet and talk with many Republican candidates for county and state offices. The response to invitations sent to these candidates has indicated many will be present at the picnic.

Ice cream and pop will be available for the children through the afternoon and at 5 p.m. roast beef sandwiches will be served to all.

Special invitations have been sent to members of the various township Republican organizations, but all interested Republicans are urged to attend. (ACM

BENEFIT SHOW

Comedian Bob Newhart will share the spotlight with Count Basie and his orchestra Saturday, Sept. 26, in a benefit show sponsored by the Camp Fire Girls, Inc. Set for 8:30 p.m., the benefit is being held in the Arie Crown Theatre, McCormick Place.

The evening will mark the first time Camp Fire has undertaken a professional show to raise funds. In past years, an annual Chicago area doughnut sale provided the additional funds necessary for maintaining the Camp Fire group.

"The Community Fund has approved this fund-raising benefit," said Mrs. Eileen Deunk of Arlington Heights, district chairman. "They provide 17 per cent of our yearly operating budget and we must raise the remaining 83 per cent through our own efforts. That's why the success of any fund-raising project we undertake is so important to us."

"The program is designed for adults, but will be in keeping with good taste for all members of the family," added Mrs. Pat Miresse of Arlngton Heights, chairman of the Leaders Association. Also working on the benefit is Mrs. Virginia Netter of Hoffman Estates.

ROLLING MEADOWS

How to make a bed, how to set a table and how to bathe a baby, will be among the things a new group of Blue Birds will be learning in the coming year under the leadership of Mrs. John Bennett and assisted by Mrs. William Plough.

Six mothers of new Blue Birds met for coffee Sept. 10, at 9:30 a.m. at Mrs. Plough's home to organize and plan the activities for the girls. Besides things to learn, also discussed were service projects, picnics and trips to interesting places.

HOFFMAN ESTATES

A skate and swim party is in the offing for girls in fourth grade and up on Saturday, Oct. 3 at the Northwest Suburban YMCA starting at 6:30 p.m. The Hoffman Estates Camp Fire Girls, as a part of the Arlington Heights District, is sponsoring the party. Information on tickets can be obtained from Mrs. John Slayhor, 529-1057.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Basic training for leaders of Blue Bird, Camp Fire and Junior Hi girls will be held Wednesday, Oct. 7, and Wednesday, Oct. 14, at Pioneer Park from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Organization, ceremonials, camping, and handicrafts will be some of the topics covered by this training. Leaders should bring sack lunches and coffee will be served. No arrangements have been made for baby sitters for younger children at this training.

MOUNT PROSPECT

Last Sunday the Junior-Hi Mother-Daughter Tea was held in Mount Prospect Country Club Sky Light Room. Eighth grade Camp Fire Girls welcomed the seventh grade groups into the Jr-Hi program. Mrs. Dorothy Deppen's group presented ties to the seventh grade girls. Entertainment was provided by girls in groups, held by Mrs. Marge Schroeder, Mrs. Eileen Fischer and Mrs. W. Hinze.

Mrs. Marie Laflen, Mount Prospect Assistant General Chairman, welcomed the girls and their mothers. Mrs. Sally Coyle of the Chicago Area Council spoke in honor of the occasion. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Delores Lunardi and Mrs. Mary Weiler's groups. More than 100 girls and their mothers were present.

More than 200 second and third grade Blue Birds attended the Blue Bird Leader-Girl picnic last Thursday at Lions Park. Girls brought hot dogs and hamburgers and cooked them on grills. Games were led and directed by Jr-Hi Camp Fire Girls. Mrs. Debra Meyers, Music Chairman, led the Blue Birds in singing.

Three groups recently made an overnight camping trip to Camp Reinburg. Two Fire Maker Groups, led by Mrs. Charles Dittmer and Mrs. William Michela, and a Jr-Hi group led by Mrs. Peter Weiler, spent a Friday night and Saturday cooking over open fires, hiking and enjoying the beauties of autumn. Three fathers, Messrs Dittmer, Moisan and Michela, joined the girls on their campout. One of the highlights of the event was singing folk songs with a Camp Reinburg counselor who played the guitar. Deny Request for Over-sized Sign

The Arlington Heights village board voted Monday to deny a request for a permit to erect a sign at Winkelman's Bicycle Shop, 115 E. Davis St., in excess of the legal size limit.

The appeal was made by Accurate Sign Co., represented by George D. Beecher, who said the sign had been constructed for the store before restrictions of the sign and structure ordinance were known.

Area of each side of the projecting sign proposed for the property was 60 square feet. The ordinance only allows 20.

IN ADDITION, Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson said the village had been attempting to establish a policy of only allowing wall signs in business areas as opposed to the type which hang out over the sidewalk.

He said the previous board had talked of a five-year amortization period for all overhanging signs, and Beecher verified that the proposed sign was guaranteed to last more than five years.

The company representative said he would attempt to convert the sign, which is already made up, into a wall sign, and work with Building Commissioner Harold C. Best on an acceptable solution from an ordinance standpoint.

Board members and Best complimented Beecher on the company's previous work in the village and said the denial was a "reluctant" one.

Hammering, moving, pounding, constructing, measuring, placing, hooking, wheeling, unfolding! I'll say it has been a busy week for our maintenance crew. They have been busy preparing for Randhurst's third annual Autumn Art Fair, Sept. 24, 25, 26, and 27. Thank you, men, for a job that is appreciated by all! The Randhurst Autumn Art Fair will feature works of nationally and locally known artists. Hundreds of oil paintings will be on display throughout the enclosed mall. So come early to shop then give yourself plenty of time to view all the wonderful works.

First-time visitors and shoppers visiting the Art Fair new can realize what is meant by the phrase best used to describe Randhurst . . . "it's all under one roof." Many people have heard about Randhurst and upon visiting Randhurst the concept of enclosed mall can now be visualized.

The exhibitors in the Randhurst Art Fair certainly appreciate the fact that it is an enclosed shopping center. Exhibitors who have participated in outdoor shows before well know the hazards that weather can bring. If it does not rain, there is always the wind to contend with. There is always the unpredicted chance that it may be extremely hot or cold, lowering the number of anticipated viewers. Consequently, Randhurst exhibitors find the enclosed mall an excellent place to show their works.

The Randhurst Merchants Association wishes to thank Chester Roseen, director of Randhurst Art Gallery, for heading the Third Annual Art Exhibit. His time and efforts are sincerely appreciated by the Merchants, visitors, shoppers, viewers, and exhiibtors.

We would also like to thank Nota Koslowski, prominent artist, and Peter Lencioni, patron of arts and proprietor of Armando's Restaurant in Chicago and also Mr. Roseen for judging the Randhurst works and presenting the 10 awards.

Randhurst Merchants Association extends a cordial invitation to all of our neighbors and friends to view the works of the participating artists in our community.

On Monday, Sept. 28, the Tuberculosis Institute X-ray Unit is scheduled to be at Randhurst. This will be your last chance to obtain your free x-ray until next year, as Randhurst is scheduled as the mobile unit's last week of operation in 1964. The mobile unit will be located outside the Pear Arcade (between Cover Girl and Dutch Mill) monday through Friday, Sept. 28 through Oct. 2. The hours of operation will be Mon., Thurs., and Friday 1:30 p.m. - 8:30 p.m. Tables will be located throughout the mall with volunteers from the Mt. Prospect Jr. Woman's Club and Prospect Heights Woman's Club Tues. & Wed. 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. who will supply cards to be filled, answer questions, and give directions to the location of the x-ray unit.

Because so many of our friends and neighbors participate in these free public services, Randhurst is happy to cooperate with the various programs in providing the necessary facilities. Signs will be posted throughout the mall and announcements will appear in Paddock Publications to provide you with adequate notice so that you can arrange to take advantage of this fine service.

HAS POOR HEALTH MADE YOU UNINSURABLE?

It can come to many people — a serious health problem before they own enough life insurance to meet their family's minimum requirements. If this has happened to you or if your application for insurance has been declined on a medical basis recently, we suggest you check with the Manufacturers Life.

This is a company that practices the maxim that life insurance should be available to as wide a group of people as possible. Over the past two decades many people who earlier would have been unable to buy life insurance anywhere have qualified for Manufacturers Life policies. Manufacturers Life was, for example, a pioneer in offering life insurance to men and women with diabetes.

Whatever your physical condition you can be sure of careful and individual consideration of your application at the Manufacturers Life.

P.S. Through the facilities of our new Randhurst office we can offer young men an intensive training for profitable careers in life insurance selling. I'd welcome the opportunity to talk to any young man you might recommend and to help him determine his potential for success in this field. I can assure you all inquiries are treated in the strictest confidence.

4 Area Motorists Have Driver's Licenses Revoked

Revocation of driver's licenses and driving privileges of four area residents was announced by the Driver's License Division of the secretary of state's office.

All four revocations were for driving while intoxicated.

The licenses and driving privileges of 20 other persons were suspended, 19 for having three moving violations within a 12-month period. The other was for causing or contributing to an accident resulting in injury or death.

Seven persons whose licenses were suspended earlier but who did not have a total point accumulation of 62 points were issued probationary permits to drive.

Those whose licenses were revoked for driving while drunk were Fred I. Buffington, 17 Stonegate, Prospect Heights; Scott R. Moline, 1134 E. Anderson Drive, Palatine; Charles F. Money, 1145 Bosworth Lane, Elk Grove Village, and John W. Chylewski, 7N254 Route 53, Itasca.

THOSE WHOSE licenses were suspended for having three violations within a year incuded: Dennis R. Crick, 956 N. Race; Terrence P. Fitzpatrick, 1003 N. Mitchell; Philip J. Morris, 36 S. Highland, and Billy J. Russell, 800 W. Palatine Road, all of Arlington Heights; Donald T. Hartwick Jr., 95 N. Wolf Road; Clarence B. Huro, and James C. McCrindle Jr., 362 2nd St., all of Wheeling.

Also Jerry L. Kelly, 556 St. Mary's Pkwy., Buffalo Grove; Thomas G. Swingle, 14 W. Johnson, Palatine; Michael Wary, 156 Basswood Drive, Elk Grove Village; Jimmie V. Allen, 235 Mill Road; Joseph S. Garcia, 622 S. Wisconsin, and Everette F. Shaulis, 816 Grant St., all of Addison.

Also Jesse A. Comstock, 313 S. Miner, Bensenville; Richard J. Herek, 122 S. Prairie, Bloomingdale; Joseph V. Parra, 213 Broker, and Joseph M. Siksnus, 20W306 Thorndale, Itasca; Larry R. Rohlmeier, 350 Ash Ave., Wood Dale, and Paul M. Tunison, 22W367 Glendale, Medinah.

Wlater A. Korbecki, 4N676 Medinah.

Walter A. Korbecki, 4N676 Medinah, Addison, had his license suspended for causing or contributing to an accident resulting in death or injury.

PROBATIONARY permits were issued to Dean C. Hamilton, 861 S. Plum Grove, Palatine; Clarence B. Huro, 388 E. Jeffery, and Robert V. Rowley, 185 Wildwood Lane, Wheeling; Jerry L. Kelly, 11 Arbor Court, Buffalo Grove; Ronald H. Schune, 601 E. Prospect Ave., Mount Prospect; Edward C. Slawek, 111 Ashley Court, Roselle, and Paul M. Tunison, 22-W367 Glendale, Medinah.

Revocation of the license of Donald E. Brennan, 1002 N. Stratford, Arlington Heights was rescinded upon receipt of information and a report of bond forfeiture from the First Municipal Court of Chicago showing a finding of guilty for the offense of driving while intoxicated entered and vacated and the case reset for trial. Insurance Company Now in Randhurst

T. Harold Neville, in charge of the United States division of the Manufacturers Life Insurance Co., and several of his associates recently assisted in opening a new branch office in the Randhurst Shopping Center in Mount Prospect.

Although first in the suburban area, it is the second branch to be opened in the Chicago vicinity. The first was opened in the Chicago Loop 40 years ago.

The company is among the top 25 in the United States and Canada, and widely known for high return annuities, low premium life insurance and a "progressive practice in substandard life insurance underwriting," having been instrumental in writing policies on controlled diabetics and helping to set the pace in underwriting of a number of impairments including ulcers and coronary artery disease.

Although The Manufacturers Life Insurance Company is a Canadian firm, it is no newcomer to the United States since the first branch was established in this country in 1903, and branches exist in principal cities of the United States. The local Chicago-Randhurst branch is the 36th in the United States. The company has more than 5 billions of business in force, of which 34 per cent is in the United States.

The Chicago-Randhurst Branch Manager, Loren C. Mast, joined the Manufacturers Life in 1959 as an underwriter with the Saginaw branch in Michigan, where he advanced through the positions of recruiting, training, agency building and supervision prior to his transfer here.

Mast and his wife, Arlene, live at 1104 W. Busse in Mount Prospect and have a son, David, who is attending Wayne State University, Detroit.

Benefit Antiques Show Set Oct. 8, 9

The third annual Antiques Show and Sale sponsored by the Wayne unit of the DuPage County Family Service Association will be held in Wayne Oct. 8 and 9.

The event will run from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. both days at the Little Home Church by the Wayside in the heart of Wayne on Army Trail Road, just two miles west of Route 59.

There will be something of interest to any collector, including glass, old furniture, heirloom jewelry, old iron, pewter and brass displayed by 12 antique dealers from a number of Illinois communities and Milwaukee.

THE NEARBY Dunham Woods Riding Club will offer luncheon from 12:30 to 2 p.m., and no reservations are necessary.

Mrs. Howard Bushman is in charge of the entire show this year. She is assisted by Mrs. L. J. Lowden, benefit chairman; Mrs. John Weisz, program; Mrs. Charles Haven, tickets; Mrs. Charles Russell, treasurer; and Mrs. Harry K. O'Melia, publicity.

Out-of-town visitors may enjoy a tour of Wayne itself while they are in the area. Many of the homes date back nearly 100 years, for the original settlement, Dunham's Depot, was founded in the early 1850's. The Riding Club, Dunham's Castle, the Little Home Church and surrounding countryside provide one of the few suburban settings where enthusiasts of the hunt can still ride to the hounds.

The Antique Show is sponsored by the Wayne League to benefit the DuPage County Family Service Association.

Revocation of driver's licenses and driving privileges of four area residents was announced by the Driver's License Division of the secretary of state's office.

All four revocations were for driving while intoxicated.

The licenses and driving privileges of 20 other persons were suspended, 19 for having three moving violations within a 12-month period. The other was for causing or contributing to an accident resulting in injury or death.

Seven persons whose licenses were suspended earlier but who did not have a total point accumulation of 62 points were issued probationary permits to drive.

Those whose licenses were revoked for driving while drunk were Fred I. Buffington, 17 Stonegate, Prospect Heights; Scott R. Moline, 1134 E. Anderson Drive, Palatine; Charles F. Money, 1145 Bosworth Lane, Elk Grove Village, and John W. Chylewski, 7N254 Route 53, Itasca.

THOSE WHOSE licenses were suspended for having three violations within a year incuded: Dennis R. Crick, 956 N. Race; Terrence P. Fitzpatrick, 1003 N. Mitchell; Philip J. Morris, 36 S. Highland, and Billy J. Russell, 800 W. Palatine Road, all of Arlington Heights; Donald T. Hartwick Jr., 95 N. Wolf Road; Clarence B. Huro, and James C. McCrindle Jr., 362 2nd St., all of Wheeling.

Also Jerry L. Kelly, 556 St. Mary's Pkwy., Buffalo Grove; Thomas G. Swingle, 14 W. Johnson, Palatine; Michael Wary, 156 Basswood Drive, Elk Grove Village; Jimmie V. Allen, 235 Mill Road; Joseph S. Garcia, 622 S. Wisconsin, and Everette F. Shaulis, 816 Grant St., all of Addison.

Also Jesse A. Comstock, 313 S. Miner, Bensenville; Richard J. Herek, 122 S. Prairie, Bloomingdale; Joseph V. Parra, 213 Broker, and Joseph M. Siksnus, 20W306 Thorndale, Itasca; Larry R. Rohlmeier, 350 Ash Ave., Wood Dale, and Paul M. Tunison, 22W367 Glendale, Medinah.

Wlater A. Korbecki, 4N676 Medinah.

Walter A. Korbecki, 4N676 Medinah, Addison, had his license suspended for causing or contributing to an accident resulting in death or injury.

PROBATIONARY permits were issued to Dean C. Hamilton, 861 S. Plum Grove, Palatine; Clarence B. Huro, 388 E. Jeffery, and Robert V. Rowley, 185 Wildwood Lane, Wheeling; Jerry L. Kelly, 11 Arbor Court, Buffalo Grove; Ronald H. Schune, 601 E. Prospect Ave., Mount Prospect; Edward C. Slawek, 111 Ashley Court, Roselle, and Paul M. Tunison, 22-W367 Glendale, Medinah.

Revocation of the license of Donald E. Brennan, 1002 N. Stratford, Arlington Heights was rescinded upon receipt of information and a report of bond forfeiture from the First Municipal Court of Chicago showing a finding of guilty for the offense of driving while intoxicated entered and vacated and the case reset for trial. Insurance Company Now in Randhurst

T. Harold Neville, in charge of the United States division of the Manufacturers Life Insurance Co., and several of his associates recently assisted in opening a new branch office in the Randhurst Shopping Center in Mount Prospect.

Although first in the suburban area, it is the second branch to be opened in the Chicago vicinity. The first was opened in the Chicago Loop 40 years ago.

The company is among the top 25 in the United States and Canada, and widely known for high return annuities, low premium life insurance and a "progressive practice in substandard life insurance underwriting," having been instrumental in writing policies on controlled diabetics and helping to set the pace in underwriting of a number of impairments including ulcers and coronary artery disease.

Although The Manufacturers Life Insurance Company is a Canadian firm, it is no newcomer to the United States since the first branch was established in this country in 1903, and branches exist in principal cities of the United States. The local Chicago-Randhurst branch is the 36th in the United States. The company has more than 5 billions of business in force, of which 34 per cent is in the United States.

The Chicago-Randhurst Branch Manager, Loren C. Mast, joined the Manufacturers Life in 1959 as an underwriter with the Saginaw branch in Michigan, where he advanced through the positions of recruiting, training, agency building and supervision prior to his transfer here.

Mast and his wife, Arlene, live at 1104 W. Busse in Mount Prospect and have a son, David, who is attending Wayne State University, Detroit.

Benefit Antiques Show Set Oct. 8, 9

The third annual Antiques Show and Sale sponsored by the Wayne unit of the DuPage County Family Service Association will be held in Wayne Oct. 8 and 9.

The event will run from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. both days at the Little Home Church by the Wayside in the heart of Wayne on Army Trail Road, just two miles west of Route 59.

There will be something of interest to any collector, including glass, old furniture, heirloom jewelry, old iron, pewter and brass displayed by 12 antique dealers from a number of Illinois communities and Milwaukee.

THE NEARBY Dunham Woods Riding Club will offer luncheon from 12:30 to 2 p.m., and no reservations are necessary.

Mrs. Howard Bushman is in charge of the entire show this year. She is assisted by Mrs. L. J. Lowden, benefit chairman; Mrs. John Weisz, program; Mrs. Charles Haven, tickets; Mrs. Charles Russell, treasurer; and Mrs. Harry K. O'Melia, publicity.

Out-of-town visitors may enjoy a tour of Wayne itself while they are in the area. Many of the homes date back nearly 100 years, for the original settlement, Dunham's Depot, was founded in the early 1850's. The Riding Club, Dunham's Castle, the Little Home Church and surrounding countryside provide one of the few suburban settings where enthusiasts of the hunt can still ride to the hounds.

The Antique Show is sponsored by the Wayne League to benefit the DuPage County Family Service Association.

Star-spangled way to send a son to college

Educators expect a year of college will cost at least $2,500 by the time the class of '76 don their freshman beanies.

But you can get it for less—by buying Series E Savings Bonds now. That's because Bonds pay you back $4 at maturity for every $3 you invest.

Bonds are a good deal in another way, too. Because they help preserve your son's freedom to use his education. Uncle Sam makes good use of the money, safeguarding our interests around the world.

If you like, you can build your college fund automatically by buying Bonds on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

All you need is a Payroll Savings Application—and a promising youngster.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity (7¾ years)
- You pay no state or local income tax and can defer payment of federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- You can get your money when you need it

Businessman Tours Air Defense Bases

If Everett Lindgren looks with new admiration at our country's defenses it's because he was one of a group of eight Chicago area businessmen, educators and a science fair winner who participated in a recent five-day "Operation Understanding" tour of Army Air Defense facilities. Tour began with a visit to Site C-41 Jackson Park, participants learning about the set-up of an active missile site. Flying via military aircraft to Fort Bliss, Tex., they were given a look-in at its defense school operations.

Fort Bliss is the training and development center of the United States Army Air Defense guided missile program and is one of the oldest stations of the army. Tourists were given an introduction to the Nike air defense missile system, the operations of a Nike missile site and their role during an enemy air attack. At the McGregor Range in New Mexico, 20 miles north of Fort Bliss in the Hulco Mountains, Everett and his fellow travelers witnessed actual firings of the Nike-Ajax and Nike Hercules guided missiles.

GOING ON TO Colorado Springs, the group was met by Lt. Gen. Charles B. Duff, Commanding General, U. S. Army Air Defense Command, and toured the combat operation center, established in 1957. Its purpose is to control all of North America's Air Defense Forces in wartime, with Canada and the U. S. participating as equal partners. During a luncheon Gen. Duff presented all with Ambassadors of Air Defense awards. Last on the itinerary was a visit to the Air Force Academy and general points of interest in the Colorado Springs locality.

The trip is part of the program of the Army Air Defense Command to acquaint Americans with the capabilities and complexities of our air defense weapons system and to provide the opportunity to actually see missilemen in action.

Others with Lindgren on the trip included the vice president of Roosevelt University, a physics instructor, a student science fair winner, a Gary postmaster, two lawyers and the executive manager of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce.

THE FUTURE of Long Grove Church depends on the answers its members give to three questions, Rev. Alfred Williams told church goers at last Sunday's service during which he and Consistory President Arthur Edmunds shared the pulpit, making a report on the Sept. 13 Pleasant Valley all-day retreat, attended by 23 adults and youth.

Beginning by stating that God's purpose in the world is to bring new life to man, his follow-up queries were: Are we thirsty enough to want to drink spiritually? Thirsty enough to want to drink from the spiritual wellsprings He provides? And how willing are we to give personal commitment to God's business in the world? In a summary talk the night of the retreat Williams said he felt it was his responsibility to speak openly to the congregation about what is needful for its growth. He said he hoped leaders would delve deeply into what constitutes a ministering church, would wrestle with what its true purpose should be and to share their retreat experience with others in the congregation. Also attending were the James Websters, Anton Bergs, Andrew Sims, Gale Livengoods, the James Korbeliks, Mrs. Williams, David McCartney, Arthur Edmunds, Jack Schaum, Harold Turner, Kathy Jungbluth, Nancy Webster, Craig Anderson and this reporter.

At the Sept. 17 consistory meeting, members discussed the coming year's budget and prepared procedures for presenting it to the congregation.

LOOKING TOWARD a record attendance at the Guild's progressive dinner this Friday, the women have made a last-minute change in the serving of the main course. To prevent overcrowding, both the Robert Coffin and the Floyd Gustafson homes will be used. After salad at the Vincent Allens', diners will be divided. Those whose last names begin with A through M will eat at the Coffins'; those from M to Z at the Gustafsons'. Procedure will also help the parking problem which could become snarly, especially if it rains. The big wind-up will be the young people's hootenanny, along with the dessert course, at the Kildeer all-purpose room.

A hootenanny will likewise culminate this week's Ela-Vernon AFS Week activities Saturday night. This week the emphasis at Ela-Vernon is on the Americans Abroad program, students taking part in informative discussion. Tom Hoyne is chairman of the Date Calendar sale this month, proceeds to go toward the program. Tom, Nancy Webster and Kathy Jungbluth, who were among last year's Americans Abroad applicants, are busy publicizing the AFS program in the school and community.

CHEERS GO TO Ela Vernon freshman Richard Whitney, the only student from Aptakisic Tripp School to make the Ela-Vernon football squad. Richard helped his school earn the first place cup in the district last year. Summer treat for Dick and his mother, Mrs. Bea Whitney of Busch Road, was a trip to Yellowstone and a stop to see the scenery around Denver.

It's still not too late to call Mrs. Leslie Schauffler, GE 8-7822, to sign up for the "Good Will" workshop to run from Sept. 29-Nov. 3 at the church social rooms. Sessions will be from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Presented by the national Conference of Christians and Jews, it offers an opportunity for discussion of our opinions and feelings regarding present day situations and community concerns. The workshop is being sponsored by the Women's Guild social action department.

What was expected to be a nine-month stay in India for Joan Held has ended abruptly. Sensing something had been wrong by the tone of her letters, the family was overjoyed and relieved to have Joan suddenly arrive home by plane Sept. 12. Becoming ill, she had turned to the U. S. Information Service in Calcutta and found an English doctor who realized her condition required home care. He and other acquaintances helped and in no time Joan was bound for home. Spending a week in Highland Park Hospital she was diagnosed to have mononucleosis and was discharged Sept. 17. We're glad to hear every day finds her gaining in strength.

FORMER LONG Grover Warren Rolph came through town last week, stopping to spend the night with the Milt Wingquists. Members of the Saturday night potluck bridge group of which the Rolphs once were a part notified one another via telephone chain and Friday gathered at Long Grove Country Club to host Warren at dinner. The group, made up of the Glenn Millers, Ray Andersons, Jack Walgrens, Robert Russells and Mrs. Norman Dally met Sept. 19 for bridge and potluck at the Henry Herricks'.

Home once again, Mrs. Aribert Wild enthuses over the vacation the Wilds spent at their summer home in Door County. The area's delights, according to Charlene, include not only a beautiful, peaceful countryside but a choice repertoire of summer theatre and concert stage artists. Visiting them while there were Mrs. Robert Hill and Mrs. Guy Reed.

When the William Roseberrys of Bartlett visited his parents on Thursday, special treat for the Carroll Roseberrys was to become acquainted with their new grandson, Robert Carroll, named for his grandfather, on whose Aug. 12 birthday he had arrived.

HOME FROM Tonkawa, Okla., where Roberta had taken her mother, Mrs. Maud Siler, who had spent several weeks here, the Roseberrrys are back on regular schedule. Saturday they attended a party at Max McGraw's "Pond Cottage" near Elgin, the gathering being for and Oklahoma State University's alumnae group of which Carroll is president. Event consisted of a trap and skeet shoot and buffet dinner.

In between hay fever "ahchoos" Mrs. Ray Miller looks back on a vacation which included discovery of a scenic route around Lake Superior, abounding with hills, dense forests and colored rock formations. Highlight was a canoe trip in Ontario's Quetico National Forest area. In Minneapolis the Millers visited old friends, the John Robinsons.

On Sept. 29 Newcomers Club board members will meet to plan the season's activities, according to President Mrs. Peter Gravengaard. Sixteen couples have signed up for their couples' bridge, meeting every third Friday.

Women's Guild circles drew a total of 34 at the September meeting, ten each responding for both morning and evening groups. Morning meeters at Mrs. Robert Coffin's chose the migrants as their specific area of concern; the evening group, gathering at Mrs. Fred Dahlberg's, decided to contribute toward the care of a baby given to a foster home through Bensenville Home's children's division. Mrs. Milton Wingquist, a member of the evening circle, is the Home's chairman of the children's division.

RESPONDING to Dr. Armin Haeussler's invitation, Mrs. Rushton Williamson and Mrs. Fred French addressed parents and children at St. Mark Church, Wheeling, on Monday, presenting an hour's introduction to church school curriculum and class procedure.

Rev. and Mrs. Alfred Williams and Mrs. Williamson drove to the Oak Park YMCA Tuesday to attend a farewell dinner for Robert Hoetelling, who leaves his post as head of the Christian Education division of the Illinois Conference.

Members of the adult church choir gathered Sept. 16 at the Robert Loudon Jr. home to follow a potluck supper with singing. Director Mrs. Arthur Edmunds welcomes all who like to sing to join the group.

An outstretched hand to Craig Anderson, who will be one of Rev. Williams' assistants with the seventh and eighth grade weekday church school class and will teach the middle high class on Sunday mornings. Craig will also work with the youth fellowships.

Also a welcome goes to Sally Gillen, the junior choir director. She sang with the adult choir last year and assisted Ralph Edgar with some of the youth activities. Sally is a graduate of Lake Forest College and is beginning her second year as teacher in Libertyville.

Making it a cozy dinner foursome at the Gale Livengoods' on Friday were the Rush Williamsons.

THE DENNIS Blairs of McHenry Road held open house Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon to say goodbye to their many friends in the Long Grove, Hawthorne Woods and Barrington area. Among those invited were the William Parks, Wayne Pearces, Donald Crims, William Salzmans and the Orv Keilers. Putting their house up for rent, the Blairs are moving to Lake Forest where their new address will be 845 N. Oakwood.

During a recent exceptionally warm Tuesday, the Walter Goswillers' outdoor barbecue provided a choice spot for grilling steaks. Making it a picnic were the Oscar Weidners of Waukegan and the Arthur Moldenhauers of Wheeling who enjoyed hearing of the Gosswillers' summer trip to Boscobel and Mineral Point, Wis., and Hutchison, Minn.

The Max Millers, who have been dividing their time between sons Ray and Glenn and their families, are visiting friends near Mason Lake, Wis., before taking off at the first nip of Jack Frost for their home in Englewood, Fla.

Regarding our college students—Julie Loudon has registered at St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn., and not at Carleton as was stated last week.

Our thoughts are with Mrs. Ed Wachs' mother, Mrs. Clara Hamilton, who is regaining her strength at an Evanston nursing home following eye surgery.

Happy anniversary wishes go to the Tony Bergs and the Harold Alvins, Sept. 30. And may it be a gay, candle-lit birthday cake for Roger Evans, Sept. 24; Tony Nerge and Kay Young, 25th; John Ulrich, 27th; Joanne Umhenstock and Stevie French, 29th.

REMEMBER TO make your wishes known regarding the park district this Saturday. Polls will be open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Kildeer School. If the park district becomes a reality, its new governing board will consist of Marshall Green, Peter Holliday, Charles Johnson, Heinz Loeffler and Milt Wingquist.

Aiming to keep this column neutral regarding politics, we, nevertheless, can't resist sharing David McCartney's experience. Recently in a group of friends while he was telling about all the fine morale-boosting letters he had received in his life and how they had influenced him Dave said he had received a "choice" card from his daughter Kathy, a soph at MacMurray College in Jacksonville. It is one of those "crazy" cards. The top reads, "Dear Dad, you have made me what I am." Opened up, the card says, "A Democrat!"

4 Big Highway Contracts Let

Four construction projects on state highways in Arlington Heights, including scheduled repaving and improvement of Northwest Highway through the village, were put under contract this month, the state has announced.

Plans for the Northwest Highway improvement were first outlined to the Arlington Heights village board in July, when state engineers on the project requested that parking be restricted in certain areas along the improvement.

Requests were granted, involving the loss of six parking stalls on the highway between Evergreen and Dunton avenues.

Improvements are to include general resurfacing at a 40-foot width throughout the village, and widening at Euclid, Wilke and State intersections for left-turn channels.

Milburn Brothers Inc., Mount Prospect, received the contract with a bid of $593,097. Construction is expected to begin immediately and stretch over a year's time, but engineers say no detouring is contemplated during any phase of the work.

THE OTHER major paving award made for the Arlington Heights area is for widening and repaving of 4.52 miles of Rand Road between Dundee Road and Euclid Avenue. The contract went to J. P. Construction Co., Chicago, on a bid of $798,818.

Also on Rand Road, storm sewers are to be installed along 4.14 miles between Dundee and Schoenbeck roads by Rock Road Construction Co. at a cost of $315,163; and traffic signals at Palatine Road and Arlington Heights Road intersections are to be modernized at a cost of $60,941.

Improvements on Northwest Highway also scheduled for Mount Prospect are still hanging on village acceptance of parking restrictions required by the state.

Institute Slated On Adult Classes

Teachers from the adult education staff of High School District 214 will be the guests of the adult department at the sixth annual Cook County Institute for teachers of adults Friday evening.

The instructors will hear an address by Dr. John Johnstone, author of the book "Volunteers for Learning," which deals with the millions of adults who are returning to school each year.

The dinner meeting will be held at Ridgewood High School in Norridge, and the adult education staff from that school will demonstrate team teaching and its implication in adult education.

Dr. E. G. Gilbert, assistant superintendent of the district and W. L. Randle, director of adult education, will represent the district at the institute.

Local Masons to Have Visitors From Minnesota

Paul Revere Masonic Lodge of St. Louis Park, Minn., a suburb of Minneapolis, will visit the Arlington Heights Masonic Lodge tomorrow (Friday).

The visiting Masons will exemplify the third degree, using Minnesota ritual, according to Marvin A. Henrickson, master of the Arlington Heights lodge, who was made a Mason in the Minnesota lodge.

All master Masons are invited to attend this meeting. Henrickson said it is believed this will be the first time Minnesota ritual has been used in Illinois.

Revised Downspout Ordinance Slated For Oct. 5 Action

A new ordinance regulating connection of residential downspouts to Arlington Heights sewers will be presented for consideration at the next regular village board meeting, Oct. 5.

Village Atty. Jack Siegel told the board Monday that he had a draft of the ordinance ready, but the trustees put off consideration so that those persons who had objected to a previous downspout ban could be notified.

The previous ordinance, which prohibited connection of any downspout directly to the sewer system, was passed Aug. 3, but the village board voted at the next meeting to reconsider the action.

CITIZENS appeared from Scarsdale subdivision when the matter was again up for discussion Aug. 17, and objections to the ban led to Siegel's proposed revision.

He explained Monday that the revised ordinance follows guidelines set up by the board's public safety committee, which met with engineers after the Aug. 17 objections to determine advisability of a compromise between a total ban and present freedom to keep all connections.

The ordinance passed Aug. 3 was never enforced.

IN THE new draft, the estimated 1,000 homes in the village with downspouts tied into sewers would be divided according to the potential flood hazard if roof drainage is diverted to flow out onto the ground.

On the opposite side of the ledger are potential flooding problems caused when roof drainage overloads sewers in a heavy, short storm.

Businessman Tours Air Defense Bases

If Everett Lindgren looks with new admiration at our country's defenses it's because he was one of a group of eight Chicago area businessmen, educators and a science fair winner who participated in a recent five-day "Operation Understanding" tour of Army Air Defense facilities. Tour began with a visit to Site C-41 Jackson Park, participants learning about the set-up of an active missile site. Flying via military aircraft to Fort Bliss, Tex., they were given a look-in at its defense school operations.

Fort Bliss is the training and development center of the United States Army Air Defense guided missile program and is one of the oldest stations of the army. Tourists were given an introduction to the Nike air defense missile system, the operations of a Nike missile site and their role during an enemy air attack. At the McGregor Range in New Mexico, 20 miles north of Fort Bliss in the Hulco Mountains, Everett and his fellow travelers witnessed actual firings of the Nike-Ajax and Nike Hercules guided missiles.

GOING ON TO Colorado Springs, the group was met by Lt. Gen. Charles B. Duff, Commanding General, U. S. Army Air Defense Command, and toured the combat operation center, established in 1957. Its purpose is to control all of North America's Air Defense Forces in wartime, with Canada and the U. S. participating as equal partners. During a luncheon Gen. Duff presented all with Ambassadors of Air Defense awards. Last on the itinerary was a visit to the Air Force Academy and general points of interest in the Colorado Springs locality.

The trip is part of the program of the Army Air Defense Command to acquaint Americans with the capabilities and complexities of our air defense weapons system and to provide the opportunity to actually see missilemen in action.

Others with Lindgren on the trip included the vice president of Roosevelt University, a physics instructor, a student science fair winner, a Gary postmaster, two lawyers and the executive manager of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce.

THE FUTURE of Long Grove Church depends on the answers its members give to three questions, Rev. Alfred Williams told church goers at last Sunday's service during which he and Consistory President Arthur Edmunds shared the pulpit, making a report on the Sept. 13 Pleasant Valley all-day retreat, attended by 23 adults and youth.

Beginning by stating that God's purpose in the world is to bring new life to man, his follow-up queries were: Are we thirsty enough to want to drink spiritually? Thirsty enough to want to drink from the spiritual wellsprings He provides? And how willing are we to give personal commitment to God's business in the world? In a summary talk the night of the retreat Williams said he felt it was his responsibility to speak openly to the congregation about what is needful for its growth. He said he hoped leaders would delve deeply into what constitutes a ministering church, would wrestle with what its true purpose should be and to share their retreat experience with others in the congregation. Also attending were the James Websters, Anton Bergs, Andrew Sims, Gale Livengoods, the James Korbeliks, Mrs. Williams, David McCartney, Arthur Edmunds, Jack Schaum, Harold Turner, Kathy Jungbluth, Nancy Webster, Craig Anderson and this reporter.

At the Sept. 17 consistory meeting, members discussed the coming year's budget and prepared procedures for presenting it to the congregation.

LOOKING TOWARD a record attendance at the Guild's progressive dinner this Friday, the women have made a last-minute change in the serving of the main course. To prevent overcrowding, both the Robert Coffin and the Floyd Gustafson homes will be used. After salad at the Vincent Allens', diners will be divided. Those whose last names begin with A through M will eat at the Coffins'; those from M to Z at the Gustafsons'. Procedure will also help the parking problem which could become snarly, especially if it rains. The big wind-up will be the young people's hootenanny, along with the dessert course, at the Kildeer all-purpose room.

A hootenanny will likewise culminate this week's Ela-Vernon AFS Week activities Saturday night. This week the emphasis at Ela-Vernon is on the Americans Abroad program, students taking part in informative discussion. Tom Hoyne is chairman of the Date Calendar sale this month, proceeds to go toward the program. Tom, Nancy Webster and Kathy Jungbluth, who were among last year's Americans Abroad applicants, are busy publicizing the AFS program in the school and community.

CHEERS GO TO Ela Vernon freshman Richard Whitney, the only student from Aptakisic Tripp School to make the Ela-Vernon football squad. Richard helped his school earn the first place cup in the district last year. Summer treat for Dick and his mother, Mrs. Bea Whitney of Busch Road, was a trip to Yellowstone and a stop to see the scenery around Denver.

It's still not too late to call Mrs. Leslie Schauffler, GE 8-7822, to sign up for the "Good Will" workshop to run from Sept. 29-Nov. 3 at the church social rooms. Sessions will be from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Presented by the national Conference of Christians and Jews, it offers an opportunity for discussion of our opinions and feelings regarding present day situations and community concerns. The workshop is being sponsored by the Women's Guild social action department.

What was expected to be a nine-month stay in India for Joan Held has ended abruptly. Sensing something had been wrong by the tone of her letters, the family was overjoyed and relieved to have Joan suddenly arrive home by plane Sept. 12. Becoming ill, she had turned to the U. S. Information Service in Calcutta and found an English doctor who realized her condition required home care. He and other acquaintances helped and in no time Joan was bound for home. Spending a week in Highland Park Hospital she was diagnosed to have mononucleosis and was discharged Sept. 17. We're glad to hear every day finds her gaining in strength.

FORMER LONG Grover Warren Rolph came through town last week, stopping to spend the night with the Milt Wingquists. Morning meeters at Mrs. Robert Coffin's chose the migrants as their specific area of concern; the evening group, gathering at Mrs. Fred Dahlberg's, decided to contribute toward the care of a baby given to a foster home through Bensenville Home's children's division. Mrs. Milton Wingquist, a member of the evening circle, is the Home's chairman of the children's division.

RESPONDING to Dr. Armin Haeussler's invitation, Mrs. Rushton Williamson and Mrs. Fred French addressed parents and children at St. Mark Church, Wheeling, on Monday, presenting an hour's introduction to church school curriculum and class procedure.

Rev. and Mrs. Alfred Williams and Mrs. Williamson drove to the Oak Park YMCA Tuesday to attend a farewell dinner for Robert Hoetelling, who leaves his post as head of the Christian Education division of the Illinois Conference.

Members of the adult church choir gathered Sept. 16 at the Robert Loudon Jr. home to follow a potluck supper with singing. Director Mrs. Arthur Edmunds welcomes all who like to sing to join the group.

4 Big Highway Contracts Let

Four construction projects on state highways in Arlington Heights, including scheduled repaving and improvement of Northwest Highway through the village, were put under contract this month, the state has announced.

Plans for the Northwest Highway improvement were first outlined to the Arlington Heights village board in July, when state engineers on the project requested that parking be restricted in certain areas along the improvement.

Requests were granted, involving the loss of six parking stalls on the highway between Evergreen and Dunton avenues.

Improvements are to include general resurfacing at a 40-foot width throughout the village, and widening at Euclid, Wilke and State intersections for left-turn channels.

Milburn Brothers Inc., Mount Prospect, received the contract with a bid of $593,097. Construction is expected to begin immediately and stretch over a year's time, but engineers say no detouring is contemplated during any phase of the work.

THE OTHER major paving award made for the Arlington Heights area is for widening and repaving of 4.52 miles of Rand Road between Dundee Road and Euclid Avenue. The contract went to J. P. Construction Co., Chicago, on a bid of $798,818.

Also on Rand Road, storm sewers are to be installed along 4.14 miles between Dundee and Schoenbeck roads by Rock Road Construction Co. at a cost of $315,163; and traffic signals at Palatine Road and Arlington Heights Road intersections are to be modernized at a cost of $60,941.

Improvements on Northwest Highway also scheduled for Mount Prospect are still hanging on village acceptance of parking restrictions required by the state.

Revised Downspout Ordinance Slated For Oct. 5 Action

A new ordinance regulating connection of residential downspouts to Arlington Heights sewers will be presented for consideration at the next regular village board meeting, Oct. 5.

Village Atty. Jack Siegel told the board Monday that he had a draft of the ordinance ready, but the trustees put off consideration so that those persons who had objected to a previous downspout ban could be notified.

The previous ordinance, which prohibited connection of any downspout directly to the sewer system, was passed Aug. 3, but the village board voted at the next meeting to reconsider the action.

CITIZENS appeared from Scarsdale subdivision when the matter was again up for discussion Aug. 17, and objections to the ban led to Siegel's proposed revision.

He explained Monday that the revised ordinance follows guidelines set up by the board's public safety committee, which met with engineers after the Aug. 17 objections to determine advisability of a compromise between a total ban and present freedom to keep all connections.

The ordinance passed Aug. 3 was never enforced.

IN THE new draft, the estimated 1,000 homes in the village with downspouts tied into sewers would be divided according to the potential flood hazard if roof drainage is diverted to flow out onto the ground.

On the opposite side of the ledger are potential flooding problems caused when roof drainage overloads sewers in a heavy, short storm.

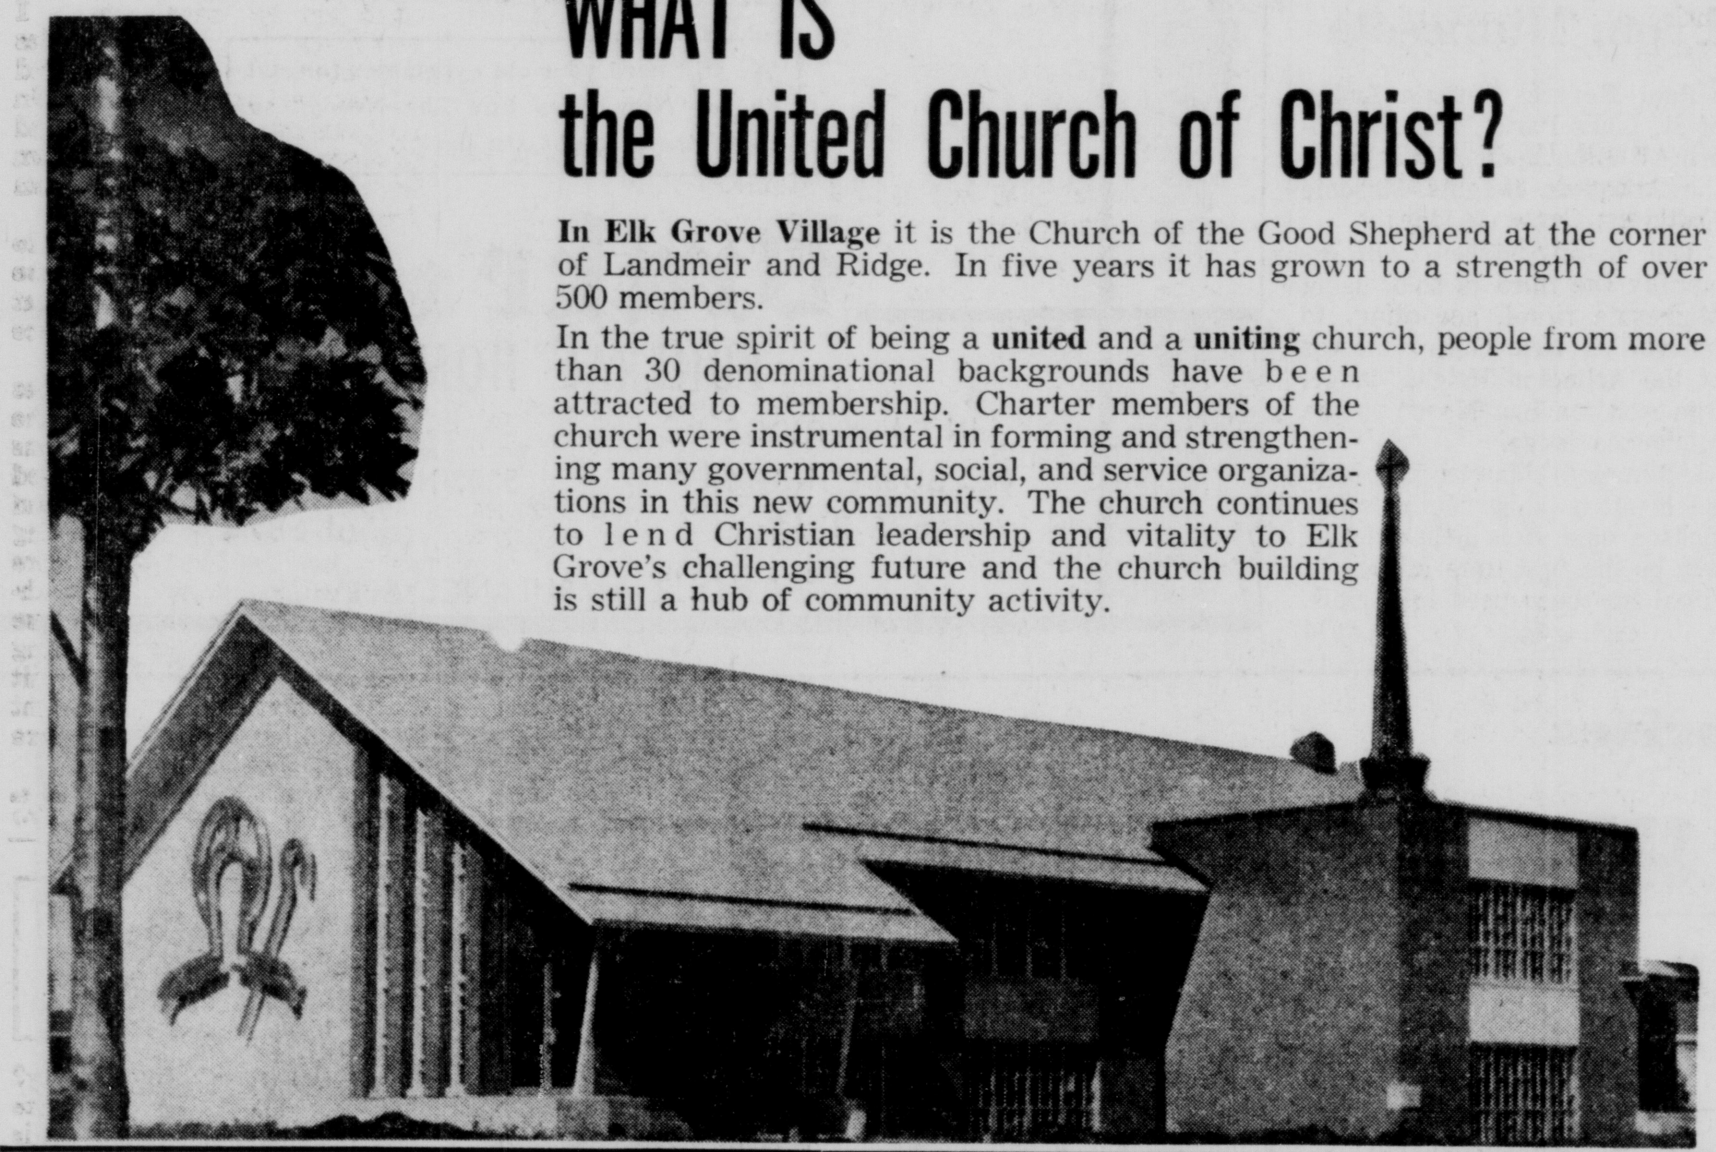
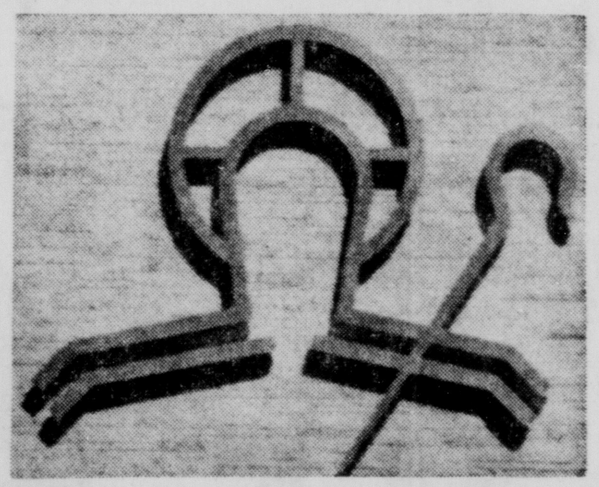
WHAT IS the United Church of Christ?

In Elk Grove Village it is the Church of the Good Shepherd at the corner of Landmeir and Ridge. In five years it has grown to a strength of over 500 members.

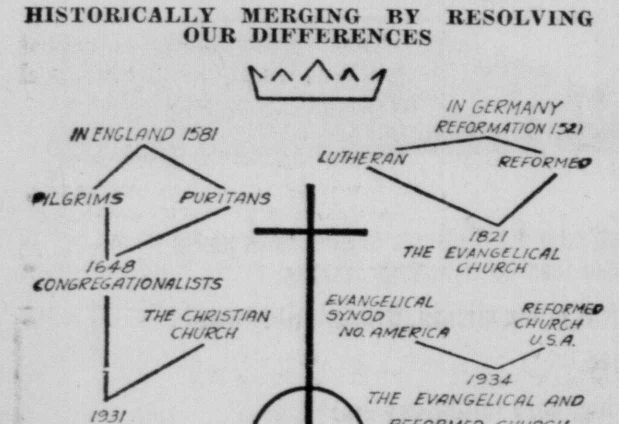
In the true spirit of being a united and a uniting church, people from more than 30 denominational backgrounds have been attracted to membership. Charter members of the church were instrumental in forming and strengthening many governmental, social, and service organizations in this new community. The church continues to lend Christian leadership and vitality to Elk Grove's challenging future and the church building is still a hub of community activity.



Pastor Lloyd Weber explains that the name and symbol of the Church of the Good Shepherd were chosen in anticipation of the church's ministry to children. Beginning Oct. 4, Sunday school offers three services to better serve the needs of our growing group of children and young people.



The United Church of Christ
HISTORICALLY MERGING BY RESOLVING OUR DIFFERENCES



The United Church of Christ is a new denomination, with roots that are centuries old. It came into existence in 1957 when the Congregational Christian, and the Evangelical and Reformed Churches merged. England's 16th Century Reformation gave birth to the Congregational Church, whose members were among the Pilgrims. The Evangelical and Reformed Church was born of the Reformation in Europe under men like Luther, Zwingli, and Calvin. The United Church of Christ is a united and a uniting church.

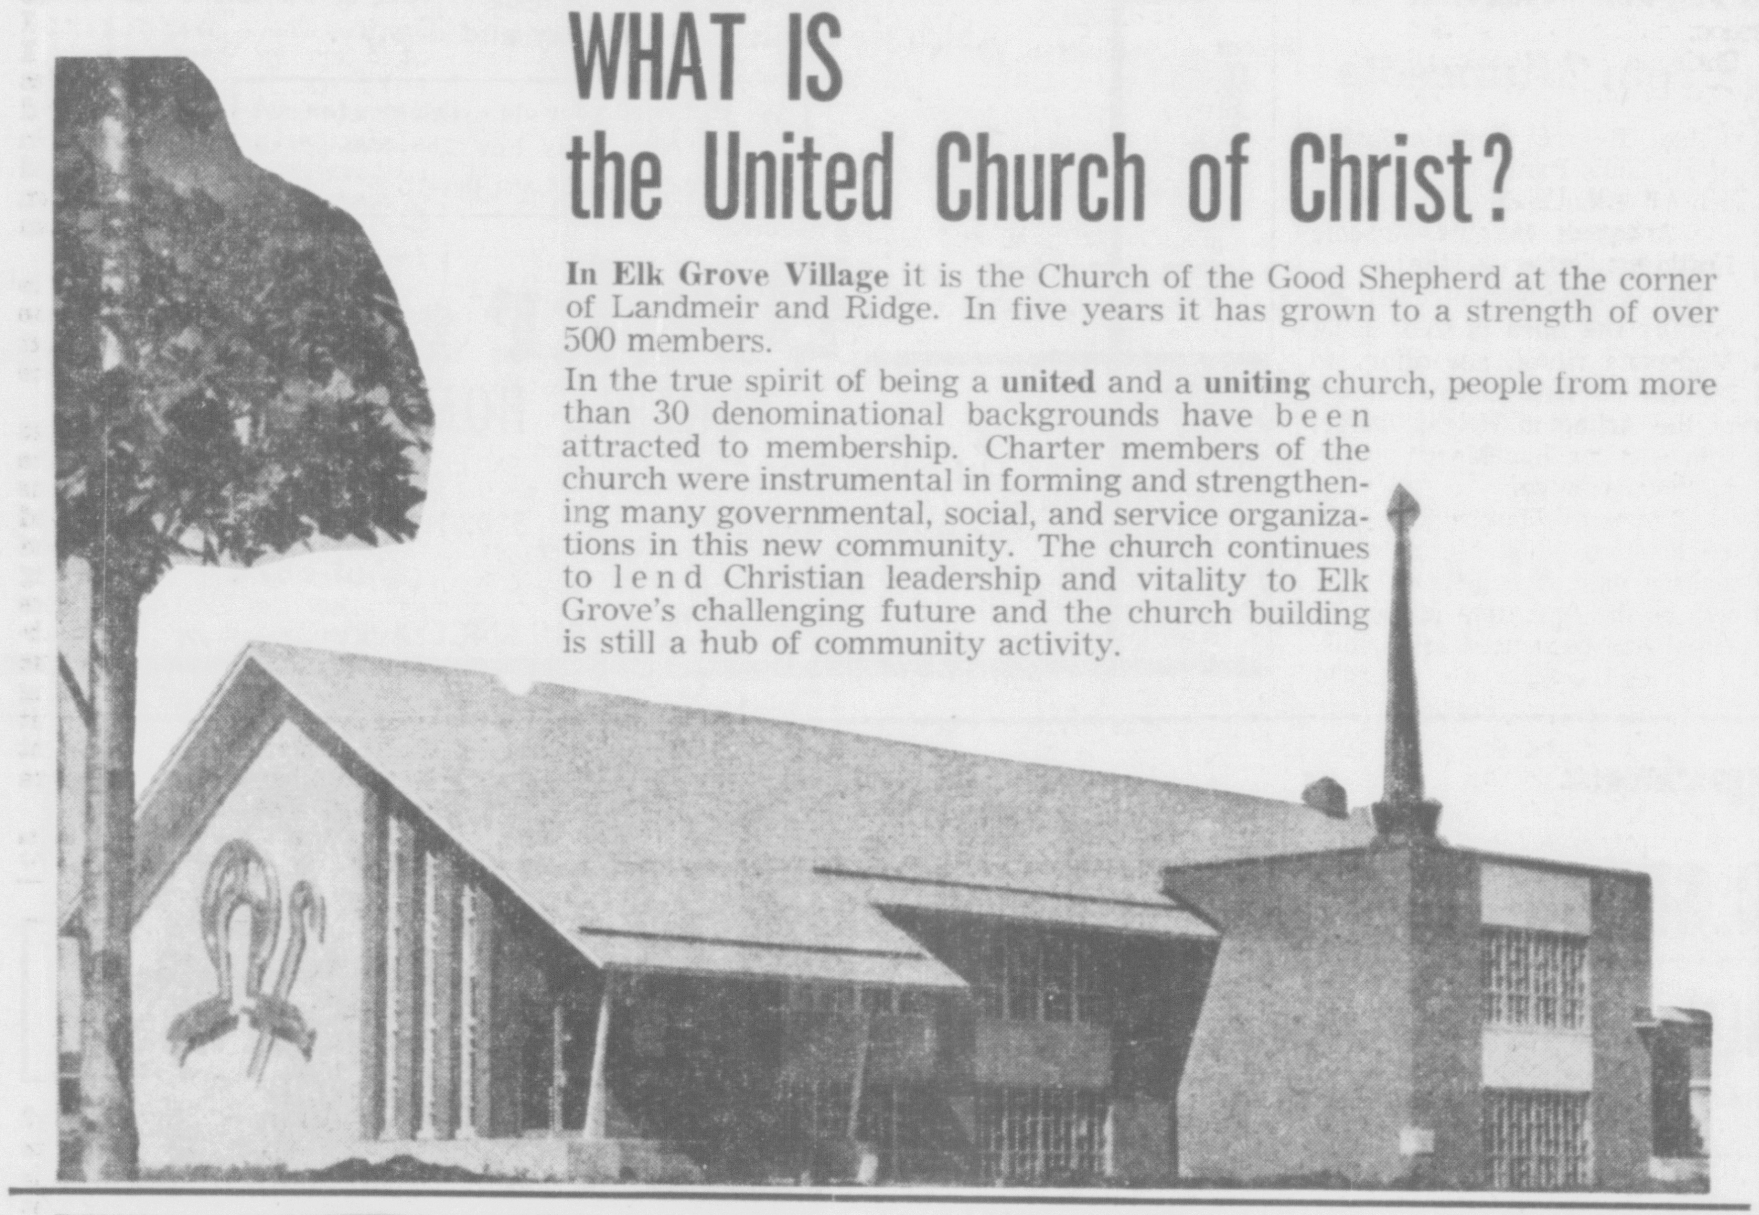
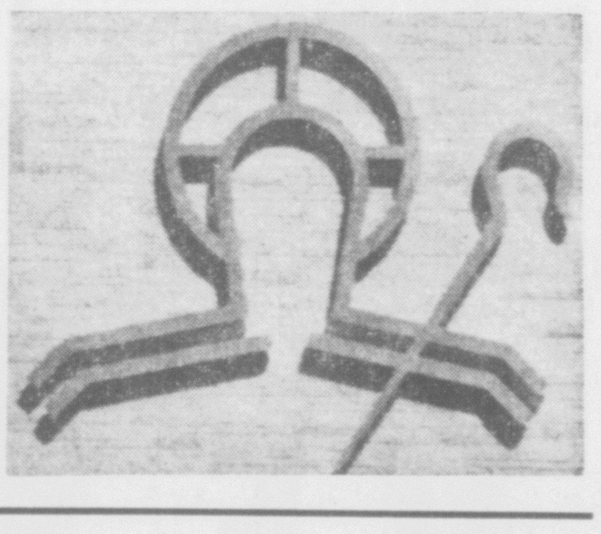
WHAT IS the United Church of Christ?



In Elk Grove Village it is the Church of the Good Shepherd at the corner of Landmeir and Ridge. In five years it has grown to a strength of over 500 members.

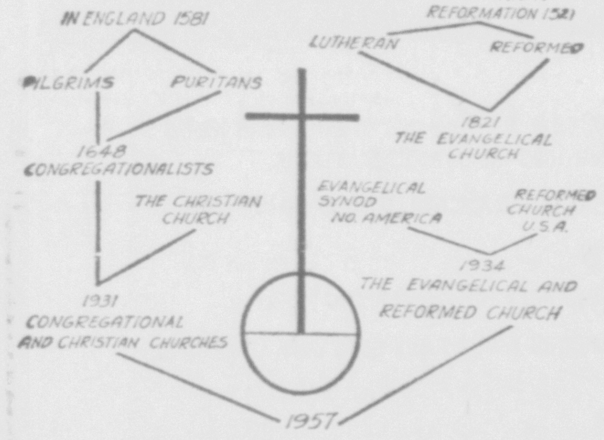
In the true spirit of being a united and a uniting church, people from more than 30 denominational backgrounds have been attracted to membership. Charter members of the church were instrumental in forming and strengthening many governmental, social, and service organizations in this new community. The church continues to lend Christian leadership and vitality to Elk Grove's challenging future and the church building is still a hub of community activity.

Pastor Lloyd Weber explains that the name and symbol of the Church of the Good Shepherd were chosen in anticipation of the church's ministry to children. Beginning Oct. 4, Sunday school offers three services to better serve the needs of our growing group of children and young people.



The United Church of Christ

HISTORICALLY MERGING BY RESOLVING OUR DIFFERENCES



The United Church of Christ is a new denomination, with roots that are centuries old. It came into existence in 1957 when the Congregational Christian, and the Evangelical and Reformed Churches merged. England's 16th Century Reformation gave birth to the Congregational Church, whose members were among the Pilgrims. The Evangelical and Reformed Church was born of the Reformation in Europe under men like Luther, Zwingli, and Calvin. The United Church of Christ is a united and a uniting church.

"I REMEMBER"
BY The Old Timers

From Emmett Sharp, Woodlawn, Va.: I remember children in our neck of the woods made most of our toys. I was always happy to find a black gum tree I could cut for wagon wheels. I really went for push automobiles with wooden wheels. A discarded wooden box made the body, a tin lard can served as the hood and in short order I'd go sailing down the hill. I was happier then than I am with my modern car.

I remember they allowed me to buy one box of wagon axle grease a year — which cost the great sum of 15 cents and was scarce in those days.

I have been looking at a Charles William Store Catalog that came out during World War I. It seems so strange our world has changed so much. Clothing was cheap and the styles were so odd. Bathing suits for the fair ladies were mostly a knee dress with matching bloomers. She even wore hose with that outfit! Men's bathing suits were some kind of a knit outfit similar to summer weight union suits. Yep, people were rather modest in those days.

The Etiquette of Sympathy

How to express your sympathy? . . . the thoughtful way is to write a short note to the relative who is your closest friend. The warmest way is to send flowers.

How to send flowers? . . . they should be addressed "to the funeral of the name of the deceased" and should be sent to the funeral home.

What are the correct flowers to send? . . . here is where your florist can help you most. He knows the changing trends in floral arrangements, the proper flowers. You can be proud of the flowers he will send in your name, sure your sympathy will be conveyed with deep expression.

When should you send flowers to the home? . . . either before or after the funeral. If the funeral notice has somehow escaped your attention, you may send flowers even a week or two after the services.

What if the funeral is out of town? . . . simply have your local florist wire your order.

Send any questions you may have about the Etiquette of Sympathy to Verla Jackson, Consultant to Allied Florists' Association, 1313 W. Randolph Street, Chicago.

"I REMEMBER" BY The Old Timers

From Emmett Sharp, Woodlawn, Va.: I remember children in our neck of the woods made most of our toys. I was always happy to find a black gum tree I could cut for wagon wheels. I really went for push automobiles with wooden wheels. A discarded wooden box made the body, a tin lard can served as the hood and in short order I'd go sailing down the hill. I was happier then than I am with my modern car.

I remember they allowed me to buy one box of wagon axle grease a year — which cost the great sum of 15 cents and was scarce in those days.

I have been looking at a Charles William Store Catalog that came out during World War I. It seems so strange our world has changed so much. Clothing was cheap and the styles were so odd. Bathing suits for the fair ladies were mostly a knee dress with matching bloomers. She even wore hose with that outfit! Men's bathing suits were some kind of a knit outfit similar to summer weight union suits. Yep, people were rather modest in those days.

The Etiquette of Sympathy

How to express your sympathy? . . . the thoughtful way is to write a short note to the relative who is your closest friend. The warmest way is to send flowers.

How to send flowers? . . . they should be addressed "to the funeral of the name of the deceased" and should be sent to the funeral home.

What are the correct flowers to send? . . . here is where your florist can help you most. He knows the changing trends in floral arrangements, the proper flowers. You can be proud of the flowers he will send in your name, sure your sympathy will be conveyed with deep expression.

When should you send flowers to the home? . . . either before or after the funeral. If the funeral notice has somehow escaped your attention, you may send flowers even a week or two after the services.

What if the funeral is out of town? . . . simply have your local florist wire your order.

Send any questions you may have about the Etiquette of Sympathy to Verla Jackson, Consultant to Allied Florists' Association, 1313 W. Randolph Street, Chicago.

A Half-Century of Respected Service

IMPORTANT

We have never conducted an unimportant funeral. Small, simple in ceremony, perhaps, but always reverent — and important to the bereaved. It is they we serve.

Ordinance No. 262

AN ORDINANCE WITH RESPECT TO SERVICE STATIONS

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF STREAMWOOD, COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS, as follows:

Section 1. That portions of Ordinance No. 52A or any other ordinance portion inconsistent with this Ordinance, is repealed.

Section 2. It shall be unlawful to conduct or operate a service station in the Village of Streamwood without having first obtained a license therefor. The annual fee for such license shall be Fifteen (15.00) dollars for each gasoline pump in each such service station and no license shall be issued unless all provisions of Village ordinances are complied with. No more than three licenses shall be issued and in effect at one time.

Section 3. A service station is intended to mean a gasoline service station and is any place of business where gasoline or any highly volatile fuels for motor vehicles, are sold or offered for sale.

Section 4. Storage tanks shall be underground and buried so that their tops will not be less than two feet below the surface of the ground or beneath twelve inches of earth and a slab of concrete reinforced and not less than five inches in thickness and capable of sustaining a load of two hundred fifty pounds per square foot; the slab shall be set on a firm, well tamped earth foundation and shall extend at least one foot in all directions beyond the outline of the tank; tops of tanks shall be below the level of any piping to which tanks may be connected; tanks shall be so located that no heavy trucks or other vehices pass over them unless they are adequately protected by a reinforced concrete slab where soil conditions require a firm foundation shall be provided and tanks shall not be installed under any building or structure.

Section 5. The combined capacity of all storage tanks for each service station shall not exceed twelve thousand gallons; individual tanks of a capacity up to two thousand gallons shall be buried so that the tops of tanks shall be lower than all floors, basements, cellars or pits of buildings within ten feet thereof on or off the property or tanks shall maintain a clearance of ten feet thereto; for individual tanks of a capacity more than two thousand gallons and up to six thousand gallsons this distance shall be twenty feet; for individual tanks of a capacity of more than six thousand gallons and up to twelve thousand gallons, this distance shall be twenty-five feet; individual tanks of a capacity up to two thousand gallons shall be buried so that the tops of tanks shall be lower than the bottom level of all sewers, manholes, catch basins, cesspools, septic tanks, wells or cisterns within ten feet on or off the property or tanks shall maintain a full clearance of ten feet thereto; for individual tanks with a capacity of more than two thousand gallons and up to six thousand gallons, this distance shall be twenty feet; for individual tanks with a capacity of more than six thousand gallons and up to twelve thousand gallons, this distance shall be twenty-five feet; the term "sewer" includes sewer line out of service station building. Individual tanks of a capacity up to two thousand gallons shall maintain a ten foot clearance to property lines. For individual tanks of a capacity of more than two thousand gallons and up to six thousand gallons, this distance shall be twenty feet; for individual tanks of a capacity of more than six thousand gallons and up to twelve thousand gallons, this distance shall be twenty-five feet; tanks and pumps shall maintain a clearance of not less than one hundred twenty-five feet from any schoolhouse, hospital or church. The distance shall be measured from near points of tanks and pumps to near points of buildings.

Section 6. Tanks shall bear label of Underwriters Laboratories or meet equivalent specifications. Tanks shall be thoroughly coated on the outside with suitable rust resisting material. Tanks shall not be surrounded or covered by cinders, or other material of corrosive effect. If the soil contains corrosive material, special protection shall be provided.

Section 7. Each tank shall be provided with a vent pipe, connected with the top of the tank and carried up to the outer air. The pipe shall be arranged for proper drainage to the storage tank and shall not extend through top of the tank for a distance of more than one inch; it shall have no traps or pockets. The upper end of the pipe shall be provided with a gooseneck or T attachment or weatherproof hood. The vent pipe shall be of sufficient cross-sectional area to permit the escape of air and gas during the filling operation and in no case less than one inch in diameter. If a power pump is used in filling storage tank and a tight connection is made to fill pipe, the vent pipe shall not be smaller than the fill pipe, the vent pipe shall terminate outside of the building not less than twelve feet above the top of the fill pipe, not less than four feet, measuring vertically and horizontally from any window or other building opening, and not less than fifteen feet measured horizontally from any opening into the basement, cellar or pit of any building and in a location which will not permit pocketing of gas. If a tight connection is made in the filling line, the terminus of the vent pipe shall be carried to a point one foot above the level of the highest reservoir from which the tank may be filled. Vent pipes from two or more tanks of the same class of liquid may be connected to one upright or main header. The area of the header shall equal the combined area of the pipes connected to it. Connection of the header shall be not less than one foot above the level of the top of the highest reservoir from which the tank may be filled.

Section 8. Fill pipes shall be carried to a location outside of any building, as remote as possible from any doorway or other opening into any building and in no case closer than five feet from any such opening. Location shall be in a place where there is a minimum danger of breakage from trucks or other vehicles. Each fill pipe shall be closed by a screw cap or other tight fitting cap, preferably of a type which can be locked. Cap should be locked at all times when filling or gauging process is not going on.

Section 9. Unloading hose from tank truck into underground tank shall be metallic lined or its equivalent and shall be equipped with a non-ferrous nozzle or tight connection metal nipple. Tank truck shall be electrically grounded by means of its drag chain before unloading operations start and during the entire unloading operations. If underground tank is supplied through permanent pipe connection to an above-ground, general storage tank, filling process may be by power driven pump or gravity.

Section 10. Liquids shall be withdrawn from tanks by means of approved pumps, equipped with metallic lined hose and non-ferrous discharge nozzle. No pump shall be located within a building. Wiring of electrical pumps and all electrical equipment in connection therewith shall conform to National Electrical Code or the equivalent. Devices which discharge by gravity shall be so designed that it is impossible to retain in the gauging compartment materially more than 10 gallons of liquids, and so that it is not possible to lock the device without draining the liquid. Systems which employ continuous air pressure on storage tank in connection with gauging or vending devices are prohibited.

Section 11. No basement or excavation shall be permitted under any service station building. Floor level shall be above grade so as to prevent flow of liquids or vapors into building. Floor shall be concrete.

Section 12. Every greasing pit installed in a building, or enclosed by three or more walls, shall be ventilated by a vent duct not less than six inches in diameter (or equivalent cross-sectional area if a non-circular duct is used.). Duct shall start within four inches of the floor and shall extend on upward diagonal or by an easy bend over to side - wall, thence straight up through roof to a height sufficient to draw off gasoline vapors which may accumulate at bottom of pit. Abrupt bends must be avoided and all joints must be tight. Floor of pit should pitch slightly toward corner where duct is located, to facilitate flow of gases to duct. Gasoline or naptha shall never be used to clean out any pit, whether pit is located within a building or enclosure, or outside in the open. No sewer connection shall be permitted from any greasing pit. If electrically lighted, globes shall be of vapor - proof construction and wiring shall be in conduit.

Section 13. If sewer connection is made, an adequate grease trap shall be provided to intercept greases and oils. Trap shall be cleaned out at least every 30 days.

Section 14. Each service station shall be equipped with at least two chemical fire extinguishers per bay suitable for oil or gasoline fires.

Section 15. Drawing or blue prints made to scale shall be submitted in triplicate to the Commissioner of Public Works and Buildings and shall be approved before any new construction, addition or remodeling is undertaken. Drawings shall carry the name of the person, firm or corporation proposing the installation, the location, and shall in addition show the following:

(a) The plot to be utilized and its immediate surrounding on all sides; all property lines to be designed and adjacent streets and highways to be named.

(b) The complete installation as proposed, including tanks and their capacity, pumps, buildings, drives and all equipment.

(c) Clearance from tanks to property lines.

(d) Type of construction of service station building or buildings, with a clean showing that there will be no basement, cellar or excavation under any portion.

(e) Location of basements, cellars, or pits of other buildings on the property or on adjacent property and location of tanks with reference thereto as is provided in this ordinance. If a building has no basement, cellar or pit, make note to that effect.

(f) Location of sewers, manholes, catch basins, cesspools, septic tanks, wells or cisterns (whether on the property, on adjacent property or in adjoining streets, highways or alleys), and location of tanks with reference thereto. If there is no sewer, manhole, or catch basin in a street or alley, or no sewer, manhole or cesspool, or septic tank, well or cistern on property, make notation to that effect in proper place.

(g) Location of vent pipe outlets and location of fill pipes.

(h) Ventilation of greasing pit if greasing pit is located within a building or enclosure.

(i) Drawings shall be accompanied by any application for approval made out in triplicate on blanks furnished by the Commissioner of Public Works and Buildings.

Section 16. Any person, firm or corporation violating any provision of this ordinance shall be fined not less than Five ($5.00) Dollars nor more than Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars for each offense; and a separate offense shall be deemed committed on each day during or on which a violation occurs or continues.

Section 17. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect upon its passage, approval and publication according to law.

Ordinance No. 262

AN ORDINANCE WITH RESPECT TO SERVICE STATIONS

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF STREAMWOOD, COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS, as follows:

Section 1. That portions of Ordinance No. 52A or any other ordinance portion inconsistent with this Ordinance, is repealed.

Section 2. It shall be unlawful to conduct or operate a service station in the Village of Streamwood without having first obtained a license therefor. The annual fee for such license shall be Fifteen (15.00) dollars for each gasoline pump in each such service station and no license shall be issued unless all provisions of Village ordinances are complied with. No more than three licenses shall be issued and in effect at one time.

Section 3. A service station is intended to mean a gasoline service station and is any place of business where gasoline or any highly volatile fuels for motor vehicles, are sold or offered for sale.

Section 4. Storage tanks shall be underground and buried so that their tops will not be less than two feet below the surface of the ground or beneath twelve inches of earth and a slab of concrete reinforced and not less than five inches in thickness and capable of sustaining a load of two hundred fifty pounds per square foot; the slab shall be set on a firm, well tamped earth foundation and shall extend at least one foot in all directions beyond the outline of the tank; tops of tanks shall be below the level of any piping to which tanks may be connected; tanks shall be so located that no heavy trucks or other vehices pass over them unless they are adequately protected by a reinforced concrete slab where soil conditions require a firm foundation shall be provided and tanks shall not be installed under any building or structure.

Section 5. The combined capacity of all storage tanks for each service station shall not exceed twelve thousand gallons; individual tanks of a capacity up to two thousand gallons shall be buried so that the tops of tanks shall be lower than all floors, basements, cellars or pits of buildings within ten feet thereof on or off the property or tanks shall maintain a clearance of ten feet thereto; for individual tanks of a capacity more than two thousand gallons and up to six thousand gallsons this distance shall be twenty feet; for individual tanks of a capacity of more than six thousand gallons and up to twelve thousand gallons, this distance shall be twenty-five feet; individual tanks of a capacity up to two thousand gallons shall be buried so that the tops of tanks shall be lower than the bottom level of all sewers, manholes, catch basins, cesspools, septic tanks, wells or cisterns within ten feet on or off the property or tanks shall maintain a full clearance of ten feet thereto; for individual tanks with a capacity of more than two thousand gallons and up to six thousand gallons, this distance shall be twenty feet; for individual tanks with a capacity of more than six thousand gallons and up to twelve thousand gallons, this distance shall be twenty-five feet; the term "sewer" includes sewer line out of service station building. Individual tanks of a capacity up to two thousand gallons shall maintain a ten foot clearance to property lines. For individual tanks of a capacity of more than two thousand gallons and up to six thousand gallons, this distance shall be twenty feet; for individual tanks of a capacity of more than six thousand gallons and up to twelve thousand gallons, this distance shall be twenty-five feet; tanks and pumps shall maintain a clearance of not less than one hundred twenty-five feet from any schoolhouse, hospital or church. The distance shall be measured from near points of tanks and pumps to near points of buildings.

Section 6. Tanks shall bear label of Underwriters Laboratories or meet equivalent specifications. Tanks shall be thoroughly coated on the outside with suitable rust resisting material. Tanks shall not be surrounded or covered by cinders, or other material of corrosive effect. If the soil contains corrosive material, special protection shall be provided.

Section 7. Each tank shall be provided with a vent pipe, connected with the top of the tank and carried up to the outer air. The pipe shall be arranged for proper drainage to the storage tank and shall not extend through top of the tank for a distance of more than one inch; it shall have no traps or pockets. The upper end of the pipe shall be provided with a gooseneck or T attachment or weatherproof hood. The vent pipe shall be of sufficient cross-sectional area to permit the escape of air and gas during the filling operation and in no case less than one inch in diameter. If a power pump is used in filling storage tank and a tight connection is made to fill pipe, the vent pipe shall not be smaller than the fill pipe, the vent pipe shall terminate outside of the building not less than twelve feet above the top of the fill pipe, not less than four feet, measuring vertically and horizontally from any window or other building opening, and not less than fifteen feet measured horizontally from any opening into the basement, cellar or pit of any building and in a location which will not permit pocketing of gas. If a tight connection is made in the filling line, the terminus of the vent pipe shall be carried to a point one foot above the level of the highest reservoir from which the tank may be filled. Vent pipes from two or more tanks of the same class of liquid may be connected to one upright or main header. The area of the header shall equal the combined area of the pipes connected to it. Connection of the header shall be not less than one foot above the level of the top of the highest reservoir from which the tank may be filled.

Section 8. Fill pipes shall be carried to a location outside of any building, as remote as possible from any doorway or other opening into any building and in no case closer than five feet from any such opening. Location shall be in a place where there is a minimum danger of breakage from trucks or other vehicles. Each fill pipe shall be closed by a screw cap or other tight fitting cap, preferably of a type which can be locked. Cap should be locked at all times when filling or gauging process is not going on.

Section 9. Unloading hose from tank truck into underground tank shall be metallic lined or its equivalent and shall be equipped with a non-ferrous nozzle or tight connection metal nipple. Tank truck shall be electrically grounded by means of its drag chain before unloading operations start and during the entire unloading operations. If underground tank is supplied through permanent pipe connection to an aboveground, general storage tank, filling process may be by power driven pump or gravity.

Section 10. Liquids shall be withdrawn from tanks by means of approved pumps, equipped with metallic lined hose and non-ferrous discharge nozzle. No pump shall be located within a building. Wiring of electrical pumps and all electrical equipment in connection therewith shall conform to National Electrical Code or the equivalent. Devices which discharge by gravity shall be so designed that it is impossible to retain in the gauging compartment materially more than 10 gallons of liquids, and so that it is not possible to lock the device without draining the liquid. Systems which employ continuous air pressure on storage tank in connection with gauging or vending devices are prohibited.

Section 11. No basement or excavation shall be permitted under any service station building. Floor level shall be above grade so as to prevent flow of liquids or vapors into building. Floor shall be concrete.

Section 12. Every greasing pit installed in a building, or enclosed by three or more walls, shall be ventilated by a vent duct not less than six inches in diameter (or equivalent cross-sectional area if a non-circular duct is used.). Duct shall start within four inches of the floor and shall extend on upward diagonal or by an easy bend over to side - wall, thence straight up through roof to a height sufficient to draw off gasoline vapors which may accumulate at bottom of pit. Abrupt bends must be avoided and all joints must be tight. Floor of pit should pitch slightly toward corner where duct is located, to facilitate flow of gases to duct. Gasoline or naptha shall never be used to clean out any pit, whether pit is located within a building or enclosure, or outside in the open. No sewer connection shall be permitted from any greasing pit. If electrically lighted, globes shall be of vapor - proof construction and wiring shall be in conduit.

Section 13. If sewer connection is made, an adequate grease trap shall be provided to intercept greases and oils. Trap shall be cleaned out at least every 30 days.

Section 14. Each service station shall be equipped with at least two chemical fire extinguishers per bay suitable for oil or gasoline fires.

Section 15. Drawing or blue prints made to scale shall be submitted in triplicate to the Commissioner of Public Works and Buildings and shall be approved before any new construction, addition or remodeling is undertaken. Drawings shall carry the name of the person, firm or corporation proposing the installation, the location, and shall in addition show the following:

(a) The plot to be utilized and its immediate surrounding on all sides; all property lines to be designed and adjacent streets and highways to be named.

(b) The complete installation as proposed, including tanks and their capacity, pumps, buildings, drives and all equipment.

(c) Clearance from tanks to property lines.

(d) Type of construction of service station building or buildings, with a clean showing that there will be no basement, cellar or excavation under any portion.

(e) Location of basements, cellars, or pits of other buildings on the property or on adjacent property and location of tanks with reference thereto as is provided in this ordinance. If a building has no basement, cellar or pit, make note to that effect.

(f) Location of sewers, manholes, catch basins, cesspools, septic tanks, wells or cisterns (whether on the property, on adjacent property or in adjoining streets, highways or alleys), and location of tanks with reference thereto. If there is no sewer, manhole, or catch basin in a street or alley, or no sewer, manhole or cesspool, or septic tank, well or cistern on property, make notation to that effect in proper place.

(g) Location of vent pipe outlets and location of fill pipes.

(h) Ventilation of greasing pit if greasing pit is located within a building or enclosure.

(i) Drawings shall be accompanied by any application for approval made out in triplicate on blanks furnished by the Commissioner of Public Works and Buildings.

Section 16. Any person, firm or corporation violating any provision of this ordinance shall be fined not less than Five ($5.00) Dollars nor more than Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars for each offense; and a separate offense shall be deemed committed on each day during or on which a violation occurs or continues.

Section 17. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect upon its passage, approval and publication according to law.

IN THE MATTER OF THE SPECIAL ASSESSMENT TO PAY THE COST OF PAVING AND OTHERWISE IMPROVING MINER STREET IN THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS
SPECIAL ASSESSMENT
NO. 64 Co 1210

Notice

IN THE MATTER OF THE PETITION OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS to ascertain the just compensation for private property taken or damaged for paving and otherwise improving Miner Street in the Village of Arlington Heights, Cook County, Illinois, as hereinafter described and what property will be benefited by such improvement and the amount hereof.

It appearing in this cause and the files herein, and the affidavit of ownership filed therein on the 28th day of August, A.D., 1964, that there are certain defendants designated as "ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN," who upon diligent search cannot be found so that personal service of process cannot be had on said persons.

Notice is hereby given to said defendants designated as "ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN" and to all other persons and parties named in the Report and Assessment Roll of the Commissioners filed in this cause in this Court against whose property benefits have been assessed therein, to pay the cost of the improvement hereinafter described; that on the 16th day of July, A.D., 1964, said Village of Arlington Heights filed a Petition in the said Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois, County Department, County Division, praying that steps be taken to ascertain the just compensation to be made for private property to be taken or damaged for the improvement known as "IN THE MATTER OF THE SPECIAL ASSESSMENT TO PAY THE COST OF PAVING AND OTHERWISE IMPROVING MINER STREET IN THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS," and to ascertain what property will be benefited by such improvement and the amount of such benefit, and to levy a special assessment upon all the property benefited by said improvement to pay the cost of said improvement in accordance with the terms and provisions of said Ordinance and in the manner provided by law; that the summons in said cause is made returnable on the 7th day of October, A.D., 1964, to said Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois, County Department, County Division, to be held in the Court House in the City of Chicago, County of Cook, and State of Illinois, and that the pieces and parcels of property sought to be taken for said improvement are described as follows, to-wit:

The North 33 feet (measured at right angles to North line thereof) of Lot 7 (except the East 99 feet thereof) in A. T. McIntosh's Arlington Heights Farms, a subdivision of the South ½ of the Southwest ¼ of Section 26, T. 42 N., R. 11 and the Southeast ¼ of the Southeast ¼ of Section 29, T. 42 N. R. 11 E of the 3rd Principal Meridian according to Plat thereof recorded April 15, 1919, as Document No. 6501, in Cook County, Illinois.

That the total cost of the said improvement as shown by the estimate and report herein, is the sum of $5,977.65, that a special assessment has been made to raise the cost of said improvement, and that the Commissioners Report and Assessment Roll therefor was filed in the office of the Clerk of said Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois, County Department, County Division in the Court House, in the City of Chicago, County of Cook and State of Illinois, on the 28th day of August, A.D., 1964 and the said proceedings therein are now pending.

You are hereby notified that the summons in the said cause is made returnable on the 7th day of October, A.D., 1964, of the said Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois, County Department, County Division, to be held in the said Court House of the City of Chicago, when and where you may appear and defend if you see fit to so do.

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS AD

consider this:

You are about to invest money for an ad and you are entitled to get results. To accomplish this it is necessary for you to TELL ALL about the details of your offer. Be sure you don't make any of the following errors that prevent results:

1. DON'T OMIT THE ADDRESS
Many out-of-town readers will write you, but will not spend money for a long distance call.

2. DON'T OMIT THE PHONE NUMBER
Many readers will call you but do not find it convenient to come to your home.

3. DON'T USE BLIND BOX NUMBERS
Avoid them if at all possible. They are difficult to answer and many people are suspicious of them.

4. DON'T CONCEAL THE PRICE DESIRED
Surveys show that a high percentage of readers will not answer an ad unless the price is given.

5. DON'T LEAVE HOME ON THE DAYS YOU ADVERTISE
Many good prospects will not call the second time if your phone is unanswered.

6. DON'T OMIT IMPORTANT WORDS TO SAVE MONEY
Readers can't guess on important details. Remember, a well written informative ad will get results faster and amount to much less in the long run.

Four Area Squads in League Contests

'Cats Host Niles North

Daletski Drills Squad In Rushing Defense

by TOM TULLY

The price of youth was a little more expensive than Bill Daletski and his coaching staff at Wheeling High School had expected it to be and the Wildcat mentor is working feverishly this week to make repairs before the Cats open the conference season Saturday.

The occasion is the dedication of the Wheeling football field. For the second week in a row the opponent, like Wheeling, is a new school. This time is the Niles North and this time there is considerably more at stake than last week against Maine South. Saturday's 2 p.m. attraction opens the Mid-Suburban conference season.

Daletski found last week's opener enlightening. "We had scouted them (Maine South) in a scrimmage and knew their backs were quick, but the speed of those rangy linemen really surprised us. Offensively they handled our exterior linemen and linebackers effectively, and defensively they never gave us a chance to spring our fast backs."

DALETSKI has three goals in mind as he works his club in practice this week. He views the problems like this:

1) A stronger defense against sweeps and off tackle plays. "Our ends weren't turning the outside stuff in and our tackles and lineabckers were waiting for the play. We'll make some changes in both alignment and personnel."

2) Better punt coverage. "We won't do anything different in our coverage, just better—we hope. Our lack of experience hurt us in the respect that our ends were getting locked at the line of scrimmage and couldn't get down to cover the punt." If this doesn't improve, we'll instruct our punters to kick out of bounds."

3) More Diversified Offense. "We didn't do much offensively, but I can't really blame the backs. They didn't have much of a chance. If we can spring them, I feel we have some boys who can go."

Knights Test Warriors

by MICHAEL HESS

"Number two" is the goal of Prospect's football team.

The Knights seek a second straight home victory this Saturday when they face Deerfield in the Mid-Suburban League opener for both clubs. Prospect defeated North Chicago 13 to 6 in its first game and will be aiming for a 2 and 0 record against the Warriors.

The Knights should beware however, as Deerfield also seeks "number two" after a 54 to 14 first game drubbing of Mundelein-Carmel.

TIME:
Junior-Varsity Game, 12:00 noon, Saturday.
Varsity Game, 2:00 p.m. Saturday

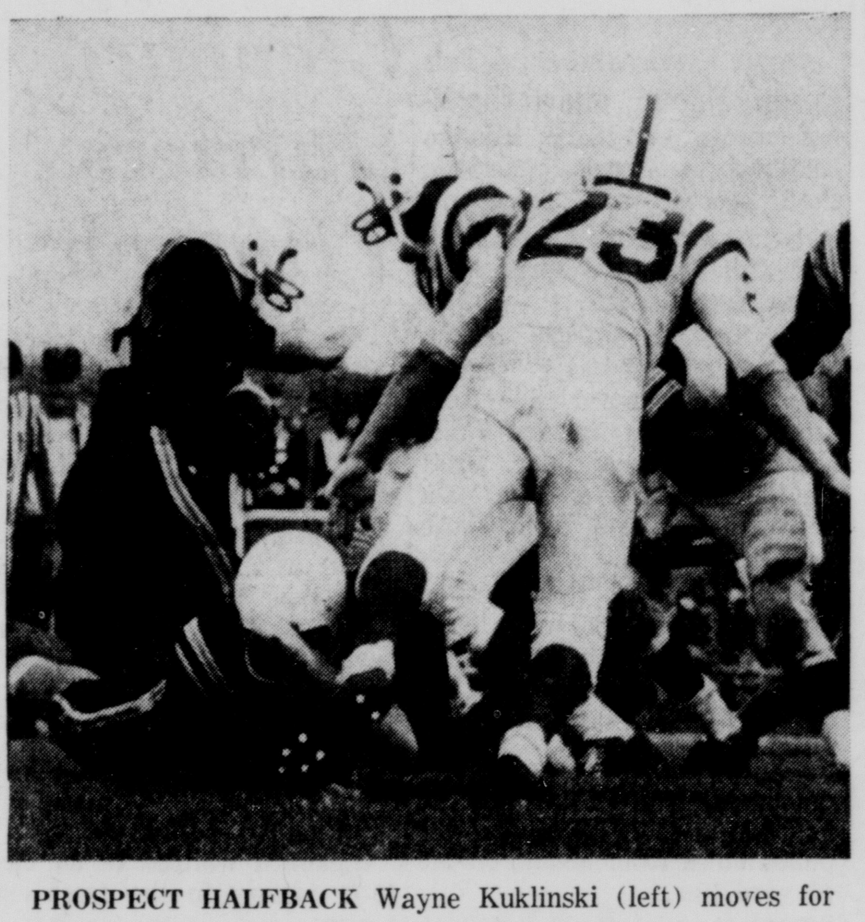
COACHES:
Prospect, Don Williams; Deerfield, Doug Kay.

"I'm well pleased with our first game," said Prospect head coach Don Williams. But remembering last year's 19-13 loss to Deerfield, Williams went on to caution, "Deerfield was good last year and will be good again this year. We cannot afford any silly mistakes, we must keep errors to a minimum."

DOUG KAY, the Deerfield coach, also remembers last year's game: "Prospect will be as strong as any team in the league. Last week we made many mistakes which would hurt us against tougher competition. Prospect will be much tougher. Prospect is always tough. We must get up for this game."

Important among the Deerfield players who must "get up" for this game are Bruce Nannini, a senior guard turned fullback who scored twice against Carmel, halfbacks Ed Wallner and Doug Davis, who added five T. D.'s to the Warrior total last Saturday, and junior John Lindquist, last year's all-Mid-Suburban League quarterback. Lindquist is considered to have all-state potential due mainly to his fine passing.

Lindquist's threat as an aerialist will keep the Prospect forces concentrating on pass defense during this week's practice. The Knight offense, however, will not be airborne. "We will be staying on the ground this Saturday," said Coach Williams.



PROSPECT HALFBACK Wayne Kuklinski (left) moves for short yardage in the season opener last Saturday. Kuklinski picked up 40 yards in eight carries as the Knights whipped North Chicago, 13-6. (Staff Photo).

Williams reasons that in Rick Lytle, Wayne Kuklinski, Mike Spencer and Tim Clow, Prospect has four good running backs and that they should be used instead of passing which was not Prospect's strongest suit in its first game.

NEITHER team suffered any injuries in its first game and, for Prospect, the return of center Ken Johnson, hurt in preseason scrimmages, should further bolster the line. "We're in good shape physically," stated the Knights' coach.

The Prospect-Deerfield battle will start at 2:00 Saturday afternoon on the Knights' field. The varsity contest will be preceded by a junior-varsity game at noon.

For someone this game will be "number two." Who? Answers Saturday.

Forest View Varsity Seeks Second Victory

by MICHAEL HESS

Last Saturday it took a fourth quarter comeback in a battle of defenses. What it will take this Saturday no one knows.

Whatever it takes, Forest View's football team will try to deliver the goods against Glenbrook North in the initial Mid-Suburban League contest for both squads.

Fresh from a 7-6 non-conference over Palatine, Coach Bob Scott's Falcons will be looking for this season's second win when the Spartans invade in search of their first triumph.

Glenbrook North, headed by Harold Samorian, lost its opening contest 21-14 to Highland Park and will be out to even their record at 1 and 1 by repeating last year's 27 to 13 victory over Forest View.

170	Coon	FB	Hawxhurst	140

TIME:
Preliminary, 12:00; Varsity, 2:00; Saturday.

COACHES:
Forest View, Bob Scott; Glenbrook North, Harold Samorian.

"WE HAVE more depth this year than 1 thought, more depth in certain spots," was Coach Scott's reaction to the Falcons' first game win. He mentioned Robert Kohn on offense and Mike Colovos on defense as being especially, instrumental in the game. "They helped spark the team when we needed it."

Scott was making no predictions about this Saturday except to say, "We expect a tough game against Glenbrook North." He was equally cautious concerning the rest of the season. "Last year we were last in the conference," recalled Scott. "The present team, as sophomores, didn't win a game and they were 3 and 5 as juniors. If they can continue improving we'll do O.K. this year."

Coach Samorian's estimate of his team is to class them as "light and inexperienced." Considering that Forest View will outweigh Glenbrook North by 13 pounds per lineman, by 20 pounds a man in the backfield and that they have only one returning letterman, halfback Don Forgione, the "light and inexperienced" tag seems to carry a ring of truth.

Scott, however, diminished the importance of his heavier Falcons: "Weight should be no factor in this game, condition is just as important."

ANY PREDICTIONS from the Spartan Coach? Not really: "I expect a real close game. You can always expect Bob to get his boys up for Glenbrook North."

The coaches had similar ideas concerning the importance of defense in their football strategy. "We try to concentrate evenly on both offense and defense but you have to keep the other team from scoring to win," submitted Scott. Echoed Samorian, "We have to work at both offense and defense."

The Spartan head man continued, "On defense we need to work against the short pass. We'll try to stop the strong running game of Forest View."

To halt the ground game of the Falcons' backfield trio, Robert Kohn, Robert Coon and Pat Dunnigan, Samorian spotted Dick Mathson, John Dewitt and Terry Laughlin as defensive standouts from the first game he hopes will be even stronger against Forest View.

All of these predictions, comments and speculations will mean little, however, by game time Saturday. At two o'clock, on the Falcon field, actions alone will count.

We'll Be There

The first returns are in for the 1964 high school football season. Game stories of the gridiron openers involving area elevens will be found on the inside pages.

Here's the way the schedule looks for the second week:

CRANE TECH AT ST. VIATOR—Steve Brown will report the action as the Lions tackle Crane Tech of Chicago.

DEERFIELD AT PROSPECT—Marv Prellberg, Jr. will be at the Prospect field Saturday as the Knights seek their second straight win against a formidable Deerfield eleven.

ARLINGTON AT RIVERSIDE—Bob Frisk will be at Riverside Saturday as the Cardinals attempt to bounce back from an opening reversal to Barrington.

GLENBROOK NORTH AT FOREST VIEW—Mike Hess will cover this Mid Suburban clash between the Spartans and Falcons.

NILES NORTH AT WHEELING—Bob Nordin will report the action as Wheeling makes its home debut against the Vikings.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

A GOOD FRIEND, BOTHERED by a moody boss and uninteresting job, once remarked that we had it "made." "The sportswriting racket is great," he said. "You watch football and basketball games and get paid for it. That's the life."

It isn't as simple as that although we do receive a pay check each Thursday for watching and writing about schoolboy basketball and football games in addition to numerous other duties.

We also get paid for fielding complaints on so-called spotty coverage on certain sports and favoritism in our treatment of the area schools. The latter is the most common—and unwarranted—gripe that crosses this desk.

In this business one looks for complaints rather than praise, not so much because there are always more of them, but because complaints sometimes have greater meaning. But you can be sure we've grown very tired of this favoritism pitch.

Every year without exception the calls come in. With each new school there are more calls. "We feel Prospect is as important as Forest View but obviously you don't." Or, "We feel Forest View is as important as Arlington but obviously you don't." You can just substitute names of schools and you'll see what we mean.

The sports fan, in most cases, is afflicted with a persecution complex that comes and goes like a virus. His school "deserves" publicity when the team is winning. Otherwise, he doesn't care.

We have one sports section for the Heralds. Therein lies the problem. We're faced with planning equal coverage for five high schools—six in '66. This would be fine if we had a paper 16 columns wide. What people fail to understand is that ever-changing school boundaries and mechanical problems in the shop make it impossible to alter the sports section for each of our 15 newspapers.

We juggle stories and pictures so that each of the five schools receives adequate publicity, starting with the front sports page. Certainly if a team is battling for a conference championship and is hooked up in a key game that story merits a front page location.

The juggling process has its drawbacks especially when one of the five schools is juggled right off the first sports page. This week four schools receive front page locations for their pre-game stories because they open conference warfare. St. Viator is still two weeks away from that first Chicagoland contest.

New high schools have created new problems for this sports section, and there's little relief in sight. Space dictates and stories will become shorter with much more emphasis on the varsity teams. We'll continue our policy of juggling stories on our five schools on and off the first sports page as the situation demands.

However, it should be emphasized once again favoritism does not exist in this department and never has. If people would examine the complexities of four sports coverage before reaching for that telephone, they would discover the obvious deficiencies in their complaints.

There are those, in other occupations, who regard our job as coordinator of this expanding sports department as a pleasant way of earning a dollar. We don't disagree. We enjoy our work, but from where we sit, that buck comes just as hard as it does to the guy who spends eight hours a day on the hot bed at some steel company or to the guy who goes the 9 to 5 shift at some Loop advertising agency.

Cardinals to Launch Conference Play at Riverside Saturday

by BOB FRISK

Al Allen was right.

Young and green . . . respectable and interesting.

That's the way the head coach described his varsity football Cardinals prior to the season opener with Barrington.

Nothing in the opener altered this analysis.

Arlington is young. They're green but they're learning. They were respectable for an opening game even in defeat.

AND THAT WAS a mighty interesting contest even if the outcome didn't please the home folks.

Barrington stunned the Cards 26-20 with a last second touchdown on a triple reverse and long pass.

"It was a game of mistakes and we made the most," Allen said.

But there were some encouraging aspects of the season lidlifter, and Allen and his staff are hopeful the Cardinals will bounce back Saturday afternoon in the West Suburban Conference opener at Riverside-Brookfield.

The varsity contest will be preceeded by a frosh-soph game at 12 noon.

"I THOUGHT our kids played a creditable game," Allen said in looking back at the opener, "but we just made too many mistakes. We came back after falling behind, moved the ball well on offense, but had some poor tackling and costly mental lapses."

That defensive lapse in the closing seconds which gave Barrington the winning touchdown was termed "inexcusable" by Allen.

"We knew they had that play and were ready for it," Al said, "but they just fell asleep. There wasn't a good line rush either, but that's still no excuse."

ALTHOUGH Arlington moved on the ground with effectiveness,

Whatever it takes, Forest View's football team will try to deliver the goods against Glenbrook North in the initial Mid-Suburban League contest for both squads.

Fresh from a 7-6 non-conference over Palatine, Coach Bob Scott's Falcons will be looking for this season's second win when the Spartans invade in search of their first triumph.

Glenbrook North, headed by Harold Samorian, lost its opening contest 21-14 to Highland Park and will be out to even their record at 1 and 1 by repeating last year's 27 to 13 victory over Forest View.

"WE HAVE more depth this year than 1 thought, more depth in certain spots," was Coach Scott's reaction to the Falcons' first game win. He mentioned Robert Kohn on offense and Mike Colovos on defense as being especially, instrumental in the game. "They helped spark the team when we needed it."

Scott was making no predictions about this Saturday except to say, "We expect a tough game against Glenbrook North." He was equally cautious concerning the rest of the season. "Last year we were last in the conference," recalled Scott. "The present team, as sophomores, didn't win a game and they were 3 and 5 as juniors. If they can continue improving we'll do O.K. this year."

Coach Samorian's estimate of his team is to class them as "light and inexperienced." Considering that Forest View will outweigh Glenbrook North by 13 pounds per lineman, by 20 pounds a man in the backfield and that they have only one returning letterman, halfback Don Forgione, the "light and inexperienced" tag seems to carry a ring of truth.

Scott, however, diminished the importance of his heavier Falcons: "Weight should be no factor in this game, condition is just as important."

ANY PREDICTIONS from the Spartan Coach? Not really: "I expect a real close game. You can always expect Bob to get his boys up for Glenbrook North."

The coaches had similar ideas concerning the importance of defense in their football strategy. "We try to concentrate evenly on both offense and defense but you have to keep the other team from scoring to win," submitted Scott. Echoed Samorian, "We have to work at both offense and defense."

The Spartan head man continued, "On defense we need to work against the short pass. We'll try to stop the strong running game of Forest View."

To halt the ground game of the Falcons' backfield trio, Robert Kohn, Robert Coon and Pat Dunnigan, Samorian spotted Dick Mathson, John Dewitt and Terry Laughlin as defensive standouts from the first game he hopes will be even stronger against Forest View.

All of these predictions, comments and speculations will mean little, however, by game time Saturday. At two o'clock, on the Falcon field, actions alone will count.

Deerfield Strong

Knights Test Warriors

by MICHAEL HESS

"Number two" is the goal of Prospect's football team.

The Knights seek a second straight home victory this Saturday when they face Deerfield in the Mid-Suburban League opener for both clubs. Prospect defeated North Chicago 13 to 6 in its first game and will be aiming for a 2 and 0 record against the Warriors.

The Knights should beware however, as Deerfield also seeks "number two" after a 54 to 14 first game drubbing of Mundelein-Carmel.

"I'm well pleased with our first game," said Prospect head coach Don Williams. But remembering last year's 19-13 loss to Deerfield, Williams went on to caution, "Deerfield was good last year and will be good again this year. We cannot afford any silly mistakes, we must keep errors to a minimum."

DOUG KAY, the Deerfield coach, also remembers last year's game: "Prospect will be as strong as any team in the league. Last week we made many mistakes which would hurt us against tougher competition. Prospect will be much tougher. Prospect is always tough. We must get up for this game."

Important among the Deerfield players who must "get up" for this game are Bruce Nannini, a senior guard turned fullback who scored twice against Carmel, halfbacks Ed Wallner and Doug Davis, who added five T. D.'s to the Warrior total last Saturday, and junior John Lindquist, last year's all-Mid-Suburban League quarterback. Lindquist is considered to have all-state potential due mainly to his fine passing.

Lindquist's threat as an aerialist will keep the Prospect forces concentrating on pass defense during this week's practice. The Knight offense, however, will not be airborne. "We will be staying on the ground this Saturday," said Coach Williams.

Williams reasons that in Rick Lytle, Wayne Kuklinski, Mike Spencer and Tim Clow, Prospect has four good running backs and that they should be used instead of passing which was not Prospect's strongest suit in its first game.

NEITHER team suffered any injuries in its first game and, for Prospect, the return of center Ken Johnson, hurt in preseason scrimmages, should further bolster the line. "We're in good shape physically," stated the Knights' coach.

The Prospect-Deerfield battle will start at 2:00 Saturday afternoon on the Knights' field. The varsity contest will be preceded by a junior-varsity game at noon.

For someone this game will be "number two." Who? Answers Saturday.

We'll Be There

The first returns are in for the 1964 high school football season. Game stories of the gridiron openers involving area elevens will be found on the inside pages.

Here's the way the schedule looks for the second week:

CRANE TECH AT ST. VIATOR—Steve Brown will report the action as the Lions tackle Crane Tech of Chicago.

DEERFIELD AT PROSPECT—Marv Prellberg, Jr. will be at the Prospect field Saturday as the Knights seek their second straight win against a formidable Deerfield eleven.

ARLINGTON AT RIVERSIDE—Bob Frisk will be at Riverside Saturday as the Cardinals attempt to bounce back from an opening reversal to Barrington.

GLENBROOK NORTH AT FOREST VIEW—Mike Hess will cover this Mid Suburban clash between the Spartans and Falcons.

NILES NORTH AT WHEELING—Bob Nordin will report the action as Wheeling makes its home debut against the Vikings.

Cardinals to Launch Conference Play at Riverside Saturday

by BOB FRISK

Al Allen was right.

Young and green . . . respectable and interesting.

That's the way the head coach described his varsity football Cardinals prior to the season opener with Barrington.

Nothing in the opener altered this analysis.

Arlington is young. They're green but they're learning. They were respectable for an opening game even in defeat.

AND THAT WAS a mighty interesting contest even if the outcome didn't please the home folks.

Barrington stunned the Cards 26-20 with a last second touchdown on a triple reverse and long pass.

"It was a game of mistakes and we made the most," Allen said.

But there were some encouraging aspects of the season lidlifter, and Allen and his staff are hopeful the Cardinals will bounce back Saturday afternoon in the West Suburban Conference opener at Riverside-Brookfield.

The varsity contest will be preceeded by a frosh-soph game at 12 noon.

"I THOUGHT our kids played a creditable game," Allen said in looking back at the opener, "but we just made too many mistakes. We came back after falling behind, moved the ball well on offense, but had some poor tackling and costly mental lapses."

That defensive lapse in the closing seconds which gave Barrington the winning touchdown was termed "inexcusable" by Allen.

"We knew they had that play and were ready for it," Al said, "but they just fell asleep. There wasn't a good line rush either, but that's still no excuse."

ALTHOUGH Arlington moved on the ground with effectiveness,

Sophomore quarterback Steve Allen, who got the first call, was credited with "calling a fine game, mixing up and executing his plays well."

"Tom (LeStarge) also looked good when he came in there," the head coach continued. "I'm not worried about quarterback. I can go with either boy with confidence."

ALTHOUGH Riverside was decked by three touchdowns by Morton West in its opener last Saturday, Bulldog coach Bill VandeMerkt was not too discouraged.

VandeMerkt also pointed to "many mistakes by an inexperienced team" in examining the 27-7 setback.

"Morton has an excellent football team," he praised. "They were just too experienced for us this early in the season. Thirty-six of their top 40 players are seniors, and they have 22 lettermen."

VANDEMERKT isn't equipped with exceptional size in his offensive alignment although he boasts a standout up front in 200-pound tackle Ron Cushna.

Key men in the backfield setup are quarterback Jimmy O'Toole (6-1, 180), called an "excellent passer," and halfback Otto Zeman (175), a boy who can do everything with the football.

"Zeman is our best boy," Bill praised. "He's our top runner and pass receiver and is a fine punter. He doesn't have great speed but still gets the job done."

Riverside shaded Arlington in the season finale last year, 12-6, and finished 3-4 in the conference and 4-4 over-all.

Special Guests

Alumni of Arlington High School who were members of the "A Club" are invited to attend the York game as guests on Friday evening, Oct. 2.

To reserve your tickets call the high school athletic office.

Admission will be through the pass gate located at the east entrance of the field.

Wheeling Home

Kerr's presence was necessitated when regular safety Doug Glaser had to leave with strained ligaments in both knees. Jim Hatfield will replace Glaser at offensive left end.

Center Jim Whittington is also on the injured list. He's nursing a bad charley horse. Daletski is hoping he'll be ready to go. If not, Ryan Sarti, a 185-pound sophomore, will take over at the pivot.

Balancing these injuries is the probable return of three disabled Cats. Guards Mike Downar and John Lemerande have recovered from a shoulder separation and a slight concussion and either or both could start. Fullback Bill Niemeyer, out with a dislocated shoulder, should be ready for action.

IN NILES NORTH, the Wildcats will be meeting another club looking for its first victory. The Vikings fell to Niles East by a 14-0 score last weekend. Dave McCarrell's club boasts five lettermen including one starter from Niles East and one from Niles West.

Like Daletski, McCarrell is using this week to shift his personnel. Two regulars, quarterback Jim McKay and halfback Gary Wells, will devote most of their playing time to defense this week. Fullback Roger Thomas moves to quarterback and tackle John Miller replaces him at full. The Viking coach is also looking around for some boys who can spell his regulars on defense.

The Vikings were also guilty of 'green' mistakes last week. On Niles East's first TD drive, the Vikings were nailed for four offside infractions.

Larkin's JVs Trip Prospect

The Prospect junior varsity football team lost its opening game 20 to 13 to Elgin Larkin last Saturday on the opponent's field.

Coach Chuck Aldrich's team provided a good defense against everything except the long run. The three Elgin Larkin scores came on gallops of 35, 65 and 86 yards. Other than those long gainers, the Prospect defenders gave up only thirty yards and just one first down.

The Knight junior varsity scores came on a 25 yard pass from Gary Guerin to Tom Beard and Bob Grady's one yard plunge. Jim Kolberg ran for Prospect's only extra point.

Prospects J.V.'s will meet Deerfield in the second game of the season this Saturday noon, at home.

Junior, Senior Leagues

Midget Grid Action Begins in Arlington

Midget football action in Arlington Heights got under way last weekend in both the Senior and Junior divisions.

Only one club emerged with a victory in the Senior League with one game resulting in a tie. The Eagles and Bears claimed decisions in the Junior loop.

The Redskins scored in the first and fourth periods for a 12-0 victory over the Rams in Senior League activity.

Scott Davis and Paul Tollefson shared quarterbacking honors and each led the Redskins to a score. Burdette Potts scored on a three-yard end run, and Mark Lehnert tallied with a 21-yard sprint with seven seconds left.

Alert defensive work set up both of the Redskins' scores. Alex Syoen pounced on a Ram fumble at the 24 and Potts scored four plays later. Scott Davis inercepted a Ram pass and raced to the 21 from where Lehnert counted.

The Lions and 49ers battled to a 6-6 deadlock with Steve Stratton scoring on a five-yard run and Dennis Meacham on a 30-yard slant off tackle.

IN THE CLOSING seconds of the game Dave Ewart passed 30 yards to Bob Kelly, who was pulled down from behind on the 15 yard line.

Defensively, Bryce Knorr, Noel Bauler, and Steve Stratton turned in fine performances for the winners. Dan Selleck, Meacham, Paul Harth, and Mike Rieder were defensive standouts for the losers.

Steve Schillinger pulled in a 40 yard pass from Gene Elsberg and Dan Carty added the extra point as the Bears blanked the Cardinals 7-0 in Junior League action.

STARRING ON defense for the Bears were Bob Klein, Jim Dolan, Chuck Jacoby, and John Coulter. Bruce Frase, Jim Chauncey, and Tom Surge earned defensive plaudits from the Cardinal coach.

The Eagles scored one touchdown in each of the first three quarters and dumped the Colts, 18-6. Mike Locasio, Steve Chase, and Gregg Conley did the scoring on short thrusts. The Colts scored on a 20-yard pass after a long run from the fake punt. No other details were available.

The Giants and Packers battled to a scoreless tie with only two first downs in the entire game. Boys who played strong games on offense were Tom Sayre, Terry Ormsbee, and Scott Lloyd.

Defensive stickouts in this scoreless battle were Tom Sayre, Jeff Selleck, Glenn Abel, Charles Donchess, Mike Walthouse, Lorne Kuffel, Scott Swanezy, John Hilton, and Scott Tremberth.

Glenbard Harriers Triumph

John Brunner was the individual winner but Arlington's varsity cross country team dropped a tight 27-30 decision to Glenbard West last Friday in the season opener.

Brunner covered the two-mile course at Pioneer Park in 9:47 with the Hilltoppers claiming the next three slots with Kinney, Evans, and Allen.

Also scoring for Russ Attis' varsity were Tom Taylor in fifth, Bob Yeazel in seventh, Tom Thornton in eighth, and Pete Barker in ninth.

Glenbard waltzed to an easy 15-76 victory in the frosh-soph action.

Jim Bergstrom was the first Cardinal cross the line with 10th. Others scoring were Jim Kussow in 11th, Jeff Johansen in 16th, Jim Sergey in 19th, and Paul Bowen in 20th.

The Cardinal runners will journey to Riverside-Brookfield Saturday and to Prospect next Tuesday afternoon.

Cardinal Frosh in Grid Split

Arlington's frosh football teams registered a split in opening competition for 1964 with the 'Bs' claiming the victory.

Glenbard West rolled to an 18-6 decision on an 'A' level, but Arlington posted a 15-0 triumph in 'B' action.

"We played a good game for a half but then just let down," head coach Ted Wissen said after the 'A' setback.

Terry Pitts scored the only Cardinal touchdown on an eight-yard scamper.

Score by quarters:

Arlington	6	0	0	0	6
Glenbard	0	0	12	6	18

Glenbard West never threatened in the 'B' contest as Arlington registered a 15-0 win.

Arlington scored on a safety in the second quarter with Dick Witcher, Mike Proebstle, David Schott, and Bill Kervick in on the tackle.

Bob Gunnison tallied the first touchdown on a 10-yard run after his 35-yard pass to Arden Jacobs set up the counter. John Shultz scored from the six for the final Cardinal touchdown.

Score by quarters:

Arlington	0	2	7	6	15

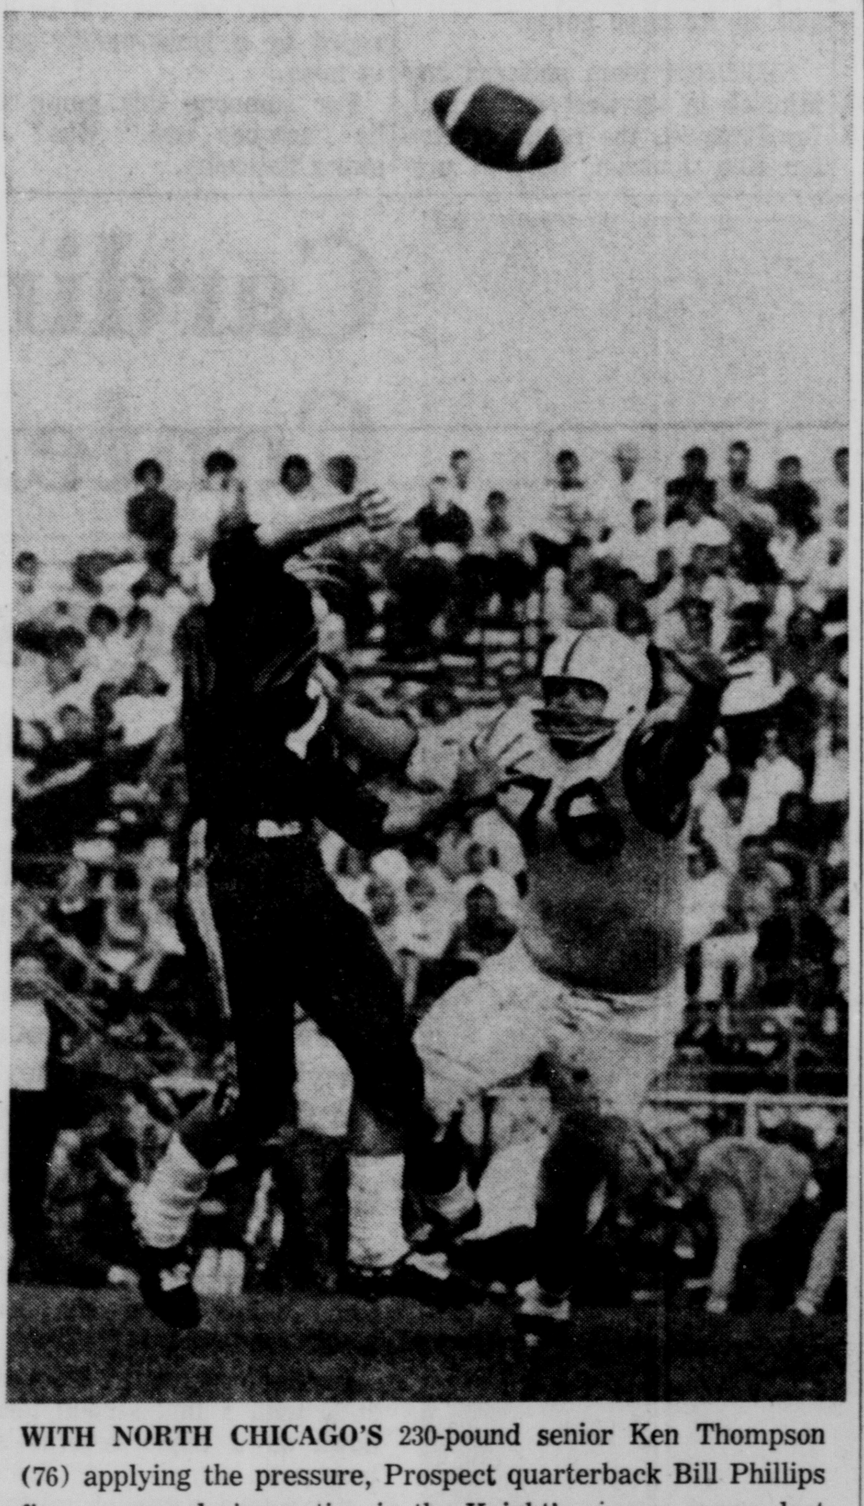
It Isn't Easy

Since 1950, only one Big Ten football champion has been able to repeat its title the following year — Ohio State in 1954 and 1955. With good prospects for this year, Illinois hopes to become the second.



WITH NORTH CHICAGO'S 230-pound senior Ken Thompson (76) applying the pressure, Prospect quarterback Bill Phillips fires a pass during action in the Knight's season opener last Saturday afternoon. Thompson applied enough pressure this time because Phillips' pass was picked off by a Warhawk defender. Prospect bounced the visitors 13-6. (Staff photo)

One-Sided Scores Feature Action in Midget Grid League

One-sided scores featured action last week in the Mount Prospect Midget Football program.

The Bears led by Greg Grippentrog defeated the Packers 27-6. The Senior game was tied 6-6 at half time. The turning point came in the second half after a sustained drive by the Packers fell short on the four yard line as Charles Hughson intercepted a pass.

From then on the Bears went on to score at will. Grippentrog scored three touchdowns while Scott Crawford contributed one.

The Bears' only tally came off tackle when Michalek carried for five yards.

THE CARDINALS shut out the Colts 20-0. Ted Passarelli scored all three tallies for the Cardinals on 78, 45, and 25 yard runs.

Three teams remain undefeated in the Junior Division after their second week of play. None of these teams meet each other next week. They are the Browns Redskins and Cowboys.

Morgan of the Browns scored on runs of 15, 40 and 36 yards while returning a punt for 55 yards for another. Brian Bakk scored the Browns first touchdown on a six yard plunge. Keith Mundt accounted for the other tally in a 37-0 route of the steelers.

THE REDSKINS jumped off to an early lead which enabled them to defeat the Rams 20-14. Vogel scored for the winners on a 25 yard pass from Carroll. Kinneman scored twice from two and 14 yards out. Points after touchdowns were made by Marshall and Vogel.

The Cowboys trimmed the 49ers 20-7 behind the running of Szala. He accounted for 14 points by end runs for two touchdowns and line plunges for the extra points. Gebert scored the other tally on an end run. A blocked punt by Grimm was recovered by O'Malley. These along with the other linemen broke the 7-7 first half tie. Jim Remsen sparkled for the 49ers He picked up a fumble and ran 50 yards for a touchdown.

Bill Brady's long runs and John Trandels' consistent passes were too much for the Eagles. They led the Vikings to a 55-0 victory over the Eagles. Casey Rush and Steve Blake played superb ball at ends catching several passes for long gains and touchdowns. The second defensive unit played the last half of the game and contained the Eagles. Mark Rossi at fullback for the Eagles gained over 120 yards but couldn't gain a score.

IN THE BANTAM Division the Badgers remained the only undefeated and untied team by romping to a 21-0 victory over the Wolverines. Johnny Glasgow scored 19 points on runs of 6, 12, and 26 yards for scores and an extra point.

Four touchdowns and two conversions gave the Buckeyes a 26-13 victory over the Panthers. Tom Gattas, Jim Robb, and Mike Kinney did the scoring for the winners with Kinney counting on an end run and kickoff return.

Jim Packard and Tom Freyman scored on scampers of 20 and 30 yards respectively in a losing cause.

The Spartans coasted to a 27-o victory over the Wildcats behind the brilliant running of Don Divito. His runs of 40, 50, 30, and 10 yards accounted for all of the Spartans' touchdowns.

The Lions tallied twice to whip the Hawkeyes 13-6 with Al Henning doing all the scoring for the victors. Kenny Holan raced 50 yards for the Hawkeyes' score.

Penalty Costly in 7-6 Setback

An off-side penalty cost Prospect's sophomore football team one point and resulted in a 7-6 loss to North Chicago in the season opener for both squads.

Quarterback John Phillips set up the lone Prospect score with a 55 yard run. The ball was carried across the goal line from 11 yards out by Vince Curry. Following the touchdown, the first extra point was good but the fatal off-side penalty nullified the score and the second attempt failed.

Coach Dick Mudge's sophs protected the 6-0 lead until 2:04 into the last quarter when North Chicago pushed across its score on a short run off right tackle. They were successful in kicking an extra point and took the lead they never gave up.

Commented Coach Mudge after the narrow loss, "The team needs a lot of fundamental improvement, particularly on defense, before our next game." That next game will be this Saturday against Deerfield.

Elgin 'Y' Taking Swim Registrations

The Elgin Y. M. C. A. is now taking registrations for the fall sessions of the "50" Inch Swim Classes.

This instruction in beginning and advanced swimming is open to any boys who are 7 or 8 years of age and who measure up to "50" inches.

First class will start on Oct. 3.

In order to accommodate the large number of youngsters that enroll in the sessions the "Y" will offer four classes, each lasting 10 weeks and meeting on Saturdays. Since classes will be limited to small groups those registering early will be given first preference on class time.

Register now at the main desk of the Y. M. C. A. (no application will be accepted by phone) and the course fee is required at the time of registration.

The next session will start on January 9.

Class times are as follows: 8:00a.m. for Advanced and 8:30, 3:45, 4:15 - Beginners.

Hebel Sets Record

Rick Hebel threatened the Fenton cross country record in the first home meet of the year. In the second one, he broke it, speeding over the 2.1 mile course at Mohawk Country Club in 10:30 to pace the Bisons to a 24-31 victory over Wheeling.

Doug Steinman and Bill Lytle gave the Wildcats second and third, but the next three places went to Bob Fraser, Paul Miller and Carl Wanzung of Fenton. Claude Sonday, the fifth Fenton finisher, took eighth. Wheeing's other scorers included Karl Meisenheimer (7), Dave Eaton (9) and Gerry Fedyski (10).

Ted Hebel set the pace in the sophomore race as the Bison sophomores rolled to a 20-43 victory. Steve Levon completed a 1-2 finish for Fenton and Greg Shornden grabbed third for the Cats.

The varsity victory was the second in three tries for Fenton, assuring the Bisons of their best season in four years. Wheeling is 0-2.

Forest View Jayvees Top Pirate Unit

Bob Arnold, Mike Holstrom and Tom Coskey each scored a touchdown for Forest View to pace the Falcons' Jayvees to a 20-6 opening day victory over a visiting Palatine eleven.

Arnold scored first on a two yard quarterback sneak in the first quarter. Holstrom tallied on a pass and lateral play that covered 38 yards in the second period, and Coskey scored on a 12 yard pass from Bob Glaser in the final stanza.

Holstrom and Ron Wayda each added an extra point to give Forest View a 20-0 fourth period lead.

Palatine tallied on a quick-opening 60 yard run by Jim Lowrey in the fourth period.

Pirates Trounce Knights

Rob MacLea set a Palatine school record for Community Park as he paced the Pirates to a 19-43 victory over Prospect in a dual cross country meet Tuesday evening.

MacLea covered the 1.85 mile layout in 9:14, :14 off the course record set by John Woods of York last week.

Palatine took six of the top seven places, scoring with Doug Brush (3), John Rosenberger (4), Bill Ashworth (5) and Bill Hoffman (6). Gary York finished second to lead the Knights. Other Prospect scorers included Gus Filantres (8), Ed Schneider (11), Dennis Breen (13) and Scott Hein (15).

Palatine also took the sophomore meet, this one by a 20-36 score. Steve Holmes of Prospect won the event in 10:16. Mike Carpenter of Palatine finished second.

ALTHOUGH Riverside was decked by three touchdowns by Morton West in its opener last Saturday, Bulldog coach Bill VandeMerkt was not too discouraged.

VandeMerkt also pointed to "many mistakes by an inexperienced team" in examining the 27-7 setback.

"Morton has an excellent football team," he praised. "They were just too experienced for us this early in the season. Thirty-six of their top 40 players are seniors, and they have 22 lettermen."

VANDEMERKT isn't equipped with exceptional size in his offensive alignment although he boasts a standout up front in 200-pound tackle Ron Cushna.

Key men in the backfield setup are quarterback Jimmy O'Toole (6-1, 180), called an "excellent passer," and halfback Otto Zeman (175), a boy who can do everything with the football.

"Zeman is our best boy," Bill praised. "He's our top runner and pass receiver and is a fine punter. He doesn't have great speed but still gets the job done."

Riverside shaded Arlington in the season finale last year, 12-6, and finished 3-4 in the conference and 4-4 over-all.

Special Guests

Alumni of Arlington High School who were members of the "A Club" are invited to attend the York game as guests on Friday evening, Oct. 2.

To reserve your tickets call the high school athletic office.

Admission will be through the pass gate located at the east entrance of the field.

defense and solve another problem that was apparent against Maine South (the Cats tired badly in the late stages), Bill is making some changes in his defense. Fullbacks Bruce Frank (185) and Al Gibbon (195) will replace linebackers Fred Sessions (167) and Denny Francl (185). Sophomore Tony Martin will move into the defensive backfield as a halfback and Jim Kerr takes over at safety.

Kerr's presence was necessitated when regular safety Doug Glaser had to leave with strained ligaments in both knees. Jim Hatfield will replace Glaser at offensive left end.

Center Jim Whittington is also on the injured list. He's nursing a bad charley horse. Daletski is hoping he'll be ready to go. If not, Ryan Sarti, a 185-pound sophomore, will take over at the pivot.

Balancing these injuries is the probable return of three disabled Cats. Guards Mike Downar and John Lemerande have recovered from a shoulder separation and a slight concussion and either or both could start. Fullback Bill Niemeyer, out with a dislocated shoulder, should be ready for action.

IN NILES NORTH, the Wildcats will be meeting another club looking for its first victory. The Vikings fell to Niles East by a 14-0 score last weekend. Dave McCarrell's club boasts five lettermen including one starter from Niles East and one from Niles West.

Like Daletski, McCarrell is using this week to shift his personnel. Two regulars, quarterback Jim McKay and halfback Gary Wells, will devote most of their playing time to defense this week. Fullback Roger Thomas moves to quarterback and tackle John Miller replaces him at full. The Viking coach is also looking around for some boys who can spell his regulars on defense.

The Vikings were also guilty of 'green' mistakes last week. On Niles East's first TD drive, the Vikings were nailed for four offside infractions.

Larkin's JVs Trip Prospect

The Prospect junior varsity football team lost its opening game 20 to 13 to Elgin Larkin last Saturday on the opponent's field.

Coach Chuck Aldrich's team provided a good defense against everything except the long run. The three Elgin Larkin scores came on gallops of 35, 65 and 86 yards. Other than those long gainers, the Prospect defenders gave up only thirty yards and just one first down.

The Knight junior varsity scores came on a 25 yard pass from Gary Guerin to Tom Beard and Bob Grady's one yard plunge. Jim Kolberg ran for Prospect's only extra point.

Prospects J.V.'s will meet Deerfield in the second game of the season this Saturday noon, at home.

Junior, Senior Leagues

Midget Grid Action Begins in Arlington

Midget football action in Arlington Heights got under way last weekend in both the Senior and Junior divisions.

Only one club emerged with a victory in the Senior League with one game resulting in a tie. The Eagles and Bears claimed decisions in the Junior loop.

The Redskins scored in the first and fourth periods for a 12-0 victory over the Rams in Senior League activity.

Scott Davis and Paul Tollefson shared quarterbacking honors and each led the Redskins to a score. Burdette Potts scored on a three-yard end run, and Mark Lehnert tallied with a 21-yard sprint with seven seconds left.

Alert defensive work set up both of the Redskins' scores. Alex Syoen pounced on a Ram fumble at the 24 and Potts scored four plays later. Scott Davis inercepted a Ram pass and raced to the 21 from where Lehnert counted.

The Lions and 49ers battled to a 6-6 deadlock with Steve Stratton scoring on a five-yard run and Dennis Meacham on a 30-yard slant off tackle.

IN THE CLOSING seconds of the game Dave Ewart passed 30 yards to Bob Kelly, who was pulled down from behind on the 15 yard line.

Defensively, Bryce Knorr, Noel Bauler, and Steve Stratton turned in fine performances for the winners. Dan Selleck, Meacham, Paul Harth, and Mike Rieder were defensive standouts for the losers.

Steve Schillinger pulled in a 40 yard pass from Gene Elsberg and Dan Carty added the extra point as the Bears blanked the Cardinals 7-0 in Junior League action.

STARRING ON defense for the Bears were Bob Klein, Jim Dolan, Chuck Jacoby, and John Coulter. Bruce Frase, Jim Chauncey, and Tom Surge earned defensive plaudits from the Cardinal coach.

The Eagles scored one touchdown in each of the first three quarters and dumped the Colts, 18-6. Mike Locasio, Steve Chase, and Gregg Conley did the scoring on short thrusts. The Colts scored on a 20-yard pass after a long run from the fake punt. No other details were available.

The Giants and Packers battled to a scoreless tie with only two first downs in the entire game. Boys who played strong games on offense were Tom Sayre, Terry Ormsbee, and Scott Lloyd.

Defensive stickouts in this scoreless battle were Tom Sayre, Jeff Selleck, Glenn Abel, Charles Donchess, Mike Walthouse, Lorne Kuffel, Scott Swanezy, John Hilton, and Scott Tremberth.

Glenbard Harriers Triumph

John Brunner was the individual winner but Arlington's varsity cross country team dropped a tight 27-30 decision to Glenbard West last Friday in the season opener.

Brunner covered the two-mile course at Pioneer Park in 9:47 with the Hilltoppers claiming the next three slots with Kinney, Evans, and Allen.

Also scoring for Russ Attis' varsity were Tom Taylor in fifth, Bob Yeazel in seventh, Tom Thornton in eighth, and Pete Barker in ninth.

Glenbard waltzed to an easy 15-76 victory in the frosh-soph action.

Jim Bergstrom was the first Cardinal cross the line with 10th. Others scoring were Jim Kussow in 11th, Jeff Johansen in 16th, Jim Sergey in 19th, and Paul Bowen in 20th.

The Cardinal runners will journey to Riverside-Brookfield Saturday and to Prospect next Tuesday afternoon.

WITH NORTH CHICAGO'S 230-pound senior Ken Thompson (76) applying the pressure, Prospect quarterback Bill Phillips fires a pass during action in the Knight's season opener last Saturday afternoon. Thompson applied enough pressure this time because Phillips' pass was picked off by a Warhawk defender. Prospect bounced the visitors 13-6. (Staff photo)

Cardinal Frosh in Grid Split

Arlington's frosh football teams registered a split in opening competition for 1964 with the 'Bs' claiming the victory.

Glenbard West rolled to an 18-6 decision on an 'A' level, but Arlington posted a 15-0 triumph in 'B' action.

"We played a good game for a half but then just let down," head coach Ted Wissen said after the 'A' setback.

Terry Pitts scored the only Cardinal touchdown on an eight-yard scamper.

Score by quarters:

Arlington	6	0	0	0	6
Glenbard	0	0	12	6	18

Glenbard West never threatened in the 'B' contest as Arlington registered a 15-0 win.

Arlington scored on a safety in the second quarter with Dick Witcher, Mike Proebstle, David Schott, and Bill Kervick in on the tackle.

Bob Gunnison tallied the first touchdown on a 10-yard run after his 35-yard pass to Arden Jacobs set up the counter. John Shultz scored from the six for the final Cardinal touchdown.

Score by quarters:

Arlington	0	2	7	6	15

It Isn't Easy

Since 1950, only one Big Ten football champion has been able to repeat its title the following year — Ohio State in 1954 and 1955. With good prospects for this year, Illinois hopes to become the second.

One-Sided Scores Feature Action in Midget Grid League

One-sided scores featured action last week in the Mount Prospect Midget Football program.

The Bears led by Greg Grippentrog defeated the Packers 27-6. The Senior game was tied 6-6 at half time. The turning point came in the second half after a sustained drive by the Packers fell short on the four yard line as Charles Hughson intercepted a pass.

From then on the Bears went on to score at will. Grippentrog scored three touchdowns while Scott Crawford contributed one.

The Bears' only tally came off tackle when Michalek carried for five yards.

THE CARDINALS shut out the Colts 20-0. Ted Passarelli scored all three tallies for the Cardinals on 78, 45, and 25 yard runs.

Three teams remain undefeated in the Junior Division after their second week of play. None of these teams meet each other next week. They are the Browns Redskins and Cowboys.

Morgan of the Browns scored on runs of 15, 40 and 36 yards while returning a punt for 55 yards for another. Brian Bakk scored the Browns first touchdown on a six yard plunge. Keith Mundt accounted for the other tally in a 37-0 route of the steelers.

THE REDSKINS jumped off to an early lead which enabled them to defeat the Rams 20-14. Vogel scored for the winners on a 25 yard pass from Carroll. Kinneman scored twice from two and 14 yards out. Points after touchdowns were made by Marshall and Vogel.

The Cowboys trimmed the 49ers 20-7 behind the running of Szala. He accounted for 14 points by end runs for two touchdowns and line plunges for the extra points. Gebert scored the other tally on an end run. A blocked punt by Grimm was recovered by O'Malley. These along with the other linemen broke the 7-7 first half tie. Jim Remsen sparkled for the 49ers He picked up a fumble and ran 50 yards for a touchdown.

Bill Brady's long runs and John Trandels' consistent passes were too much for the Eagles. They led the Vikings to a 55-0 victory over the Eagles. Casey Rush and Steve Blake played superb ball at ends catching several passes for long gains and touchdowns. The second defensive unit played the last half of the game and contained the Eagles. Mark Rossi at fullback for the Eagles gained over 120 yards but couldn't gain a score.

IN THE BANTAM Division the Badgers remained the only undefeated and untied team by romping to a 21-0 victory over the Wolverines. Johnny Glasgow scored 19 points on runs of 6, 12, and 26 yards for scores and an extra point.

Four touchdowns and two conversions gave the Buckeyes a 26-13 victory over the Panthers. Tom Gattas, Jim Robb, and Mike Kinney did the scoring for the winners with Kinney counting on an end run and kickoff return.

Jim Packard and Tom Freyman scored on scampers of 20 and 30 yards respectively in a losing cause.

The Spartans coasted to a 27-o victory over the Wildcats behind the brilliant running of Don Divito. His runs of 40, 50, 30, and 10 yards accounted for all of the Spartans' touchdowns.

The Lions tallied twice to whip the Hawkeyes 13-6 with Al Henning doing all the scoring for the victors. Kenny Holan raced 50 yards for the Hawkeyes' score.

Penalty Costly in 7-6 Setback

An off-side penalty cost Prospect's sophomore football team one point and resulted in a 7-6 loss to North Chicago in the season opener for both squads.

Quarterback John Phillips set up the lone Prospect score with a 55 yard run. The ball was carried across the goal line from 11 yards out by Vince Curry. Following the touchdown, the first extra point was good but the fatal off-side penalty nullified the score and the second attempt failed.

Coach Dick Mudge's sophs protected the 6-0 lead until 2:04 into the last quarter when North Chicago pushed across its score on a short run off right tackle. They were successful in kicking an extra point and took the lead they never gave up.

Commented Coach Mudge after the narrow loss, "The team needs a lot of fundamental improvement, particularly on defense, before our next game." That next game will be this Saturday against Deerfield.

Elgin 'Y' Taking Swim Registrations

The Elgin Y. M. C. A. is now taking registrations for the fall sessions of the "50" Inch Swim Classes.

This instruction in beginning and advanced swimming is open to any boys who are 7 or 8 years of age and who measure up to "50" inches.

First class will start on Oct. 3.

In order to accommodate the large number of youngsters that enroll in the sessions the "Y" will offer four classes, each lasting 10 weeks and meeting on Saturdays. Since classes will be limited to small groups those registering early will be given first preference on class time.

Register now at the main desk of the Y. M. C. A. (no application will be accepted by phone) and the course fee is required at the time of registration.

The next session will start on January 9.

Class times are as follows: 8:00a.m. for Advanced and 8:30, 3:45, 4:15 - Beginners.

Hebel Sets Record

Rick Hebel threatened the Fenton cross country record in the first home meet of the year. In the second one, he broke it, speeding over the 2.1 mile course at Mohawk Country Club in 10:30 to pace the Bisons to a 24-31 victory over Wheeling.

Doug Steinman and Bill Lytle gave the Wildcats second and third, but the next three places went to Bob Fraser, Paul Miller and Carl Wanzung of Fenton. Claude Sonday, the fifth Fenton finisher, took eighth. Wheeing's other scorers included Karl Meisenheimer (7), Dave Eaton (9) and Gerry Fedyski (10).

Ted Hebel set the pace in the sophomore race as the Bison sophomores rolled to a 20-43 victory. Steve Levon completed a 1-2 finish for Fenton and Greg Shornden grabbed third for the Cats.

The varsity victory was the second in three tries for Fenton, assuring the Bisons of their best season in four years. Wheeling is 0-2.

Forest View Jayvees Top Pirate Unit

Bob Arnold, Mike Holstrom and Tom Coskey each scored a touchdown for Forest View to pace the Falcons' Jayvees to a 20-6 opening day victory over a visiting Palatine eleven.

Arnold scored first on a two yard quarterback sneak in the first quarter. Holstrom tallied on a pass and lateral play that covered 38 yards in the second period, and Coskey scored on a 12 yard pass from Bob Glaser in the final stanza.

Holstrom and Ron Wayda each added an extra point to give Forest View a 20-0 fourth period lead.

Palatine tallied on a quick-opening 60 yard run by Jim Lowrey in the fourth period.

Pirates Trounce Knights

Rob MacLea set a Palatine school record for Community Park as he paced the Pirates to a 19-43 victory over Prospect in a dual cross country meet Tuesday evening.

MacLea covered the 1.85 mile layout in 9:14, :14 off the course record set by John Woods of York last week.

Palatine took six of the top seven places, scoring with Doug Brush (3), John Rosenberger (4), Bill Ashworth (5) and Bill Hoffman (6). Gary York finished second to lead the Knights. Other Prospect scorers included Gus Filantres (8), Ed Schneider (11), Dennis Breen (13) and Scott Hein (15).

Palatine also took the sophomore meet, this one by a 20-36 score. Steve Holmes of Prospect won the event in 10:16. Mike Carpenter of Palatine finished second.

Crane Tech, St. Viator to Collide Saturday

Lions Seeking Second Victory

by BOB FRISK

Crane Tech? That's a basketball school.

It's that type of thinking that Dave Zalinski battles daily as head coach of the Crane varsity football team.

"Sure, there's more interest in basketball here," Zalinski admitted. "The kids were 25-2 last year and just missed going down state."

COACHES 6
St. Viator, Joe Gliwa; Crane Tech, Dave Zalinski.

But Zalinski also admits that the football program is on the way up. "We've got some boys who really want to play football," he says.

ZALINSKI and his crew of varsity Cougars come to town Saturday afternoon for a bout with host St. Viator with the festivities scheduled for 2 p.m. at the Arlington High School field.

Crane was bounced 23-6 by Tilden Tech in its 1964 debut, and St. Viator pulled out a 2-0 victory over Glenbrook South. Both coaches termed the openers as "satisfactory."

"My line is inexperienced and it showed for a first game," Zalinski said. "But there were some bright spots even in defeat. Calderon (Ramon) was running well at fullback."

ST. VIATOR'S head man Joe Gliwa was satisfied with the defense but admitted there's "work to be done with the offense." "Actually, we accomplished a lot for a first game," Joe said. "They were big and will give anyone trouble. We gambled a lot and it paid off, and our kids hustled all the way."

Gliwa plans one major change in his offensive alignment for Saturday's non-conference game. He'll open with junior Mike Campana at the quarterback position. Campana has been alternating with Dennis Wilkinson.

"Both quarterbacks were so-so against Glenbrook, and I'd like to see what Mike can do in a starting assignment," Gliwa said. "We're still not settled on boy at that position."

EARNING PLAUDITS fr their play against Glenbook South were several members of the Lion forward wall: John Kidd, Larry O'Keefe, Dennis Zitzer, Gary Drabant, Paul Carroll, and Gary Forston.

Gliwa praised the play of Glenbrook tackle Bruce Erb, a 6-foot-1, 215-pound transfer from Rockford. "He put the pressure on all day," Joe pointed out. "He's a real good boy."

Crane Tech's Zalinski has some size in his alignment with Fred Davis (6-2, 220), Ed Foster (5-9, 220), and Ray Jackson (5-11, 200) and gears his offense around the running of Calderon, a 5-foot-7, 175-pounder.

"It's definitely a matter of inexperience with us," Zalinski summed up. "The middle five in our line are juniors and there are two juniors in the backfield. Once they've got some action behind them we'll be okay."

First Victory

Lion Harriers Roll Past IC

St. Viator's varsity cross country team rebounded from two straight setbacks with an impressive 17-42 victory over Immaculate Conception Monday afternoon.

Coach Bob Martineau's Lions took the top four positions and added a seventh in their one-sided decision.

Pat Doherty, Mike Jones, Paul Larson, and John Drnec were the first four runners across the line against the Elmhurst school. Bob Nemec was in seventh.

IN OTHER harrier action St. George of Evanston bumped the Lions on both varsity (22-35) and frosh-soph (28-31) levels.

Jones gave St. Viator an individual first in the varsity class with a 10:24.5 clocking on the Dragons' course. Doherty (6), Larson (7), Nemec (10), and Drnec (11) rounded out the scoring.

Cunningham paced the local frosh-sophs with a second. Others scoring were Dan Rich with a fourth, Tremblay with a sixth, Dwyer with a seventh, and Mulcahy with a ninth.

IN THE competition with Barrington the host Bronchos pulled out a 22-34 victory. No other details were available although Jones and Doherty were the top Lion finishers.

A meet with Glenbrook South, scheduled for last Friday, was rained out and will be held at a later date.

In coming action St. Viator will host Elmwood Park Friday afternoon at 4:15 and then journey to Holy Cross Monday.

Martineau, head coach of the Lions, has reason to smile for other reasons than that first victory Monday. Bob became the proud father of a baby boy this week.

Irlbacker Goes 92

Arlington Sophs Stop Barrington

Arlington's sophomore Cardinals shot into an early lead Friday on a 92-yard run with a recovered fumble by Herb Irlbacker, fell behind later in the period, then battled back to record an 18-13 victory in the season football opener.

The young Cards, coached by Tom Fitchford, a newcomer to the Arlington coaching staff, carried a 12-7 lead at the intermission and added the deciding touchdown in the final quarter.

Halfback Doug Fink took a pitchout from quarterback Brad Somers and scampered 34 yards down the eastern sidelines for the Cards' second touchdown with 53 seconds left in the first half.

In the fourth segment Somers hit Mike Wadzita with a screen pass, and Wadzita raced 30 yards for the six points.

BARRINGTON scored in the first period on a 15-yard run by Tom Wood and added its second quarter late in the game on an eight-yard dash.

Irlbacker's 92-yard run in the first period came when Barrington was driving toward paydirt. A holding penalty gave the visiting Ponies a first down at the 21 and two thrusts put the ball on the 10.

In another smash at the line the ball popped into Irlbacher's hands at the eight yard line, and the soph was off to the races.

Arlington's sophs, who have yet to taste defeat in grid competition after an unbeaten plebe campaign, will battle a host Riverside-Brookfield eleven this Saturday at 12 noon.

Extra Point Decisive

Forest View Edges Palatine in Opener

by MARV PRELLBERG, Jr.

Forest View's varsity football squad christened the new Falcon athletic field last Saturday afternoon with a hard-earned 7-6 opening season conquest over visiting Palatine High.

The Falcons flew rather listlessly and unimpressively through the first three periods of play, but chased the pirates off of the Forest View nesting grounds with a sudden and explosive fourth quarter attack.

Except for an electrifying 48 yard touchdown play by Palatine midway in the first quarter, these two relatively inexperienced varsity elevens gave the shirt sleeve crowd little to get excited about during the first three quarters of activity.

HOWEVER, WITH the Falcon defense keeping the pressure on the Pirates' elusive quarterback, John Warder, in the final two periods, Forest View's offensive unit moved for the game tying TD with an explosive two-play, 46 yard drive to pay dirt in the opening minutes of the last quarter.

Possibly the biggest play of the game came on the Falcons' extra point try. Earlier Seth Norton had sent Palatine's first extra point kick through the uprights, but a penalty nullified the successful attempt, and the second try failed.

SCORING:
Forest View: Dunnigan (21 yard run): PAT—Boesenberg (kick).
Palatine: Render (48 yard pass from Warder)

Coach Bob Scott gave this important Falcon extra point attempt responsibility to junior quarterback Chuck Boesenberg. He responded to the occasion by splitting the uprights for the all-important seventh point.

PALATINE TOOK little time in getting out in front of the host eleven by scoring the first time that it had possession of the ball.

The Pirates took over early in the opening frame on its own 41 yard stripe. In three running plays they had a first down on Forest View's 48, on the first down play Warder rolled out to his right and hit Wayne Render with a picture-type pass on the 11, and Render sped into the end zone for a Pirate score.

Palatine threatened in the second quarter when it twice penetrated within the Falcon 15 yard line, but the Forest View defense stiffened and stopped both of these drives.

THE PIRATE 6-0 lead held up until it was forced to punt in the opening minutes of the final quarter. Bob Coon grabbed this boot for the Falcons and returned 20 yards to the Pirate 46.

Quarterback Steve Mueller then sent Bob Kohn ripping through the Palatine line for 25 yards, and, on the very next play, halfback Pat Dunnigan bolted through his own right tackle and raced the remaining 21 yards into the end zone.

Boesenberg then just managed to get off the successful extra point kick, and Forest View had a 7-6 lead.

Forest View continued to dominate play in the remainder of the game, and even had a fine 54 yard punt return score by Coon called back because of a clipping infraction.

The Pirates had possession of the ball in the last minute of play, but Forest View claimed the 7-6 victory when the last second ticked off the clock.

Glenbard's Jayvees Top Cards

Glenbard West scored in the first and second periods and held on for a 12-6 jayvee football victory over Arlington Monday afternoon.

The Hilltoppers counted on a five-yard run and 15-yard pass play.

Mike McGrath tallied Arlington's only touchdown on a four-yard run.

"I felt the defense was disappointing," head coach Brendan Flynn said. "They lacked the fire which they had been showing in practice."

Flynn credited Rick Engelson with a creditable job in his first game at quarterback. He also praised the running of Steve Hookum, McGrath, Chip Douglas, and Terry Clark.

All-America Grid Nominee

Bill Zadel, a kingpin of the Army line and rated one of the best guards in the East, was tapped by the Nation's coaches today as a top qualifier for the 1964 All-America team.

Zadel, a towering 230-pounder from Mount Prospect, was among 53 college stars deemed eligible by the American Football Coaches Association for the 75th annual All-America eleven. The glittering roster was announced in the current issue (Sept. 26) of TV Guide magazine by Len Casanova, association president and head coach at the University of Oregon.

A crashing cadet completing his tenure at Army, Zadel figures prominently in coach Paul Dietzel's bid for another successful season to go with his 1963 log of 7-3.

Crane Tech, St. Viator to Collide Saturday

Lions Seeking Second Victory

by BOB FRISK

Crane Tech? That's a basketball school.

It's that type of thinking that Dave Zalinski battles daily as head coach of the Crane varsity football team.

"Sure, there's more interest in basketball here," Zalinski admitted. "The kids were 25-2 last year and just missed going down state."

But Zalinski also admits that the football program is on the way up. "We've got some boys who really want to play football," he says.

ZALINSKI and his crew of varsity Cougars come to town Saturday afternoon for a bout with host St. Viator with the festivities scheduled for 2 p.m. at the Arlington High School field.

Crane was bounced 23-6 by Tilden Tech in its 1964 debut, and St. Viator pulled out a 2-0 victory over Glenbrook South. Both coaches termed the openers as "satisfactory."

"My line is inexperienced and it showed for a first game," Zalinski said. "But there were some bright spots even in defeat. Calderon (Ramon) was running well at fullback."

ST. VIATOR'S head man Joe Gliwa was satisfied with the defense but admitted there's "work to be done with the offense." "Actually, we accomplished a lot for a first game," Joe said. "They were big and will give anyone trouble. We gambled a lot and it paid off, and our kids hustled all the way."

Gliwa plans one major change in his offensive alignment for Saturday's non-conference game. He'll open with junior Mike Campana at the quarterback position. Campana has been alternating with Dennis Wilkinson.

"Both quarterbacks were so-so against Glenbrook, and I'd like to see what Mike can do in a starting assignment," Gliwa said. "We're still not settled on boy at that position."

EARNING PLAUDITS fr their play against Glenbook South were several members of the Lion forward wall: John Kidd, Larry O'Keefe, Dennis Zitzer, Gary Drabant, Paul Carroll, and Gary Forston.

Gliwa praised the play of Glenbrook tackle Bruce Erb, a 6-foot-1, 215-pound transfer from Rockford. "He put the pressure on all day," Joe pointed out. "He's a real good boy."

Crane Tech's Zalinski has some size in his alignment with Fred Davis (6-2, 220), Ed Foster (5-9, 220), and Ray Jackson (5-11, 200) and gears his offense around the running of Calderon, a 5-foot-7, 175-pounder.

"It's definitely a matter of inexperience with us," Zalinski summed up. "The middle five in our line are juniors and there are two juniors in the backfield. Once they've got some action behind them we'll be okay."

First Victory

Lion Harriers Roll Past IC

St. Viator's varsity cross country team rebounded from two straight setbacks with an impressive 17-42 victory over Immaculate Conception Monday afternoon.

Coach Bob Martineau's Lions took the top four positions and added a seventh in their one-sided decision.

Pat Doherty, Mike Jones, Paul Larson, and John Drnec were the first four runners across the line against the Elmhurst school. Bob Nemec was in seventh.

IN OTHER harrier action St. George of Evanston bumped the Lions on both varsity (22-35) and frosh-soph (28-31) levels.

Jones gave St. Viator an individual first in the varsity class with a 10:24.5 clocking on the Dragons' course. Doherty (6), Larson (7), Nemec (10), and Drnec (11) rounded out the scoring.

Cunningham paced the local frosh-sophs with a second. Others scoring were Dan Rich with a fourth, Tremblay with a sixth, Dwyer with a seventh, and Mulcahy with a ninth.

IN THE competition with Barrington the host Bronchos pulled out a 22-34 victory. No other details were available although Jones and Doherty were the top Lion finishers.

A meet with Glenbrook South, scheduled for last Friday, was rained out and will be held at a later date.

In coming action St. Viator will host Elmwood Park Friday afternoon at 4:15 and then journey to Holy Cross Monday.

Martineau, head coach of the Lions, has reason to smile for other reasons than that first victory Monday. Bob became the proud father of a baby boy this week.

Irlbacker Goes 92

Arlington Sophs Stop Barrington

Arlington's sophomore Cardinals shot into an early lead Friday on a 92-yard run with a recovered fumble by Herb Irlbacker, fell behind later in the period, then battled back to record an 18-13 victory in the season football opener.

The young Cards, coached by Tom Fitchford, a newcomer to the Arlington coaching staff, carried a 12-7 lead at the intermission and added the deciding touchdown in the final quarter.

Halfback Doug Fink took a pitchout from quarterback Brad Somers and scampered 34 yards down the eastern sidelines for the Cards' second touchdown with 53 seconds left in the first half.

In the fourth segment Somers hit Mike Wadzita with a screen pass, and Wadzita raced 30 yards for the six points.

BARRINGTON scored in the first period on a 15-yard run by Tom Wood and added its second quarter late in the game on an eight-yard dash.

Irlbacker's 92-yard run in the first period came when Barrington was driving toward paydirt. A holding penalty gave the visiting Ponies a first down at the 21 and two thrusts put the ball on the 10.

In another smash at the line the ball popped into Irlbacher's hands at the eight yard line, and the soph was off to the races.

Arlington's sophs, who have yet to taste defeat in grid competition after an unbeaten plebe campaign, will battle a host Riverside-Brookfield eleven this Saturday at 12 noon.

Extra Point Decisive

Forest View Edges Palatine in Opener

by MARV PRELLBERG, Jr.

Forest View's varsity football squad christened the new Falcon athletic field last Saturday afternoon with a hard-earned 7-6 opening season conquest over visiting Palatine High.

The Falcons flew rather listlessly and unimpressively through the first three periods of play, but chased the pirates off of the Forest View nesting grounds with a sudden and explosive fourth quarter attack.

Except for an electrifying 48 yard touchdown play by Palatine midway in the first quarter, these two relatively inexperienced varsity elevens gave the shirt sleeve crowd little to get excited about during the first three quarters of activity.

HOWEVER, WITH the Falcon defense keeping the pressure on the Pirates' elusive quarterback, John Warder, in the final two periods, Forest View's offensive unit moved for the game tying TD with an explosive two-play, 46 yard drive to pay dirt in the opening minutes of the last quarter.

Possibly the biggest play of the game came on the Falcons' extra point try. Earlier Seth Norton had sent Palatine's first extra point kick through the uprights, but a penalty nullified the successful attempt, and the second try failed.

Coach Bob Scott gave this important Falcon extra point attempt responsibility to junior quarterback Chuck Boesenberg. He responded to the occasion by splitting the uprights for the all-important seventh point.

PALATINE TOOK little time in getting out in front of the host eleven by scoring the first time that it had possession of the ball.

The Pirates took over early in the opening frame on its own 41 yard stripe. In three running plays they had a first down on Forest View's 48, on the first down play Warder rolled out to his right and hit Wayne Render with a picture-type pass on the 11, and Render sped into the end zone for a Pirate score.

Palatine threatened in the second quarter when it twice penetrated within the Falcon 15 yard line, but the Forest View defense stiffened and stopped both of these drives.

THE PIRATE 6-0 lead held up until it was forced to punt in the opening minutes of the final quarter. Bob Coon grabbed this boot for the Falcons and returned 20 yards to the Pirate 46.

Quarterback Steve Mueller then sent Bob Kohn ripping through the Palatine line for 25 yards, and, on the very next play, halfback Pat Dunnigan bolted through his own right tackle and raced the remaining 21 yards into the end zone.

Boesenberg then just managed to get off the successful extra point kick, and Forest View had a 7-6 lead.

Forest View continued to dominate play in the remainder of the game, and even had a fine 54 yard punt return score by Coon called back because of a clipping infraction.

The Pirates had possession of the ball in the last minute of play, but Forest View claimed the 7-6 victory when the last second ticked off the clock.

Glenbard's Jayvees Top Cards

Glenbard West scored in the first and second periods and held on for a 12-6 jayvee football victory over Arlington Monday afternoon.

The Hilltoppers counted on a five-yard run and 15-yard pass play.

Mike McGrath tallied Arlington's only touchdown on a four-yard run.

"I felt the defense was disappointing," head coach Brendan Flynn said. "They lacked the fire which they had been showing in practice."

Flynn credited Rick Engelson with a creditable job in his first game at quarterback. He also praised the running of Steve Hookum, McGrath, Chip Douglas, and Terry Clark.

All-America Grid Nominee

Bill Zadel, a kingpin of the Army line and rated one of the best guards in the East, was tapped by the Nation's coaches today as a top qualifier for the 1964 All-America team.

Zadel, a towering 230-pounder from Mount Prospect, was among 53 college stars deemed eligible by the American Football Coaches Association for the 75th annual All-America eleven. The glittering roster was announced in the current issue (Sept. 26) of TV Guide magazine by Len Casanova, association president and head coach at the University of Oregon.

A crashing cadet completing his tenure at Army, Zadel figures prominently in coach Paul Dietzel's bid for another successful season to go with his 1963 log of 7-3.

JUST DOGS

By Dave Terrill

Not The Best . . .

Inasmuch as we are in the middle of National Dog Week, this year it runs from Sept. 20 to 26, perhaps a little thought given to the health and feeding of your dog might be considered.

Dog owners who supplement from their own table the dog foods consumed by their pets are not doing them any good, but rather "killing them with kindness," states the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York City. The Center points to a study made by a group of medical and veterinary researchers and reported in the Archives of Pathology, which shows that dogs fed regular dog food do not have the cholesterol problem of those whose diets are supplemented with human food.

A test group of 160 household pets of relatively affluent neighborhood families was fed a basal home diet of commercial dog food to which such human foods as cottage cheese, eggs, milk and meat were added. A control group of 156 adult dogs was fed a diet consisting primarily of stock commercial dog food supplemented occasionally with animal meat.

Comparison of the two groups of dogs upon completion of the study revealed that the mean level of cholestrol among the pets was three-fourths higher than the mean of the control group dogs.

State Dog . . .

The legislature of the state of Maryland has adopted the Chesapeake Bay Retriever as the official "State Dog of the Free State of Maryland."

The Chesapeake is, of course, one of America's native breeds developed along the shores of Maryland. A fine companion dog, he is also noted as a powerful swimmer.

Skokie Valley . . .

The Skokie Valley Kennel Club will hold its 25th all-breed dog show on Sunday, Oct. 11, at Meadow Hill Park, located on Waukegan Road, one block south of Walters Street in Northbrook.

Dorothy H. Cory of Arlington Heights, president of the club, advises that entries will close Tuesday noon, Sept. 29, at the show superintendent's office. If you need an entry blank you can write to the Bow Dog Show Organization, 9999 Broad St., Detroit, Mich. 48204.

Irish Setter Club . . .

On the Saturday before the Skokie show, Oct. 10 to be exact, the Western Irish Setter Club will hold its fall specialty show at Tara, located at 1800 Halfday Road, Highland Park. Entries for this also close at noon Sept. 29.

For more information, contact the show secretary, Dorothy Cory, 901 N. Rand Road, Arlington Heights.

International World's Chamiponship . . .

Of interest is the fact that Jan. 10-20, 1966 there will be an international show to be held in Nassau, Bahamas. Plans are now under way for a show to end all shows. More on this at a later date.

Barks & Bays . . .

Don't forget, it's National Dog Week . . . an extra pat on the head will be appreciated by "Ol' Slugger."

Name Officers Of Prospect's Boosters Club

Howard Jarvis, 101 N. Phelps, Arlington Heights, will serve as president of the Prospect High School Boosters Club for the 1964-65 school year.

Other officers named are Paul Kivland, 1127 N. Windsor, Arlington Heights, Membership Vice President; Edith Hanson, 503 S. George, Mount Prospect, Secretary; Charles Hughson, 202 E. Council Trail, Mount Prospect, Treasurer; Alice Kowal, 401 N. Prospect Manor, Mount Prospect, Publicity Vice President; and Walter Strobel, 1319 E. Mayfair, Arlington Heights, Member-At-Large.

Prospect's Booster Club benefits all the students at the school. It subsidizes the buses which take student spectators to the road games. Students pay a token fee of 25 cents, but this does not pay for the rental of the buses.

PART OF the parents' membership fees pays for the buses, and many students who otherwise could not attend the games are able to under this program.

The Booster Club prints a fact sheet of its other activities, and anyone may pick up a copy by contacting a board member.

Memberships cost, annually, $3, $5, and $10, depending on what each person wishes to contribute.

The Prospect Boosters' "Reserved Seating" for Booster Club members at home games is a special feature offered to members, to guarantee a good seat at every contest.

At home football games the Prospect Boosters Club maintains a table where parents and interested persons may obtain their memberships or information concerning the group's activities. Maps may be picked up showing locations of other schools on the Prospect athletic schedules.

SOMETHING'S GOTTA GIVE. This collision occurred Saturday afternoon at Prospect High School when North Chicago fullback Tony Gesky (39) rammed into a Knight defender after a sizeable jaunt. Bronchos Stun Card Unit With Touchdown In Closing Seconds

by BOB FRISK

You're trailing by one point with 23 seconds remaining. You're desperate. You need that big play.

You reach into your play book and pull out a dazzler that even a Hollywood script writer would turn down as "too unbelievable."

You try a triple reverse and long pass and it clicks.

You pull out a heart-stopping 26-20 victory.

They'll talk about that one last Friday evening for a long time.

VISITING Barrington stunned the host Cardinals, 26-20, in the season opener. They found themselves down by one point and on top by six within a matter of seconds.

What transpired in those few seconds makes for entertaining reading if you're a Barrington fan. If you're an Arlington fan you'll get more laughs from an Edgar Allen Poe story.

Everything was coming up roses for Al Allen's Cards when Mike Frase took a seven-yard scoring pitch from soph Steve Allen to terminate a 49-yard scoring drive. Tom LeStarge carried over for the extra point and a 20-19 Arlington lead with only seconds remaining.

AND THEN disaster struck for Arlington, winless in varsity football competition since the last game of the 1962 season.

Barrington took the ensuing kickoff back to its own 48 yard line and proceeded to pull off the triple reverse and long pass with Jimmy Johnson and Ron Hopkins collaborating on this daring and successful maneuver.

You had to be there to believe it. Even Hopkins, a 170-pound junior who had seen only limited action on offense, appeared shocked as he gathered in the Johnson aerial and scampered the rest of the way for the six points.

THE BRONCHOS of the North Suburban Conference scored the first and last time they handled the football in this crowd-pleasing non-league attraction.

Rick Voss, a 175-pound senior who earned all-conference honors as a junior, bolted up the middle on a quick opener and sprinted 45 yards for the first Broncho score with 9:46 remaining in the first period. Voss, who had a busy evening, also tallied the extra point on a run.

Arlington battled back and knotted the count late in the opening segment on a 14-yard scamper around right end by speedster Steve Ewart. The payoff dash climaxed a drive of 44 yards which included some hard-running by Ewart, Mike Frase, and Charley Hood.

Ken Butcher converted to give the Cards a 7-7 deadlock.

BARRINGTON struck again early in the second stanza on a drive of 63 yards. Voss smashed in from the three, but Arlington's Butcher and soph Kim Markshausen stacked up the running try for the extra point.

A snappy 43-yard runback of the kickoff by sophomore Steve Conley set up Arlington's second touchdown in the third quarter. Steve was stopped at the Barrington 37 and in 12 plays the Cards scored with Frase smashing in from the one. Butcher's kick was off the mark.

The Bronchos scored their third touchdown early in the fourth quarter with a Johnson to Terry List pass eating up 40 of the 63 yards on the march.

GUARD JIM Stueber pounced on a Barrington fumble midway in the fourth quarter to ignite the Cards' final scoring thrust. LeStarge and Allen alternated at quarterback in the drive with Allen pitching a seven-yard pass to Frase for the score. LeStarge carried in for the extra point and Arlington held a 20-19 lead with seconds remaining.

Now, Barrington's head coach Bill Graham had to go to his bag of tricks.

You're trailing by one point with 23 seconds remaining. You're desperate. You need that big play.

Graham had the big play.

Kersten Runbacks Pace Hawks To 26-0 Win Over Wheeling

by TOM TULLY

Wheeling football coach Bill Daletski is seeing his Wildcats in punt formation in his sleep this week. It doesn't figure to make him a cheery breakfast companion.

Daletski's Cats got fourth downed right out of Maine East stadium last Friday evening, dropping a 26-0 decision to Maine South in the first varsity game for the two new schools.

Marv Nyren's Hawks displayed the savvy of the seniors that Wheeling lacks and superior speed but the margin was not worth four touchdowns. The spread can be attributed to the problems the Wildcats experienced with their kicking game. All four Hawk touchdowns resulted from Wheeling punting misfortunes.

Particularly troublesome was the punt coverage. Swift Tom Kersten brought one Wheeling punt back 49 yards for a touchdown, set up another with a 36 yard return, and legged a third one back 43 yards to give the Hawks an opportunity in the waning seconds of the first half.

In addition to Kersten's heroics, a third Hawk touchdown can be traced to a blocked Wheeling punt. Dave Howle, a rangy Maine South tackle who had been threatening to block Ken Traversone punts earlier in the evening, finally fielded one with his chest late in the second period. After being dazed momentarily, he flopped the ball at the Wheeling 28 and four plays later, the Hawks were in the end zone.

The two clubs battled through a scoreless first period, but Wheeling faced a kicking situation from its own 25 as the clubs switched ends of the field. Traversone lifted the boot 33 yards to Kersten at the Hawk 42 and the Maine swifty followed a protective wall of blockers down the left sideline to the Wildcat six.

Three times Kersten's number was called and three times he charged over right tackle. On the third try he blasted over from two yards out. The score came at 10:30 of the period.

THE TEAMS traded punts and when Wheeling was unable to move on a second try, Traversone retreated to punt from his own 44. The boot got no farther than Howle's midsection and Maine struck rapidly from the 28.

Kersten's 16 yard journey around right end paced a three play series that advanced the ball to the Cat seven. Fullback Jim Yrigoyen found left tackle an open route to the end zone.

Kersten ran another punt back to the Wheeling 18 in the dying seconds of the half, but the clock ran out on the Hawks after one incomplete pass.

The first three scrimmage plays of the second half left Wheeling with fourth and four from its own 24. Traversone booted it out and Kersten shagged it at the Maine 49. This time the protective red jerseys lined the right sideline and Kersten stepped into the end zone at 9:04 of the third quarter.

The all-purpose Kersten gave his team another chance late in the period when he intercepted a Mark Newman aerial and returned it 26 yards to the Wheeling 14. The Wildcats dug in and halted the threat at the six.

THE HAWKS final score came after a good old fashioned short punt. Traversone, backed into his endzone early in the fourth frame, saw his punt roll dead on his own 33. On the second play, reserve halfback Ron Otto raced 35 yards to the Wheeling one. On the next play Bob Cieslak blasted over for the score. Jim Van Schoyek booted his second of four point after attempts to run the count to 26-0.

The Wheeling offense got rolling just once. Midway in the fourth period Newman hit Dennis Francl for 13 yards and Traversone for 23 to steer his team to the Maine 16. On the next play Jim Bowker slashed to the ten, but fumbled to end the threat.

The Hawk defense kept the Cats in poor field position all evening. Wheeling managed just three first downs and was limited to 39 yards rushing and 36 yards passing. Newman hit on two of twelve passes and Bowker led the rushers with 32 yards in nine carries.

Maine gained all of its 246 yards on the ground. Tim Sheldon led the winners with 82 yards in nine trips including one dash of 47 yards. Kersten, easily the outstanding back on the field, chipped in with 66 yards in eleven carries.

Lambert Paces Falcon Harriers

Lead by Ted Lambert, Forest View's varsity cross country runners gained their second straight victory of the young season when they defeated East Leyden, 20 to 38, last Thursday.

Sophomore Lambert, leading all finishers across the line, also achieved his second 1st place finish.

The varsity runners were joined in victory over the Forest View course by F.V.'s frosh-soph team which won by an even larger margin, 17-46.

In again winning first place, Lambert cut 10 seconds from his total in the first meet, held against Elgin Larkin, as he finished in 10:20 over the two mile course. East Leyden captured second but Craig Brown (10:30), Jerry Potter (10:38), and Terry Haydon (10:41) gained 3rd, 4th and 5th places for the Falcon harriers. Howard Hogle (10:45) brought seven points to the Forest View total with his 7th place finish in this sport where low score wins.

As he had in thefirst meet, Mike Ancona again took first for the frosh-sophs. His winning time was 9:18 over a course shorter than that run on by the varsity. Ancona was followed closely by Dick Appleton (9:20) who grabbed second. Third, 5th and 6th places were taken by Bucky Jones (9:28), Bill Gravitt (9:36), and Jerry Patterson (9:37).

Attempting to remain unbeaten, Forest View will meet Glenbrook North in its thrid home match tomorrow at 4:30.

Falcon Jayvees Triumph

In its first contest of the season, Forest View's junior varsity football team defeated Palatine 20 to 6. Head Coach Paul Jordan's squad captured victory last Saturday mainly through a good defense and the quarterbacking of Bob Arnold.

With Mike Severens and Pete Phillips doing what Coach Jordan called, "an outstanding job on defense," Arnold paced the offense to its first two scores.

In the first quarter Arnold plunged one yard for the initial Falcon J.V. score and, in the next period, passed 40 yards to Mike Holstrom for a second T.D.

The final F.V. touchdown came on a last period Bob Glaser to Tom Coskey aerial covering 30 yards. Coskey and Ron Wayda ran for the two extra points scored by Forest View.

The only Palatine six-pointer came in the last quarter.

The junior varsity's second game will be at home this Saturday noon against Glenbrook North.

Sideline Timer

Eugene (Buck) Schroth will be starting his 25th season as official sideline timer for Illithe Illini meet Ohio State Oct. 10 in the 1964 home opener.

"I've gone through two generations of officials in that time," Schroth says. "There's no one working the games today who was around when I started."

Buck, who is the assistant director of the University of Illinois' Allerton House, also works during both football and basketball seasons in the grading of officials.

Forest View's Sophs Blank Pirates, 6-0

Forest View's sophomore football team won its first game of the season 6-0 from Palatine but suffered a loss which will hinder further victories.

Quarterback Frank Calvello, who went 50 yards on a run-pass option in the first quarter for the only Falcon score, will be lost to the team indefinitely due to a severe wrist injury.

Still with the team will be its rugged defense. Lead by Dave Kaspari and Randy Shutt the defensemen held Palatine scoreless and didn't allow them to penetrate beyond the Forest View 30 yard line.

Two last quarter thrusts at the Palatine end zone were stopped just short of pay dirt. Kaspari returned an intercepted pass to the Pirates' 12 yard line and a later drive died on the 5.

Coach Bob Walther will lead his sophomores against Glenbrook North in the Falcons' second game this Saturday.

JUST DOGS

By Dave Terrill

Not The Best . . .

Inasmuch as we are in the middle of National Dog Week, this year it runs from Sept. 20 to 26, perhaps a little thought given to the health and feeding of your dog might be considered.

Dog owners who supplement from their own table the dog foods consumed by their pets are not doing them any good, but rather "killing them with kindness," states the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York City. The Center points to a study made by a group of medical and veterinary researchers and reported in the Archives of Pathology, which shows that dogs fed regular dog food do not have the cholesterol problem of those whose diets are supplemented with human food.

A test group of 160 household pets of relatively affluent neighborhood families was fed a basal home diet of commercial dog food to which such human foods as cottage cheese, eggs, milk and meat were added. A control group of 156 adult dogs was fed a diet consisting primarily of stock commercial dog food supplemented occasionally with animal meat.

Comparison of the two groups of dogs upon completion of the study revealed that the mean level of cholestrol among the pets was three-fourths higher than the mean of the control group dogs.

State Dog . . .

The legislature of the state of Maryland has adopted the Chesapeake Bay Retriever as the official "State Dog of the Free State of Maryland."

The Chesapeake is, of course, one of America's native breeds developed along the shores of Maryland. A fine companion dog, he is also noted as a powerful swimmer.

Skokie Valley . . .

The Skokie Valley Kennel Club will hold its 25th all-breed dog show on Sunday, Oct. 11, at Meadow Hill Park, located on Waukegan Road, one block south of Walters Street in Northbrook.

Dorothy H. Cory of Arlington Heights, president of the club, advises that entries will close Tuesday noon, Sept. 29, at the show superintendent's office. If you need an entry blank you can write to the Bow Dog Show Organization, 9999 Broad St., Detroit, Mich. 48204.

Irish Setter Club . . .

On the Saturday before the Skokie show, Oct. 10 to be exact, the Western Irish Setter Club will hold its fall specialty show at Tara, located at 1800 Halfday Road, Highland Park. Entries for this also close at noon Sept. 29.

For more information, contact the show secretary, Dorothy Cory, 901 N. Rand Road, Arlington Heights.

International World's Chamiponship . . .

Of interest is the fact that Jan. 10-20, 1966 there will be an international show to be held in Nassau, Bahamas. Plans are now under way for a show to end all shows. More on this at a later date.

Barks & Bays . . .

Don't forget, it's National Dog Week . . . an extra pat on the head will be appreciated by "Ol' Slugger."

Name Officers Of Prospect's Boosters Club

Howard Jarvis, 101 N. Phelps, Arlington Heights, will serve as president of the Prospect High School Boosters Club for the 1964-65 school year.

Other officers named are Paul Kivland, 1127 N. Windsor, Arlington Heights, Membership Vice President; Edith Hanson, 503 S. George, Mount Prospect, Secretary; Charles Hughson, 202 E. Council Trail, Mount Prospect, Treasurer; Alice Kowal, 401 N. Prospect Manor, Mount Prospect, Publicity Vice President; and Walter Strobel, 1319 E. Mayfair, Arlington Heights, Member-At-Large.

Prospect's Booster Club benefits all the students at the school. It subsidizes the buses which take student spectators to the road games. Students pay a token fee of 25 cents, but this does not pay for the rental of the buses.

PART OF the parents' membership fees pays for the buses, and many students who otherwise could not attend the games are able to under this program.

The Booster Club prints a fact sheet of its other activities, and anyone may pick up a copy by contacting a board member.

Memberships cost, annually, $3, $5, and $10, depending on what each person wishes to contribute.

The Prospect Boosters' "Reserved Seating" for Booster Club members at home games is a special feature offered to members, to guarantee a good seat at every contest.

At home football games the Prospect Boosters Club maintains a table where parents and interested persons may obtain their memberships or information concerning the group's activities. Maps may be picked up showing locations of other schools on the Prospect athletic schedules.

SOMETHING'S GOTTA GIVE. This collision occurred Saturday afternoon at Prospect High School when North Chicago fullback Tony Gesky (39) rammed into a Knight defender after a sizeable jaunt. Bronchos Stun Card Unit With Touchdown In Closing Seconds

by BOB FRISK

You're trailing by one point with 23 seconds remaining. You're desperate. You need that big play.

You reach into your play book and pull out a dazzler that even a Hollywood script writer would turn down as "too unbelievable."

You try a triple reverse and long pass and it clicks. You pull out a heart-stopping 26-20 victory.

They'll talk about that one last Friday evening for a long time.

VISITING Barrington stunned the host Cardinals, 26-20, in the season opener. They found themselves down by one point and on top by six within a matter of seconds.

What transpired in those few seconds makes for entertaining reading if you're a Barrington fan. If you're an Arlington fan you'll get more laughs from an Edgar Allen Poe story.

Everything was coming up roses for Al Allen's Cards when Mike Frase took a seven-yard scoring pitch from soph Steve Allen to terminate a 49-yard scoring drive. Tom LeStarge carried over for the extra point and a 20-19 Arlington lead with only seconds remaining.

AND THEN disaster struck for Arlington, winless in varsity football competition since the last game of the 1962 season.

Barrington took the ensuing kickoff back to its own 48 yard line and proceeded to pull off the triple reverse and long pass with Jimmy Johnson and Ron Hopkins collaborating on this daring and successful maneuver.

You had to be there to believe it. Even Hopkins, a 170-pound junior who had seen only limited action on offense, appeared shocked as he gathered in the Johnson aerial and scampered the rest of the way for the six points.

THE BRONCHOS of the North Suburban Conference scored the first and last time they handled the football in this crowd-pleasing non-league attraction.

Rick Voss, a 175-pound senior who earned all-conference honors as a junior, bolted up the middle on a quick opener and sprinted 45 yards for the first Broncho score with 9:46 remaining in the first period. Voss, who had a busy evening, also tallied the extra point on a run.

Arlington battled back and knotted the count late in the opening segment on a 14-yard scamper around right end by speedster Steve Ewart. The payoff dash climaxed a drive of 44 yards which included some hard-running by Ewart, Mike Frase, and Charley Hood.

Ken Butcher converted to give the Cards a 7-7 deadlock.

BARRINGTON struck again early in the second stanza on a drive of 63 yards. Voss smashed in from the three, but Arlington's Butcher and soph Kim Markshausen stacked up the running try for the extra point.

A snappy 43-yard runback of the kickoff by sophomore Steve Conley set up Arlington's second touchdown in the third quarter. Steve was stopped at the Barrington 37 and in 12 plays the Cards scored with Frase smashing in from the one. Butcher's kick was off the mark.

The Bronchos scored their third touchdown early in the fourth quarter with a Johnson to Terry List pass eating up 40 of the 63 yards on the march.

GUARD JIM Stueber pounced on a Barrington fumble midway in the fourth quarter to ignite the Cards' final scoring thrust. LeStarge and Allen alternated at quarterback in the drive with Allen pitching a seven-yard pass to Frase for the score. LeStarge carried in for the extra point and Arlington held a 20-19 lead with seconds remaining.

Now, Barrington's head coach Bill Graham had to go to his bag of tricks.

You're trailing by one point with 23 seconds remaining. You're desperate. You need that big play.

Graham had the big play.

Kersten Runbacks Pace Hawks To 26-0 Win Over Wheeling

by TOM TULLY

Wheeling football coach Bill Daletski is seeing his Wildcats in punt formation in his sleep this week. It doesn't figure to make him a cheery breakfast companion.

Daletski's Cats got fourth downed right out of Maine East stadium last Friday evening, dropping a 26-0 decision to Maine South in the first varsity game for the two new schools.

Marv Nyren's Hawks displayed the savvy of the seniors that Wheeling lacks and superior speed but the margin was not worth four touchdowns. The spread can be attributed to the problems the Wildcats experienced with their kicking game. All four Hawk touchdowns resulted from Wheeling punting misfortunes.

Particularly troublesome was the punt coverage. Swift Tom Kersten brought one Wheeling punt back 49 yards for a touchdown, set up another with a 36 yard return, and legged a third one back 43 yards to give the Hawks an opportunity in the waning seconds of the first half.

In addition to Kersten's heroics, a third Hawk touchdown can be traced to a blocked Wheeling punt. Dave Howle, a rangy Maine South tackle who had been threatening to block Ken Traversone punts earlier in the evening, finally fielded one with his chest late in the second period. After being dazed momentarily, he flopped the ball at the Wheeling 28 and four plays later, the Hawks were in the end zone.

The two clubs battled through a scoreless first period, but Wheeling faced a kicking situation from its own 25 as the clubs switched ends of the field. Traversone lifted the boot 33 yards to Kersten at the Hawk 42 and the Maine swifty followed a protective wall of blockers down the left sideline to the Wildcat six.

Three times Kersten's number was called and three times he charged over right tackle. On the third try he blasted over from two yards out. The score came at 10:30 of the period.

THE TEAMS traded punts and when Wheeling was unable to move on a second try, Traversone retreated to punt from his own 44. The boot got no farther than Howle's midsection and Maine struck rapidly from the 28.

Kersten's 16 yard journey around right end paced a three play series that advanced the ball to the Cat seven. Fullback Jim Yrigoyen found left tackle an open route to the end zone.

Kersten ran another punt back to the Wheeling 18 in the dying seconds of the half, but the clock ran out on the Hawks after one incomplete pass.

The first three scrimmage plays of the second half left Wheeling with fourth and four from its own 24. Traversone booted it out and Kersten shagged it at the Maine 49. This time the protective red jerseys lined the right sideline and Kersten stepped into the end zone at 9:04 of the third quarter.

The all-purpose Kersten gave his team another chance late in the period when he intercepted a Mark Newman aerial and returned it 26 yards to the Wheeling 14. The Wildcats dug in and halted the threat at the six.

THE HAWKS final score came after a good old fashioned short punt. Traversone, backed into his endzone early in the fourth frame, saw his punt roll dead on his own 33. On the second play, reserve halfback Ron Otto raced 35 yards to the Wheeling one. On the next play Bob Cieslak blasted over for the score. Jim Van Schoyek booted his second of four point after attempts to run the count to 26-0.

The Wheeling offense got rolling just once. Midway in the fourth period Newman hit Dennis Francl for 13 yards and Traversone for 23 to steer his team to the Maine 16. On the next play Jim Bowker slashed to the ten, but fumbled to end the threat.

The Hawk defense kept the Cats in poor field position all evening. Wheeling managed just three first downs and was limited to 39 yards rushing and 36 yards passing. Newman hit on two of twelve passes and Bowker led the rushers with 32 yards in nine carries.

Maine gained all of its 246 yards on the ground. Tim Sheldon led the winners with 82 yards in nine trips including one dash of 47 yards. Kersten, easily the outstanding back on the field, chipped in with 66 yards in eleven carries.

Forest View's Sophs Blank Pirates, 6-0

Forest View's sophomore football team won its first game of the season 6-0 from Palatine but suffered a loss which will hinder further victories.

Quarterback Frank Calvello, who went 50 yards on a run-pass option in the first quarter for the only Falcon score, will be lost to the team indefinitely due to a severe wrist injury.

Still with the team will be its rugged defense. Lead by Dave Kaspari and Randy Shutt the defensemen held Palatine scoreless and didn't allow them to penetrate beyond the Forest View 30 yard line.

Two last quarter thrusts at the Palatine end zone were stopped just short of pay dirt. Kaspari returned an intercepted pass to the Pirates' 12 yard line and a later drive died on the 5.

Coach Bob Walther will lead his sophomores against Glenbrook North in the Falcons' second game this Saturday.

Lambert Paces Falcon Harriers

Lead by Ted Lambert, Forest View's varsity cross country runners gained their second straight victory of the young season when they defeated East Leyden, 20 to 38, last Thursday.

Sophomore Lambert, leading all finishers across the line, also achieved his second 1st place finish.

The varsity runners were joined in victory over the Forest View course by F.V.'s frosh-soph team which won by an even larger margin, 17-46.

In again winning first place, Lambert cut 10 seconds from his total in the first meet, held against Elgin Larkin, as he finished in 10:20 over the two mile course. East Leyden captured second but Craig Brown (10:30), Jerry Potter (10:38), and Terry Haydon (10:41) gained 3rd, 4th and 5th places for the Falcon harriers. Howard Hogle (10:45) brought seven points to the Forest View total with his 7th place finish in this sport where low score wins.

As he had in thefirst meet, Mike Ancona again took first for the frosh-sophs. His winning time was 9:18 over a course shorter than that run on by the varsity. Ancona was followed closely by Dick Appleton (9:20) who grabbed second. Third, 5th and 6th places were taken by Bucky Jones (9:28), Bill Gravitt (9:36), and Jerry Patterson (9:37).

Attempting to remain unbeaten, Forest View will meet Glenbrook North in its thrid home match tomorrow at 4:30.

Falcon Jayvees Triumph

In its first contest of the season, Forest View's junior varsity football team defeated Palatine 20 to 6. Head Coach Paul Jordan's squad captured victory last Saturday mainly through a good defense and the quarterbacking of Bob Arnold.

With Mike Severens and Pete Phillips doing what Coach Jordan called, "an outstanding job on defense," Arnold paced the offense to its first two scores.

The final F.V. touchdown came on a last period Bob Glaser to Tom Coskey aerial covering 30 yards. Coskey and Ron Wayda ran for the two extra points scored by Forest View.

The only Palatine six-pointer came in the last quarter.

The junior varsity's second game will be at home this Saturday noon against Glenbrook North.

Prospect Varsity Passes First Test With 13-6 Victory

by MICHAEL HESS

The first test is past; the first test was passed. The test brought victory.

The victory belongs to Prospect High School's football team. By a final tally of 13 to 6 the Knights defeated North Chicago last Saturday in the season opener for both schools.

In its first game, Prospect used early first and third quarter touchdown runs by quarterback Bill Phillips and halfback Wayne Kuklinski to hand North Chicago its first defeat in two seasons and its second defeat in the four game series between the two schools.

Knights Honored

Prospect High School's football team voted Tim Clow as Back Of The Week and Jim LaRocco and Mark Pasdiora as Co-Linemen Of The Week as a result of their performances in Prospect's opening 13-6 victory over North Chicago.

BILL PHILLIPS

THE EFFORTS of Coach Don Williams' surprising offense and stout defense more than offset the lone score by Coach Bill Gourley's visitors. The Warhawks' T.D. came in the last second of first half action on a six yard aerial from Jerry Lewis, quarterback, to end Jim Spriggs.

The game began with a bang. Prospect won the toss and received the opening kick-off on its own 26 yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, Phillips uncorked a 52 yard heave to left end Jim LaRocco and the Knights had a first and ten on the North Chicago 22.

"The very first play was the turning point for us," commented defeated Warhawk Coach Gourley. "It was a surprise and we just weren't ready. We had to go up hill after that and we just couldn't come back all the way."

AFTER THE pass Kuklinski burst for an eleven yard gain, giving Prospect a first down on the eleven. Three plays later, a fourth and one situation on the two, halfback Dick Lytle leaped for the vital down one yard from the goal line.

On the next play Phillips plunged for the touchdown and, after the extra point kick by Ron Seegers, Prospect led 7-0. The game was just four minutes old.

"That opening series when we went down the field in seven plays did it for us," stated Prospect head man Williams. "That first pass was the key play."

FOLLOWING the early score the two teams battled on even terms until, with two minutes left in the half, North Chicago started to move.

The Warhawks had possession on the Prospect 34 yard line. A 23 yard pass from Lewis to halfback Charlie Parker and three carries by fullback Gesky put the ball on Prospect's one with just 22 seconds left.

When Parker was thrown for a five yard loss on the next play, it seemed that time would run out on the Warhawk advance. But North Chicago lined up without a huddle and Lewis snapped a quick, over-center pass to Spriggs who stumbled across the goal line as the half ended.

Lewis' running attempt for the tying extra point was stopped by the entire left side of the Knight defensive line but half time began with Prospect's lead shaved to one point at 7-6.

THE GAME'S final score came with 7:31 remaining in the third quarter. Dave Nelson, Knight guard, recovered a Gesky fumble on the Prospect 45. An interference call moved the Knights forward to the North Chicago 34. Four carries later, Kuklinski powered into the Warhawk end zone from nine yards out. The kick failed and the final 13-6 Prospect margin was established.

The rest of the game pitted the solid Prospect defense, pillared by Mark Pasdiora on the line and Tim Clow in the backfield, against the quick and powerful North Chicago offense.

The Warhawks' last offensive threat was stymied at the Prospect 13 yard line mid-way in the fourth quarter. Pasdiora and Nelson hit quarterback Lewis as he started to pass. Lewis fumbled, Nelson recovered, and the Warhawks didn't threaten again.

The first Prospect test was over. The Prospect victory was safe.

Lions Pull Out Two Football Victories

by STEVE BROWN

St. Viator managed to win two football games by the slight margin of three points last Saturday at the Arlington High School field. The sophs, opening St. Viator's 1964 football season, managed to push over a lone touchdown and an extra point to narrowly defeat the Glenbrook South Titans, 7-6.

Coach Joe Gliwa's small but willing varsity eleven took the field in the second game, and by another narrow margin got by Glenbrook 2-0 on a lone safety late in the third quarter.

In what proved to be a see-saw battle the entire game with good defensive work by both sides St. Viator was not able to pose a threat in the opening quarter. Forced to punt several times Viator held the larger South Titans to only three first downs.

EARLY IN THE second quarter Gary Drabant intercepted a GB pass, setting up the first St. Viator 1st down on a pass to Charlie Heinrich. However, it was called back for off-sides.

Plagued by penalties, St. Viator was again forced to punt.

The defensive unit led by Larry O'Keefe and Forston forced GB to take to the air. After completing two long passes South fumbled away its first threat of the ball game.

LED BY THE "workhorse running" of McNamara, St. Viator picked up its 2nd and 3rd first downs with two minutes left to play in the half. However, they again were forced to punt after failing on four tries.

Glenbrook then launched the only serious threat by either side in the 1st half by bringing the ball down to the St. Viator 15 yard line where they were again forced to give up the ball.

The half ended 0-0 with St. Viator gaining three first downs—one on passing, two on rushing. In the passing department they managed six attempts and only one completion. They were forced to punt four times.

South did much better, gaining 100 yards rushing, passing eight times with three completions—30 yards gained—and one interception.

GLENBROOK opened the 3rd quarter on a fumble recovered by St. Viator. On a fake kick and pass completion St. Viator began their first threat of the ball game.

Each team again exchanged the ball several times until SV got the only break of the game which proved to be the deciding factor. After a 4th down kick by Viator which landed on the Titan nine line, GB failed on two attempts to get the ball moving.

Then on 3rd down, Glenbrook lined up to kick. Bohn centered the ball over Quarterback Chip Ruth who chased it into the end-zone where he was captured for a safety. St. Viator now led 2-0 in what proved to be the only score of the game.

You can credit four men with the safety which proved to be the deciding factor in this contest. O'Keefe, Kiss, Carroll and Forston were all in on the tackle.

THE FOURTH quarter again saw St. Viator getting the upper hand. Helmer recovered a Glenbrook fumble on the Titan 45 yard line. Mike Campana, the quarterback, got the first down, and then Heinrich caught a pass to again threaten and move the ball down to the 30 yard line.

Denny Wilkinson on a keeper picked up the first down. However, again penalties hurt SV. Two off-side penalties in a row made it 2nd down and 22, forcing the Lions to give up the ball.

GOOD DEFENSIVE work on the part of Dennis Zitzer stopped GB on a crucial play late in the 4th quarter. Regaining the ball Viator proceeded to run out the clock.

Maine South Tops Prospect Harriers

The Prospect varsity cross country team proved they weren't mudders Saturday when they lost 24 to 31½ to Maine South over a very wet track.

Gary York was the leading runner for Dick Calisch's harriers as he finished second in the season's second meet for the Knights. York finished at 9:43, cose behind Larry Kelly, the winning Maine South long distance man.

Ed Schneider (10:19) tied for 5th place for Prospect while Jack Pollard (10:25), Dennis Breen (10:32) and Gust Filantres (10:35) were grouped in 7th, 8th and 9th places.

The Knight soph team also fell victim to the strength of Maine South but was much closer in a 27-28 loss. At 10:52 Steve Holmes came in second just two seconds in back of Maine South's winner, Benedict. Ray Hearl (10:58), Pat Luken (11:21), Bob Bartley (11:24) and Joe Muhlman (11:28) also placed for the losers.

This was the first race over a particular Prospect course, and therefore the winning times

Texaco research develops new

Texaco Jet Flame Booster

Great new flame-control development designed to increase oil-burner efficiency. It produces clean, steady, smoke-free heat that improves efficiency as much as 42%!

It's here . . . a new kind of device that steps up the efficiency of oil, a most efficient means of home heating. It's Texaco's new Jet Flame Booster, the result of years of research and actual in-home testing. Developed at Beacon, N. Y., where Texaco maintains a modern, fully equipped laboratory devoted exclusively to oil-burner research.

Proved in home-heating tests!

Texaco tested the new Jet Flame Booster in many homes before bringing it to you. All the burners tested were accurately adjusted. Then the Texaco Jet Flame Booster was installed. And in over 97% of the homes tested, the Texaco Jet Flame Booster showed measurable improvements in burner efficiency. Increases ranged up to 42%! Now it's ready for easy installation in most gun-type burners. Takes just a few hours. Costs about $19, plus installation.

The secret is in the compact flame.

The Texaco Jet Flame Booster has a specially designed end cone and air stabilizer that scientifically mix air and oil. The result is a solid, compact flame that burns so cleanly and so completely, you get more heat with less oil. That means savings in fuel costs. No moving parts to maintain.

For all size homes.

Want to increase your burner's performance and reduce heating costs? Call us. We will analyze your burner's performance and tell you what the Texaco Jet Flame Booster can do for your home—whether it is a new ranch or an old colonial, large or small. No cost. No obligation.

Prospect Varsity Passes First Test With 13-6 Victory

by MICHAEL HESS

The first test is past; the first test was passed. The test brought victory.

The victory belongs to Prospect High School's football team. By a final tally of 13 to 6 the Knights defeated North Chicago last Saturday in the season opener for both schools.

In its first game, Prospect used early first and third quarter touchdown runs by quarterback Bill Phillips and halfback Wayne Kuklinski to hand North Chicago its first defeat in two seasons and its second defeat in the four game series between the two schools.

Knights Honored

Prospect High School's football team voted Tim Clow as Back Of The Week and Jim LaRocco and Mark Pasdiora as Co-Linemen Of The Week as a result of their performances in Prospect's opening 13-6 victory over North Chicago.

BILL PHILLIPS

THE EFFORTS of Coach Don Williams' surprising offense and stout defense more than offset the lone score by Coach Bill Gourley's visitors. The Warhawks' T.D. came in the last second of first half action on a six yard aerial from Jerry Lewis, quarterback, to end Jim Spriggs.

The game began with a bang. Prospect won the toss and received the opening kick-off on its own 26 yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, Phillips uncorked a 52 yard heave to left end Jim LaRocco and the Knights had a first and ten on the North Chicago 22.

"The very first play was the turning point for us," commented defeated Warhawk Coach Gourley. "It was a surprise and we just weren't ready. We had to go up hill after that and we just couldn't come back all the way."

AFTER THE pass Kuklinski burst for an eleven yard gain, giving Prospect a first down on the eleven. Three plays later, a fourth and one situation on the two, halfback Dick Lytle leaped for the vital down one yard from the goal line.

On the next play Phillips plunged for the touchdown and, after the extra point kick by Ron Seegers, Prospect led 7-0. The game was just four minutes old.

"That opening series when we went down the field in seven plays did it for us," stated Prospect head man Williams. "That first pass was the key play."

FOLLOWING the early score the two teams battled on even terms until, with two minutes left in the half, North Chicago started to move.

The Warhawks had possession on the Prospect 34 yard line. A 23 yard pass from Lewis to halfback Charlie Parker and three carries by fullback Gesky put the ball on Prospect's one with just 22 seconds left.

When Parker was thrown for a five yard loss on the next play, it seemed that time would run out on the Warhawk advance. But North Chicago lined up without a huddle and Lewis snapped a quick, over-center pass to Spriggs who stumbled across the goal line as the half ended.

Lewis' running attempt for the tying extra point was stopped by the entire left side of the Knight defensive line but half time began with Prospect's lead shaved to one point at 7-6.

THE GAME'S final score came with 7:31 remaining in the third quarter. Dave Nelson, Knight guard, recovered a Gesky fumble on the Prospect 45. An interference call moved the Knights forward to the North Chicago 34. Four carries later, Kuklinski powered into the Warhawk end zone from nine yards out. The kick failed and the final 13-6 Prospect margin was established.

The rest of the game pitted the solid Prospect defense, pillared by Mark Pasdiora on the line and Tim Clow in the backfield, against the quick and powerful North Chicago offense.

The Warhawks' last offensive threat was stymied at the Prospect 13 yard line mid-way in the fourth quarter. Pasdiora and Nelson hit quarterback Lewis as he started to pass. Lewis fumbled, Nelson recovered, and the Warhawks didn't threaten again.

The first Prospect test was over. The Prospect victory was safe.

Lions Pull Out Two Football Victories

by STEVE BROWN

St. Viator managed to win two football games by the slight margin of three points last Saturday at the Arlington High School field. The sophs, opening St. Viator's 1964 football season, managed to push over a lone touchdown and an extra point to narrowly defeat the Glenbrook South Titans, 7-6.

Coach Joe Gliwa's small but willing varsity eleven took the field in the second game, and by another narrow margin got by Glenbrook 2-0 on a lone safety late in the third quarter.

In what proved to be a see-saw battle the entire game with good defensive work by both sides St. Viator was not able to pose a threat in the opening quarter. Forced to punt several times Viator held the larger South Titans to only three first downs.

EARLY IN THE second quarter Gary Drabant intercepted a GB pass, setting up the first St. Viator 1st down on a pass to Charlie Heinrich. However, it was called back for off-sides.

Plagued by penalties, St. Viator was again forced to punt.

The defensive unit led by Larry O'Keefe and Forston forced GB to take to the air. After completing two long passes South fumbled away its first threat of the ball game.

LED BY THE "workhorse running" of McNamara, St. Viator picked up its 2nd and 3rd first downs with two minutes left to play in the half. However, they again were forced to punt after failing on four tries.

Glenbrook then launched the only serious threat by either side in the 1st half by bringing the ball down to the St. Viator 15 yard line where they were again forced to give up the ball.

The half ended 0-0 with St. Viator gaining three first downs—one on passing, two on rushing. In the passing department they managed six attempts and only one completion. They were forced to punt four times.

South did much better, gaining 100 yards rushing, passing eight times with three completions—30 yards gained—and one interception.

GLENBROOK opened the 3rd quarter on a fumble recovered by St. Viator. On a fake kick and pass completion St. Viator began their first threat of the ball game.

Each team again exchanged the ball several times until SV got the only break of the game which proved to be the deciding factor. After a 4th down kick by Viator which landed on the Titan nine line, GB failed on two attempts to get the ball moving.

Then on 3rd down, Glenbrook lined up to kick. Bohn centered the ball over Quarterback Chip Ruth who chased it into the end-zone where he was captured for a safety. St. Viator now led 2-0 in what proved to be the only score of the game.

You can credit four men with the safety which proved to be the deciding factor in this contest. O'Keefe, Kiss, Carroll and Forston were all in on the tackle.

THE FOURTH quarter again saw St. Viator getting the upper hand. Helmer recovered a Glenbrook fumble on the Titan 45 yard line. Mike Campana, the quarterback, got the first down, and then Heinrich caught a pass to again threaten and move the ball down to the 30 yard line.

Denny Wilkinson on a keeper picked up the first down. However, again penalties hurt SV. Two off-side penalties in a row made it 2nd down and 22, forcing the Lions to give up the ball.

GOOD DEFENSIVE work on the part of Dennis Zitzer stopped GB on a crucial play late in the 4th quarter. Regaining the ball Viator proceeded to run out the clock.

At Mount Prospect

Twilight Golf Loop Terminates Season

Mt. Prospect Twilight Golf League brought the 1964 season to a traditional close last week as 110 members and alternates met at Mount Prospect Country Club for a final day of golf followed by the league's annual banquet and election of new officers.

Focal point of golfing interest was the 18-hole playoff for the grand championship of the league between Mount Prospect Savings and Loan, the Monday night champs, and Mount Prospect Electric Constr. Co., winners o fthe Tuesday division.

That the teams were evenly matched is attested to by the photo-finish as the Savings and Loan team edged the Electricians 6½-5½ to bring the championship back to the Monday night division after a two year absence.

POINT WINNERS for the Savings and Loaners were Capt. Herb Scott who took two from Bill Christensen of the Electricians, Paul Gunther who won two from Jim Foster, and Joe Sokal who split the match but won the medal from Warren VanderVoort for 1½ points.

Scoring for the Electricians were alternate Tom Cloutier who defeated Stan Bolit for two points plus a bonus point for coming in with low individual net, Capt. Hy Gieseke who won two rom Vern Schneider, and VanderVoort who halved the match portion of his match with Joe Sokal.

The Savings and Loan team's final point was the bonus for low team aggregate net.

WHILE THE BATTLE for the league championship was going on the other league members prizs based on the day's play versus their final league handicap. In this competition Bob Kramer scored a sensational 83 gross, 61 net, to take first prize. Second and third prizes went to Warren Karlsen and Warren Starkey who tied with sililar scores f 80 gross, 62 net. The special "honesty" award went to LeRoy Stevens who confessed to a 104 gross, 82 net.

The league's annual banquet at which the season's trophies were awarded and officers elected concluded the day's activities. Senior president, Bud Enszer, presided as the new Junior officers were elected to head up chosen by acclimation were Randy Bateman, president; Jack Quint, vice-president; Ray Projahn, Secretary; Alex McCornack, treasurer; Dick Fox, membership; Jack Flick, publicity; and Walt Peterson, Rules commissioner.

During the 1965 season, the league's 25th anniversar year, the division's affairs will be in the hands of the new senior officers consisting of Rollie Becker, president; Bill Swanson, vice president; Pat Danna, secretary; Jim Foster, treasurer; Rudy Recher, membership; Fred Jilek, publicity, and Gus Knaack, rules. Weather judge will be Dave Shean.

FOLLOWING the election of officers retiring president Enszer awarded the various trophies to the season's winners. For the Monday division. First place and grand champions of the league — Mount Prospect Savings and Loan. Second place — J & B Village Market. Third place — Keefer's Pharmacy. Most valuable player, Monday night — H. Enszer. Monday night's lowest gross score — Len Arnold with a 35.

For the Tuesday night division: First place — Mount Prospect Electric Construction Co. Second place — Winkelmann's Shell Service. Third place — Mr. "G" Room Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge. Most valuable player, Tuesday night — Ken Shipley and Ron Scherer tied. Tuesday night's lowest gross score — Ron Scherer with a 33.

The final presentation of the evening went to the alternates winning the most points during the 1964 season. First place winner was Dick Ellison, second place Hal Jauch and third place Fred Ritzer.

Davis Cup Movies

Tennis Club to Meet Tonight at Savings and Loan

The Arlington Heights Tennis Club will show movies of the 1963 Davis Cup matches at a special meeting tonight (Thursday) at the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan, 25 E. Campbell.

The 1964 Davis Cup matches will get under way the following day in Cleveland.

A business meeting will launch the program at 7:30 tonight with movies and refreshments at 8 p.m.

The primary purpose of the business meeting is to elect next year's officers.

A DISCUSSION will be held following the movies on the possibility of forming a Bath and Tennis Club. Information will be available, and the public is invited.

Non-members of the Arlington Tennis Club are encouraged to attend the special meeting. There is no charge.

The Arlington Tennis Club was founded in 1959 when 30 tennis enthusiasts got together to promote tennis in the community, help junior tennis aspirants, and develop competition among themselves through a challenge ladder and club tournaments.

The Club has grown to more than 60 members and competes in the North and West suburban Tennis League. Members come from Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Palatine, Barrington, Elk Grove Village, Buffalo Grove, and Niles.

Lambert, Patterson Post Wins

Sophomore Ted Lambert and freshman Jerry Patterson were the individual winners Tuesday afternoon as Forest View's varsity and frosh-soph cross country teams rolled past Ridgewood to remain unbeaten in 1964.

Lambert continued to impress on a varsity level as he sparked Bob Rees' Falcons to their third straight triumph.

Backing Lambert on a varsity level were Jerry Potter in second, Craig Brown in third, Terry Hayden in fourth, Bob Prucha in fifth, and Howard Hogle in sixth.

In the frosh-soph meet Patterson, a promising plebe, was the first man across as Purc Stybr's squad also posted its third straight victory.

Also scoring for the young Falcons were Bucky Jones in third, Mike Russell in fourth, Dave Virta in sixth, and Ernie Troutman in seventh.

Forest View will entertain the defending Mid-Suburban Conference champions Friday afternoon as Glenbrook North comes to town. Competition will get under way at 4:30 p. m.

At Beverly Lanes

Arlington Furniture bagged high series for the night in the Beverly Classic with a 2763 . . . Arlington Park Dodge had single with 971, and Rollo Kuebler collected individual honors with a 231 . . . George Schroeder sparked the Parkway men's division with a 541, followed by Glenn Quade with 506 and 201 . . . Other highs at Parkway were George Quade 189, Otto Heimann 188 and Bob Paddock 187 . . . scoring honors in the Arlington Heights Women Keglers division went to Ruthmary Baurhyte with a 527 . . . Winkelman's took top team series and game with a 2319 and 829.

At Elk Grove Bowl

Second Federal Savings and Loan of Chicago and Long Ford are tied for first place with identical 8-1 records in the Lane Brains league . . . Jeanne's Bunny Hugs has moved into the top position in the Elkettes division with a 7-2 mark . . . Dot's Dipsy Doodles are right behind at 6-3.

At Striking Lanes

Herb Fitch started out at high man for the league in the Striking Men's Handicap with games of 239 and 223 but dropped to 169 in the finale for a 621 series . . . Marion Leider bagged games of 180-190-182 in the Striking Ladies Classic . . . Hilma Mason had a 202 game and 682 series.

At Sim's Bowl

Six teams are tied for first in the Cook County Truck Gardeners league . . . Each of the 16 teams in the division has collected at least one victory . . . Pesche's Stop-Shop is coasting along with a 6-0 record in the Cook County Truck Gardeners loop . . . five squads are tied for second.

Buicks Blank Jeffery Lanes

Bill Cook Buick is making like it intends to run away and hide from the rest of the Paddock Classic Bowling League. The only trouble is, Gunnell Lanes can't hear it.

Captain Al Jordan returned to lead the Buicks to their second straight 7-0 blitz of the young season. This time the victim was Jeffery Lanes.

The only team remaining close after Saturday evening's action is Gunnell's. The Mount Prospect representatives turned in the first 3000 team total of the season to blank Casares Pro Bowl, 7-0. The shutout, coupled with Gunnell's five point effort on opening night, leaves them two points off the pace set by Bill Cook Buick.

IN OTHER action, Pioneer Lanes turned in the third whitewash of the evening, 7-0 against Morton Pontiac. The only close match found The Brass Rail Restaurant nipping Country Lanes, 4-3.

Individual honors went to Warren Walter of Gunnell's and George Schmidt of Pioneer Lanes. They shared high series with 646's and Warren edged George 249-242 for high game.

Jordan, who missed opening night, was the difference in the Buick's win over Jeffrey. His 615 was the only 600 plus series in the match. Ted Zimmerman led Jeffery with a 596.

Walter and Mike Wagner paced Gunnell's big total. Wagner opened with a 225 and came up with a 612 series. John Emmert led Casares with a 614.

SCHMIDT'S 646 was, of course, the highlight of the Pioneer - Morton match. It was much closer than the 7-0 score indicates. Pioneer won the first game by only 18 pins and the second by just one. Bill Radunz led the Pro Bowlers with a 593.

The Brass Rail and Country Lanes also had a close one. The Railers won the first two games, but Country Lanes won the third by 110 pins to cop match point. Paul Zubak of the Brass Rail led both teams with a 577.

Wheeling Sophs Win 29-0

Rich Haddock and Phil Beet paced the Wheeling sophomores to a convincing 29-0 victory over Maine South in the preliminary game at Maine East last Friday evening.

Haddock scored a pair of touchdowns and Beet one and two points after for the young Cats who were in command throughout.

Wheeling grabbed the lead midway in the first period when on the first play after his punt had rolled dead on the Hawk two yard line, Hittman nailed the Maine South ball carrier in the end zone for a safety.

Early in the second period Haddock, the quarterback, turned right end and raced 30 yards for a touchdown. Beet ran for the PAT and the Wildcats had a 9-0 lead.

Later in the period, Beet put the finishing touches on a long drive with a dive play from two yards out. He scored the extra point and it was 16-0 at halftime.

Haddock put the game out of reach in the third period with another rollout, this one good for 20 yards. Hittman converted. The reserves pushed across another tally in the fourth period.

Old Timer Reunion Planned

Members of the old Bensenville Tioga Athletic baseball team will get together for a dinner and reunion at the Bensenville VFW hall Saturday Oct. 10.

The A's disbanded in 1948 after 18 years of playing semi-pro ball in the Northwest suburban area. This will be the first time the players have gathered since the team broke up.

In addition to old Athletics and their wives, players from opponents such as the Lincoln A.C. and teams from Itasca, Roselle, WoodDale, Elmhurst, Villa Park, Melrose Park and Arlington Heights will attend.

Besides dinner and entertainment, the reunion will give area old timers the chance to discuss the possibility of an old timers game tentatively scheduled for next spring.

Tickets for the 7 p.m. fete are $3.50 per person and reservations may be obtained by contacting Ernie Thollander, Bensenville; J. B. White, 2836 Rose St., Franklin Park or E. LaRue, 318 S. Maple, Itasca.

Entries Taken For Wheeling Cage Division

Team entries are being taken in the Wheeling Park District adult basketball league.

Five teams have already been signed up at a meeting last week of managers of last year's teams, Park Supt. Eugene Sackett announced. Five more teams are needed, he said. Entry fee is $50 per team.

Games will be on Tuesdays and Thursdays at London Junior High beginning Nov. 3. Practice sessions will be permitted beginning in three weeks. For information call Sackett at Le-7-5288.

Steve's Takes Classic Lead

Steve's Restaurant, a familiar and successful name in the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League, moved off to a fast start Saturday in the opening night of bowling competition for the 1964-65 season.

Steve's roared past Bill Cook Buick in three straight games and added high team series to complete the whitewashing.

The Jeffery Lanes-based entry, obviously enjoying the action at its home lanes, was the only club able to escape the initial night of firing without a setback.

Country Lanes and Morton Pontiac each bagged three points in their competition to stay within one game of the pace-setter.

LAVERNE Rosset fashioned a big 577 series, with high game of 223, to spark Steve's to its easy victory over Cook Buick. Delores Harris chipped in with a 552 as Steve's posted a 2690 team effort, easily the best for the evening.

Ethel Martin was high for Cook Buick with a 506.

Morton Pontiac picked up three points from Team No. 6 with Joan Lindahl (553) and Ruthmary Baurhyte (534) the key bowlers. Joan opened with a 200 game. Donna Reinhardt and Peggy Harris paced the losers with 515 and 512 efforts respectively.

Country Lanes picked up an impressive 3-1 decision over River Rand as Vi Douglas posted a 540 series. Nancy Dietz chipped in with a 513. Gloria Lucchesi was tops for River Rand with a 515.

Equestrian Show In Northbrook

More than a half-million dollars worth of Chicago-area show horses will compete in the annual Town and Country Equestrian Association's Championship Show being held September 26 and 27 at the Coach House Stables, Willow and Saunders Roads, Northbrook.

The Town and Country show, and American Horse Shows Association event, will feature horses competing in eight divisions: Green Working Hunters, Regular Working Hunters, Jumper Junior Hunters, Three and Five Gaited Saddle, Fine Harness, Western, Roadster, and Parade. Judging in the eight categories is scheduled from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on both Saturday and Sunday. Prizes include cash trophies and ribbons.

This year's Show Manager is the Association's Executive Secretary, Florence M. Mueller of 625 Arlington Place, Chicago.

Judges for the event include Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Armstrong of Carmel, Indiana, and Miss Elizabeth Haight of New York City. Stewards for the A.H.S.A. are Mrs. Benjamin Carpenter of Lake Forest, and Robert Tieken of Libertyville.

Founded in 1908, the sponsoring Town and Country Equestrian Association has members in Illinois, Northern Indiana, and Southern Wisconsin. Through the years the organization has encouraged the development of the many bridle paths in the Chicagoland area, has sponsored athletic programs, and has done much to promote interest in all types of horses.

The Association's Executive Committee includes Newton Korhumel, Lake Forest; William G. Paullin, Skokie; R. H. Zimmerman, Highland Park; and William McGinley, Palatine.

Twilight Golf Loop Terminates Season

Mt. Prospect Twilight Golf League brought the 1964 season to a traditional close last week as 110 members and alternates met at Mount Prospect Country Club for a final day of golf followed by the league's annual banquet and election of new officers.

Focal point of golfing interest was the 18-hole playoff for the grand championship of the league between Mount Prospect Savings and Loan, the Monday night champs, and Mount Prospect Electric Constr. Co., winners o fthe Tuesday division.

That the teams were evenly matched is attested to by the photo-finish as the Savings and Loan team edged the Electricians 6½-5½ to bring the championship back to the Monday night division after a two year absence.

POINT WINNERS for the Savings and Loaners were Capt. Herb Scott who took two from Bill Christensen of the Electricians, Paul Gunther who won two from Jim Foster, and Joe Sokal who split the match but won the medal from Warren VanderVoort for 1½ points.

Scoring for the Electricians were alternate Tom Cloutier who defeated Stan Bolit for two points plus a bonus point for coming in with low individual net, Capt. Hy Gieseke who won two rom Vern Schneider, and VanderVoort who halved the match portion of his match with Joe Sokal.

The Savings and Loan team's final point was the bonus for low team aggregate net.

WHILE THE BATTLE for the league championship was going on the other league members prizs based on the day's play versus their final league handicap. In this competition Bob Kramer scored a sensational 83 gross, 61 net, to take first prize. Second and third prizes went to Warren Karlsen and Warren Starkey who tied with sililar scores f 80 gross, 62 net. The special "honesty" award went to LeRoy Stevens who confessed to a 104 gross, 82 net.

The league's annual banquet at which the season's trophies were awarded and officers elected concluded the day's activities. Senior president, Bud Enszer, presided as the new Junior officers were elected to head up chosen by acclimation were Randy Bateman, president; Jack Quint, vice-president; Ray Projahn, Secretary; Alex McCornack, treasurer; Dick Fox, membership; Jack Flick, publicity; and Walt Peterson, Rules commissioner.

During the 1965 season, the league's 25th anniversary year, the division's affairs will be in the hands of the new senior officers consisting of Rollie Becker, president; Bill Swanson, vice president; Pat Danna, secretary; Jim Foster, treasurer; Rudy Recher, membership; Fred Jilek, publicity, and Gus Knaack, rules. Weather judge will be Dave Shean.

FOLLOWING the election of officers retiring president Enszer awarded the various trophies to the season's winners. For the Monday division. First place and grand champions of the league — Mount Prospect Savings and Loan. Second place — J & B Village Market. Third place — Keefer's Pharmacy. Most valuable player, Monday night — H. Enszer. Monday night's lowest gross score — Len Arnold with a 35.

For the Tuesday night division: First place — Mount Prospect Electric Construction Co. Second place — Winkelmann's Shell Service. Third place — Mr. "G" Room Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge. Most valuable player, Tuesday night — Ken Shipley and Ron Scherer tied. Tuesday night's lowest gross score — Ron Scherer with a 33.

The final presentation of the evening went to the alternates winning the most points during the 1964 season. First place winner was Dick Ellison, second place Hal Jauch and third place Fred Ritzer.

Davis Cup Movies

Tennis Club to Meet Tonight at Savings and Loan

The Arlington Heights Tennis Club will show movies of the 1963 Davis Cup matches at a special meeting tonight (Thursday) at the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan, 25 E. Campbell.

The 1964 Davis Cup matches will get under way the following day in Cleveland.

A business meeting will launch the program at 7:30 tonight with movies and refreshments at 8 p.m.

The primary purpose of the business meeting is to elect next year's officers.

A DISCUSSION will be held following the movies on the possibility of forming a Bath and Tennis Club. Information will be available, and the public is invited.

Non-members of the Arlington Tennis Club are encouraged to attend the special meeting. There is no charge.

The Arlington Tennis Club was founded in 1959 when 30 tennis enthusiasts got together to promote tennis in the community, help junior tennis aspirants, and develop competition among themselves through a challenge ladder and club tournaments.

The Club has grown to more than 60 members and competes in the North and West suburban Tennis League. Members come from Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Palatine, Barrington, Elk Grove Village, Buffalo Grove, and Niles.

Lambert, Patterson Post Wins

Sophomore Ted Lambert and freshman Jerry Patterson were the individual winners Tuesday afternoon as Forest View's varsity and frosh-soph cross country teams rolled past Ridgewood to remain unbeaten in 1964.

Lambert continued to impress on a varsity level as he sparked Bob Rees' Falcons to their third straight triumph.

Backing Lambert on a varsity level were Jerry Potter in second, Craig Brown in third, Terry Hayden in fourth, Bob Prucha in fifth, and Howard Hogle in sixth.

In the frosh-soph meet Patterson, a promising plebe, was the first man across as Purc Stybr's squad also posted its third straight victory.

Also scoring for the young Falcons were Bucky Jones in third, Mike Russell in fourth, Dave Virta in sixth, and Ernie Troutman in seventh.

Forest View will entertain the defending Mid-Suburban Conference champions Friday afternoon as Glenbrook North comes to town. Competition will get under way at 4:30 p. m.

At Beverly Lanes

Arlington Furniture bagged high series for the night in the Beverly Classic with a 2763 . . . Arlington Park Dodge had single with 971, and Rollo Kuebler collected individual honors with a 231 . . . George Schroeder sparked the Parkway men's division with a 541, followed by Glenn Quade with 506 and 201 . . . Other highs at Parkway were George Quade 189, Otto Heimann 188 and Bob Paddock 187 . . . scoring honors in the Arlington Heights Women Keglers division went to Ruthmary Baurhyte with a 527 . . . Winkelman's took top team series and game with a 2319 and 829.

At Elk Grove Bowl

Second Federal Savings and Loan of Chicago and Long Ford are tied for first place with identical 8-1 records in the Lane Brains league . . . Jeanne's Bunny Hugs has moved into the top position in the Elkettes division with a 7-2 mark . . . Dot's Dipsy Doodles are right behind at 6-3.

At Striking Lanes

Herb Fitch started out at high man for the league in the Striking Men's Handicap with games of 239 and 223 but dropped to 169 in the finale for a 621 series . . . Marion Leider bagged games of 180-190-182 in the Striking Ladies Classic . . . Hilma Mason had a 202 game and 682 series.

At Sim's Bowl

Six teams are tied for first in the Cook County Truck Gardeners league . . . Each of the 16 teams in the division has collected at least one victory . . . Pesche's Stop-Shop is coasting along with a 6-0 record in the Cook County Truck Gardeners loop . . . five squads are tied for second.

Buicks Blank Jeffery Lanes

Bill Cook Buick is making like it intends to run away and hide from the rest of the Paddock Classic Bowling League. The only trouble is, Gunnell Lanes can't hear it.

Captain Al Jordan returned to lead the Buicks to their second straight 7-0 blitz of the young season. This time the victim was Jeffery Lanes.

The only team remaining close after Saturday evening's action is Gunnell's. The Mount Prospect representatives turned in the first 3000 team total of the season to blank Casares Pro Bowl, 7-0. The shutout, coupled with Gunnell's five point effort on opening night, leaves them two points off the pace set by Bill Cook Buick.

IN OTHER action, Pioneer Lanes turned in the third whitewash of the evening, 7-0 against Morton Pontiac. The only close match found The Brass Rail Restaurant nipping Country Lanes, 4-3.

Individual honors went to Warren Walter of Gunnell's and George Schmidt of Pioneer Lanes. They shared high series with 646's and Warren edged George 249-242 for high game.

Jordan, who missed opening night, was the difference in the Buick's win over Jeffrey. His 615 was the only 600 plus series in the match. Ted Zimmerman led Jeffery with a 596.

Walter and Mike Wagner paced Gunnell's big total. Wagner opened with a 225 and came up with a 612 series. John Emmert led Casares with a 614.

SCHMIDT'S 646 was, of course, the highlight of the Pioneer - Morton match. It was much closer than the 7-0 score indicates. Pioneer won the first game by only 18 pins and the second by just one. Bill Radunz led the Pro Bowlers with a 593.

The Brass Rail and Country Lanes also had a close one. The Railers won the first two games, but Country Lanes won the third by 110 pins to cop match point. Paul Zubak of the Brass Rail led both teams with a 577.

Wheeling Sophs Win 29-0

Rich Haddock and Phil Beet paced the Wheeling sophomores to a convincing 29-0 victory over Maine South in the preliminary game at Maine East last Friday evening.

Haddock scored a pair of touchdowns and Beet one and two points after for the young Cats who were in command throughout.

Wheeling grabbed the lead midway in the first period when on the first play after his punt had rolled dead on the Hawk two yard line, Hittman nailed the Maine South ball carrier in the end zone for a safety.

Early in the second period Haddock, the quarterback, turned right end and raced 30 yards for a touchdown. Beet ran for the PAT and the Wildcats had a 9-0 lead.

Later in the period, Beet put the finishing touches on a long drive with a dive play from two yards out. He scored the extra point and it was 16-0 at halftime.

Haddock put the game out of reach in the third period with another rollout, this one good for 20 yards. Hittman converted. The reserves pushed across another tally in the fourth period.

Old Timer Reunion Planned

Members of the old Bensenville Tioga Athletic baseball team will get together for a dinner and reunion at the Bensenville VFW hall Saturday Oct. 10.

The A's disbanded in 1948 after 18 years of playing semi-pro ball in the Northwest suburban area. This will be the first time the players have gathered since the team broke up.

In addition to old Athletics and their wives, players from opponents such as the Lincoln A.C. and teams from Itasca, Roselle, WoodDale, Elmhurst, Villa Park, Melrose Park and Arlington Heights will attend.

Besides dinner and entertainment, the reunion will give area old timers the chance to discuss the possibility of an old timers game tentatively scheduled for next spring.

Tickets for the 7 p.m. fete are $3.50 per person and reservations may be obtained by contacting Ernie Thollander, Bensenville; J. B. White, 2836 Rose St., Franklin Park or E. LaRue, 318 S. Maple, Itasca.

Entries Taken For Wheeling Cage Division

Team entries are being taken in the Wheeling Park District adult basketball league.

Five teams have already been signed up at a meeting last week of managers of last year's teams, Park Supt. Eugene Sackett announced. Five more teams are needed, he said. Entry fee is $50 per team.

Games will be on Tuesdays and Thursdays at London Junior High beginning Nov. 3. Practice sessions will be permitted beginning in three weeks. For information call Sackett at Le-7-5288.

Steve's Takes Classic Lead

Steve's Restaurant, a familiar and successful name in the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League, moved off to a fast start Saturday in the opening night of bowling competition for the 1964-65 season.

Steve's roared past Bill Cook Buick in three straight games and added high team series to complete the whitewashing.

The Jeffery Lanes-based entry, obviously enjoying the action at its home lanes, was the only club able to escape the initial night of firing without a setback.

Country Lanes and Morton Pontiac each bagged three points in their competition to stay within one game of the pace-setter.

LAVERNE Rosset fashioned a big 577 series, with high game of 223, to spark Steve's to its easy victory over Cook Buick. Delores Harris chipped in with a 552 as Steve's posted a 2690 team effort, easily the best for the evening.

Ethel Martin was high for Cook Buick with a 506.

Morton Pontiac picked up three points from Team No. 6 with Joan Lindahl (553) and Ruthmary Baurhyte (534) the key bowlers. Joan opened with a 200 game. Donna Reinhardt and Peggy Harris paced the losers with 515 and 512 efforts respectively.

Country Lanes picked up an impressive 3-1 decision over River Rand as Vi Douglas posted a 540 series. Nancy Dietz chipped in with a 513. Gloria Lucchesi was tops for River Rand with a 515.

The standings:

	W	L
Steve's Restaurant	4	0
Country Lanes	3	1
Morton Pontiac	3	1
Team No. 6	1	3
River Rand	1	3
Bill Cook Buick	0	4

Equestrian Show In Northbrook

More than a half-million dollars worth of Chicago-area show horses will compete in the annual Town and Country Equestrian Association's Championship Show being held September 26 and 27 at the Coach House Stables, Willow and Saunders Roads, Northbrook.

The Town and Country show, and American Horse Shows Association event, will feature horses competing in eight divisions: Green Working Hunters, Regular Working Hunters, Jumper Junior Hunters, Three and Five Gaited Saddle, Fine Harness, Western, Roadster, and Parade. Judging in the eight categories is scheduled from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on both Saturday and Sunday. Prizes include cash trophies and ribbons.

This year's Show Manager is the Association's Executive Secretary, Florence M. Mueller of 625 Arlington Place, Chicago.

Judges for the event include Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Armstrong of Carmel, Indiana, and Miss Elizabeth Haight of New York City. Stewards for the A.H.S.A. are Mrs. Benjamin Carpenter of Lake Forest, and Robert Tieken of Libertyville.

Founded in 1908, the sponsoring Town and Country Equestrian Association has members in Illinois, Northern Indiana, and Southern Wisconsin. Through the years the organization has encouraged the development of the many bridle paths in the Chicagoland area, has sponsored athletic programs, and has done much to promote interest in all types of horses.

The Association's Executive Committee includes Newton Korhumel, Lake Forest; William G. Paullin, Skokie; R. H. Zimmerman, Highland Park; and William McGinley, Palatine.

Oak Park Pro Cops Pro-Am Golf Meet At Rolling Green

A Chicago golf pro is today driving a new 1965 Lincoln automobile as a result of winning new Pro-Am tournament.

Errie Ball of Oak Park Country Club was the winning professional in the First Annual Tom Coward Continental Invitational Pro-Am Tournament played September 17 at Rolling Green Country Club, Arlington Heights.

Fifty four amateurs and eighteen professionals from Illinois and Michigan competed in the event, sponsored by Tom Coward Lincoln-Mecury, Inc. of Oak Park.

As the winning pro, Ball won a year's use of a bright red air-conditioned 1965 Lincoln Continental convertible. The winning amateur teams won Continental golf equipment.

First prizes went to: R. B. Edwards of Skokie, E. B. Van Horton of Nothbrook and A. P. Voaden of Mount Prospect.

Second prizes were awarded to: F. B. Peake of Oak Park, G. E. Handtmann of Wilmette and M. E. Smith of Arlington Heights.

Third Prize winners were: W. E. Nelson of Deerfield, E. F. Crowe of Oak Park and J. H. Henry of Palatine.

New Subdivision For Arlington Hts.

A new subdivision in the heart of Arlington Heights is being developed by Morton Gerstein and Arthur Zamost of Morton Homes, Chicago. Grand opening is planned soon.

The subdivision, Olive Terrace, is located at State Road and Olive Street and will feature two models, a split-leveled ranch and a colonial styled bi-level.

Gerstein said this week that about 25 to 30 homes will be built in the area.

THE SPLIT-level, called "The Martini," will feature a triple staircase entry. The other model, "The Manhattan," will have a raised dining area. Both homes will have 100 per cent wool carpeting, storm windows and screens and kitchens equipped with oven, range, dishwasher, disposal and refrigerator.

Other features are finished paneled family rooms, ceramic tiled baths with full vanities, four bedrooms, two and a half baths and two-car garages.

The area is bounded on the north by a new junior high school and on the south by a new grade school. Parochial and high schools are within walking distance of the subdivision. Downtown Arlington Heights and Randhurst shopping centers, railroads and tollways are conveniently close, Gerstein emphasized.

Plan Penney's At Golf-Mill

J. C. Penney Co. has signed a lease for a 185,000-square foot department store and 16,700 square foot, free-standing auto center in Golf-Mill Center, Niles.

Under terms of the lease, the nationwide department store chain will occupy the building formerly tenanted by Lord's Department Store. The former Lord's store will be expanded to 185,000 square feet in incorporating adjacent property and adding 96,800-square foot second floor. A penthouse will be used to house the air conditioning unit.

The new Penney store, at the south end of the open shopping mall will be the chain's largest suburban operation. Expansion and renovation of the Penney store is expected to begin shortly with an opening scheduled for the summer of 1965.

Penney's Golf-Mill Store will offer a complete selection of the chain's private-brand hard lines, according to H. L. Wright, zone manager, and R. E. Erickson, district manager. It also will carry a full assortment of fashion apparel and provide a number of new customer services.

The new store will have a 16-car bay, free-standing auto center, providing front-to-rear car servicing and a full assortment of the company's own new brand of tires, batteries and auto accessories.

There will be a full line of major appliances of the chain's own brand and also television, radios, hi-fi, storeo, sporting goods, stationery, paint and hardware, cosmetics, furniture, vacuum cleaners, mattresses and bedding.

PENNEY'S new store will offer an enlarged selection of its traditional soft goods.

Customer services to be offered include central wrapping counters to enable self-selection, charge accounts, and installment buying.

Golf-Mill is the second large Penney store planned in the Chicago area in the next year. Another is to be constructed at West 76th Street and Cicero Avenue.

AN ARCHITECT'S DRAWING shows how the expanded facilities of Lattof Motor Sales, Arlington Heights Chevrolet dealer, will look when present construction has been completed. The 1965 models may now be seen at Lattof's, 800 E. Northwest Hwy.

New Chevrolets at Lattof's

It's double feature time at Lattof Motor Sales, 800 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights.

Construction has begun on the building expansion that will give the Arlington Heights Chevrolet dealer larger showroom and other facilities, and 1965 molel Chevrolets have arrived.

To be seen are 20 models in the five lines of Chevrolets—standard Chevrolet, Chevelle, Chevy II, Corvette and Corvair.

STYLING of the standard Chevrolet is completely new, including more interior room and new "perimeter" chassis design. The suspension system has been improved and there are refinements in the engine this year. Curved side windows and to the new styling.

Changes in the Chevelle line include a new hood, bumper and grille and one completely new model, the "300."

The Chevy II line offers a wider choice of engine power.

The Corvette sport model now has disc brakes as standard equipment and there are increased engine power options on the Corvette.

SEVEN models of the Corvair line are offered in hardtops and convertibles, all showing major changes. The "Corsa" is the top Corvair model with optional super-charged engine available in 180 horsepower. Other Corvairs feature engines of 95 to 140 H.P. The "Greenbrier" stationwagon has been retained.

Among the nearly 400 accessory and optional features available on the new Chevrolet models are a stereo radio, telescoping steering column, automatic leveling devices and trailer accessory items.

More Homeowners Painting in Autumn

Traditionally, outdoor activity around the home slows down in autumn. But tradition seems to be changing, at least as far as exterior painting is concerned. More and more homeowners are discovering that fall is a fine time for house painting.

This summary of changing patterns in exterior painting comes from Alonzo E. Sullivan, manager of the Sherwin-Williams branch in the Arlington Market Shopping Center, Arlington Heights.

"The change makes good sense," he said. "By fall, the exterior siding of the house has been thoroughly dried out by the summer sun. This means there is far less danger of trapping blister-forming moisture in the wood. Furthermore. when painting is done in cooler weather, the painter can work more comfortably and efficiently. Also, there are fewer insects to get caught in the fresh coat of paint and leave unsightly marks."

BOTH conventional oil-base and the newer latex house paints lend themselves to fall application, although the latter may have a slight edge in this situation, according to Allen.

"Our A-100 latex house paint, for example, may be applied over a damp surface," he explained. "Thus, it can be put on before the dew has completely evaporated so painting can usually get under way earlier in the morning. And because this new type of paint dries so quickly, it is not as likely to be harmed by sudden showers.

"However, he continued, "each type of paint has its advantages and the homeowner would be wise to discuss his particular situation with his painter or paint dealer before making a choice. That way he can be certain he will get the type of paint best suited to his needs."

Plan Penney's At Golf-Mill

J. C. Penney Co. has signed a lease for a 185,000-square foot department store and 16,700 square foot, free-standing auto center in Golf-Mill Center, Niles.

Under terms of the lease, the nationwide department store chain will occupy the building formerly tenanted by Lord's Department Store. The former Lord's store will be expanded to 185,000 square feet in incorporating adjacent property and adding 96,800-square foot second floor. A penthouse will be used to house the air conditioning unit.

The new Penney store, at the south end of the open shopping mall will be the chain's largest suburban operation. Expansion and renovation of the Penney store is expected to begin shortly with an opening scheduled for the summer of 1965.

Penney's Golf-Mill Store will offer a complete selection of the chain's private-brand hard lines, according to H. L. Wright, zone manager, and R. E. Erickson, district manager. It also will carry a full assortment of fashion apparel and provide a number of new customer services.

The new store will have a 16-car bay, free-standing auto center, providing front-to-rear car servicing and a full assortment of the company's own new brand of tires, batteries and auto accessories.

There will be a full line of major appliances of the chain's own brand and also television, radios, hi-fi, storeo, sporting goods, stationery, paint and hardware, cosmetics, furniture, vacuum cleaners, mattresses and bedding.

PENNEY'S new store will offer an enlarged selection of its traditional soft goods.

Customer services to be offered include central wrapping counters to enable self-selection, charge accounts, and installment buying.

Golf-Mill is the second large Penney store planned in the Chicago area in the next year. Another is to be constructed at West 76th Street and Cicero Avenue.

1965 Ford Has Most Changes In 15 Years

The most-changed Ford in the 15-year history of Ford Division will debut in Ford Dealer showrooms tomorrow (Friday).

Vertical - mounted dual headlamps and modernistic, hexagonal-shaped taillights accent the crisp look of the new Ford. Side styling features straight-through lines emphasized by a sharp, full-length fender line from front to rear.

An ultra-modern six-cylinder engine rated at 150 horsepower —lighter, more powerful, smoother - running and more economical than any other six-cylinder engine previously offered in the Ford line — heads a list of additional owner-benefits which include such items as the industry's first center - facing dual rear seats in 1965 Ford station wagons. Replacing the conventional third "jump seat," this new design affords comfortable seating for four children in the rear of the wagon.

SOME OF the many other features are curved side glass for increased shoulder room, a 13 per cent reduction in the floor-tunnel for greater passenger comfort, a recessed instrument panel with several additional inches of "living room spaciousness' in the passenger compartment and a deeper trunk capable of holding two-suiter suitcases in an upright position.

All 1965 Ford models have been completely restyled. Five separate roof lines and different series ornamentation give new and more complete distinction between the models.

Vertical -mounted dual headlamps highlight the front with a grille that features thin horizontal bars. The turn signal-parking lights are concealed behind the grille and are visible only when illuminated.

The 1965 Ford features new, low-profile tires designed for better traction and handling as well as longer tire life and better brake performance— all at no increase in vehicle height. At the same time, tread width of the 1965 Ford has been increased to 62 inches front and rear for a wider stance on the road.

UNIQUE, center-facing dual rear seats available on Ford Country Sedan and Ford Country Squire wagons offer comfortable seating for up to four children. With one seat folded, a "table and chair" arrangement ideal for youngsters' games on trips is provided. With rear and center seats folded, a four-by eight-foot sheet of plywood may be placed flat on the load floor with the tailgate closed.

All 1965 Ford series feature distinctively different interior trim styles and ornamentation. A relocation of the heater and air conditioner permit a distinctively recessed instrument panel in the 1965 Ford and add additional leg room to the interior roominess already gained the new body-frame relationship. Foot room, both front and rear, is markedly increased because the body sills straddle the torque frame rather than sitting on top of it.

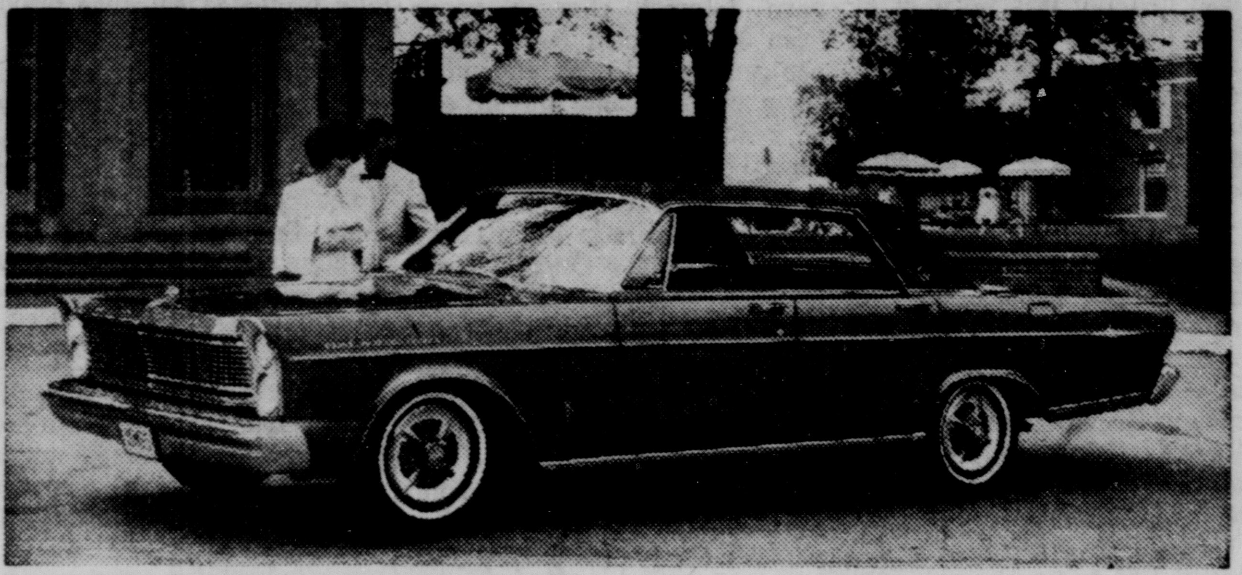
The standard engine for all 1965 Ford cars except "XL" and "LDT" models is the new 240-cubic - inch six. Ford-developed lightweight, precision - casting techniques permit a weight reduction over the previous 223-Six, yet the new engine is rated at 150 horsepower compared with 138 horsepower for the earlier engine. The Ford constant-mesh, 3 speed manual transmission is standard with this new engine, with overdrive and Cruise-O-Matic optional.

The 289-cubic-inch 2-venturi V-8, standard on "XL" and "LTD" models, has improved valve timing and intake manifold for 200 horsepower in 1965 while retaining characteristic operating economy.

THE NEW Ford suspension—more than 10 years in development—combines a unit-structure steel body with a torque box frame and coil springs front and rear. In effect, the 1965 Ford body does not require frame support and is cradled in the frame rather than sitting on top of it. Road shocks are absorbed by the suspension and torque frame rather than being transmitted to the body and its occupants.

Even the keys of the 1965 Ford are all new. They are designed to be inserted into the lock either side up. The locks are new, too — doors of all 1965 Fords are now equipped with a keyless locking system.

(15BB



THE 1965 FORD is the most changed in the 15-year history of Ford Division. One of the new models, due to make their debut at Ford showrooms tomorrow (Friday), is the luxurious new Ford Galaxie 500 LTD series, above, which features an interior of quality and style previously obtainable only in higher priced cars. Good TimeTo Install Swim Pool

Most homeowners interested in having a swimming pool installed are unaware that this time of year is actually the best for pool construction, according to Martin Finne, general sales manager of Cadillac Pools.

Ground conditions now are ideal for installing a pool, he said. There is not the seasonal rush so more attention can be paid to construction details, and the homeowner will save himself the trouble of relandscaping his grounds.

Even more important, Finne said, is cost. Because pool builders want to keep their crew working, they can give a better price than earlier in the season when the demand is greater.

Finne attributed the boom in pool sales in the Chicago area to several factors. First, pool owners recommend them to others. Second, pool builders have tried to educate the public as to the advantages of pool ownership. And, last, homeowners now realize they don't have to be millionaires to own their own pool.

Industrial Council Hears FEPC Head

CHARLES W. GRAY

Approximately half the complaints of unfair employment practices received by the Illinois Fair Employment Practices Commission are dismissed for lack of substantial evidence, according to Charles W. Gray of Prospect Heights, chairman of the commission.

Gray, also director of industrial relations for the Photo Products Division of Bell & Howell Co., discussed the commission and its work at a meeting Sept. 16 of the Northwest Industrial Council.

Gray, who is in the peculiar position of having two bosses, both running for governor of Illinois, said 90 per cent of the cases considered by the fair employment commission are settled in the conciliation stage after consultation with the employer against whom a complaint is made.

THE BALANCE of cases are resolved by court hearing, he said.

Most complaints, according to Gray, come from the Chicago area. Because of no budget to make investigations, Gray said, time for settlement can be as long as 180 days after filing of a complaint.

During a questioning period following his talk, Gray noted that travel distance is not considered a reason for not hiring an applicant for a job, but, he added, the employe can be discharged subsequently for absence or failure to report for work on time. (10BB

The 289-cubic-inch 2-venturi V-8, standard on "XL" and "LTD" models, has improved valve timing and intake manifold for 200 horsepower in 1965 while retaining characteristic operating economy.

THE NEW Ford suspension—more than 10 years in development—combines a unit-structure steel body with a torque box frame and coil springs front and rear. In effect, the 1965 Ford body does not require frame support and is cradled in the frame rather than sitting on top of it. Road shocks are absorbed by the suspension and torque frame rather than being transmitted to the body and its occupants.

Even the keys of the 1965 Ford are all new. They are designed to be inserted into the lock either side up. The locks are new, too — doors of all 1965 Fords are now equipped with a keyless locking system.

(15BB

THE 1965 FORD is the most changed in the 15-year history of Ford Division. One of the new models, due to make their debut at Ford showrooms tomorrow (Friday), is the luxurious new Ford Galaxie 500 LTD series, above, which features an interior of quality and style previously obtainable only in higher priced cars. Good TimeTo Install Swim Pool

Most homeowners interested in having a swimming pool installed are unaware that this time of year is actually the best for pool construction, according to Martin Finne, general sales manager of Cadillac Pools.

Ground conditions now are ideal for installing a pool, he said. There is not the seasonal rush so more attention can be paid to construction details, and the homeowner will save himself the trouble of relandscaping his grounds.

Even more important, Finne said, is cost. Because pool builders want to keep their crew working, they can give a better price than earlier in the season when the demand is greater.

Finne attributed the boom in pool sales in the Chicago area to several factors. First, pool owners recommend them to others. Second, pool builders have tried to educate the public as to the advantages of pool ownership. And, last, homeowners now realize they don't have to be millionaires to own their own pool.

Industrial Council Hears FEPC Head

Approximately half the complaints of unfair employment practices received by the Illinois Fair Employment Practices Commission are dismissed for lack of substantial evidence, according to Charles W. Gray of Prospect Heights, chairman of the commission.

Gray, also director of industrial relations for the Photo Products Division of Bell & Howell Co., discussed the commission and its work at a meeting Sept. 16 of the Northwest Industrial Council.

Gray, who is in the peculiar position of having two bosses, both running for governor of Illinois, said 90 per cent of the cases considered by the fair employment commission are settled in the conciliation stage after consultation with the employer against whom a complaint is made.

THE BALANCE of cases are resolved by court hearing, he said.

Most complaints, according to Gray, come from the Chicago area. Because of no budget to make investigations, Gray said, time for settlement can be as long as 180 days after filing of a complaint.

CHARLES W. GRAY

During a questioning period following his talk, Gray noted that travel distance is not considered a reason for not hiring an applicant for a job, but, he added, the employe can be discharged subsequently for absence or failure to report for work on time. (10BB

Lists Benefits of Converting to Gas

Lower gas heat rates and a new equipment installation financing plan make it more beneficial and easier for homeowners who are converting to gas heat this fall, according to H. G. Carr, Northern Illinois Gas Co. sales manager.

He says NI-Gas reduced its residential gas heat rates $2.9 million annually Sept. 1 and $2.6 million in April of this year. Reductions in rates for all customers during the past two years have totalled over $11 million. The typical home in this area now can be heated for about $83 less a year with natural gas than with oil, Carr asserts.

In addition, he says the company now has a monthly payment plan available to customers through their local heating contractors for financing both equipment and intallation costs of converting to gas heat.

As an extra bonus for homeowners who convert to gas heat in September and October, Carr reports that NI-Gas is giving them 10,000 Plaid Stamps. He said details of this special offer are available from local heating contractors.

Finds Woman Home Buyer Interested in Loan Rates

"We knew the lady of the house had the last word in interior decoration and layout of a newly-purchased home. But we were a bit surprised to learn that she also gave as much — and often more — attention to loan rates as her husband."

This was the comment of Albert Riley, well-known builder and developer, discussing his firm's plan for guaranteeing a fixed, competitive interest rate on loans to buyers of new homes in Plum Grove Countryside. The all-residential community is located on Route 53, two miles south of Palatine.

Introduced a few weeks ago, the plan is designed to simplify financing arrangements for the typical new-home buyer. Mortgage interest charges range from 5½ per cent down to 4½ per cent, based upon amount of down payment and the accepted evaluation of the model chosen.

A current favorite among visitors and buyers in Plum Grove Countryside is a Colonial ranch home, "The Country House."

Designed to utilize space and room arrangement to best advantage, the "Country House" —in a large "L" layout — has three bedrooms, living and dining rooms, kitchen, family room, basement and two full baths, one private to the master bedroom.

The attached two-car garage has a large storage area, and fully protected entrance provided by extension of the roof.

The home also features special sound-conditioning design and was first in the Chicago area to receive the special "Quiet Home" certification from Practical Builder, national home building magazine, and The Insulation Board Institute.

Layout of the home fits the natural traffic patterns. Central distributing point is the paneled front entrance foyer. From here, entrances open immediately to family room, living room, garage or the corridor to bath and bedrooms.

An unusually-designed corner fireplace is optional in the family room. To one side, on a little higher level and semi-separated by an antique railing, is the kitchen. Cabinets, work space and appliances are in an handy L-arrangement. The living room, and adjoining dining room share a wide, picture window wall.

The "Country House" and other furnished models are open to visitors daily 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

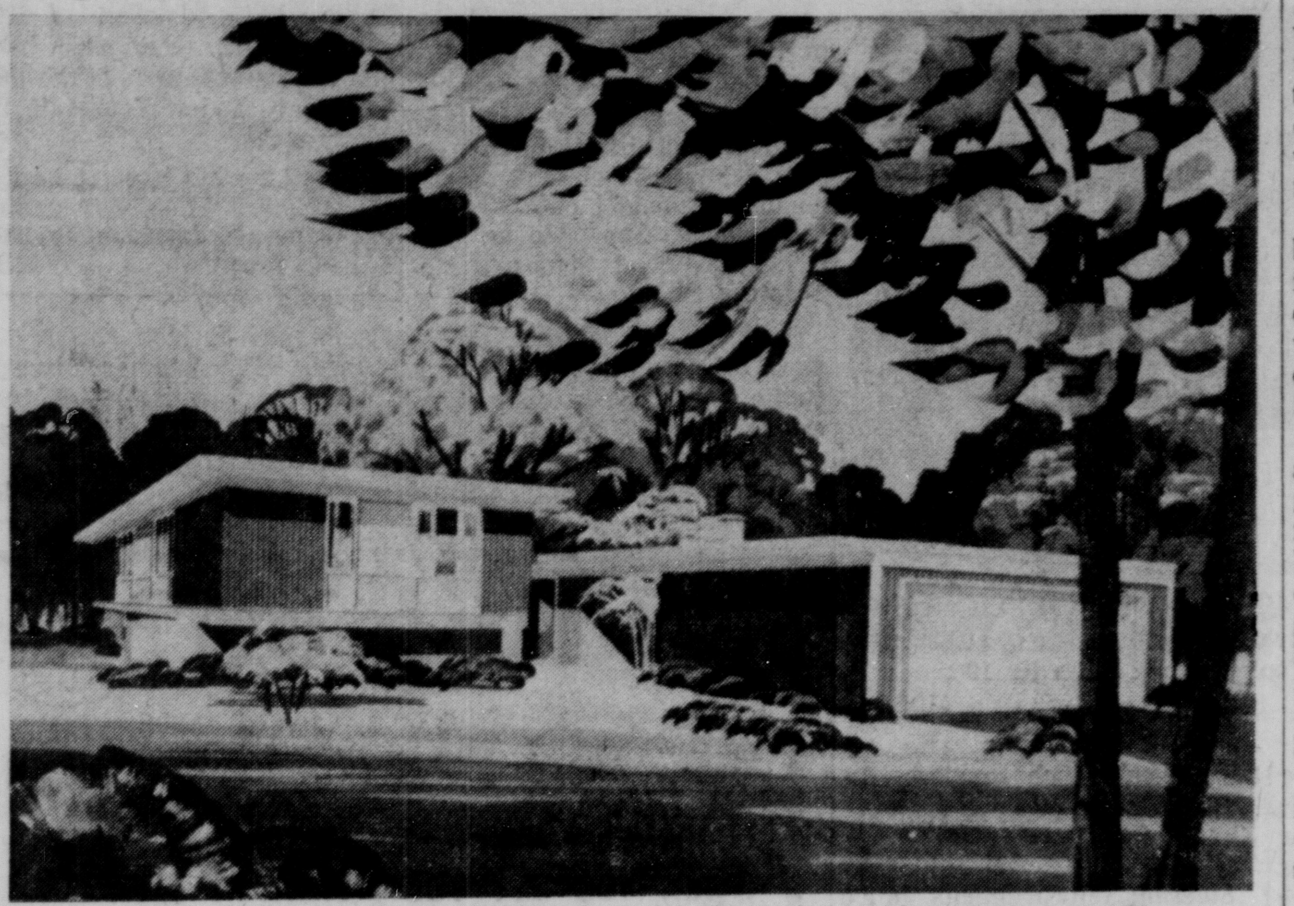
Home Combines Dramatic Styling, Practical Design



AMONG THE models now being shown in Sleepy Hollow, just west of Dundee on Route 72, is this home, the "Contempora." It features eye-catching styling and interior layout for most comfortable, practical use. There are three bedrooms plus a fourth room that may be used as bedroom, study or den. (15BB

Catching the eyes of recent visitors to Sleepy Hollow, just west of Dundee on Route 72, is the "Contempora," an unusual concept of modern home design which blends the dramatic with the practical.

This model has two baths, bedrooms, a big fireplace and fully-paneled family room. It is offered complete with wall-to-wall carpeting, draperies, all-electric built-in appliances and a half-acre landscaped site.

THE exterior of the home presents an unusual combination of glass, masonry and the dark red-brown of fine Douglas fir. With well over 2.200 square feet of living area, this design suggests even greater spaciousness by locating the two-car garage at the front of the property, then connecting it with the house by a roofed, semi-open breezeway. This extra-spacious effect is increased by extending the upper level of the home out over the contrasting brick wall of the lower level and also by using a flat roof with pronounced overhang.

Inside, the split-level plan of the "Contempora" continues to stress both the dramatic and the practical. The tiled foyer is planned to be the traffic distributing center for all three levels. The living room and dining room are in complementary decor, with beamed ceiling and strikingly designed fireplace, Both rooms have sliding glass doors to exterior patio areas.

In the kitchen, the breakfast and informal eating area also opens onto the rear patio area--with appliances, cabinets and work space in a practical, step-saving U-arrangement.

Over half of the lower level is taken up by the family room. Paneled on all sides, it has its own outside entrance at one corner, with exterior protected landing a few steps below grade. Opening off the family room are the second bath, the utility room and the fourth bedroom -- the latter being, optionally, a den or study.

ON THE upper level of this design are three bedrooms and the main bath, the latter with two convenient linen closets at the entrance, matching double vanity and wide mirror. It also has a second entrance, private to the master bedroom.

The "Contempora" and other models may be seen daily at Sleepy Hollow, from 10 a.m. till dusk. The community is on Higgins Road just west of Dundee. (15BB

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

by Richard H. DeLano, Associate Farm Advisor

ALERT HOMEOWNERS DIAL DAILY 392-3060

Everyone knows that spring is a good time to plant trees and shrubs. However, a lesser number of people realize that there are several advantages gained by fall planting.

Shrubs planted in fall gain an extra half season or more of growth over plants installed the following spring. Studies have shown that some root growth continues right up to the time the ground freezes. In fact, those areas below the frost line continue to grow to some degree all winter long. This means that fall plants are adjusted and prepared to burst into growth at the first favorable moment next spring.

However, the earliest, and therefore the best time to plant in spring is often convenient for the gardener. Spring is a time when many chores compete for his time, making fall the more convenient time to plant.

Another point in favor of autumn planting is the ease with which warm fall soils can be spaded. It's easier to work a friable well-drained soil in the fall than a soil muddy from spring rains.

Fall availability of home grown organic matter makes soil improvement simple and inexpensive. Discarded tomato vines, dried spent flowers, and fallen leaves can all be incorporated into the planting soil to produce a rich humus.

ONCE PLANTED, these fall planted shrubs need less care than spring planted shrubs. They are established, therefore they don't have to struggle ,shortly after installation through a possible hot dry summer.

For best results with either fall or spring planting, it's good to keep a few points in mind. Never incorporate fertilizer into the planting soil or fertilize sooner than a year after planting. It may burn new roots. A possible exception could be the use of dried manure.

Although mentioned often, it's worth repeating that it is important to plant a tree or shrub at the original nursery depth. This depth is indicated by a line formed by an abrupt change in bark color and texture. At any rate you'll be on the safe side if you plant too shallow rather than too deep. Planting too deep causes the bark above the root line to rot.

Other important planting procedures include liberal watering before the ground freezes. If a tree is involved wrapping with burlap or special tree-wrap paper is important, as it prevents winter sunscald.

CERTAINLY there are some disadvantages to fall planting. For example, roses and certain thin barked trees require perfect care if they are planted in fall. However, the advantages of fall planting are numerous, and therefore one need not delay planned landscape installations or improvements until spring. (15 BB

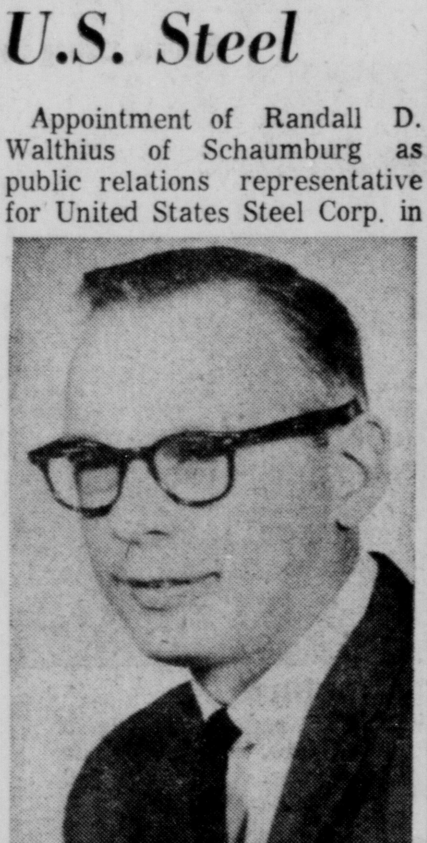
Gets New Post with U.S. Steel

Appointment of Randall D. Walthius of Schaumburg as public relations representative for United States Steel Corp. in Chicago was announced by A. L. Krieg, district director of public relations.



RANDALL WALTHIUS

A 1956 graduate of Northwestern University's Medill School of Journalism, Walthius formerly was assistant manager of press relations for Pure Oil Company in Palatine, Illinois. He resides with his wife, Pat, two sons and daughter at 55 Dartmouth Lane.

Walthius is a member of the Publicity Club of Chicago, the Public Relations Clinic and the Petroleum Writers Association.

Assist at Pioneers Convention

Lawrence P. Swanson, 528 Bristol Lane, Arlington Heights, and James E. Wax, 111 S. Louis St., Mount Prospect, served on the general committee for the 1964 general assembly of the Telephone Pioneers of America.

The meeting was held in Chicago Monday through Wednesday with about 1,500 delegates and guests attending from chapters throughout the United States and Canada.

Swanson is general sales manager of Illinois Bell and served as chairman of the hotel arrangements committee. Wax, division revenue accounting manager for the telephone company, was treasurer.

Marks 25 Years with N-I Gas Co.

William Rittmueller of Bensenville, a 25-year veteran of Northern Illinois Gas Co, observed his service anniversary with the company on Sept. 13.

Rittmueller started his utility career in 1939 and has held various positions in the operating department in the Oak Park and Bellwood areas. In 1962, he assumed the position of standards analyst in the customer service advisory staff department at LaGrange. In April of this year, he moved to Bellwood in the same capacity.

Rittmueller and his family live at 17 W. 179 Hawthorne Ave. He is vice president of the Home Owners Association of Mohawk Manor and chairman of the board of the Home Building Association in Bensenville. (5BB

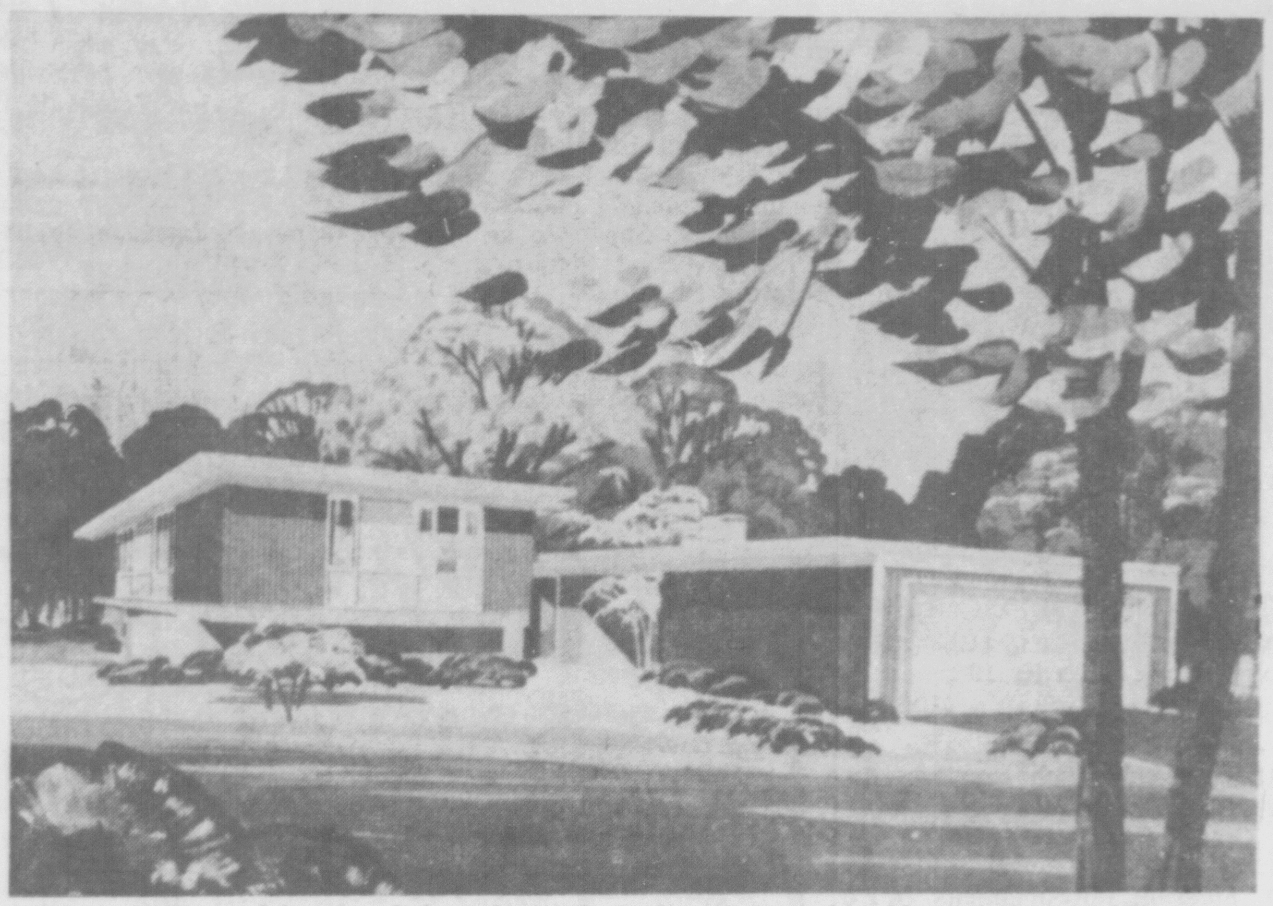
Home Combines Dramatic Styling, Practical Design



AMONG THE models now being shown in Sleepy Hollow, just west of Dundee on Route 72, is this home, the "Contempora." It features eye-catching styling and interior layout for most comfortable, practical use. There are three bedrooms plus a fourth room that may be used as bedroom, study or den. (15BB

Catching the eyes of recent visitors to Sleepy Hollow, just west of Dundee on Route 72, is the "Contempora," an unusual concept of modern home design which blends the dramatic with the practical.

This model has two baths, bedrooms, a big fireplace and fully-paneled family room. It is offered complete with wall-to-wall carpeting, draperies, all-electric built-in appliances and a half-acre landscaped site.

THE exterior of the home presents an unusual combination of glass, masonry and the dark red-brown of fine Douglas fir. With well over 2.200 square feet of living area, this design suggests even greater spaciousness by locating the two-car garage at the front of the property, then connecting it with the house by a roofed, semi-open breezeway. This extra-spacious effect is increased by extending the upper level of the home out over the contrasting brick wall of the lower level and also by using a flat roof with pronounced overhang.

Inside, the split-level plan of the "Contempora" continues to stress both the dramatic and the practical. The tiled foyer is planned to be the traffic distributing center for all three levels. The living room and dining room are in complementary decor, with beamed ceiling and strikingly designed fireplace, Both rooms have sliding glass doors to exterior patio areas.

In the kitchen, the breakfast and informal eating area also opens onto the rear patio area--with appliances, cabinets and work space in a practical, step-saving U-arrangement.

Over half of the lower level is taken up by the family room. Paneled on all sides, it has its own outside entrance at one corner, with exterior protected landing a few steps below grade. Opening off the family room are the second bath, the utility room and the fourth bedroom -- the latter being, optionally, a den or study.

ON THE upper level of this design are three bedrooms and the main bath, the latter with two convenient linen closets at the entrance, matching double vanity and wide mirror. It also has a second entrance, private to the master bedroom.

The "Contempora" and other models may be seen daily at Sleepy Hollow, from 10 a.m. till dusk. The community is on Higgins Road just west of Dundee. (15BB

by Richard H. DeLano, Associate Farm Advisor

ALERT HOMEOWNERS DIAL DAILY 392-3060

Everyone knows that spring is a good time to plant trees and shrubs. However, a lesser number of people realize that there are several advantages gained by fall planting.

Shrubs planted in fall gain an extra half season or more of growth over plants installed the following spring. Studies have shown that some root growth continues right up to the time the ground freezes. In fact, those areas below the frost line continue to grow to some degree all winter long. This means that fall plants are adjusted and prepared to burst into growth at the first favorable moment next spring.

However, the earliest, and therefore the best time to plant in spring is often convenient for the gardener. Spring is a time when many chores compete for his time, making fall the more convenient time to plant.

Another point in favor of autumn planting is the ease with which warm fall soils can be spaded. It's easier to work a friable well-drained soil in the fall than a soil muddy from spring rains.

Fall availability of home grown organic matter makes soil improvement simple and inexpensive. Discarded tomato vines, dried spent flowers, and fallen leaves can all be incorporated into the planting soil to produce a rich humus.

ONCE PLANTED, these fall planted shrubs need less care than spring planted shrubs. They are established, therefore they don't have to struggle ,shortly after installation through a possible hot dry summer.

For best results with either fall or spring planting, it's good to keep a few points in mind. Never incorporate fertilizer into the planting soil or fertilize sooner than a year after planting. It may burn new roots. A possible exception could be the use of dried manure.

Although mentioned often, it's worth repeating that it is important to plant a tree or shrub at the original nursery depth. This depth is indicated by a line formed by an abrupt change in bark color and texture. At any rate you'll be on the safe side if you plant too shallow rather than too deep. Planting too deep causes the bark above the root line to rot.

Other important planting procedures include liberal watering before the ground freezes. If a tree is involved wrapping with burlap or special tree-wrap paper is important, as it prevents winter sunscald.

CERTAINLY there are some disadvantages to fall planting. For example, roses and certain thin barked trees require perfect care if they are planted in fall. However, the advantages of fall planting are numerous, and therefore one need not delay planned landscape installations or improvements until spring. (15 BB

Comet Offers Mechanical Advances, New Appearance

For the second consecutive year, Mercury Comet which goes on sale tomorrow (Friday) at Roto Mercury in Arlington Heights, — presents an entirely new appearance and major mechanical advances.

The 1965 Mercury Comet is wider, yet sleeker, and the sporty Cyclone series has its own distinctive grille and ornamentation.

Mechanical improvements include significant power train advances, more responsive steering, a new electrical system, better ride and increased comfort and new low-profile tires. A wider choice of new options and accessories is offered.

OVER-ALL dimensions are changed only slightly, with width increased 1.5 inches. Wheelbase remains at 114 inches, offering maneuverability, with the ride and handling characteristics of larger cars.

Front end sheet metal — hood and fenders — are new for all models, along with new bumper, grille, vertical headlamps and ornamentation. Two-and-four-door sedans have a new roof, giving these models a tailored look.

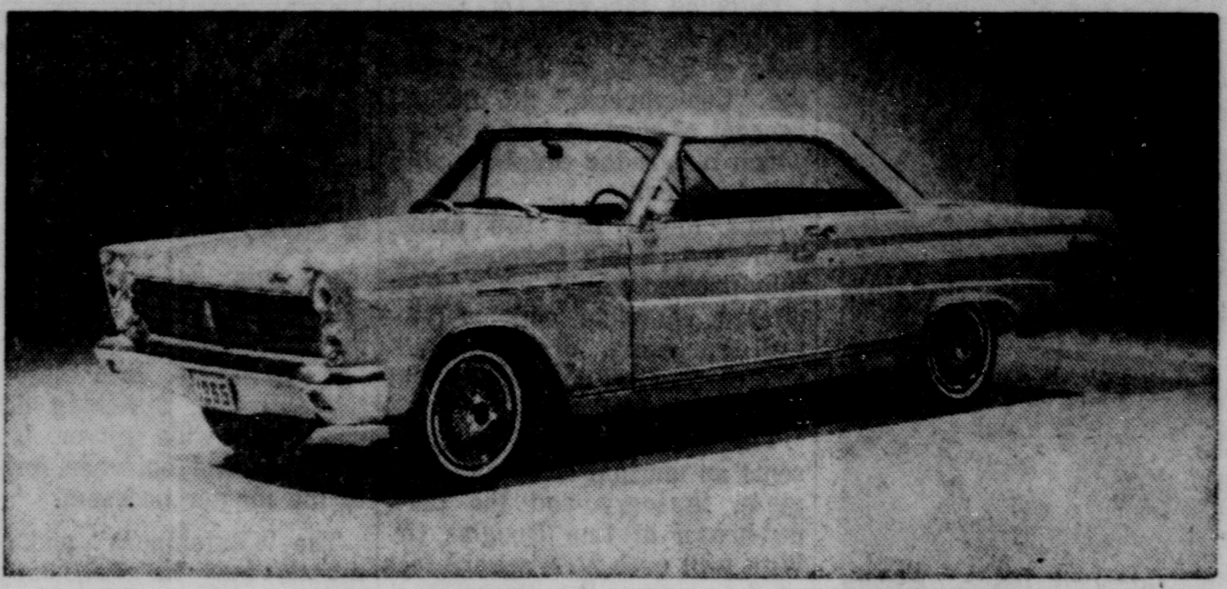
Rear end sheet metal — deck lid, rear quarter panels and back panels — bumper and taillamps are new for all except station wagons. Taillamps and rear ornamentation are new for station wagons.

Interiors feature a restyled instrument panel with all circular dials, new trim schemes and fabrics. The Cyclone has a tachometer as standard equipment and elapsed time clock and vacuum gauge optional.

SERIES AND model line-up for 1965 remains unchanged. Bucket seats are available in four of the 11 models. A new 200-cubic inch, 120 horsepower six-cylinder engine with seven main bearings is offered both with standard and three-speed automatic transmission.

Increased V-8 performance for the 1965 Mercury Comet is offered with the 289-cubic inch engine, an option in 1964 which becomes the standard V-8. Rated at 200 horsepower with a two barrel carburetor, this V-8 is designed to operate on regular grade fuel. Two optional V-8's with four barrel carburetors are offered to operate on premium fuel, a new 225 horsepower version and a high performance 271 horsepower version which powered the Comets during the 100,000 Mile Daytona Durability Run. The 225 horsepower V-8 is standard on the Cyclone. Improvements for performance and durability have been made in the 289-cubic-inch engine. An optional power-transfer rear axle is available.

Steering improvements are achieved from new manual steering linkage on V-8's, a new power steering pump which is quieter and more efficient, and a reduction in the power steering ration. An optional ride and handling package for the Cyclone includes a 21.6 to one manual steering ratio and stiffer suspension. (10BB



AN ENTIRELY new appearance and major mechanical advances are presented in 1965 for the Mercury Comet. New front end sheet metal incorporates vertical headlamps, which are set off to advantage by the new grille. Pictured is the Caliente, two-door hardtop, one of 11 models in Mercury Comet's three series for 1965. (10BB

Promoted To Office Manager

Appointment of David Mendel, 329 Newport Road, Hoffman Estates, as manager of the central states office of the American Association of Industrial Management and the National Metal Trades Association was announced recently.

Mendel previously worked as a staff member in the midwest division. He will serve member companies in Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and parts of Ohio and Illinois.

Mendel formerly was with Fairbanks Morse and Co. and later the Wisconsin Industrial Commission. He joined his present employer in 1963.

Office Training Available for Women at Home

An opportunity to learn bookkeeping, elementary accounting, typing, shorthand and office procedures at home is being offered by the Advance Business College Division of an accredited home study school.

Offices are in the Pickwick Theater Building, 3 S. Prospect Ave., Park Ridge.

Training is designed to help the beginner wanting a good business career, the present office worker wanting a better position, as well as the woman seeking to become an executive secretary or interested in opening her own bookkeeping-secretarial service.

(10BB

Completes Training

John W. Lind, 504 N. Elmhurst Road, Prospect Heights, has completed an 8-week training program at the home office of Washington National Insurance Company, Evanston.

A June graduate of Beloit College, Lind was one of 10 men selected to become a salaried home office representative in the company's group insurance department. He has been assigned to the company's Chicago group office.

Teaches Television Course in Spanish

Dr. Albert Donnell, 347 Ashley Road, Hoffman Estates, associate professor of modern languages at Wright Junior College, is presenting a television course in beginning Spanish during TV College's fall trimester, which began Sept. 8 and ends Dec. 23.

All lessons will be telecast by WTTW-Channel 11. The course will carry full college credit through branches of the Chicago City Junior College and the Chicago Teachers College North.

The course, a basic one assuming no previous knowledge of Spanish, will revolve around the so-called "audio-lingual" method.

LESSONS WILL be telecast from 3 to 3:45 p.m. Monday and Wednesday and repeated on videotape from 6:30 to 7:15 p.m. Monday and Wednesday. Credit students will be required to attend classroom sessions every other week during the term on dates and at times to be announced.

Students from northwest suburbs may still register for credit at Wright Branch, 3400 N. Austin, Chicago, or at the Loop Branch, 64 E. Lake St., today (Thursday) from 6 to 8 p.m. Credit students outside the city of Chicago must pay $53.40 tuition.

Those interested in enrolling not for credit may send $1 to cover study materials to TV College, 3400 N. Austin, Chicago 60634. (15CC

The Way We See It

Voters Respond to Political Courage

Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, who does not have to run for re-election this year, has written some words of wisdom which could be pondered with profit by those whose names are on the ballot.

The candidates should be interested because, if elected, they must decide on what role they would play as legislators. They will have to decide, if they have not done it already, how much independence they will muster in behalf of what they believe to be right.

Occasionally, a lawmaker is so independent that he loses touch with fellow legislators whose support he needs. Much more frequently, however, we see the opposite case of the lawmaker who always seeks the safest possible spot in the middle of the herd. Sometimes this cautious approach gets a greater reward than it deserves.

Sen. Douglas has not been able to seek safety in the center of the herd.

In a candid and revealing September report to his constituents, Sen. Douglas says, "I see my own role in the Senate primarily as one of introducing and trying to develop these much-needed but controversial issues so that they eventually gain success."

He cites four proposals that he sponsored that finally won out against great odds and two others which have yet to gain acceptance.

The four successes dealt with depressed areas, pension and welfare fund disclosures, military waste, and civil rights. The two causes yet to be won are the truth-in-lending bill and saving the Indiana dunes for public recreational use.

Sen. Douglas recalls that in 1956 he and other supporters of a meaningful civil rights bill mustered only six votes in the Senate to keep the bill alive. "This is perhaps the most humiliating vote I have ever received," he recalls.

The success this year of the civil rights bill is, of course, known to all. "The irony in 1964 was that many, but not all, of those who had opposed these provisions in past years were acclaimed for their civil rights stand this year," Douglas observes. But that is the history of reform. "The important point is that we now have an effective law on the books," Sen. Douglas states.

It does seem that lawmakers who show a little independence are gaining in public esteem. Certainly this is what one would expect, because levels of education are rising, people read more, and new and better techniques of journalism now bring a clearer and more complete story of events into every home. In brief, the electorate is becoming more sophisticated.

As a result, old campaign techniques which relied on the naivete of the electorate may go out of fashion.

Perhaps the photograph of a candidate taken with some "big-wig" will lose its potency when everyone knows it was only one of a hundred or so such pictures taken in rapid-fire order.

The importance of religious and nationality factors in picking candidates will lessen. The influence of "bossism" and patronage should decline.

Actually, although Sen. Douglas has never been invited to that inner circle of the Senate which is called The Establishment, his name is associated with more constructive legislation than most of those who dwell in the inner sanctum. This is because of his independence and not in spite of it. The same thing is true of his counterparts in the Republican ranks. To speak and act for one's convictions is a virtue that everyone may cultivate.

This week Paddock Publications prints the first in a series of interviews with political candidates. We hope to ask the questions and get the answers that will help our readers to vote for the candidates who will put their conception of the public interest ahead of either personal or partisan ambitions.

Salute to Homemakers

This week's Suburban Living section carries an announcement of our participation in the 1964 Search for the Suburban Homemaker of the Year. We are proud to be a part of this program, sponsored by the Suburban Press Foundation, which will pay sincere tribute and recognition to the important role of the suburban homemaker in today's pattern of living.

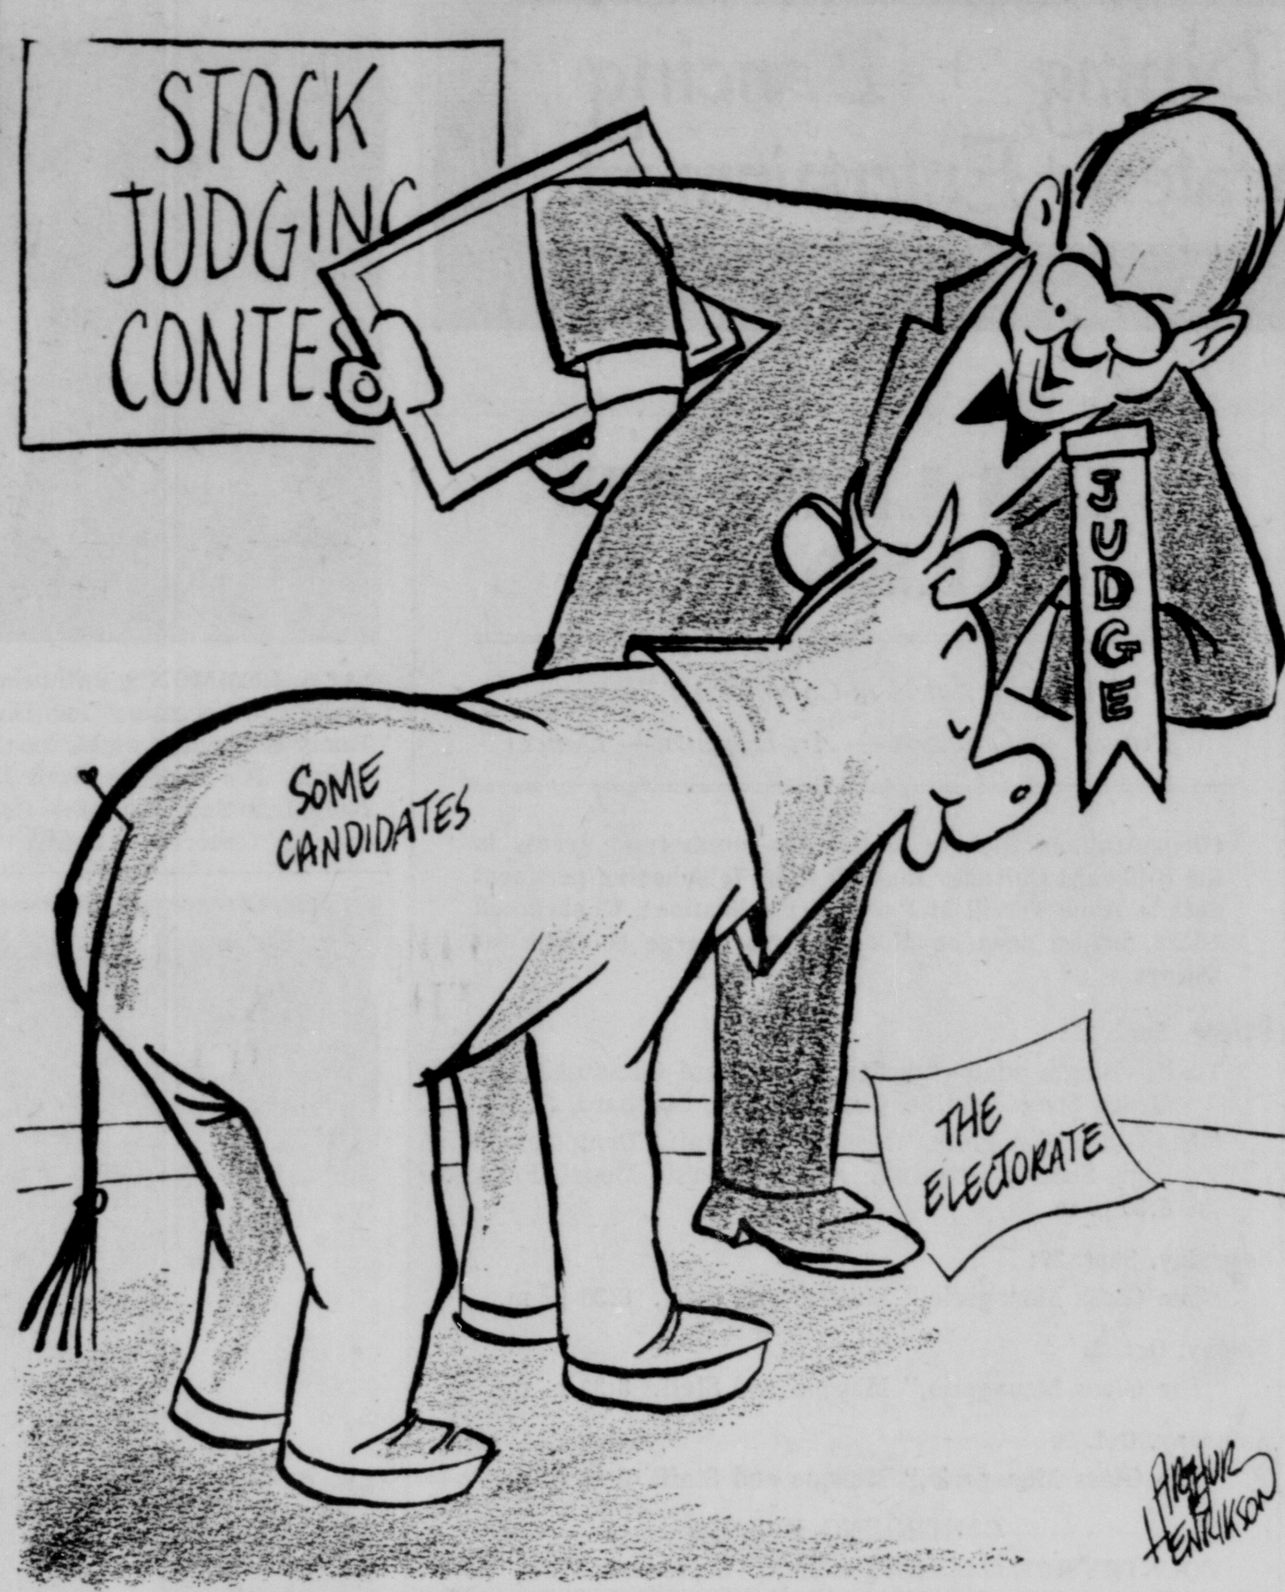
The years since World War II have brought many changes and one of the major ones has been the mushroom growth of "suburbia." Growing right along with suburbia has been the suburban newspaper. From coast to coast suburban citizens have come to depend on their suburban paper to keep them informed on local government, local needs, local responsibilities and local achievements. Today, suburban journalism is the fastest growing segment of the newspaper world.

We feel it is particularly fitting, therefore, that suburban newspapers from one end of our country to the other are joining together to recognize the vital role of their homemakers in a changing world. The growth of Suburbia has meant that homemakers have had to "grow," too, as the complexity of their responsibilities has grown. They are to a large extent responsible for the kind of community in which their families live.

We hope you will join us in the Search for our community's Suburban Homemaker of the Year. She may be your wife, your mother, the gal next door, your fellow church or civic organization member. She's the woman who can always be depended on to whip up a cake or decorate a booth at the church bazaar, to lead the drive for better schools, or bandage up a skinned knee, all without personal fanfare. Her family comes first with her but she knows her family doesn't exist in a vacuum and that she has a responsibility to her community as well.

Look for the "Official Entry Blank" printed in this week's Suburban Living section and fill it out with the name of the woman you believe best fulfills the role of "Suburban Homemaker of the Year."

Getting Too Smart to Be Fooled?



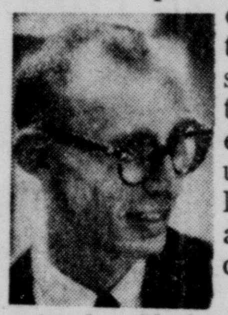
Voters 'Speak Up!'

Suburbs Not an Issue

By BEN BURNS
Staff Writer

("Speak Up!" is a regular feature of Paddock Publications' Page of Opinion; each week a staff editor samples the viewpoints of representative citizens on a topic of local or national interest. This week's inquiring reporter, Ben Burns, questioned area voters on the impact of suburban problems in their choice of Presidential candidate.)

Suburbanites apparently do not consider an understanding of the problems of their area significant in choosing a President this November.



Those interviewed, who had definite opinions on which candidate they favored, said generally that a consideration of suburban problems had not affected their choice.

The uncommitted said they did not feel suburban area problems were important in a national election, but might be in a gubernatorial election; others complained that the 1964 Presidential election was a "mess."

J. GARGANO, 22W294 Irving Park Road, Medinah, was typical of the committed response. "I think Johnson would most benefit the suburbs," he said. "I've been a Democrat all my life, and I think that's it. I think he is more aware of the suburban needs," Gargano said.

Olaf Olsen, a 10-year resident of Bensenville, took the other view. "It's Goldwater all the way," he said. "All the way around he is the best man for the welfare of the country as far as I can see. He would eliminate some of the taxes and this would be very good for Bensenville because property taxes are so high."

Most answers boiled down to basic political philosophy in favor of one party or another, but several indicated a certain dissatisfaction with the entire election.

RUSSELL Langhoff of 375 N. Central in Wood Dale represented this view.

"I'm undecided at the moment who I'm going to vote for. I don't feel we have much to choose from. I don't think either one of them is even thinking about the suburbs. Their major concern is votes and they don't care much about the man in the street.

"You might say that Johnson got the job accidentally and I don't think Goldwater is any improvement."

An Itasca man, who preferred to remain unidentified, said, "I really could not say. I haven't noticed either of them paying much attention to the suburbs. I thing the whole election campaign this time around is a mess and I try not to think about either of them."

An Arlington Heights resident begged off answering the question at all. "I could not have any comment at this time. I'm confused."

LLOYD LOGAN of 19 Mandel Lane, Prospect Heights, said, "I don't think either one of them would be more understanding of our problems. As long as they get the votes to get in, I don't think either of them is interested in the small man. They will do what they think necessary to get the votes."

An Elk Grove Village resident, who refused to be named, indicated the problems of suburbia had not played any major part in his final decision.

"I'm going to vote for Mr. Johnson," he prefaced his remarks. "I will vote him more on national issues rather than on suburban issues. I think the surburban issues are rather minor," he said.

"Basically I think the Democratic party standard bearers are more for the common people," he said.

"I NEVER thought of the candidates as specifically benefiting suburban areas," said John Burek, 223 Warrington, Des Plaines. "I don't know what to say. I can't say I'm picking a candidate for what he is going to do for the suburbs because I don't look at them that way, although I think I might in voting for a governor."

F. Dale of 302 S. Walnut, Bensenville and Mrs. Charles Irey, 107 S. Donald in Arlington Heights, were typical examples of the shoppers found on Northwest suburban streets this week.

Dale said, "Goldwater would serve better because I'm a Republican. He is more for the small town and against big government bureaucracy."

Mrs. Irey said, "I feel Goldwater is the man I'm going to vote for. He is more honest."

SEVERAL other women in suburban shopping centers on Saturday refused to answer questions regarding the presidential candidates on the grounds that they were unqualified to give an opinion.

"I'm not the one to ask that question," one attractive housewife said, "I'm afraid I don't know a thing about either of the candidates."

News Editors Appointed

Three news staff changes for Paddock Publications, Inc. have been announced by Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of the 15 suburban newspapers.

The appointments, effective Sept. 17, were:

—LEE B. SECHLER to news editor, Addison Register and DuPage County Register;

—BEN J. BURNS to news editor, Bensenville Register and Itasca Register; and —HOWARD HARMENING to news editor, Hanover Streamwood Herald.

Sechler was associated with the New York Journal-American prior to joining Paddock Publications in 1962 as news editor of the Hoffman Herald. Most recently, he has served as news editor of the Bensenville Register. He is married and father of a son, 20 months.

A journalism graduate of Michigan State University, Burns was capitol reporter for United Press International in Lansing, Mich., before coming to Paddock Publications in August. His wife is a teacher in Mount Prospect public schools.

Harmening was general assignment reporter for Richardson Publications and sports writer for Elgin Daily Courier-News before joining Paddock Publications sports staff last February. Since June he has been serving as news editor for the Addison Register and Itasca Register. He and his wife are parents of a son, 9 months.

The Hanover Streamwood Herald is the newest in Paddock's expanding family of suburban newspapers. Introduced to Hanover Township last April, it serves the villages of Hanover Park, Streamwood, and Bartlett. Previously, the township has been served since 1872 by other Paddock editions, including the Roselle Register and Palatine Enterprise.

Critic's Corner

Suburbs Need Both Parties

By DON HEINE
Staff Writer

If the northwest suburbs receive any blessing from the November election, it may be in the form of a strengthened two party system.

Just as Chicago needs more working Republicans, so this corner of Cook County should be populated with additional Democratic stalwarts.

This is heresy to many suburbanites who accept at face value all the cliches and myths perpetuated by the Republican leadership of Illinois.

BUT FORTUNATELY, a growing number of residents are taking an independent and sophisticated approach to public affairs, with a healthy skepticism to the puffed-up claims of political pros.

Neither political party has an unblemished record in safeguarding interests of suburbs.

Democrats failed last year when Gov. Otto Kerner vetoed a bill which would have channeled much-needed state aid into suburban school districts. His veto, to cite one example, cost Schaumburg School District 54 elementary schools about $200,000. Suburban Democratic leaders didn't press their governor.

HEINE

REPUBLICAN indifference is equally glaring in the current campaign of Sen. Everett Dirksen (R.-Ill.) to nullify a recent U.S. Supreme Court decision on reapportionment. This decision was of special benefit for fast-growing suburbs. But if Dirksen's move succeeds, a voter in Palatine or Elk Grove Village might find himself on par with a cow or a chicken in the favored rural areas.

Understandably, downstaters whose future in office hinges on unequal representation support Dirksen. But why have many Republican leaders in the suburbs remained silent on the future interest of their own constituents. Only the Democrats have arisen to defense of the suburbs.

One excuse given by the Republicans is that equality in the ballot box would help Chicago's Mayor Daley.

ISN'T IT TIME that Republicans outside of Chicago stop using Daley as a whipping boy to cover up their own weaknesses? Daley is a Chicago figure. He is criticized unceasingly by top GOP leaders in the state, yet many of them support him when he runs for re-election.

Just because the Republicans have followed a defeatist and disgruntled attitude in Chicago, doesn't mean the Democrats should copy them in the suburbs.

Here organized Republicans are concentrated on the anachronistic township government. Township officials often perform their jobs thoroughly and conscientiously, although they seldom are unmindful of how to use their limited patronage and power for partisan advancement. Many suburban villages also are run with a Republican slant.

DEMOCRATS, while in a minority, may perform valuable watchdog service.

One example of how Republican enthusiasm can be carried to excess was provided recently by supporters of GOP Gubernatorial Candidate Charles Percy. Anxious to get all possible persons qualified to vote for their man, these campaign workers arranged to have voter registrations made at a Percy rally in Palatine.

City, township and village clerks, all Republicans, were asked to be on hand to take the registrations from nonregistered persons. The plan never came off. It was stopped when County Clerk Edward J. Barrett pointed to the state statute forbidding any of the clerks to make registrations outside their office.

Thus a Democrat saved Republicans from violating the law, which, of course, is something no one in either party would ever do on purpose.

Beatle Bobs for Boys

Act of Filial Devotion?

By BOB CUMMINS
Staff Writer

Since the Beatles took over, I have heard a lot of dissatisfaction expressed with their hair style, especially by adults.

It has been called the "Buster Brown" style and other uncomplimentary names. I remember reading that one swimming pool manager in England threatened to require boys with Beatle-style haircuts to wear bathing caps in the pool.

CUMMINS

It seems that this criticism stems from a conviction that the Beatle-style haircut is simply an expression of perverse eccentricity. Perhaps I used to think that myself. But more careful consideration has led me to change my mind. I now see the Beatle hair style as a cyclic irruption which may contain profound psychological undertones. I call my theory the Theory of the 40-Year Cycle of Family Solidarity Hair Styles.

You may recall that 40 years ago the women of America appeared to rebel against the stodgy hair styles that custom decreed for them. They began cutting their hair short, somewhat like men. They went in for the "boyish bob" and similar things. My theory is that this fad was a tribute by the girls to their fathers. Scholarly research might well reveal that the first "boyish bob" appeared on Fathers Day.

Now another phase of the 40-Year Cycle has made its appearance and it is the turn of mothers to receive a tribute from their sons in the spirit of the old saying, "Imitation is the sincerest form of flattery." Now the boys are cutting their hair in the style of mothers. Far from being perverse eccentricity, this is an act of the deepest filial devotion.

My theory holds that at 40-year intervals each member of the family will be honored by the others (or some of them at least) by having his customary hair style imitated.

In some cases, this will cause even greater consternation than the present hair styles do.

Around the year 2000, I expect a singing group to make its appearance, perhaps in America, perhaps in some far-off land, which will call itself the Four Infants or something like that. The Four Infants will appear on stage wearing diapers and their heads will be bald in the style generally affected by their baby siblings. I do not know whether the Four Infants will be boys or girls but I am sure they will be bald.

As the cycle unfolds, I predict that outcries will be heard against boys wearing pig tails and girls wearing crew cuts that are equally as loud as the outcries we hear against the Beatles. But it will be to no avail for outcries cannot curb the elemental instincts which are behind the 40-Year Cycle of Family Solidarity Hair Styles.

How long will the cycle go on, you ask? In my opinion, until every member of the family unit is honored. Mom and dad, big sister and little brother, little sister and big brother, grandpa and grandma—all of [illegible] I'm not sure what will happen after that. People may start over with father again or they may decide to pay tribute to the family dog.

CUMMINS

It seems that this criticism stems from a conviction that the Beatle-style haircut is simply an expression of perverse eccentricity. Perhaps I used to think that myself. But more careful consideration has led me to change my mind. I now see the Beatle hair style as a cyclic irruption which may contain profound psychological undertones. I call my theory the Theory of the 40-Year Cycle of Family Solidarity Hair Styles.

You may recall that 40 years ago the women of America appeared to rebel against the stodgy hair styles that custom decreed for them. They began cutting their hair short, somewhat like men. They went in for the "boyish bob" and similar things. My theory is that this fad was a tribute by the girls to their fathers. Scholarly research might well reveal that the first "boyish bob" appeared on Fathers Day.

Now another phase of the 40-Year Cycle has made its appearance and it is the turn of mothers to receive a tribute from their sons in the spirit of the old saying, "Imitation is the sincerest form of flattery." Now the boys are cutting their hair in the style of mothers. Far from being perverse eccentricity, this is an act of the deepest filial devotion.

My theory holds that at 40-year intervals each member of the family will be honored by the others (or some of them at least) by having his customary hair style imitated.

In some cases, this will cause even greater consternation than the present hair styles do.

Around the year 2000, I expect a singing group to make its appearance, perhaps in America, perhaps in some far-off land, which will call itself the Four Infants or something like that. The Four Infants will appear on stage wearing diapers and their heads will be bald in the style generally affected by their baby siblings. I do not know whether the Four Infants will be boys or girls but I am sure they will be bald.

As the cycle unfolds, I predict that outcries will be heard against boys wearing pig tails and girls wearing crew cuts that are equally as loud as the outcries we hear against the Beatles. But it will be to no avail for outcries cannot curb the elemental instincts which are behind the 40-Year Cycle of Family Solidarity Hair Styles.

How long will the cycle go on, you ask? In my opinion, until every member of the family unit is honored. Mom and dad, big sister and little brother, little sister and big brother, grandpa and grandma—all of them. I'm not sure what will happen after that. People may start over with father again or they may decide to pay tribute to the family dog.

Play a Challenge To Technical Crew

The technical crew of Masque and Staff gets its biggest challenge since the community theatre group's formation six years ago when "The Glass Menagerie" is presented this weekend and next.

The opening performance tomorrow (Friday) at Dempster Junior High, Dempster and Elmhurst, Mount Prospect, is being sponsored by the Elk Grove Village chapter of Mental Health. The play also will be presented Saturday and again Friday and Saturday, Oct. 2 and 3.

There are four performing characters in the production, but the play requires a backstage crew of 15.

STAGE manager Norm Lueck cues the lighting and sound technicians. He reports there are 30 sound cues plus over 40 lighting cues. All of this work must be done in almost total darkness backstage.

Lois McKelvey and Bob Johnson, sound and lighting committee chairmen, have worked many extra hours to coordinate the two crews into a smooth working team.

For ticket information phone HE 7-0649 or HE 7-0698.

Village Theatre to Open with 'Gazebo'

"The Gazebo," a popular mystery comedy about a merry mix-up, will open the 1964-65 season of Village Theatre of Arlington Heights. The play will be given Oct. 9, 10 and 11 and Oct. 16, 17 and 18 at Forest View High School.

Playing leading roles are Herb Braden of Arlington Heights, Polly Johnson of Palatine, and Al Estrella and Veverley Holden of Rolling Meadows.

BRADEN appeared last year as the wicked Ben in "The Little Foxes" and previously had featured roles in "Auntie Mame" and "A Majority of One." In "The Gazebo" he plays a script writer, Elliott Nash.

Mrs. Johnson, who portrays Elliott's actress wife, Nell, comes to Village Theatre from BOB. She has been very active in workshop productions and served as stage manager of "The Little Foxes."

This year's president of Village Theatre, Estrella is perhaps best remembered for his portrayal of the Japanese diplomat in "A Majority of One." Last year he scored in "Critic's Choice" as the flamboyant director.

Mrs. Holden, who plays a real estate woman in "The Gazebo," is remembered for her characterization of the neighbor in "A Majority of One."

COMPLETING the cast are such Village Theatre stalwarts as David Dove, Al Wilcox, Bob Hawley, Mel Freeman, Howard Schick and Tom Plant and newcomer Barbara Meshberg.

Village Theatre resident director Richard Tyler has invited Tom Baldacchini to be guest director of "The Gazebo."

Announce Second Cafe-Theatre

Country Club Theatre, located at the Old Orchard Country Club in Prospect Heights, is announcing the establishment of a second theatre in the Pavillon Restaurant in Northbrook.

The Pavillon Restaurant-Theatre is scheduled to open during the first week in December, and the Grand Opening will be a "first-nighter" affair.

Country Club Theatre was started two years ago by co-producers Dr. Robert Simons and Marvin Holland. Dr. Simons studied drama at Goodman Theatre before entering medical school where he became a specialist in internal medicine. (Bill

Invite Singers To Join Chorus

Persons interested in joining the North Central College-Community Oratorio chorus for 1964 may contact the music department office at the college. The group will present two performances of Handel's "Messiah" this year, accompanied by the DuPage Symphony Orchestra.

Auditions are not necessary. Rehearsals, which started Sept. 21, are held in Pfeiffer Memorial Hall each Monday from 7:15 to 8:45 p.m. and will continue through Dec. 10. 5CC

JACK LEMMON'S enthusiastic celebration of a promotion makes it necessary for Dorothy Provine as his wife and Romy Schneider, right, as the girl next door to come to his rescue. It's a scene from David Swift's production, "Good Neighbor Sam," a new Columbia Picture comedy release opening tomorrow (Friday) at the Arlington Theatre.

DEBBIE REYNOLDS expresses delight at the wedding ring given her by Harve Presnell in this scene from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Unsinkable Molly Brown." Ed Begley, Jack Kruschen and Hermione Baddeley also star in the song-and-dance filled story of America's most famous Cinderella, opening tomorrow (Friday) at the Catlow Theatre.

Name Cast for 'Pajama Game'

Best-Off-Broadway Players has announced the cast for its fall production, "The Pajama Game," the hit musical about love and labor in the garment industry.

The show initially ran over 1,000 times on Broadway and was recently named best musical on the Chicago straw hat circuit by a local Chicago newspaper.

Sid Sirokin, the boy from Chicago determined to succeed as superintendent of a small town pajama factory, will be played by George Palmer, 44 E. Wilson, Palatine. This part was portrayed by John Raitt in both stage and motion picture versions of the story.

IN THE ROLE played by Janis Paige on Broadway and by Doris Day in the Hollywood production will be Rita Reinert of River Grove as Babe Williams, the local girl Sid woos and wins.

Jerry Weiss, Wauconda, has the Eddie Foy Jr. part of Hines, the jealous time study man and Betty Jane Martin, 527 Shadywood Lane, Elk Grove Village, will be seen as Gladys, the "Steam Heat" girl.

Other leading performers will be Arlington Heights residents Sherry Scanlan, 1520 Lillian, as Mabel; Al Eastman, 226 S. Illinois, as Prez; Ed Joyce, 942 N. Walnut, as Mr. Hasler, and Laurnell Martin, 1609 N. Yale, as Mae.

Director of the production is Richard Tyler of Chicago. Robert Wendt of Western Springs will handle choreography, while Stan McMurry of Palatine will be in charge of music.

THE MUSICAL comedy will be staged at the new Wheeling High School on Oct. 22 to 25 and Oct. 31 to Nov. 1.

Tickets may be obtained by calling 392-3190 or CL 9-3189.

Announce Youth Concerts

The 1964-65 Youth Concert series of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of assistant conductor Irwin Hoffman, will include three series of four concerts, Silas Edman, general manager, announced this week.

Series A, B, and C will begin at 3 p.m. on Nov. 10, 17 and 24 respectively in Orchestra Hall.

Programs for this year's concerts will include an introduction to the orchestra, a conducting lesson, examples of opera music, programmatic music, ballet music, music of the dance and the "Birth of a Symphony."

Each series is sold on both a subscription and single performance basis. Tickets may be obtained from Orchestra Hall, 220 S. Michigan, Chicago. Mail orders for single tickets are acceptable within 30 days of concert date; they are on sale at the box office three weeks in advance. Name Cast for 'Pajama Game'

Best-Off-Broadway Players has announced the cast for its fall production, "The Pajama Game," the hit musical about love and labor in the garment industry.

The show initially ran over 1,000 times on Broadway and was recently named best musical on the Chicago straw hat circuit by a local Chicago newspaper.

Sid Sirokin, the boy from Chicago determined to succeed as superintendent of a small town pajama factory, will be played by George Palmer, 44 E. Wilson, Palatine. This part was portrayed by John Raitt in both stage and motion picture versions of the story.

IN THE ROLE played by Janis Paige on Broadway and by Doris Day in the Hollywood production will be Rita Reinert of River Grove as Babe Williams, the local girl Sid woos and wins.

Jerry Weiss, Wauconda, has the Eddie Foy Jr. part of Hines, the jealous time study man and Betty Jane Martin, 527 Shadywood Lane, Elk Grove Village, will be seen as Gladys, the "Steam Heat" girl.

Other leading performers will be Arlington Heights residents Sherry Scanlan, 1520 Lillian, as Mabel; Al Eastman, 226 S. Illinois, as Prez; Ed Joyce, 942 N. Walnut, as Mr. Hasler, and Laurnell Martin, 1609 N. Yale, as Mae.

Director of the production is Richard Tyler of Chicago. Robert Wendt of Western Springs will handle choreography, while Stan McMurry of Palatine will be in charge of music.

THE MUSICAL comedy will be staged at the new Wheeling High School on Oct. 22 to 25 and Oct. 31 to Nov. 1.

Tickets may be obtained by calling 392-3190 or CL 9-3189.

Announce Youth Concerts

The 1964-65 Youth Concert series of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of assistant conductor Irwin Hoffman, will include three series of four concerts, Silas Edman, general manager, announced this week.

Series A, B, and C will begin at 3 p.m. on Nov. 10, 17 and 24 respectively in Orchestra Hall.

Programs for this year's concerts will include an introduction to the orchestra, a conducting lesson, examples of opera music, programmatic music, ballet music, music of the dance and the "Birth of a Symphony."

Each series is sold on both a subscription and single performance basis. Tickets may be obtained from Orchestra Hall, 220 S. Michigan, Chicago. Mail orders for single tickets are acceptable within 30 days of concert date; they are on sale at the box office three weeks in advance. Ticket price information may be obtained by calling HArrison 7-0363. (Bill

Chef Meat Cut Demonstration Next on Kappa Delta Program

KAPPA DELTA

After their kick-off meeting Monday, Sept. 28, members of the Northwest Suburban Kappa Delta Alumnae Association will be better versed on the subject of meat cuts and their many uses.

On that day in the Mount Prospect home of Mrs. Barbara Paulus, members will see a demonstration by Bob Pizzato of the Jewel Tea Company. Mr. Pizzato's program, according to Rosanna Glueckert, news chairman, "will be both entertaining and educational for all Kappa Delta housewives."

All Kappa Deltas planning to attend are asked to call Mrs. Paulus at 392-4139.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

A bridge party at the West Park Lodge in Des Plaines has been slated Tuesday, Sept. 29, as the next function of the Chicago Northwest Suburban Alumnae Chapter of Delta Delta Delta.

The evening of various card games begins at 8 p.m. and coffee and cake will be served.

Reservations may be made with the local ticket chairman, Mrs. John P. Huizinga, 114 S. Louis, Mount Prospect, 392-7906.

SIGMA KAPPA

"Sorority Rushing" will be the program when Sigma Kappa Sorority gathers for their first meeting of the 1964-65 year. Tips on how local members can help the college chapters will be discussed by Mrs. Ron W. Scheck, of Arlington Heights, state recommendation chairman for Illinois.

Mrs. Bruce Cowan of Park Ridge, the group's new president, will tell of the programs that have been planned for the year and year-books will be distributed to members.

Mrs. David Crockatt of 418 Wa-Pella will be hostess for the salad buffet luncheon Sept. 28.

PADDOCK AREA Sigma Kappas will be joining their Chicagoland sisters in honoring their founders on Oct. 17. A luncheon, sponsored by the northwest alumnae, will be held at Henrici's O'Hare Inn at 12:30.

The highlight of the affair will be a talk by Sigma Kappa's national president, Mrs. Edward Douglas of Inglewood, Calif., followed by a candlelight ceremony in honor of the sorority's five founders. Sigma Kappa was founded in 1874 at Colby College, Waterville, Maine. At present there are 104 chapters at schools across the country.

Co-chairmen for the luncheon include Mrs. Scheck; reservations may be with her at 253-1894.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Barrington area alumnae club of Kappa Kappa Gamma will hold a dessert card party Tuesday, Sept. 29, in the Barrington home of Mrs. Theodore Dudley. 226 W. Crooked Lane. The party is slated for 12:30.

HANDWOVEN LINENS, handcarved wooden ware, fireplace brooms, pottery and other unusual gifts will be on display Thursday, Oct. 1, in Mount Prospect Country Club and Thursday, Oct. 8, in Plum Grove Club. Sponsored by the Arlington Heights Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi, the items will be on sale these days during their annual Arrowcraft Sale, and will benefit the group's philanthropic project in the Smokies. Mrs. Leslie Janett, center, general chairman of the sales, is pictured with her co-chairmen, Mrs. John Bente and Mrs. Lour Dodge. (S

PI BETA PHI

Handmade articles from the Pi Beta Phi Fraternity's philanthropic project in the Smoky Mountains of Tennessee will be on display by the Arlngton Heights Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi. Handwoven linens, handcarved wooden ware, fireplace brooms, pottery, and other unusual gifts are made at the Arrowcraft Shop in Gatlinburg, Tenn.

The display and sale of the articles from Arrowcraft will be held Thursday, Oct. 1 in Mount Prospect Country Club, and Thursday, Oct. 8, in Plum Grove Club in Palatine. Both sales will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

PI BETA PHI has helped to bring to the mountain people a nationwide reputation for the beauty of their weaving, basketry, and homecrafts. The achievements of Pi Beta Phi Settlement School have been recognized by the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D. C., which now has a permanent exhibit of the handwoven articles from the Arrowcraft Shop.

Area Pi Beta Phis invite all who are interested in unusual gifts to attend the showing. (S

Palatine Grads Say 'I Do' In Hometown Rites Aug. 22

Two Palatine High School graduates — Miss Elaine Engelking and David A. English, became man and wife in a hometown ceremony performed Aug. 22 in Immanuel Lutheran Church by Rev. Robert C. Sauer.

Double ring, the 5 p.m.. service united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Engelking of 49 S. Brockway, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold English, 655 W. Lake Cook Road. Enhancing the nuptials were pew markers of white satin bows with green ferns, and two vases of white carnations, placed at the altar.

Arlington Candid (S

MRS. ENGELKING'S bridal gown was designed with a lace bodice and skirt of silk organza over taffeta. The back was three tiered with lace trimming at the bottom of each and the train, a single layer of silk organza, and the skirt bottom, were accented in the same manner. The illusion fingertip veil was attached to a crown of pearls and crystal beads, which formed the shape of an orchid.

To complete the ensemble, the bride, given in marriage by her father, borrowed her sister's Bible to carry with a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Aqua moon crystal over taffeta went into the design of the dresses worn by Mrs. Leona Loeber of Palatine, matron of honor; and bridesmaids—Misses Marilyn Loeber and Judy Zoellner, also of Palatine; and Cecil Bellindo, Wauconda. In A-line, the sleeveless gowns had boat necklines which came to a "V" in the back and were further accentuated by two back panels. Moon crystal coats, worn over the dresses, had elbow length sleeves and closed at the bodices with bows.

MATCHING bows and aqua netting formed the headpieces. White feathered carnations, stephanotis and an aqua ribbon made up the bouquet carried by the matron of honor. The bridesmaids' flowers were the same carnations, also with ribbons.

A bridesmaid in miniature was the bride's cousin and flower girl, Vickie Schulmeister, 5, of Antioch, whose basket was filled with white carnations. Andrew English, 6, brother of the groom, served as ring bearer.

A pink silk linen sheath with lace bodice and matching three-quarter-length jacket was worn by Mrs. Engelking, while the groom's mother selected a blue silk linen sheath with lace chanel type jacket for the wedding and receiving line. Both had white cymbidium orchids.

ROBERT English of Palatine was best man. Two other men from the same town, George Loeber and Fred Schmidt, took the roles of ushers, as did Jeff Johnson of Mount Prospect.

The pair's reception and buffet dinner for 150 guests was held in Salt Creek Country Club. After the celebration, the newlyweds honeymooned in New York for 10 days and are now at home at 213 N. Brockway in Palatine.

The bride is employed at Pure Oil Company in Palatine and the groom is with Gallaher & Speck in Chicago.

Mrs. David Crockatt of 418 Wa-Pella will be hostess for the salad buffet luncheon Sept. 28.

PADDOCK AREA Sigma Kappas will be joining their Chicagoland sisters in honoring their founders on Oct. 17. A luncheon, sponsored by the northwest alumnae, will be held at Henrici's O'Hare Inn at 12:30.

The highlight of the affair will be a talk by Sigma Kappa's national president, Mrs. Edward Douglas of Inglewood, Calif., followed by a candlelight ceremony in honor of the sorority's five founders. Sigma Kappa was founded in 1874 at Colby College, Waterville, Maine. At present there are 104 chapters at schools across the country.

Co-chairmen for the luncheon include Mrs. Scheck; reservations may be with her at 253-1894.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Barrington area alumnae club of Kappa Kappa Gamma will hold a dessert card party Tuesday, Sept. 29, in the Barrington home of Mrs. Theodore Dudley. 226 W. Crooked Lane. The party is slated for 12:30.

PI BETA PHI

Handmade articles from the Pi Beta Phi Fraternity's philanthropic project in the Smoky Mountains of Tennessee will be on display by the Arlington Heights Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi. Handwoven linens, handcarved wooden ware, fireplace brooms, pottery, and other unusual gifts are made at the Arrowcraft Shop in Gatlinburg, Tenn.

The display and sale of the articles from Arrowcraft will be held Thursday, Oct. 1 in Mount Prospect Country Club, and Thursday, Oct. 8, in Plum Grove Club in Palatine. Both sales will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

PI BETA PHI has helped to bring to the mountain people a nationwide reputation for the beauty of their weaving, basketry, and homecrafts. The achievements of Pi Beta Phi Settlement School have been recognized by the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D. C., which now has a permanent exhibit of the handwoven articles from the Arrowcraft Shop.

Area Pi Beta Phis invite all who are interested in unusual gifts to attend the showing. (S

Palatine Grads Say 'I Do' In Hometown Rites Aug. 22

Two Palatine High School graduates — Miss Elaine Engelking and David A. English, became man and wife in a hometown ceremony performed Aug. 22 in Immanuel Lutheran Church by Rev. Robert C. Sauer.

Double ring, the 5 p.m.. service united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Engelking of 49 S. Brockway, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold English, 655 W. Lake Cook Road. Enhancing the nuptials were pew markers of white satin bows with green ferns, and two vases of white carnations, placed at the altar.

Arlington Candid (S

MRS. ENGELKING'S bridal gown was designed with a lace bodice and skirt of silk organza over taffeta. The back was three tiered with lace trimming at the bottom of each and the train, a single layer of silk organza, and the skirt bottom, were accented in the same manner. The illusion fingertip veil was attached to a crown of pearls and crystal beads, which formed the shape of an orchid.

To complete the ensemble, the bride, given in marriage by her father, borrowed her sister's Bible to carry with a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Aqua moon crystal over taffeta went into the design of the dresses worn by Mrs. Leona Loeber of Palatine, matron of honor; and bridesmaids—Misses Marilyn Loeber and Judy Zoellner, also of Palatine; and Cecil Bellindo, Wauconda. In A-line, the sleeveless gowns had boat necklines which came to a "V" in the back and were further accentuated by two back panels. Moon crystal coats, worn over the dresses, had elbow length sleeves and closed at the bodices with bows.

MATCHING bows and aqua netting formed the headpieces. White feathered carnations, stephanotis and an aqua ribbon made up the bouquet carried by the matron of honor. The bridesmaids' flowers were the same carnations, also with ribbons.

A bridesmaid in miniature was the bride's cousin and flower girl, Vickie Schulmeister, 5, of Antioch, whose basket was filled with white carnations. Andrew English, 6, brother of the groom, served as ring bearer.

A pink silk linen sheath with lace bodice and matching three-quarter-length jacket was worn by Mrs. Engelking, while the groom's mother selected a blue silk linen sheath with lace chanel type jacket for the wedding and receiving line. Both had white cymbidium orchids.

ROBERT English of Palatine was best man. Two other men from the same town, George Loeber and Fred Schmidt, took the roles of ushers, as did Jeff Johnson of Mount Prospect.

The pair's reception and buffet dinner for 150 guests was held in Salt Creek Country Club. After the celebration, the newlyweds honeymooned in New York for 10 days and are now at home at 213 N. Brockway in Palatine.

The bride is employed at Pure Oil Company in Palatine and the groom is with Gallaher & Speck in Chicago.

Third Annual Search

Honor Top Suburban Homemaker

Seek Nominees For '64 Award

The search begins this week for the northwest area's Suburban Homemaker of the Year.

Details of the third annual event were announced Wednesday by Mrs. Hester Kline, chairman of Paddock Publications, Inc. homemaker search.

"Somewhere in the northwest suburbs a woman is living and working to better her home and community, unaware that in November she will be known and honored as our Suburban Homemaker of the Year," said Mrs. Kline.

"She may not be wealthy in material possessions, she may not be the holder of several university degrees or a potential beauty contest winner. But in the eyes of her family and her community she has made and is making a vital and meaningful contribution in her role as a suburban homemaker."

THIS WOMAN, selected as the northwest area's outstanding Suburban Homemaker of the Year, may reap even more honors.

She will have an opoprtunity to be chosen National Suburban Homemaker of the Year and to receive a national award of $5,000 from the American Dairy Association.

The third annual National Suburban Homemaker of the Year Search is sponsored by the Suburban Press Foundation, Inc. and its member newspapers, including Paddock Publications, Inc.

The search is a tribute to and recognition of the important role of the homemaker in the family, civic and economic life of the suburban community.

HOW WILL the northwest area homemaker be chosen?

Someone will tell us about her in a brief statement of a few sentences.

Among characteristics to be considered for nominations are:

—How has she contributed to creating a good family relationship, including mutual love, respect, child training, mental and emotional health;

—How has she revealed her spiritual and moral strength for her home, church, community, the world at large;

—To what extent has she participated in civic and community affairs—local, state, national or international;

—How skillful is she in preparing meals, handling the family clothing, housekeeping and appearance of home, shopping and money management; and —What are her habits, personal appearance, and attitudes toward physical fitness and wellbeing for herself and family.

THE DIFFICULT task of choosing who will receive the Suburban Homemaker of the Year award will be given to a panel of five local citizens, representatives of various fields such as education, home economics, social service, civic affairs, etc.

Names of the local judges will be announced shortly, said Mrs. Kline.

After the area Suburban Homemaker of the Year is named and been honored with a local award ceremony, she will attend the National Suburban Homemaker Conference in November. She will meet her counterparts from suburban communities all over the country—top homemakers all.

From among this group will be selected, by a panel of prominent national authorities as judges, the National Suburban Homemaker of the Year.

ANYONE 15 YEARS of age or older may make a nomination. Official entry blanks will be printed each week in the Suburban Living section of all 15 Paddock newspapers.

Closing date for nominations is Saturday, Oct. 24 at midnight.

Nominators, as well as nominees, have an opportunity to reap rewards.

Paddock Publications will award $50 to the individual or organization nominating the local Suburban Homemaker of the Year winner. And if she is selected as the national award winner, the nominator will receive an additional $500 award given by the Suburban Press Foundation, Inc.

MRS. KLINE emphasized that there are no gimmicks or commercialization to the annual search.

Last year's northwest suburban winner was Mrs. Nancy Bristol Manos of 314 W. Mueller St., Arlington Heights. She was nominated by a neighbor, Mrs. Warren Weed of 410 W. Mueller St.

Announcement of this year's local winner will be made Nov. 12.

ACCOMPANIED BY Mrs. Ellen Semrow (rear), hostess for finalists in national suburban homemaker contest, Mrs. Nancy Manos of Arlington Heights returns from personal interview with national judging panel at Drake Hotel, Chicago. She was Paddock Publications 1963 Suburban Homemaker of the Year and took part in the conference and award ceremony sponsored by the Suburban Press Foundation, Inc. Similar honors are scheduled for 1964 nominees.

Chairman Of Search Announced

The northwest area-wide search for Suburban Homemaker of the Year will again be directed by Mrs. Hester Kline, it was announced this week by Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of Paddock Publications' newspapers.

Mrs. Kline will supervise the search for the winning Suburban Homemaker of the Year and will work in cooperation with the Suburban Press Foundation, Inc., sponsors of the national search. She performed similar duties in 1963.

A $5,000 cash award from the American Dairy Association will be made to the national winner.

AS CHAIRMAN of the Suburban Homemaker Search, Mrs. Kline brings to her responsibilities a background in suburban journalism as well as in homemaking.

She studied liberal arts at Northwestern University, where she was a member of Epsilon Eta Phi sorority. She is currently a member of the Lake Zurich Community Woman's Club.

A member of Paddock Publications staff since 1948, Mrs. Kline was news editor of the Mount Prospect Herald until her appointment in 1959 as news editor of the Rolling Meadows Herald, a position she has held ever since.

In 1938 the Klines moved to Mount Prospect and lived there until 1955, when they moved to a 15-acre country home in Hawthorne Woods, north of Lake Zurich.

HER HUSBAND, Stephen, is an industrial engineer with Motorola Corp. They are parents of a married daughter, Susan, and a son, Henry, a sophomore at Illinois Wesleyan University.

When not pursuing her newsgathering duties, Mrs. Kline is at home as a full-time suburban homemaker, cooking, sewing, knitting, searching for antiques, or entertaining friends from the neighborhood.

Parents Are Real Cause Of Teenage Sex Problems

If you're like most parents of teenagers, you're actively concerned about their sex attitudes—and activities, advises the Illinois State Medical Society.

Certainly the appalling number of teenage pregnancies, criminal abortions and venereal disease victims presents a valid basis for this concern. Unfortunately, however, it is parents themselves—through lack of understanding and help — that are the real causes of teenage sexual problems.

While parents for the most part do not permit adolescents to act like adults, they give them strong motivation to stop being children and to become aware of their sexual identity. Teenage boys are urged to develop self-reliance, to curtail their dependence on their parents, and to begin to assume "manly" traits.

GIRLS, ON THE other hand, are expected to abandon their tomboy habits and develop "femininity"—which most often is interpreted as a conglomeration of clothes, cosmetics and hair styles aimed at sexual stimulation.

Once pushed into the manners and appearance of maturity, teenagers are denied mature outlets for their sexual drives. All of these frustrations occur when the potent biological chemistry of sexual development is at its height — when sex drive and romantic preoccupations are greater than they will be at any other time of life.

Little wonder that teenagers become confused, torn, frustrated and ultimately rebellious!

Their natural and almost overwhelming inclination is to tear open the veil of frustration and plunge headlong into the almost cruel temptations that are being flaunted in front of them. The results—even when not as serious as veneral disease or pregnancy—are often teenage marriages and school drop-outs.

What is the solution to this problem? One important answer is sex education. Although many schools provide courses and lectures on the subject, the ultimate responsibility for this vital training rests with the parents.

UNFORTUNATELY, it is a responsibility that is all too often neglected. There is increasing evidence that parents either ignore their roles as sex educators or that they are sufficiently informed to fulfill it.

It has become commonplace for parents to shrug off the responsibility of sex education by asserting that their children know more about the subject than they do. This is seldom the case; and when it is the case, it can easily be corrected with helpful booklets available from local church groups, medical societies or from the American Medical Association.

In most cases, the truth of the matter is that many parents are extremely uncomfortable in discussing sex matters with their children. These parents should examine themselves to see if their sex attitudes are completely mature or if they themselves have lingering doubts, fears and guilt.

Parents, remember: Sex education, like charity, begins at home. When woven into the moral fabric of your children at an early age and fortified with parental love and understanding, it will yield a superior material that is highly resistant to illicit sexual temptations.

VFW Women Set Social, Card Party

In connection with their card party scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 30, members of the Ladies to VFW Post 981, Arlington Heights, are also planning a penny social.

Mrs. Ed Doyle, chairman of the social comittee, commented, "This is one of the events that members and friends look forward to each year and these worthwhile and useful gifts make it especially inviting."

The party will take place at 8 p.m. in the VFW Clubhouse, 811 N. Yale, Arlington Heights, and tickets may be obtained at the door.

AS CHAIRMAN of the Suburban Homemaker Search, Mrs. Kline brings to her responsibilities a background in suburban journalism as well as in homemaking.

She studied liberal arts at Northwestern University, where she was a member of Epsilon Eta Phi sorority. She is currently a member of the Lake Zurich Community Woman's Club.

A member of Paddock Publications staff since 1948, Mrs. Kline was news editor of the Mount Prospect Herald until her appointment in 1959 as news editor of the Rolling Meadows Herald, a position she has held ever since.

In 1938 the Klines moved to Mount Prospect and lived there until 1955, when they moved to a 15-acre country home in Hawthorne Woods, north of Lake Zurich.

HER HUSBAND, Stephen, is an industrial engineer with Motorola Corp. They are parents of a married daughter, Susan, and a son, Henry, a sophomore at Illinois Wesleyan University.

When not pursuing her newsgathering duties, Mrs. Kline is at home as a full-time suburban homemaker, cooking, sewing, knitting, searching for antiques, or entertaining friends from the neighborhood.

DIRECTING Paddock Publications Search for Suburban Homemaker of the Year will be Mrs. Hester Kline, shown above at 1963 award ceremony honoring northwest area nominees. Mrs. Kline also directed last year's homemaker search.

Especially for Women

St. John Churchwomen Arrange Holiday Fair

"Ladies with the Pockets" will entertain youngsters who attend the Holiday Fair to be held in St. John Church, N. Evergreen at E. St. James Street, Arlington Heights, on Oct. 7. Mrs. Ray Kuntsman and Mrs. Roy Anderson will provide the "pockets of fun" for children, while workshop members of the church have been creating homemade articles to sell.

Hours of the fair will be from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

ORNAMENTS, toys, aprons, knit wear and home-baked delicacies are being made for the all-day event. Mrs. Arnold Koriath Sr. of Arlington Heights and Mrs. Paul Ahola Sr. of Palatine are in charge.

Assisting the chairmen are Mrs. R. Page, Mrs. R. Walter, Mrs. R. Wegner, Mrs. W. Haberichter, Mrs. H. Strom, Mrs. W. Landmeier, Mrs. G. Behrens and Mrs. H. Luebke, all of Arlington Heights.

A HAM dinner and hot dog plate lunch will be served from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. by the women of Friendly and Martha Circles.

Luncheon chairmen include Mrs. E. Gamble, Mrs. E. Dahme, Mrs. E. Baumgarten, Mrs. C. Duwe, Mrs. W. Bleile and Mrs. A. Stelling, also of Arlington Heights.

Mink Fashion Show Slated For Hospital Auxiliary

The Women's Auxiliary of Northwest Community Hospital will hold its third general meeting of the year Thursday, Oct. 1, at 1 p.m. in St. Simon's Episcopal Church, 717 Kirchoff Road, Arlington Heights.

Members and guests will view a program entitled "That Touch of Mink" by Mitzi Schnittke, who has given several presentations in the area during the past year.

"In her unusual show specializing in mink accessories and "Hats by Mitze," she will show an assortment of outfits which most compement the various shades of mink," commented the progra chairman, Mrs. T. J. Waldron Jr.

Mrs. Ralph Lidge of Arlington Heights, hospitality chairman, extends welcome to new residents and urges members to bring guests.

MRS. LESLIE Janett of Mount Prospect, membership chairman, will also be on hand to advise the women on activities of the auxiliary. Volunteers are always in need in the hospital as well as in the auxiliary projects, the Snack Shop and Pink Lady, which is the auxiliary gift shop.

Parents Are Real Cause Of Teenage Sex Problems

If you're like most parents of teenagers, you're actively concerned about their sex attitudes —and activities, advises the Illinois State Medical Society.

Certainly the appalling number of teenage pregnancies, criminal abortions and venereal disease victims presents a valid basis for this concern. Unfortunately, however, it is parents themselves—through lack of understanding and help — that are the real causes of teenage sexual problems.

While parents for the most part do not permit adolescents to act like adults, they give them strong motivation to stop being children and to become aware of their sexual identity. Teenage boys are urged to develop self-reliance, to curtail their dependence on their parents, and to begin to assume "manly" traits.

GIRLS, ON THE other hand, are expected to abandon their tomboy habits and develop "femininity"—which most often is interpreted as a conglomeration of clothes, cosmetics and hair styles aimed at sexual stimulation.

Once pushed into the manners and appearance of maturity, teenagers are denied mature outlets for their sexual drives. All of these frustrations occur when the potent biological chemistry of sexual development is at its height — when sex drive and romantic preoccupations are greater than they will be at any other time of life.

Little wonder that teenagers become confused, torn, frustrated and ultimately rebellious!

Their natural and almost overwhelming inclination is to tear open the veil of frustration and plunge headlong into the almost cruel temptations that are being flaunted in front of them. The results—even when not as serious as veneral disease or pregnancy—are often teenage marriages and school drop-outs.

What is the solution to this problem? One important answer is sex education. Although many schools provide courses and lectures on the subject, the ultimate responsibility for this vital training rests with the parents.

UNFORTUNATELY, it is a responsibility that is all too often neglected. There is increasing evidence that parents either ignore their roles as sex educators or that they are sufficiently informed to fulfill it.

It has become commonplace for parents to shrug off the responsibility of sex education by asserting that their children know more about the subject than they do. This is seldom the case; and when it is the case, it can easily be corrected with helpful booklets available from local church groups, medical societies or from the American Medical Association.

In most cases, the truth of the matter is that many parents are extremely uncomfortable in discussing sex matters with their children. These parents should examine themselves to see if their sex attitudes are completely mature or if they themselves have lingering doubts, fears and guilt.

Parents, remember: Sex education, like charity, begins at home. When woven into the moral fabric of your children at an early age and fortified with parental love and understanding, it will yield a superior material that is highly resistant to illicit sexual temptations.

VFW Women Set Social, Card Party

In connection with their card party scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 30, members of the Ladies to VFW Post 981, Arlington Heights, are also planning a penny social.

Mrs. Ed Doyle, chairman of the social comittee, commented, "This is one of the events that members and friends look forward to each year and these worthwhile and useful gifts make it especially inviting."

The party will take place at 8 p.m. in the VFW Clubhouse, 811 N. Yale, Arlington Heights, and tickets may be obtained at the door.

Cardiology Is Nurses' Topic

Dr. Robert Kloempken will speak about "Newer Treatments in Cardiology" when the Arlington Heights Nurses Club has their first fall meeting.

The group of registered nurses will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. Sept. 24 in the home of Mrs. Gordon Ward, 502 S. State Road Hostess for the evening will be Mrs. Russel C. Lockwood.

Area Women On WAL Board

Two area women, Mrs. Frederick A. Thulin of Mount Prospect and Mrs. Charles Catlin of Arlington Heights are among the new board members of the Chicago Chapter of the Women's Architectural League.

Mrs. Thulin is serving as news chairman for the group and Mrs. Catlin as Hospitality chairman. New members of the group, architect's wives, will be guests of honor at a membership tea today, Sept. 24, at the Art Institute. October activity planned by the group is to entertain architectural students at informal suppers and discussions in the home of WAL members.

Hoffman Women Slate Tea, Bridge Tourney

Mrs. Thomas Eischen, membership chairman, invites all women of Hoffman Estates to the annual membership tea of the Hoffman Estates Woman's Club.

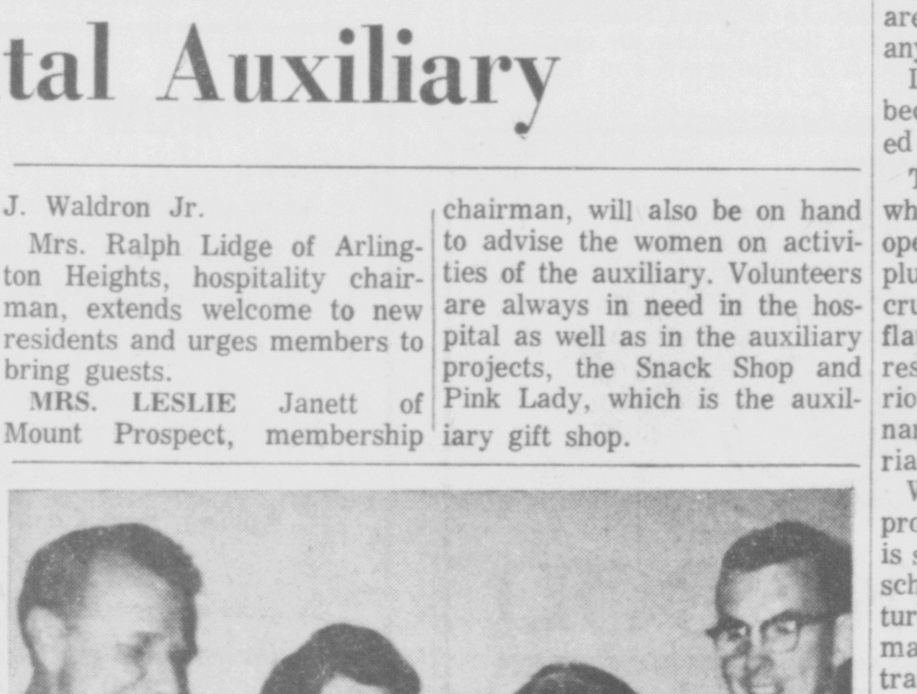
Members of the club will greet guests at Golden Acres Country Club, Hoffman Estates, Thursday, Sept. 24, at 8:30. Preceding the coffee hour, a one-act play will be staged by the Hoffman Theater Guild. The women also will be entertained by the club's Choral Group.

REGISTRATION is now open for those wishing to play in the Club's contract bridge tournament. Tournament play will take place Thursday, Oct. 1 and Thursday, Oct. 8 at 8 p.m. at Hoffman Bowling Lanes, Hoffman Estates. The contest will terminate the second night of play with the awarding of a $100 cash prize to the winning team.

Mrs. Robert Pelegrino, chairman, will accept reservations at 529-1843. Proceeds will go toward the Christmas party given by the bridge group at Hines Veteran's Hospital.

Meet Sept. 30th

St. Mary's Altar and Rosary Society, Buffalo Grove, will meet at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Sept. 30, in the church.



CHECKING RESERVATIONS for the Oct. 3 St. Theresa parish dance are co-chairmen, the Arthur P. Millers and Dr. and Mrs. T. E. Sammons. Sponsored by the Council of Catholic Women and the Holy Name Society of the parish, the dance is being held in the Carpenter's Club, Des Plaines. Social hour will be from 8 to 9 followed by dancing until 1, with a buffet served at 11:30. Les Amacks' orchestra will provide dance music.

Chores Keep Mom Busy as Kids Head Back to School

by BETTY AINSLIE

This is the getting-the-kids-ready for college month. The sewing on of name tapes or penciling in initials on school bound clothes.

The gathering together of towels, sheets, blankets, pillowcases, pillows, bedspreads along with the wearing apparel and even polishing up that previously abandoned bike for our university-bound youngsters.

It's the time of dusting out trunks or buying new luggage, and the foot-weary trotting through stores for special campus attire—and it's that lump in the throat time for you, Mom.

If your college-bound youngster is female you'll be busier than that mother who is starting a boy away from home.

A boy can escape with a few sweaters, some slacks, a suit, sport jacket, ties and assorted unmentionables. While a girl must have date dresses, cocktail and formal dresses, skirts, uncountable numbers of sweaters, accessories to fill a trunk, stuffed animals to decorate room and bed and undergarments both strap and strapless.

PACKING ALL these assorted clothes into the family car becomes a major problem in space. Clothes which seem to make a mighty small pile in the room suddenly spread to huge proportions when cornered in the confines of the family car. With a girl there are hat boxes, garment bags, boxes — large and small—grips and trunks. The boy takes a suitcase or two and miscellaneous hangers holding shirts, pants and suits.

Several years ago when daughter headed for higher learning, the car groaned under an unaccustomed load of clothes and feminine necessities for her spell away from home for higher education.

We were packed to the roof and what happened? When we arrived at school, there was one small chest of drawers for the contents of all the bulging suitcases.

You'll notice though, as the years fly by each Fall trip to school will mean less luggage. Things which must remain in a trunk under the bed aren't worn very often and gals learn that they can get by with a basic dress or two and the shops near the college have formals if needed—and she can only wear one sweater at a time.

PASSING OTHER college bound cars on the road you can generally tell if the student is a boy or girl by the amount of luggage, and almost guess whether freshman or senior by the amount of space the suitcases fill.

Now take this business of name tapes on everything. Chances are that son or daughter will come home the first vacation with wearing apparel sporting other name tapes in their grips.

A friend of mine declared she'd spent hours stitching name tapes on special better than average T shirts she'd purchased for her son, only to have him arrive home Thanksgiving vacation with underwear certainly not his own.

"There were name tags of boys who weren't even his roommates. Goodness knows who were the wearers of the shirts I'd gotten my son."

GIRLS ARE even worse at borrowing and lending clothes, name tapes or no name tapes. So guess it is really up to son or daughter to hang on to their own belongings.

"I put on name tapes," said a neighbor in the throes of getting a son ready for college. "Because if he uses the laundry with another boy they might pool a wash to make one load and what a clothes mix-up that would be."

With the invention of the automatic coin-operated washing machine the laundry case of my college days has become unnecessary. My mother must have made many a trip to the post office to send that fiberboard rectangle box back to me. Actually it wasn't the laundry I looked for, it was the goodies tucked in with the clean clothes. The event of anyone receiving a laundry case meant a late feast and bull-session that night. So I guess by doing away with the weekly laundry case the automatic washer is taking some of the fun and eager anticipation out of wash day.

BUT REGARDLESS of how many things your boy or girl takes to college, you'll be safe in betting Mom, that most of it will be piled from weekend to weekend on the available chairs —and the more things to wear the more confusion for getting to that eight o'clock class in the morning.

It may make a difference as to the amount and kinds of clothes taken by a boy or girl, but that room at home is awful empty regardless of how much wearing apparel is cleaned out of the closet.

HOW TO NOMINATE

In a few sentences in your own words, tell why you think your nominee is a good candidate. Fancy language is not important. Judging will be based entirely on these five points . . .

1. How she contributes to creating a good family relationship which includes mutual love, respect, child training, mental and emotional health.
2. How she reveals her spiritual and moral strength—for her home, church, community, the world at large.
3. To what extent she has participated in civic and community affairs—local, state, national or international.
4. How skillful she is in:
   - a. Preparing meals
   - b. Handling the family clothing
   - c. Housekeeping and appearance of home
   - d. Shopping and money management
5. Personal appearance, habits, and attitudes toward physical fitness and well-being for herself and family.

Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

A Candlelight Supper Pleases Whole Family

By DOLORES HAUGH

When the nights are filled with the nippy tricks of Jack Frost, that is the time homes with fireplaces are most welcome. There is nothing more relaxing or inspirational to the imagination than watching a fire.

So spread the table before it and even include the children, for they, too, must learn good manners. Dress up a little for a change and let the family enjoy a cozy supper by candlelight by the fire if possible.

INVITATIONS

Don't look so surprised. You can slip an invitation under the door of your own daughter who is 10 or your son who is a tall 13, and you will be pleasantly surprised at what this tender touch can do. Make the invitations in the form of your very own candlestick holders and on the back announce time, place and dress preferred. Pick a night that is suitable to everyone.

MENU

This is a snap. Just cook up your family's very own favorite foods — a vegetable dish to please John, a salad for sister, dad's favorite meat course, hot rolls and butter for the baby and dessert to please mom, even if she is watching calories. Then be sure to save Rover the bone.

How is that for unanimous approval of a menu?

PREPARATION

Most of it will have to be done while the family is away and the younger ones asleep, so plan ahead and freeze a lot. In other words, you may put away an extra helping of each part of the menu whenever you make it, and in this way you always have a Candlelight Supper in your freezer.

Use your seldom-used dishes and place a sheet of plastic under the table if you have small fry.

So many people exclude their children from family fun these days, acting as though their children are a boring responsibility, that a little family party like this, above and beyond the annual birthdays and anniversary, is like frosting on the cake of memories.

DECORATIONS

Choose your husband's favorite flower for the centerpiece, and it makes for a real lift-off on remembering. Plan a little patter so that the conversation goes along without the bantering of the children, but you will be surprised how the good manners if they are pre-trained, of course, will come out at a candlelight supper.

The extra touches which you, as mother will add, can make the party. Best of all is an unhurried evening with quiet talk, maybe a little talent show that the children may perform, thus giving dad a feeling that all those lessons are not in vain. And wind up the evening by reading a good story or looking at vacation pictures or movies and reliving the best time you all had together. If you have had none, I feel sorry for you, and maybe this will be one to put away in your book of memories to be recalled later.

So forget the TV—build a little fire, set a pretty table and have the guests you love the most, your family, in for a candlelight supper — it's mighty cozy. (S

'Y' Women To View Hat Show

"Headgear Fashions Through the Centuries" is the title of the program slated for members of Northwest Suburban YMCA Auxiliary Tuesday evening, Sept 29. The meeting begins at 8 o' clock in the 'Y' all-purpose room.

Mrs. William Andres, the club's first vice president and chairman of the tea, advises that acceptances have been received from Mrs. Charles Percy, wife of the Republican candidate for Governor, Mrs. Marguerite Stitt Church, former Congresswoman from the 13th Congressional District, and Mrs. Everett M. Dirksen, wife of the Senate's Minority Leader, if her Washington schedule permits.

Also expected at the 3 to 5 p.m. tea are Mrs. John Henry Altorfer, wife of the GOP candidate for Lt. Governor; Mrs. John H. Bickley, wife of the Republican candidate for State's Attorney; Mrs. Robert E. Cronin, whose husband is a candidate for Sanitary District Trustee; Mrs. Thomas Houser, wife of the Wheeling Township Committeeman; Mrs. John Kirby, whose husband is the GOP candidate for Auditor of Public Accounts.

Also Mrs. William Martin, wife of the Republican candidate for the Illinois Legislature; Mrs. Richard Ogilvie, wife of the Cook County Sheriff; Mrs. Donald Rumsfeld, wife of the present Congressman for the 13th District who is running for re-election; and Mrs. Arthur E. Simmons, whose husband is a candidate for re-election to the Illinois Legislature.

MRS. CHARLES PERCY

Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

A Candlelight Supper Pleases Whole Family

By DOLORES HAUGH

When the nights are filled with the nippy tricks of Jack Frost, that is the time homes with fireplaces are most welcome. There is nothing more relaxing or inspirational to the imagination than watching a fire.

So spread the table before it and even include the children, for they, too, must learn good manners. Dress up a little for a change and let the family enjoy a cozy supper by candlelight by the fire if possible.

INVITATIONS

Don't look so surprised. You can slip an invitation under the door of your own daughter who is 10 or your son who is a tall 13, and you will be pleasantly surprised at what this tender touch can do. Make the invitations in the form of your very own candlestick holders and on the back announce time, place and dress preferred. Pick a night that is suitable to everyone.

MENU

This is a snap. Just cook up your family's very own favorite foods — a vegetable dish to please John, a salad for sister, dad's favorite meat course, hot rolls and butter for the baby and dessert to please mom, even if she is watching calories. Then be sure to save Rover the bone. How is that for unanimous approval of a menu?

PREPARATION

Most of it will have to be done while the family is away and the younger ones asleep, so plan ahead and freeze a lot. In other words, you may put away an extra helping of each part of the menu whenever you make it, and in this way you always have a Candlelight Supper in your freezer.

Use your seldom-used dishes and place a sheet of plastic under the table if you have small fry.

So many people exclude their children from family fun these days, acting as though their children are a boring responsibility, that a little family party like this, above and beyond the annual birthdays and anniversary, is like frosting on the cake of memories.

DECORATIONS

Choose your husband's favorite flower for the centerpiece, and it makes for a real lift-off on remembering. Plan a little patter so that the conversation goes along without the bantering of the children, but you will be surprised how the good manners if they are pre-trained, of course, will come out at a candlelight supper.

The extra touches which you, as mother will add, can make the party. Best of all is an unhurried evening with quiet talk, maybe a little talent show that the children may perform, thus giving dad a feeling that all those lessons are not in vain. And wind up the evening by reading a good story or looking at vacation pictures or movies and reliving the best time you all had together. If you have had none, I feel sorry for you, and maybe this will be one to put away in your book of memories to be recalled later.

So forget the TV—build a little fire, set a pretty table and have the guests you love the most, your family, in for a candlelight supper — it's mighty cozy. (S

'Y' Women To View Hat Show

"Headgear Fashions Through the Centuries" is the title of the program slated for members of Northwest Suburban YMCA Auxiliary Tuesday evening, Sept 29. The meeting begins at 8 o'clock in the 'Y' all-purpose room.

Millinerist Mrs. Edmonde Baldini of LaRochelle, France, will model and describe hats which date back to the 12th Century through the present day styles. Mrs. Baldini designed hats in Europe as well as America, recently continuing her career in smart shops in Chicago. She also was recently associated with the adult education program at Purdue University Center.

Members of the 'Y' auxiliary are welcome to bring guests to Tuesday's meeting. (S

WELCOME WAGON

County Homemakers Arrange Hobby Day

BUSY FINGERS HAVE been preparing displays for the North Cook County Homemaker Extension Units' Hobby Day of Tuesday, Sept. 29. Members of local units will show their recent handiwork in exhibits at Pioneer Park Fieldhouse, Arlington Heights, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Three Mount Prospect members who have put their hobbies to good use are Mrs. F. W. Siebert, Mrs. J. E. Hargrove and Mrs. H. Kolzow. (S

It's "Hobby Day" time again for Homemakers of North Cook County. Members of the extension service will have their annual display of hobbies at Pioneer Park Field House, 500 S. Fernandez Ave., Arlington Heights, Tuesday, Sept. 29. Exhibits will be on display from 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

There will also be a class on "Making Large Tin Decorative Plaques" for leaders to take back to their units, and there will be a display of table settings for various occasions.

The public is invited.

HOME EXTENSION is a cooperative educational service offered to homemakers through the University of Illinois Home Economics Extension. This covers material on family living, foods, home furnishings, health and citizenship.

A new unit is being formed in the Mount Prospect area that will have eveing meetings. Those interested may call VA 4-2879. (S

Hootenanny Set For 4-H Week

During the week of Sept. 26 through Oct. 3, 4-H clubs from all over the United States will be celebrating National 4-H Week. North Cook County groups will kick-off the week Saturday, Sept. 26, with a rally to be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at Miner Junior High School.

The rally, at which officers will be installed, contributors recognized and awards made for window displays, will climax with a hootenanny presented by 4-H groups in the area.

TO PROMOTE National 4-H work, area groups have set up an information booth at Randhurst where questions on 4-H will be answered from 4 to 9 p.m. by 4-H members. On display in the booth will be projects of the members.

"Purpose of National 4-H Week is to let people know more about 4-H and to invite interested persons to join as a member or leader to help the world 'Learn for Life through 4-H,' " commented a spokesman.

HOW TO NOMINATE

In a few sentences in your own words, tell why you think your nominee is a good candidate. Fancy language is not important. Judging will be based entirely on these five points . . .

1. How she contributes to creating a good family relationship which includes mutual love, respect, child training, mental and emotional health.
2. How she reveals her spiritual and moral strength—for her home, church, community, the world at large.
3. To what extent she has participated in civic and community affairs—local, state, national or international.
4. How skillful she is in:
   - a. Preparing meals
   - b. Handling the family clothing
   - c. Housekeeping and appearance of home
   - d. Shopping and money management
5. Personal appearance, habits, and attitudes toward physical fitness and well-being for herself and family.

Show of Home-Sewn Fashions Draws 300 to London School

A crowd of 300 gathered recently in London Junior High School, Wheeling, to watch 67 models show off 88 ensembles from their home-sewn wardrobes. Held in conjunction with the Family Fair, the show was sponsored by St. Joseph the Worker Catholic Women's Club.

Blue ribbon winners included Mrs. Nicholas DiGioia, who was awarded ribbons for her navy blue dressmaker suit and for her daughter Mary's red, green and white plaid coat; Mrs. Michael Chamberlain for her three sons' red corduroy sports coats; Mrs. Henry Meindl for her yellow woolen suit; Mrs. John Bock for her evening ensemble; Mrs. Stephen Gard for her four daughters' striped wrap-arounds; Mrs. Catherine Maygers for her granddaughter's hand-smocked dresses; Mrs. Ronald Cole for her white woolen coat.

In the teen-age division blue ribbons went to Laureen Atkinson for her blue shift jumper; Toni Trunda for her apricot formal and matching stole; and to Melody Peterson for her blue shift jumper; Toni Trunda for her apricot formal and matching stole; and to Melody Peterson for her white culottes.

In the knitwear, blue ribbons went to Mrs. Ronald Cole for daughter Alyssa's turquoise sweater; Mrs. Robert Schultz for her beige boucle dress with leaf motif panel; to Ingeborg Kline for Peter's white suit and Edda's white diamond-patterned coat with pink yoke.

Réd ribbon winners in the show were Mrs. Gene Majka for her olive green sling-shot jumper; Mrs. Michael Chamberlain for her turquoise shift jumper with print blouse; Mrs. Henry Meindl for her her beige tweed walking suit, worn by her daughter, Pamela; Mrs. Roy Steffins for her yellow 2-piece suit; Mrs. John Bock for her daughter Deanne's pink angel top; Mrs. Stephen Gard for her pink print dress with spaghetti straps; Mrs. Ronald Zukowski for her daughter Cathy's white sailor shift with red trim and also for her navy blue spring coat.

Also Mrs. Michael Valenza for Jeannie's yellow print sun dress and Charlene's orchid checked dress with white pique jacket; Mrs. Albert Lang for the gingham dresses she made for her four daughters, Mary, Rosemary, Susan and Theresa; Mrs. Ronald Cole, for Holly's blue coat; Mrs. Edward Swan for a gold corduroy jumper worn over a blue cotton dress and modeled by Roxanne Allen; Mrs Charles Benson for Kerry's multi-color splatter print A-line jumper; Mrs. Ronald Bruhn for daughter Lee Ann's cardigan sweater; Mrs. Wagner for her red sweater; and Mrs. Meyers for her red Scandinavian ski sweater and hat modeled by Jean Kelm.

WHITE RIBBONS went to Mrs. Majka for her daughter Vicky's red and grey plaid jumper; Mrs. Steffins for daughter Linda's full skirted blue plaid jumper with fitted bodice; Mrs. Valenza for Lynette's dove grey shift jumper; and Judy Trunda for her blue sweater.

Judges were Mrs. Harold Boyko of the Catholic Women's Club; Mrs. Myron Johnson of Wheeling Junior Woman's Club; and Mrs. Bernard Neiweem, Wheeling Homemaker of 1964. Commentator was Mrs. Reece Wengenroth.

Area Pianist On TV Sunday

Pianist Maria Hoar, assistant program chairman of Arlington Heights Woman's Club, is to appear on TV as guest soloist Sunday, Sept. 27, with the NBC Symphony Orchestra Sunday, Sept. 27. The program may be seen at 1:30 p.m. over Channel 5.

Maria Hoar

Mrs. Hoar was graduated magna cum laude from Chicago Musical College of Roosevelt University, studying with Dr. Rudolph Ganz. She also holds a Master of Music degree from Indiana University. She has won numerous awards and has appeared as soloist with the Gary and Terre Haute Symphonies.

At present Mrs. Hoar is organist and choir director at the Church of the Master, Des Plaines. She and Mrs. Carl King presented the program at the recent tea for new members of Arlington Heights Woman's Club. (S 1916 OLDSMOBILE is readied for trip to Speakeasy Party at Elmhurst Country Club by Mrs. Mel Levers and Mrs. James O'Rourke of Mount Prospect Infant Welfare, sponsor of the Friday, Oct. 2 benefit. For the affair, the club will be decorated in a "Roaring Twenties" theme with dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., games in the "saloon" and a buffet served from 11 to 1.

Name Area Advisor To Illinois Post

Dr. Thomas E. Harwood, advisor for the pilot group of the Northwest Branch of Chicago Medical Assistants, has recently been appointed state advisor for the Illinois Medical Assistants.

Northwest branch feels particularly fortunate in having Dr. Harwood take such an interest in the forming of this group. His significant contributions of time and ideas and his alerting other doctors in this area to the possibilities of improving office relations with patients through better training have been invaluable.

FOR THOSE who are unaware of the aims of this group, an invitation is extended to attend a meeting to become acquainted with the objectives of honest, loyal and more efficient service between the profession and the public. Active employment in a medical office is the prime requirement for membership, but active interest is especially encouraged.

Meetings are held monthly at 8 p.m. in the Bank of Rolling Meadows at the Shopping Plaza. Each month a speaker from this area who is in the professional field will present an enlightening lecture on issues concerning the medical assistant.

During the coffee hour following each meeting, Dr. Harwood and the speaker are available for free discussion. (S

'Seniors' Begin New Season

An evening of "Getting to Know You" was planned for the first meeting of the new season for the Senior Citizens Club on Monday at the Mount Prospect Park Community Center by Mount Prospect Junior Woman's Club. Games, prizes, and refreshments were included in the program.

Card playing, book reviews, travelogs and several surprises were included in the variety of planned entertaining evenings this year, according to Mrs. William Barnes, chairman.

The Senior Citizens Club meets every third Monday of each month, at 7:30 p.m. All members of the community 60 years of age or over are invited to the meetings and to join the club.

Garden Department Slates Workshop

"Flowers for Fall," a workshop and demonstration of flower arranging techniques with Mrs. Wiley W. Carr as speaker, will head the first fall meeting of the garden department of Mount Prospect Woman's Club. The workshop will be held Tuesday, Sept. 29, at 12:30 p.m., in the Chestnut Room of Mount Prospect Community Center.

A dessert luncheon will be served by department members.

MRS. CARR is a nationally accredited flower show judge and is president of Mount Prospect Garden Club. Her program will include the basic rules of flower arranging and problems of beginners as well as the finer points of the art. She will answer questions after her talk.

Those attending the meeting are asked to bring garden flowers, a small container, scissors, a needlepoint holder and floral clay.

The workshop is open to all club members and guests. Reservations may be made by calling the garden department co-chairmen, Mrs. G. O. Larsson, CL 3-4668, or Mrs. Roy Duda, CL 3-8411. (S

Fall Decor Greets Guests at Social

Members and guests of the Buffalo Grove Woman's Club Autumn Social held Sept. 13, were greeted by a colorful taste of fall when they met in the new building in Emmerich Park for their fall tea. The large main room of the building was decorated with bronze marigolds, artificial leaves and fall tablecloths.

Women of the village were greeted by the new club officers and the official hostess for the tea, Mrs. Harry Reuckel.

ARLIE PAGE, Buffalo Grove Chief of Police, spoke at the first regular meeting on and clarifications of village laws, the dangers of youngsters playing in the streets, misbehavior of children on school buses and their ignorance of the dangers they may create and the need for parents of teens to stress that teen behavior reflects upon the whole village.

Mr. Page also emphasized the fact that parents and their children must realize that bicycles are vehicles and subject to the same rules and regulations which pertain to cars and also that they may be held liable for an accident. Questions were answered from the floor regarding animal control, curfew hours, parking, stop signs and solicitor regulations. (S

Countryside Plans Blast-Off Ball for October

OVER COFFEE, Mrs. Stephen Grimm, Mrs. Carl Noller and Mrs. Anthony DiOrio, all of Palatine, discuss Countryside Auxiliary's Oct. 10 Blast-Off Ball. Newcomers to the group, the three women helped formulate plans for Tag Day Friday, Oct. 2, in which all Chicago area auxiliaries of the Illinois Children's Home participate. Proceeds from both events will aid the Society in finding adoptive and foster homes for children in Illinois.

NAMETAGS FOR THESE new members of Countryside Auxiliary, Mrs. Otis Schmidt of Palatine, Mrs. Dan Thomson, Elk Grove Village, and Mrs. Rolley Bateman, Palatine, helped them become acquainted with other members of the group at recent meeting. The group, affiliated with Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society, is staging its third annual Blast-Off Ball Saturday, Oct. 10, in Itasca Country Club. After cocktails beginning at 6:30, dinner will be served at 8 with dancing following. Mrs. George Koester, FL 8-4166, is in charge of tickets. (S

Mother's Hanky Carried By Bride Sharon Kolle

A handkerchief carried by her mother on her wedding day was "something old" in Sharon Ann Kolle's attire when she became the Aug. 22 bride of Robert J. Forsberg. The bride is the daughter of the Herbert J. Kolles, 2311 Wing St., Rolling Meadows, and the groom's parents are the John O. Forsbergs of 206 S. Prindle, Arlington Heights.

St. Colette Catholic Church in Rolling Meadows was the setting for the 3 o'clock ceremony, with a dinner reception held later in Mount Prospect VFW Hall. The newlyweds were feted there by 160 guests.

NILE GREEN dresses of deluna taffeta were worn by the bride's attendants. The floor-length styles were accented with a bouffant skirt, which was detachable, and the girls wore matching Swiss braid crowns with circular veils to complement the dresses.

For accent the attendants' bouquets were composed of coral pink carnations.

The bride's sister, Darlene Kolle, was her maid of honor. Another sister, Barbara Kolle; Nancy Hill of Arlington Heights and Joyce Somerville, the groom's sister who lives in Cedar Rapids, were bridesmaids.

THERE WAS ALSO a 7-year-old flower girl, Lisa Wagner of Arlington Heights, who was dressed in a miniature of the adult attendants.

Coming down the church aisle on the arm of her father, the bride was dressed in a silk organza gown with a chapel train. The fitted bodice had long sleeves and a sculptured neckline, and the skirt was accented with a double bustle bow at the waistline Chantilly lace, iridescent sequins and pearls were appliqued on the bodice and front of the skirt.

A SILK ILLUSION 3-tiered veil fell from a chantilly lace crown which was highlighted with aurora borealis crystals and pearls. The bride's bouquet was fashioned of white roses with a white orchid in the center.

Rev. Ray Morrison performed the double ring ceremony as A. Contino played the organ and sang "On This Day."

FRANK ULLMAYER of Lombard served his friend as best man, and ushering the guests were Jack Kolle of Arlington Heights, David Somerville of Cedar Rapids and John Weiland of Des Plaines.

Witnessing the nuptials, Mrs. Kolle was attired in a Romance blue silk organza sheath dress and had a white orchid corsage. Also wearing a white orchid at her shoulder, the groom's mother was dressed in a white cotton brocade sheath.

The newlyweds are living in Arlington Heights after a week's honeymoon at the Wagon Wheel in Rockton. (Jenart

Palatine Couple Back To University in N. Y.

A Palatine couple who were graduated from the local high school and are now completing their college education in Rochester, N.Y., were married Aug. 29 in the First Methodist Church of Palatine. The bride is the former Sharon Fenske, daughter of the Ellsworth R. Fenskes, 2077 Thorntree Lane. She is now Mrs. Steve Swingley, her bridegroom the son of the Charles E. Swingleys of 144 S. Linden.

Although the bride spent the first two years of her college days at Grinnell College in Iowa she then transferred to the University of Rochester. She is a senior there this fall, and the groom is a senior at Rochester Institute of Technology.

Their families and friends saw them married at 4:30 in the afternoon by Rev. Donald C. Keck.

SEVERAL SHADES of pink flowers graced the altar, along with two candelabra for the double ring rites. The pink shades also formed the color scheme of the bride's attendants' dresses.

Mrs. George Ruch of Urbana was matron of honor in a rose pink satin floor-length gown with a sleeveless white lace jacket. She wore two red roses in her hair and carried the same shade of red roses in a bouquet mixed with white beauty bush.

THE TWO bridesmaids were gowned in pink, Lynne Belden of Prospect Heights in a light pink styled exactly as the matron of honor and Jackie Wassmer of Palatine in medium pink on the same style. Both wore white lace jackets over their dresses and carried red roses with white beauty bush. They each had two red roses in their hair.

The bride entered the sanctuary on the arm of her father and wore a gown of hand-clipped chantilly lace. The neckline and bell-shaped skirt were scalloped at the edge, and the skirt swept into a chapel train.

A double-tiered pearl crown held the bride's illusion veil in place, and she carried white roses with stephanotis in her bouquet.

THE GROOM'S brother, David Swingley, was his best man. The three ushers were George Ruch of Urbana and Ron and Gregg Fenske, brothers of the bride.

Greeting guests at a dinner reception at the Maitre d' Restaurant, the bride's mother wore a light blue nylon chiffon over lace dress and white accessories. The groom's mother chose beige silk shantung with aqua accessories. Mrs. Fenske's corsage was composed of white cymbidium orchids and Mrs. Swingley's of beige cymbidium.

A 2-week honeymoon in Canada preceded the couple's moving to Rochester to live at 1170 Genesee St. (S

MR. AND MRS. RONALD KESSELRING, recent newlyweds, are now making their home in Marinette, Wis. following their marriage and a honeymoon in the Smokies. The bride is the former Sarajane Terbell, daughter of the Floyd Terbells, 402 Kirchoff, Arlington Heights, and the groom is the son of the Carroll Kesselrings of Parnell, Iowa. The new Mrs. Kesselring is employed as the county health nurse in Marinette and her husband is with Unit Structures, Inc. (Bak Studio).

NEWLYWEDS, MR. AND MRS. John Armistead Church, are now residing in Princeton, N.J. following their August wedding in Palatine and a honeymoon in the Chicago area. The bride is the former Phyllis Klopp, daughter of the Charles Klopps, Palatine, and the groom is the son of the Randolph Churches of Richmond, Va. (S

Palatine Clubwomen Resume With Program on 'Theater'

"The Magic of Theater" will be described by Michael Kanter when the Palatine Woman's Club meets Tuesday, Oct. 6 at 12:30 p.m. in St. Paul United Church of Christ, 144 E. Chicago Ave. After a refreshment period the program will begin at 1:30.

It will be Reciprocity Day for the Palatine women, with Seventh District Woman's Club board members as guests.

FOR THIS FIRST general meeting of the club year, Michael Kanter will present a review of the concept of the theater, divulging secrets of the actor, enacting scenes just as he played the parts on the legitimate stage and telling of his work with stars of Broadway and Hollywood. Each role is chosen for its intense dramatic excitement and character penetration.

Mr. Kanter began work in the theater as a professional stage lighting designer, creating special effects for the "spectaculars" in vogue during the 30's. He served as chairman of the board of Equity Library Theater, Chicago, for a year and is a past president of the Chicago Ballet Guild. (S

State Hospital Chaplain Is Woman's Group Speaker

"Mankind needs unscientific answers" will be the subject of a talk by Rev. William R. Smith, Chaplain Coordinator of the Chicago State Hospital, at the Christian Women's Fellowship meeting at the Christian Church of Arlington Heights Thursday evening, Sept. 24 at 8 p.m.

Rev. Smith's academic training incudes a B.S. degree from Western Kentucky Teachers College, Bowling Green, Ky.; a B.D. degree from Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.; post-graduate work at the Counseling Center at the University of Chicago; extensive study in child care at the Institute of Psychoanalysis, Chicago; and training under the National Council of Clinical Training for ministers in institutions. He also maintains an office in Chicago for private counseling.

REV. SMITH has served as pastor of the Morgan Park and Northside Christian Churches and has been chaplain of Chicago Parental School, Illinois Training School for Boys and Illinois Industrial School. He recently appeared on the "Wonderful World" series on CBS-TV and WLS-Radio and in the near future he will appear on the program for ministers of the Chicago Area at McCormick Place to discuss "Counseling in the Chicago Metropolitan Area." He also plans to participate in the program for an all-day institute at McCormick Theological Seminary on the subject, "Sex and Christian Responsibility."

The relationship of science and religion will be the subject of the Christian Women's Fellowship study this year according to CWF President, Mrs. Don Walsh, 905 N. Mitchell. Program Chairman is Mrs. Richard Harold, 227 Richards Drive, Palatine and hostesses will be Mrs. Ken McCubbin, 1931 Verde Drive, and Mrs. William Krege, 635 E. Baldwin, Palatine.

Sen. Neuberger to Speak At Demo Campaign Luncheon

Sen. Maurine Neuberger will fly in from Washington, D.C., Friday, Oct. 9, to speak at the campaign luncheon for Lynn Williams, 13th District Candidate for House of Representatives on the Democratic Ticket.

The noon luncheon, sponsored by the Democratic Women's Club of the 13th District, will be held at Hyatt House in Lincolnwood, according to Club President, Mrs. Gene Saper, Wilmette.

Founded at the Adlai Stevenson Farm in 1958, the 13th District Club traditionally works for the election of the Democratic Candidate for Congress from their District. Campaigning by the women for Candidate Williams began in January, Mrs. Saper said.

Main headquarters offices for Lynn Williams, located in Wilmette, are financed and staffed by the club.

MRS. NEUBERGER, who was elected in 1960 as the first woman Senator from Oregon, is a member of the Senate Banking and Currency, Agriculture and Forestry Committees and the Special Committee on the Aging.

A former member of the Oregon legislature, Mrs. Neuberger came to Washington when her husband was elected to the Senate in 1954. Following his death, she filled his unexpired term and in addition, was elected to a full 6-year term.

Women from the area planning the campaign luncheon include Mrs. Fred Kubas, 916 Victoria Lane, Elk Grove Village; Mrs. Harvey McDonald, 1627 N. Evergreen, Arlington Heights; Mrs. William F. Sannwald, 140 E. Forest Lane, Palatine; and Miss Arline Jeczalik, 406 Hillside Drive, Streamwood.

Countryside Plans Blast-Off Ball for October

OVER COFFEE, Mrs. Stephen Grimm, Mrs. Carl Noller and Mrs. Anthony DiOrio, all of Palatine, discuss Countryside Auxiliary's Oct. 10 Blast-Off Ball. Newcomers to the group, the three women helped formulate plans for Tag Day Friday, Oct. 2, in which all Chicago area auxiliaries of the Illinois Children's Home participate. Proceeds from both events will aid the Society in finding adoptive and foster homes for children in Illinois.

NAMETAGS FOR THESE new members of Countryside Auxiliary, Mrs. Otis Schmidt of Palatine, Mrs. Dan Thomson, Elk Grove Village, and Mrs. Rolley Bateman, Palatine, helped them become acquainted with other members of the group at recent meeting. The group, affiliated with Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society, is staging its third annual Blast-Off Ball Saturday, Oct. 10, in Itasca Country Club. After cocktails beginning at 6:30, dinner will be served at 8 with dancing following. Mrs. George Koester, FL 8-4166, is in charge of tickets. (S

Suburban Living

Especially for Women

MR. AND MRS. RONALD KESSELRING, recent newlyweds, are now making their home in Marinette, Wis. following their marriage and a honeymoon in the Smokies. The bride is the former Sarajane Terbell, daughter of the Floyd Terbells, 402 Kirchoff, Arlington Heights, and the groom is the son of the Carroll Kesselrings of Parnell, Iowa. The new Mrs. Kesselring is employed as the county health nurse in Marinette and her husband is with Unit Structures, Inc. (Bak Studio).

Mother's Hanky Carried By Bride Sharon Kolle

A handkerchief carried by her mother on her wedding day was "something old" in Sharon Ann Kolle's attire when she became the Aug. 22 bride of Robert J. Forsberg. The bride is the daughter of the Herbert J. Kolles, 2311 Wing St., Rolling Meadows, and the groom's parents are the John O. Forsbergs of 206 S. Prindle, Arlington Heights.

St. Colette Catholic Church in Rolling Meadows was the setting for the 3 o'clock ceremony, with a dinner reception held later in Mount Prospect VFW Hall. The newlyweds were feted there by 160 guests.

NILE GREEN dresses of deluna taffeta were worn by the bride's attendants. The floor-length styles were accented with a bouffant skirt, which was detachable, and the girls wore matching Swiss braid crowns with circular veils to complement the dresses.

For accent the attendants' bouquets were composed of coral pink carnations.

The bride's sister, Darlene Kolle, was her maid of honor. Another sister, Barbara Kolle; Nancy Hill of Arlington Heights and Joyce Somerville, the groom's sister who lives in Cedar Rapids, were bridesmaids.

THERE WAS ALSO a 7-year-old flower girl, Lisa Wagner of Arlington Heights, who was dressed in a miniature of the adult attendants.

Coming down the church aisle on the arm of her father, the bride was dressed in a silk organza gown with a chapel train. The fitted bodice had long sleeves and a sculptured neckline, and the skirt was accented with a double bustle bow at the waistline Chantilly lace, iridescent sequins and pearls were appliqued on the bodice and front of the skirt.

A SILK ILLUSION 3-tiered veil fell from a chantilly lace crown which was highlighted with aurora borealis crystals and pearls. The bride's bouquet was fashioned of white roses with a white orchid in the center.

Rev. Ray Morrison performed the double ring ceremony as A. Contino played the organ and sang "On This Day."

FRANK ULLMAYER of Lombard served his friend as best man, and ushering the guests were Jack Kolle of Arlington Heights, David Somerville of Cedar Rapids and John Weiland of Des Plaines.

Witnessing the nuptials, Mrs. Kolle was attired in a Romance blue silk organza sheath dress and had a white orchid corsage. Also wearing a white orchid at her shoulder, the groom's mother was dressed in a white cotton brocade sheath.

The newlyweds are living in Arlington Heights after a week's honeymoon at the Wagon Wheel in Rockton. (Jenart

Palatine Couple Back To University in N. Y.

A Palatine couple who were graduated from the local high school and are now completing their college education in Rochester, N.Y., were married Aug. 29 in the First Methodist Church of Palatine. The bride is the former Sharon Fenske, daughter of the Ellsworth R. Fenskes, 2077 Thorntree Lane. She is now Mrs. Steve Swingley, her bridegroom the son of the Charles E. Swingleys of 144 S. Linden.

Although the bride spent the first two years of her college days at Grinnell College in Iowa she then transferred to the University of Rochester. She is a senior there this fall, and the groom is a senior at Rochester Institute of Technology.

Their families and friends saw them married at 4:30 in the afternoon by Rev. Donald C. Keck.

SEVERAL SHADES of pink flowers graced the altar, along with two candelabra for the double ring rites. The pink shades also formed the color scheme of the bride's attendants' dresses.

Mrs. George Ruch of Urbana was matron of honor in a rose pink satin floor-length gown with a sleeveless white lace jacket. She wore two red roses in her hair and carried the same shade of red roses in a bouquet mixed with white beauty bush.

THE TWO bridesmaids were gowned in pink, Lynne Belden of Prospect Heights in a light pink styled exactly as the matron of honor and Jackie Wassmer of Palatine in medium pink on the same style. Both wore white lace jackets over their dresses and carried red roses with white beauty bush. They each had two red roses in their hair.

The bride entered the sanctuary on the arm of her father and wore a gown of hand-clipped chantilly lace. The neckline and bell-shaped skirt were scalloped at the edge, and the skirt swept into a chapel train.

A double-tiered pearl crown held the bride's illusion veil in place, and she carried white roses with stephanotis in her bouquet.

THE GROOM'S brother, David Swingley, was his best man. The three ushers were George Ruch of Urbana and Ron and Gregg Fenske, brothers of the bride.

Greeting guests at a dinner reception at the Maitre d' Restaurant, the bride's mother wore a light blue nylon chiffon over lace dress and white accessories. The groom's mother chose beige silk shantung with aqua accessories. Mrs. Fenske's corsage was composed of white cymbidium orchids and Mrs. Swingley's of beige cymbidium.

A 2-week honeymoon in Canada preceded the couple's moving to Rochester to live at 1170 Genesee St. (S

NEWLYWEDS, MR. AND MRS. John Armistead Church, are now residing in Princeton, N.J. following their August wedding in Palatine and a honeymoon in the Chicago area. The bride is the former Phyllis Klopp, daughter of the Charles Klopps, Palatine, and the groom is the son of the Randolph Churches of Richmond, Va. (S

Apple Pudding Among Authentic Ozark Dishes

OZARK APPLE PUDDING

2 tablespoons butter
½ cup white sugar
½ cup brown sugar
4 apples, peeled and diced
½ cup nutmeats
1 cup unsifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon cinnamon

Cream butter and sugars together. Add apples and blend in remaining ingredients. Turn into a greased, 9-inch square pan and bake 45 minutes at 350 degrees.

Serve warm or cold with cream or whipped cream. Serves 5 to 6.

HAM LOAF

1 pound ground ham
½ pound ground pork
2 eggs
1 cup dry bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 cup tomato juice
1 green pepper, chopped

Mix all ingredients together and form into a loaf in a bread pan. Prepare the following topping:

⅓ cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon mustard
2 tablespoons vinegar

Mix ingredients together and pour over loaf. Bake in a 250 to 300 degree oven for 1½ to 2 hours. Serve with a sauce made by combining commercial sour cream with a dab or two of horseradish; serves 5 to 6.

CUCUMBER SALAD

2 packages lime jello
2 cups boiling water
1 tablespoon vinegar
¾ cup mayonnaise
1 large cucumber, grated with skin and drained
1½ tablespoons grated onion
1½ tablespoons horseradish
½ can ripe, seedless olives cut in rings

Dissolve jello in boiling water and add vinegar. Pour half of this into a 1½ quart mold and let set until firm. Arrange a layer of olive rings over this firm layer.

Mix remaining ingredients with remaining jello and pour over olives. Place in refrigerator until congealed; serves 10.

Appealing Dessert Uses 1-Mix Method

by LOIS SEILER

An apple pudding that comes straight from the Ozarks and was often made by her mother is Mrs. James E. Ayers favorite dessert.

"Both my husband and I grew up in the southwestern part of Missouri," Mrs. Ayers explained, and the people in this area like rich desserts."

"We especially like this one because it is spicy and flavorful, and it is particularly good to serve with a simple meal."

Easy to prepare, all of the ingredients, including the apples, are combined in one bowl. Not even the flour need be sifted. Nutmeg and cinnamon are used to spice the batter.

Bake in a 9-inch square pan, this firm but soft pudding is delicious warm or cold. Mrs. Ayers serves it in sherbet glasses topped with cream or whipped cream.

Another Ozark specialty that was Mrs. Ayers' mother's favorite and is now enjoyed by her own family is a savory ham loaf.

This recipe combines ground ham and pork with eggs, bread crumbs, tomato juice, chopped green pepper and seasonings. Formed into a loaf in a bread pan, it is baked with a topping of brown sugar, mustard and vinegar.

Peggy Ayers serves this loaf with a tart sour cream and horseradish dressing which complements the flavor of this rich and tasty meat.

SHE USUALLY accompanies it with scalloped potatoes and a molded cucumber salad. Made in three layers, the salad consists of a layer of lime jello, a layer of ripe olive rings and a layer of a lime jello and mayonnaise mixture to which grated cucumber, onion and horseradish has been added.

The nippy flavor of this tangy salad makes it a good flavor complement for the ham loaf or any rich dinner.

All of these recipes are easy enough to make for the family, yet delicious enough to serve to guests. And they all can easily be doubled to serve a large group.

They are hearty enough, too, to please the appetites of the Ayers' three sons: Rod, 14, Chuck, 12, and Dan, 4.

In addition to her culinary interests, Mrs. Ayers is active in several organizations. She is a member of the Elk Grove Women's Auxiliary of the Regular Republican organization and St. Raymond's Women's Club, and helps with Little League and Midget Football activities. She is also working towards completing her college degree by attending adult evening classes.

The Ayers family resides at 805 W. Milburn in Mount Prospect.

DANNY AYERS and his friends, Johnny Wolk (left) and Andy Ross (right) will readily agree that Mrs. James E. Ayers' apple pudding makes a mighty appealing afternoon snack. The recipe for this spicy and flavorful dessert originated in the Ozarks, and Mrs. Ayers likes to serve it topped with whipped cream. (SH

Savory Stuffing Spices Burgers

These warm summer days take meal-time outdoors. It's easier for mother and relaxing for the whole family as well. With a minimum amount of indoor preparation, most of the cooking can be done outside.

The secret ingredient in these Hawaiian hamburgers is herb-seasoned stuffing, which contains a special combination of herbs, that gives the added touch to the hamburgers. This stuffing is so convenient since it comes packaged and ready to use. Cooking the hamburgers over a charcoal fire brings out all the natural flavor and goodness.

Serve these hamburgers along with grilled bananas and a tall ciol pineapple drink.

HAWAIIAN HAMBURGERS

1 can (10½ oz.) condensed tomato soup
¼ cup water
1½ lbs. ground beef
1 cup packaged herb-seasoned stuffing
½ cup chopped onion
1 teaspoon seasoned salt
1 can (8¾ oz.) pineapple chunks

Blend soup and water. Combine ½ cup soup mixture with beef, stuffing, onion, and seasoned salt. Shape into patties. Broil on charcoal grill, turning once, 10 to 15 minutes or until done.

Drain pineapple chunks. In saucepan, combine remaining soup mixture with pineapple chunks and heat. Serve over grilled hamburgers. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Grilled Bananas—Peel three firm bananas. Slice in half lengthwise and moisten in a little lemon juice. Grill along with hamburgers.

Chilled Pineapple Cocktail—Combine 1 quart pineapple juice, 1 quart cranberry juice cocktail, and 1 quart grapefruit juice. Chill. Serve in tall frosted glasses or pineapple shells.

Strawberry Pie Has New Flavor

Surprise your family tonight with this light and delicate strawberry pie featuring a deliciously new gelatin flavor—Strawberry-Banana. Mouthwatering red strawberries captured in the gelatin provide the bottom layer of this pretty pie, while the crowning layer features more berries in whipped gelatin.

LAYERED STRAWBERRY PIE

1½ cups sliced strawberries
1/3 cup sugar
1 package (3 ounces) strawberry-banana flavor gelatin
1 cup boiling water
¾ cup strawberry juice and water combined
1 baked 9-inch pie shell, cooled

Combine strawberries and sugar; let stand 30 minutes. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Drain strawberries, measure juice, and add water to make ¾ cup. Add to dissolved gelatin. Chill until slightly thickened.

Fold half of strawberries into 1 cup of the gelatin and pour into pie shell. Chill until set, but not firm. Place bowl of remaining gelatin in ice and water. Whip with rotary beater until fluffy and thick.

Fold in remaining strawberries and spoon over layer in pie shell. Chill until firm. (SH

Fine Flavor Mates

Leftover bacon from breakfast? Slivers of ham from the last of a roast? Add them to stewed tomatoes which have been cooked with onion and green pepper and green beans. This has flavor plus!

Cooked shredded cabbage is excellent when sauced with cream cheese thinned with rich milk, a dash of pepper and some celery seed.

Two tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated rind blended with ¼ cup melted butter and 1 tablespoon minced chives gives a delightful sauce for vegetables or fish.

A hearty lunch for a snappy day can use split pea soup, canned or homemade, with a slice of rye bread and a slice of bologna as the garnish.

Like clams? Dip them in fritter batter and fry in deep hot fat. Serve with tartar sauce.

Top rye bread with a sauerkraut-mayonnaise mixture, then with sliced turkey and corned beef. A slice of Swiss cheese can furnish the finishing touch. It's a meal in itself.

Helen's Favorite:
Macaroni Casserole
(Serves 4-6)

1 6-ounce package macaroni
1 cup soft bread crumbs
2 beaten eggs
2 cups canned tomatoes
1 cup diced American cheese
⅓ cup diced green pepper
1 teaspoon minced onion
¼ cup butter or substitute

Cook macaroni in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain. Add remaining ingredients, mixing lightly and seasoning to taste. Pour into well-buttered 2-quart casserole and bake in a moderate oven (325°F.) 45 minutes.

Snappy Aspic Sparks Menus

BEEF OR CHICKEN flavored, this snappy aspic is a cooling idea for summer suppers. Deviled eggs and ham and cheese rolls add color to this satisfying dish. (SH

Cool, cool aspic, one of summer's most inviting dishes, can be of a variety of flavors. An especially cooling idea is one made with golden or rich brown seasoning and broth, depending on whether you want a chicken-y flavored aspic or a beefy flavored one.

Molded in a decorative motif, the aspic can be accompanied by deviled eggs, ham and cheese rolls, and perhaps, sliced tomatoes. Serve with this, delicate hot rolls, ice tea, and seasonal fruit ice for a delicious summer luncheon or supper.

SNAPPY ASPIC

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
3 cups hot water
6 envelopes brown seasoning and broth
1 teaspoon bottled horseradish
¼ teaspoon worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Soften gelatin in cold water. Mix hot water and rich brown seasoning and broth. Add the softened gelatin and stir until gelatin has completely dissolved. Remove from heat. Stir in horseradish, worcestershire sauce, and lemon juice.

Pour into quart mold; chill until firm. Makes 4-6 servings. G. Washington Seasoning and Broth used in recipe. (SH

These warm summer days take meal-time outdoors. It's easier for mother and relaxing for the whole family as well. With a minimum amount of indoor preparation, most of the cooking can be done outside.

The secret ingredient in these Hawaiian hamburgers is herb-seasoned stuffing, which contains a special combination of herbs, that gives the added touch to the hamburgers. This stuffing is so convenient since it comes packaged and ready to use. Cooking the hamburgers over a charcoal fire brings out all the natural flavor and goodness.

Serve these hamburgers along with grilled bananas and a tall ciol pineapple drink.

HAWAIIAN HAMBURGERS

- 1 can (10½ oz.) condensed tomato soup
- ¼ cup water
- 1½ lbs. ground beef
- 1 cup packaged herb-seasoned stuffing
- ½ cup chopped onion
- 1 teaspoon seasoned salt
- 1 can (8¾ oz.) pineapple chunks

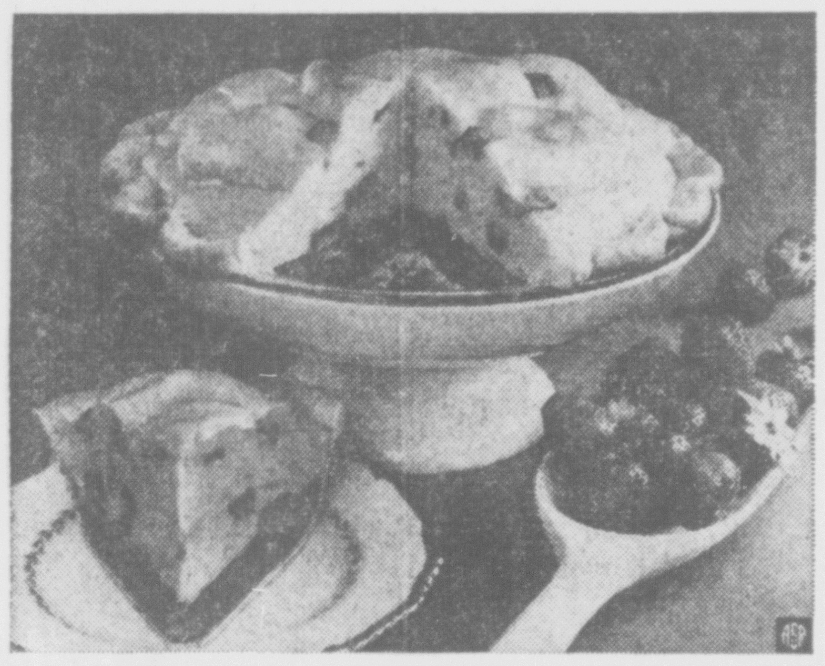
Blend soup and water. Combine ½ cup soup mixture with beef, stuffing, onion, and seasoned salt. Shape into patties. Broil on charcoal grill, turning once, 10 to 15 minutes or until done.

Drain pineapple chunks. In saucepan, combine remaining soup mixture with pineapple chunks and heat. Serve over grilled hamburgers. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Grilled Bananas—Peel three firm bananas. Slice in half lengthwise and moisten in a little lemon juice. Grill along with hamburgers.

Chilled Pineapple Cocktail—Combine 1 quart pineapple juice, 1 quart cranberry juice cocktail, and 1 quart grapefruit juice. Chill. Serve in tall frosted glasses or pineapple shells.

Strawberry Pie Has New Flavor



Surprise your family tonight with this light and delicate strawberry pie featuring a deliciously new gelatin flavor—Strawberry - Banana. Mouth-watering red strawberries captured in the gelatin provide the bottom layer of this pretty pie, while the crowning layer features more berries in whipped gelatin.

LAYERED STRAWBERRY PIE

- 1½ cups sliced strawberries
- 1/3 cup sugar
- 1 package (3 ounces) strawberry-banana flavor gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- ¾ cup strawberry juice and water combined
- 1 baked 9-inch pie shell, cooled

Combine strawberries and sugar; let stand 30 minutes. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Drain strawberries, measure juice, and add water to make ¾ cup. Add to dissolved gelatin. Chill until slightly thickened.

Fold half of strawberries into 1 cup of the gelatin and pour into pie shell. Chill until set, but not firm. Place bowl of remaining gelatin in ice and water. Whip with rotary beater until fluffy and thick.

Fold in remaining strawberries and spoon over layer in pie shell. Chill until firm. (SH

Family Pot Luck

Fine Flavor Mates

Leftover bacon from breakfast? Slivers of ham from the last of a roast? Add them to stewed tomatoes which have been cooked with onion and green pepper and green beans. This has flavor plus!

Cooked shredded cabbage is excellent when sauced with cream cheese thinned with rich milk, a dash of pepper and some celery seed.

Two tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated rind blended with ¼ cup melted butter and 1 tablespoon minced chives gives a delightful sauce for vegetables or fish.

A hearty lunch for a snappy day can use split pea soup, canned or homemade, with a slice of rye bread and a slice of bologna as the garnish.

Like clams? Dip them in fritter batter and fry in deep hot fat. Serve with tartar sauce.

Top rye bread with a sauerkraut-mayonnaise mixture, then with sliced turkey and corned beef. A slice of Swiss cheese can furnish the finishing touch. It's a meal in itself.

Helen's Favorite:
Macaroni Casserole
(Serves 4 - 6)

- 1 6-ounce package macaroni
- 1 cup soft bread crumbs
- 2 beaten eggs
- 2 cups canned tomatoes
- 1 cup diced American cheese
- ⅓ cup diced green pepper
- 1 teaspoon minced onion
- ¼ cup butter or substitute

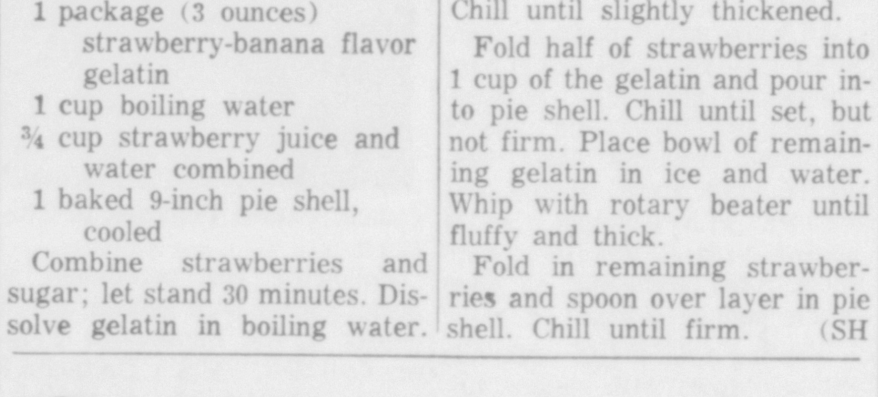
Cook macaroni in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain. Add remaining ingredients, mixing lightly and seasoning to taste. Pour into well-buttered 2-quart casserole and bake in a moderate oven (325°F.) 45 minutes.

Snappy Aspic Sparks Menus



BEEF OR CHICKEN flavored, this snappy aspic is a cooling idea for summer suppers. Deviled eggs and ham and cheese rolls add color to this satisfying dish. (SH

Cool, cool aspic, one of summer's most inviting dishes, can be of a variety of flavors. An especially cooling idea is one made with golden or rich brown seasoning and broth, depending on whether you want a chicken-y flavored aspic or a beefy flavored one.

Molded in a decorative motif, the aspic can be accompanied by deviled eggs, ham and cheese rolls, and perhaps, sliced tomatoes. Serve with this, delicate hot rolls, ice tea, and seasonal fruit ice for a delicious summer luncheon or supper.

SNAPPY ASPIC

- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- ½ cup cold water
- 3 cups hot water
- 6 envelopes brown seasoning and broth
- 1 teaspoon bottled horseradish
- ¼ teaspoon worcestershire sauce
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice

Soften gelatin in cold water. Mix hot water and rich brown seasoning and broth. Add the softened gelatin and stir until gelatin has completely dissolved. Remove from heat. Stir in horseradish, worcestershire sauce, and lemon juice.

Pour into quart mold; chill until firm. Makes 4-6 servings. G. Washington Seasoning and Broth used in recipe. (SH

Keepsakes Add Sentiment As Barbara Ann Schmidt Is Wed

(Jenart

Adding a sentimental touch to Barbara Ann Schmidt's wedding day were two pieces of jewelry, both worn as "something old" keepsakes from her grandmothers. Although now deceased, the grandmothers were pleasantly remembered by their contributions to her bridal attire.

As Barbara Ann came down the aisle of St. James Church, Arlington Heights, on Aug. 15, she wore her maternal grandmother's brooch which is 65 years old and her paternal grandmother's wedding ring of 55 years ago.

HER ONLY other piece of jewelry was "something borrowed" from her sister-in-law, Mrs. Herbert Schmidt Jr., a string of pearls worn by that bride three years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Schmidt Sr., 1017 Drake Terrace, Prospect Heights, are parents of Barbara Ann. Her bridegroom is Harold J. Weidner Jr., son of the senior Weidners of 431 Diane Drive, Palatine.

The 3 o'clock ceremony was performed by Rev. George Roth in a setting of yellow and nile green. A large wedding party surrounded the couple, with close friends and relatives serving as attendants.

COMING DOWN the aisle as flower girls were nieces of the couple, Diane Mary Raupp, 5, of Palatine and Lynn Ann Schmidt, 2, of Arlington Heights. They wore yellow floor-length dresses with hoop skirts and long trains and a headband of fresh daisies in their hair. Each carried a basket of yellow daisies.

Ring bearer was 6-year-old Gordon Weidner, the groom's nephew, who carried the double rings on a white satin pillow made by a close friend, Mrs. Chester Baumgart.

The maid of honor, Ruth Ann Loeding of Niles, a cousin of the bride, wore a yellow floor-length dress of nylon organza, featuring a pearl-smocked bodice and long train, She wore matching shoes and hat and also white opera-length gloves. Her bouquet was a cascade of green carnations.

THERE WERE four bridesmaids and a junior bridesmaid, all gowned in nile green dresses and accessories which matched the maid of honor's in style. Their cascade bouquets were fashioned of yellow carnations.

The four bridesmaids included Sandra Schmidt (Mrs. Herbert) of Arlington Heights, Donna L. Miller of Wheeling, Karen Weidner of Palatine, who is the groom's sister, and Beverly Mae Schmidt of Mundelein, a cousin of the bride.

Cheryl Lynn Loeding, 11-year old cousin of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid.

FOLLOWING HER attendants to the altar, the bride wore a silk organza over taffeta floor-length dress with a chapel train. The sweetheart neckline was appliqued in alencon lace, the lace repeated in appliques on the bell-shaped skirt.

The bride's shoulder length veil was attached to a cap of satin roses decorated with pearls. Her bouquet formed a cascade of white snowdrift pompons, carnations. stephanotis and a single purple orchid at the center.

With the groom at the altar, awaiting the bridal procession, was Ronald Michalowski of Arlington Heights as best man. They were joined by the ushers, Herbert Schmidt Jr., Robert Raupp of Palatine, David Lemke of Wheeling and Thomas Bischoffer of Rolling Meadows.

Serving as a junior usher was William Michelau of Mundelein, a cousin of the groom.

FOUR HUNDRED guests greeted the couple at a dinner reception held later in Northbrook American Legion Hall. During the wedding and the reception the bride's mother wore a pastel pink chiffon sheath dress with matching hat and shoes, and the groom's mother wore powder blue lace in a sheath style. Both had pink cymbidium corsages.

Among the guests for the day's festivities was the groom's only grandparent, Mrs. Mary Weidner of Arlington Heights.

The newlyweds are now "at home" in Palatine after a week's honeymoon in Washington, D.C.

The bride, a Prospect High School graduate, works in Wheeling for the Delta Co. The groom, an Arlington High graduate, is employed in the Northbrook branch of the U. S. Post Office.

FOLLOWING THEIR August wedding in St. John Lutheran Church, Elgin, the former Connie Louise Lehman, daughter of the Ralph Lehmans of South Elgin, and Dennis B. Roxworthy, son of the senior Thomas J. Roxworthys of Barrington, honeymooned in the Pocono Mountains. A former Palatine resident, the groom is employed by Paddock Publications and he and his bride are making their home in Elgin. (S

Formal Friday Night Ball To Precede Comas Day Fiesta

Invitations are in the mail this week for the First Fiesta Ball, formal kick-off dinner dance set for Friday, Oct. 9, preceding the opening of the Comas Day Fiesta Saturday at Arlington Park Race Track. The dinner dance will be held in the Post and Paddock Club and promises to be one of the most sophisticated affairs to be held in the area this season, according to committee members.

Invited to the affair, which will benefit Arlington Heights' sister city, Comas, Peru, are the entire Consular Corps of all Latin countries who reside in the Chicago area, civic and social leaders from the entire Chicagoland area and the Latin-American communities, plus numerous residents from Arlington Heights and surrounding communities. Guests of honor include the Hon. Gustavo Barreda Moller, Consul General of Peru and Mrs. Barreda, Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Gomez of Evanston and Arlington Heights Village President John Woods and Mrs. Woods.

DINNER, prepared by the Post and Paddock chef, Max, will incude a choice of steak or lobster tails, and will be served at 8 p.m. following the 7 o'clock cocktail and social hour. On the agenda for the evening are a brief talk on differences in culture by Mr. Gomez, a floor show staged by Latin-American entertainers and dancing to the American and Latin music of Neto Quiroga.

Planning the benefit, a subscription invitation party, are Mrs. John E. Gessert, Mrs. Laddie Janda, Miss Carol Garman, Richard A. Patton and Anthony Biancardi, all residents of Arlington Heights and members of the Arlington Heights Intra-American Friendship Program.

Saturday, Fiesta Day, has been planned for the entire family, with the Cole Marionettes and rides on the Shriner camels for the children; art exhibits, handicrafts and ceramic displays for the women; talent shows and a soccer game for the men; and Latin American entertainment, South of the Border food and beverages for all.

Diane Hattendorf and Groom Are Teaching in Princeton

(Bak Studio (S

Beginning their wedded life together as teachers, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rogala are now residing in Princeton, Ill. where the bride is teaching Spanish in Princeton High School and the groom is teaching history in DePue High School. Both recently received their Bachelor's degrees from Illinois State University at Normal.

The bride is the former Diane Hattendorf, daughter of the Alvin C. Hattendorfs, 154 N. Fremont, Palatine, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Alex Rogala of Waukegan.

Their wedding took place Aug. 15 in a 2 o'clock, double ring service in Palatine's St. Theresa Catholic Church. Fr. Grace officiated at the service and Mr. Hattendorf gave his daughter in marriage.

A silk organza gown over taffeta was chosen by the bride for her marriage. Fashioned with controlled skirt front, the chapel train bustled into a pleated effect for the reception. Both the bodice and skirt were trimmed with re-embroidered alencon lace, and her bouffant, elbow-length veil was held in place with a petal headpiece of silk organza and pearls. Phalaenopsis, stephanotis and lilies of the valley made up her bridal bouquet.

MISS KAREN Donovan of Bloomington was maid of honor and bridesmaids were the bride's cousins, Betty Pohlman of Arlington Heights and Nancy Pahlke of Barrington, the groom's cousin, Judith Jungblut of North Chicago, and his niece, Cynthia Rogala of Waukegan.

All wore yellow organza fashioned with slit panel skirts over full-length brocade sheaths. Large back bows in the brocade accented the gowns. Their headpieces were bows of the silk organza with a triple tier of illusion veiling, and their bouquets were crescents of deep bronze pompon mums.

Wearing a full-length white silk organza gown over yellow taffeta, was 3½-year-old Denise Goebbert of Palatine, who served as flower girl. Her bouquet was a miniature of the bridesmaids' bouquets.

THE GROOM'S brother, Robert Rogala of Waukegan, served as best man, and ushers were Lt. Milton Rudsinski of Chanute Air Force Base, John Donovan of Bloomington, the bride's brother, Airman 2.C Alan Hattendorf of Hunters Air Force Base, Ga., and the bride's cousin, James Pohlman of Palatine.

Following the ceremony, a buffet dinner was served to 300 guests in the Bensenville Fireman's Hall. Mrs. Hattendorf received in a willow green chiffon sheath with matching accessories and Mrs. Rogala in a blue sheath dress with white accessories. Both mothers chose corsages of cymbidiums.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Chicago for one week before moving to 221 S. First St., Princeton.

Lemon Angel Cake

You've heard of "double chocolate" sodas. Now, try this "double lemon" cake, the latest fashion for summer desserting. A new mix adds the refreshing touch of lemon to that airy favorite, angel food.

Here it appears in three "layers," each topped in this particularly lush manner: lemon frosting mix, combined—straight from the box—with whipping cream and sour cream. Fresh strawberry slices are folded into the topping, and garnish the cake prettily, too. Keep it cool until you're ready to let it keep you cool!

LIGHT LEMON LAYERS

1 package lemon angel food cake mix

Filling and Topping

2 cups (one-half package) buttercream lemon frosting mix
1 cup whipping cream
1/3 cup sour cream
2 cups fresh strawberry slices

[illegible] and bake cake as directed on package. Cool; remove from pan. With long-bladed knife, split cake into 3 layers.

Blend dry frosting mix, whipping cream and sour cream. Beat until thickened. Fold in strawberry slices. Fill and top cake layers with creamy filling. Garnish with strawberry slices. Chill until served. (SH

Using Olive Oil Trio

Chicken Goes to Grill In Variety of Sauces

The chicken is a bird of many moods. It can appear on the table as simple, down-to-earth fried chicken, or dressed up to be exotic as a bird of paradise. No other meat food is as versatile. In barbecue season, you could, if you liked, serve chicken every day with a different sauce.

Whether the bird is to be roasted whole on a rotisserie spit, or cut up and broiled on a flat grill, here's an important barbecue sauce secret. Use olive oil in the sauce, if you want it to stick well to the skin and the sauce flavor to penetrate the delicate flesh.

Olive oil is heavier in density than other kitchen oils and gives more even browning. The best to use is a Spanish olive oil, bland in flavor, delicately fragrant.

BARBECUED CHICKEN to most Americans means the bird has been basted with a tomato sauce. In just one of the three following recipes tomato is used in the sauce, but even in this recipe, other ingredients give the basting sauce smooth what-is-this flavor. The other two sauces are different as can be—and will make the chicken taste like a different bird

All three can be used as well for cut-up chicken as for chicken roasted whole on a spit. Cooking time is a little longer for the whole chicken, usually 1¼ hours (depending on the size of the bird and the intensity of the fire). Test for doneness by moving leg; if it moves easily, chicken is ready.

CUT-UP CHICKEN usually takes no more than 45 minutes to cook through with a golden exterior, sometimes can be ready for the table in 30 minutes. Keep chicken a good 4 inches from the heat over charcoal; in using electric rotisserie or broiling oven follow manufacturer's instructions. Turn cut-up chicken frequently.

Each of these sauces can also be used on other meats. The Tomato Glaze is excellent for chuck steak or roast; the Sherry Marinade is superb on boned pork loin, chunks of beef or cut-up duck; the Orange Glaze is marvelous with veal chops or a boned rolled veal roast.

TOMATO GLAZE

½ cup minced onion
1 small garlic clove, minced
½ cup minced celery
¼ cup Spanish olive oil
2 tablespoons tomato paste
2 teaspoons beef stock base or 2 beef bouillon cubes
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 teaspoon gravy coloring (Kitchen Bouquet)
½ cup medium dry sherry
1 cup water
½ teaspoon mixed herbs (bouquet garni)

Simmer onion, garlic and celery in olive oil until soft; add tomato paste, beef stock base and cornstarch, stirring to blend. Cook, stirring, 3 minutes. Add wine, water and herbs. Simmer 15 minutes. Strain through sieve.

Use as a sauce to baste over whole chicken on a rotisserie spit or cut-up chicken on a grill; start basting after chicken has been over fire for 10 minutes. Baste about every 10 minutes until glaze has been used. Makes 1½ cups sauce, enough for 2 small broiler chickens.

SHERRY GLAZE

¼ cup Spanish olive oil
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 cup dry sherry
½ teaspoon oregano

Combine above ingredients, pour over whole chicken or cut-up chicken and marinate for 6 to 12 hours, turning several times. Remove chicken from marinade, place whole chicken on rotisserie spit, barbecue for 1 to 1¼ hours over medium-hot fire, until leg moves very easily.

Place cup-up chicken on flat grill, turn frequently until pieces are well-browned on both sides. If roasted on electric rotisserie, save drippings, serve as unthickened gravy with the chicken.

Makes 1¼ cups sauce, enough for 2 small chickens.

ORANGE GLAZE

½ cup orange juice
½ cup Spanish olive oil
1 tablespoon wine vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon instant chopped onion teaspoon ginger or cumin

Combine juice, olive oil, vinegar and salt, crush the instant onion with mortar and pestle or back of wooden spoon, blend with the ginger or cumin, add to the juice mixture. Marinate either whole or cut-up chicken in the sauce for 1 hour or longer; baste with the marinade as it cooks over charcoal or in the broiler or rotisserie oven.

Makes 1 cup sauce, enough for 1 large or 2 small chickens.

CHANGE THE SAUCE and you change the bird. A trio of barbecue sauces, each using Spanish olive oil as the base are featured in this column. (SH

Country Sparerib Recipe Inspires Appetites, Cook

SPARERIBS COUNTRY STYLE are a convenience for the cook and a delight to her family and guests. Served with a spicy sauce and other mealtime accouterments, it adds up to barbecue perfection. (SH

A rack of spareribs grilling fragrantly over the coals inspires the appetite and the cook. Now that Americans are barbecuing more than ever before, outdoor chefs are re-discovering the culinary distinctions of spareribs country style.

Man has been cooking outdoors for a good long time. In fact, it's reasonable and rather fun to assume that the first "dinner" was a sort of barbecue. But things are easier now. Outdoor grilling is a matter of enjoyment, rather than necessity. For instance, this "easy-to-do" recipe for spareribs, has the chef's comfort in mind as well as fine eating.

Begin early in the morning, indoors, before the sun is high in the sky.

SPRINKLE THE spareribs with Ac'cent, salt and top with lemon slices. Put them into a foil-lined baking pan and into the oven to bake for an hour. After baking, pour off the fat and refrigerate the ribs. Barbecue later on, at your leisure.

One of the highlights of cooking out is the seasoning of the meat and the sauce. Ac'cent plays a leading role in both efforts. Shake it on the meat before grilling to bring out the rich meat flavor. Used in the sauce it enhances the flavor of each spice without adding flavor of its own, and blends the subtle spicery into a smooth delectable sauce.

At grilling time, brush the sauce over the nearly-cooked spareribs and put them on the grill to finish for a quick 30 minutes. Line your grill with heavy-duty aluminum foil for even heat control and efficient clean-up. Make a potato salad the modern way from a package of hash brown potatoes—no dicing, no peeling involved. Instead of hashing or browning the potatoes, simmer them, add other ingredients, chill till ready to serve, then add mayonnaise. Keeps texture fresh and appetizing.

Have decorative copper-colored salters and pepppers at grill-side and on the table. For once you're out of the house, and ready to dine, you'll want to have everything handy.

SPARERIBS COUNTRY STYLE

6 pounds (2 racks) spareribs, cut in serving pieces
2 teaspoons Ac'cent
1½ teaspoons salt
1 lemon, thinly sliced
¼ cup prepared mustard
¼ cup vinegar
1 teaspoon chili powder
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup catchup

Line a large shallow pan with aluminum foil. Place spareribs in pan, meaty side up. Sprinkle with Ac'cent and salt; top with lemon slices. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour. Pour off fat; refrigerate until ready to grill.

Combine remaining ingredients for sauce. Place spareribs on aluminum foil-lined grill 6 to 8 inches from heat. Brush with sauce. Grill 30 minutes, turning and basting frequently with cauce. Yield: 6 servings.

Pretty those Foods

Cut tomatoes almost through in 6 sections and fill with shrimp salad. Sprinkle the top with sieved, hard-cooked egg yolk and serve on raw spinach leaves.

Celery, toasted almonds and bread cubes can be added to tuna with mayonnaise. Spoon into sea food shells and bake until warmed through for a "hot" salad.

Clear soups are pretty garnished with sliced cucumbers or radishes. Cream soups look lovely with salted almonds, cashew nuts, popcorn or minced parsley.

Like vegetable soup? Serve it with tiny meat balls which have simmered gently in a small amount of the top.

Did you know that pureed green peas blended with a thin white sauce and pureed oysters make a delightful soup? Stir in whipped cream at the last minute.

Acorn squash halves make a pretty vegetable when they're filled with lima beans and corn. Top with crumbled bacon.

Apple Crunch
(Serves 6)

¼ cup butter
½ cup flour
½ cup light brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
6 medium or large apples
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind

Blend together butter, flour, sugar and cinnamon. Fill an 8-inch casserole with sliced, peeled and cored apples. Sprinkle with crumb mixture. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 40 to 50 minutes or until apples are tender.

Beef Curry Exotic Dish For Hostess

Many a hostess planning a buffet supper for friends wants something just a bit exotic to serve.

Here's a suggestion for that different and delicious dish—Beef Curry Deluxe. Cubes of boneless beef are braised with curry and a mingling of other spices and herbs, tart apple and raisins.

IN THE ORIENTAL manner it's served over a mound of fluffy white rice. Reba Staggs, home economist and meat expert, suggests chutney, finely chopped almonds and coconut might be served in separate bowls as accompaniment for the curry.

BEEF CURRY DELUXE

2 pounds boneless beef, cut in 1-inch cubes
3 tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon curry powder
3 whole cloves
2 teaspoons sugar
1 large onion, thinly sliced
1 clove garlic
1 cup water
3 large tart apples (approximately 1 pound), cut in eighths
1 cup rasins
Cooked rice, if desired

Combine flour, salt and pepper. Dredge meat in seasoned flour. Brown meat in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add bay leaf, curry powder, cloves, sugar, onion, garlic and water.

Cover tightly and cook slowly 2 hours. Add apple wedges and raisins and continue cooking 45 minutes. Discard bay leaf, cloves and garlic. Serve beef curry over cooked rice, if desired. Six servings. (SH

Arlington Garden Club Lists Classes for Oct. 3-4 Show

"Campaign to Champagne," Arlington Heights Garden Club's sixth annual flower show, will be held at Pioneer Park Fieldhouse Saturday, Oct. 3, from 2 to 8 p.m and Sunday, Oct. 4, from 2 to 7 p.m. Mrs. E. Saunders Reinhard is chairman.

Tickets may be obtained in advance from William Fricke, CL 3-6930, or from any other member of the club.

THE ARTISTIC division will contain nine classes under the following sections.

Caucus and Convention, class 1, Back the Native Son; class 2, Wave the Banner.

Rallies and Rostrums, class 3, TV Press Conference; class 4, Meet the Candidate.

Pledges and Platfrom, class 5, World Peace, class 6, Farm Bloc, class 7, International Trade.

Votes and Victory, class 8, Vote a Straight Ticket; class 9, We Won.

There are several openings in the artistic division which any interested talented flower arranger may enter. Mrs. E. Saunders Reinhard, CL 5-3226, may be called.

The horticulture division, which is open to the public, consists of the following classes:

Class 1, roses; 2, chrysanthemums; 3, other perennials (including tuberous, bulbonus plants and corms); 4, annuals; 5, shrubs and/or trees; 6, vines; 7, potted plants; 8, fruit; 9, vegetables.

BOTH ARTISTIC and horticulture divisions are open to juniors from the ages 6 to 10 and 10 to 16. Horticulture exhibits must be grown by the junior exhibitors, although flowers in arrangements need not be grown by arrangers.

The three classes in the artistic division open to juniors are: 1, Getting to the Polls; 2, Win or Lose; 3, Tribute to the Winner.

There are five classes in horticulture open to juniors: class 1, specimen flowers; 2, vegetables; 3, fruits; 4, potted plants, cacti; 5, any collection of plant materials that has been dried, 6 or more, such as seeds, leaves and/or flowers.

ALL ENTRIES in the show must be made between 8:30 and 10 a.m. Oct. 3 and must be removed between 7 and 7:15 p.m. Oct. 4.

Rules for horticulture exhibitors are as follows: all specimens must be grown by the exhibitor, house plants must have been the property of the exhibitor for at least a 3-month period prior to the show, only one specimen of a variety may be entered by an exhibitor in each class and entries are to be checked by the committees and given an entries card which should name the variety.

The club is presently planning the sale of spring bulbs such as crocus, tulips and daffodils at the show.

THE GARDEN CLUB will hold its monthly meeting Sept. 28 at 6:45 p.m. at Pioneer Park Fieldhouse. There will be a potluck supper followed by the election and installation of new officers. Chuck Alft, executive manager of Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce, will install the new officers. (S

Twin Girls Head Legion Juniors

Twins will be installed as officers of the Palatine Legion Auxiliary Juniors tonight, Thursday, in the local Legion hall, 122 W. Chicago Ave. Linda Christensen will be Junior chairman and her twin sister, Lori, will serve as secretary-treasurer. They are the daughters of the Fred Christensens of Palatine Road.

The installation will take place at the regular meeting of the Palatine Legion Auxiliary, when Mrs. Lester Johnson will serve as installing officer.

ALSO TO TAKE office at the same time are Patti Lawrence as sergeant-at-arms and Barbara Scheer as chaplain.

At the Junior's first meeting of the year, held Saturday, it was agreed to continue support of the Indian boy sponsored by the Ninth District. The girls contribute pennies which they have earned through hard work, and at the end of the year this money is sent to the district to help support the boy. The girls also make tray favors for hospitalized veterans.

Mrs. Carl Lawrence is Junior activities chairman.

DAR Hosts Coffee For Area Women

Eli Skinner Chapter, National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will give a coffee today, Thursday, at 10 a.m. in the home of Mrs. A. E. Cather, 623 N. Wilshire Lane, Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Cather, membership chairman, and Mrs. William Mayes of Mount Prospect will be hostesses to area women who are interested in membership.

MRS. JOHN OSTER, chapter regent, will discuss objectives of the DAR. They are to perpetuate the memory and spirit of those who achieved American independence, to develop an enlightened public opinion and to foster true patriotism and love of country.

According to Mrs. Cather, a woman is eligible for membership who is not less than 18 years of age and who is descended from a man or woman who served as a sailor, soldier or civil officer in one of the several Colonies or States. (S

Carol Willie, Groom Teach in Northbrook

A couple who are teaching in the same Northbrook grade school were married Aug. 22 in St. Theresa Catholic Church, Palatine. The bride is the former Carol Ann Willie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Willie, Frost Road, Palatine, who became Mrs. John Lee in a 10 a.m. ceremony performed by Father Grace.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white organza over peau de soie, trimmed with organdy swiss embroidered lace. The lace also edged the chapel train which flowed from the shoulders of the gown and was repeated in a bow which held the silk illusion elbow-length veil.

The bride's bouquet was composed of Amazon lilies and stephanotis.

PAULA GONZALES of Geneva, Ill., was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Jane Beck of Plum Grove Estates, Mary Beth Kirchhoff of Lexington Fields and Ginger Lee of Chicago, sister of the groom.

Attending Mr. Lee were Joe Stevens of Chicago as best man and three groomsmen, Harry Fagan of Chicago, Tom Smith, who is the groom's brother-in-law, and Don Willie, the bride's brother.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lee of Chicago.

THE BRIDAL party was attired in identical spray green floor-length dresses of shantung with matching shoes and bow headpieces. They carried bouquets of yellow daisies and stephanotis.

The yellow daisy theme was repeated in the men's boutonnieres and the altar flowers, which were basket arrangements of white glads with the daisies.

Immediately after the ceremony a breakfast was held for 135 guests at Poppe's Alpine House in Lake Zurich. Greeting the relatives and friends of the newlyweds, the bride's mother was dressed in a yellow embossed organza dress with a green cymbidium corsage. Mrs. Lee chose a powder blue dress and had yellow cymbidium orchids in her corsage.

AFTER A honeymoon at the Wisconsin Dells, the couple are now living at Sylvan Lake near Mundelein.

The new Mrs. Lee is a graduate of Palatine High School and Elmhurst College where she majored in music. Her husband received his bachelor and master degrees from Loyola University. (S

MRS. DAVID ALLEN

Mrs. David Geoffrey Allen, the former Pamela Haslam, daughter of the John Edwin Haslams of Arlington Heights, was married Aug. 29 in St. Simon's Episcopal Church. A graduate of Grinnell College, the bride is currently studying physical therapy at Duke University.

Mr. Allen, the son of the Patrick Walshes of New York City, is a graduate of Wesleyan University, Conn., and is currently attending the medical school at Duke University.

The newlyweds are making their home in Durham, N. C.

Barbara Wade Is August Bride of Jay Singelmann

Two Arlington High School graduates were joined in marriage Aug. 15 in the First Presbyterian Church, Arlington Heights. Barbara Wade, daughter of the Berton Wades of Rolling Meadows, became the wife of Jay Singelmann, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Singleman of Arlington Heights.

The bride's brother and his wife, the Thomas Wades, sang a duet of "Because" and the "The Lord's Prayer" as Rev. George Kincheloe performed the ceremony.

CHANTILLY LACE edged the hemline and court train of the bride's white organza wedding gown. The empire waistline was adorned with pearls. A small bouffant headpiece held her short veil in place, and complementing the attire she carried a crescent bouquet of white roses with lilies of the valley.

The bride's attendants came down the aisle wearing yellow organza floor-length sheath dresses with matching headpieces. Their bouquets were nosegays of white carnations mixed with yellow roses.

MAID OF HONOR was Carol Hotten of Rolling Meadows. The two bridesmaids were Patricia Busch of Arlington Heights and Karen Wendell of Belvidere.

Their escorts included Ed Jenkins of Chicago, who served as best man, and Jerry McNellis of Chicago and the bride's brother, Michael Wade, who seated the guests.

The mothers of the bridal pair had white orchid corsages for the day's festivities. Mrs. Wade wore a blue organza sheath dress with white accessories, and Mrs. Singelmann wore an aqua sheath with matching accessories.

THE NEWLYWEDS were greeted by relatives and friends at a reception and buffet supper arranged in Mount Prospect VFW Hall. They then left for a honeymoon in Mexico.

They are now residing in DeKalb while the groom completes work on his master's degree in business education at Northern Illinois University. (S

Heights OES Meets Tonite

Arlington Heights OES will honor Mrs. Emma F. Ansley, worthy grand matron, and Chris Christensen, worthy grand patron, at the meeting tonight, Thursday, at 7:30. Their official grand officers will accompany them to the affair.

The chapter's annual rummage sale is set for Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the local temple.

A card party is slated for the following day, Sunday, in the home of Mrs. L. Adam, 210 E. Thomas St., Arlington Heights.

Attendants Wear Pink At Miss Neas' Wedding

Shades of pink were worn by Miss Caroline Neas' attendants as they preceded her down the aisle of Our Saviour's Lutheran Church in Arlington Heights for her marriage Sept. 12 to James R. Neumann. The pink was in contrast to the white glads and mums used as decorations for the 2:30 p.m., double ring service at which Rev. Donald D. Pritz officiated.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Neas, 201 N. Brighton, Arlington Heights, chose a white faille, street-length, bell-skirted dress with jacket for her marriage to the son of the Wallie F. Neumanns of Milan, Ill. A matching pillbox headpiece with short illusion veil, and a cascade of white carnations and stephanotis centered with miniature pink rosebuds completed her ensemble. Mr. Neas gave his daughter in marriage.

THE BRIDE'S Delta Zeta sorority sisters, Miss Sheri Winterton of Paw Paw, Ill. and Miss Karen Evans of Decatur, served as maid of honor and bridesmaid. Miss Winterton's street-length dress was in deep pink satin, while Miss Evans' was in pale pink satin. They wore matching bow headpieces and carried crescents of pink carnations.

In royal blue chiffon with a pink and white cymbidium corsage, was the bride's mother, who with Mr. Neas, hosted a buffet supper for family and out-of-town guests in their home following the church reception. Mrs. Neumann chose a sand beige brocade sheath with corsage of cymbidiums in brown and gold.

Serving his brother as best man was Arlin Neumann, and ushers were Dimitri Beres of Pekin, Ill. and the bride's brother, Philip Neas.

After a wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Neumann are residing in the Champaign area where the bride, an Arlington High School graduate, is a junior at the University of Illinois. Her bridegroom is a 1964 graduate of the University of Illinois' College of Agriculture. (S

Two Mt. Prospect Families Joined in Aug. 15 Rites

Two Mount Prospect families were united in the afternoon ceremony on Aug. 15 which made Joyce Worcester the bride of Richard C. Bader. The Dom Worcester family of 716 N. Eastwood and the Elmer Baders of 108 S. Edward St. witnessed the 3 o'clock rites in St. Raymond Catholic Church, surrounded by relatives and friends.

Father D. J. Fenske performed the double ring nuptials as the couple met at the flower-decked altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory peau de soie gown re-embroidered with alencon lace appliques. The dress was styled with a scooped neckline, three-quarter sleeves and a full-length overskirt attached at the waistline and falling into a chapel train.

A LARGE peau rose edged with alencon lace and seed pearls held her 3-tiered French silk illusion veil in place, and she carried a cascade arrangement of white butterfly roses.

Four attendants preceded her down the aisle, all gowned alike in floor-length pale blue shantastic with embroidered lace trim. Each wore a plateau headpiece of pale blue flowers and a butterfly veil. Their bouquets were of white fuji mums.

As a gift from the bride the four girls wore white kid gloves with their blue and white attire.

MAID OF honor was Judy Gay of Mount Prospect, and bridesmaids were Sandra Kolderup of Palatine and the groom's sisters, Barbara and Patricia Bader.

William Oldaker of Mount Prospect was best man, while Les Worcester, the bride's brother; Gordon Owens of Niles and Stephen Toth of DeKalb ushered the guests.

Deep turquoise peau de soie was chosen by Mrs. Worcester for her attire during the day's festivities. The sheath dress had a lace jacket and matching accessories, and the bride's mother carried a white cymbidium corsage on her purse.

MRS. BADER wore a dusty pink silk brocade dress with matching accessories and had a white orchid corsage pinned to her shoulder.

The buffet dinner which followed the rites was served to 160 guests in Arlington Heights Legion Hall.

The newlyweds spent a week at The Abbey at Fontana, Wis., and are now living in Palatine.

The bride, a Prospect High graduate, is employed at Carson's Randhurst store. The groom, a graduate of Arlington High and Northern Illinois University, is a physical education teacher at East Leyden High School.

Hearty Foods Feature Of Outdoor Breakfast

Why not plan a breakfast cook-out this weekend? An outdoor breakfast, in the yard, on the patio or in the park, is a wonderful way to start the day.

Hearty breakfast special, the main dish for this cook-out is most everyone's favorite breakfast menu of bacon, eggs and potatoes. It's quick and easy to prepare, and it takes only a bit of plan-ahead for the cook to be free to enjoy it right along with the rest of the family.

THE DAY before, cook and cube the potatoes. If you place them in a plastic bag, it means less clean-up at breakfast time. Break the eggs into a jar or container that has a tight fitting lid and add the instant powdered cream, water and seasonings, then refrigerate until cook-out time.

Be prepared—you'll need plenty of food as appetites are whetted by outdoor cooking. So check your list and make sure you have a big coffee pot and plenty of instant powdered cream, the convenient coffee creamer that needs no refrigeration, a large skillet and room on the grill for toasting bread or heating sweet rolls. And don't forget the salt and pepper

PLAN A BREAKFAST cookout soon. There is no greater treat than cooking and serving it in your own outdoor "dining room." (SH

HEARTY BREAKFAST SPECIAL

12 slices bacon
3 cups cooked, diced potatoes
Salt and pepper
1 tablespoon minced green onion
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
¼ cup Pream
1/3 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
6 eggs

In large heavy skillet, on outdoor grill or camp stove, fry bacon until crisp. Remove each slice as it browns; drain on paper towels; keep warm. Pour off all but ¼ to 1/3 cup bacon drippings from the skillet.

Add potatoes to bacon drippings in skillet; season to taste with salt and pepper; add onion, green pepper and fry until lightly browned. Place powdered cream, water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon pepper and eggs in jar with tight-fitting lid; shake to blend. When potatoes are browned, add Pream-egg mixture.

Stir gently until eggs are set. Top each serving with 2 strips of bacon. If desired serve with small souffle cup of chili sauce and parsley garnish. Makes 6 servings. (SH

Company Fare— Puddin' Cheesecake

Here's a fabulous cheesecake easily made with vanilla pudding and pie filling mix and crowned with a delicious pineapple glaze. It's a dessert worthy of becoming special company fare, and yet one easy enough to make so it can become a family favorite, too.

CHEESECAKE DE LUXE

¾ cup finely crushed graham cracker or zwieback crumbs
1 tablespoon sugar
2 tablespoons butter, melted
1 package (3¼ ounces) vanilla pudding and pie filling
½ cup sugar
1 cup milk*
3 packages (8 ounces each) cream cheese
3 eggs, separated
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon nutmeg (optional)
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup canned pineapple pie filling (optional)

*Or use 1 can (6 ounces) evaporated milk plus water to make 1 cup.

Combine crumbs, 1 tablespoon sugar, and butter; mix well. Grease sides of 9-inch spring-form pan to 1 inch from the top. Sprinkle about 2 tablespoons crumb mixture on sides of pan. Press remaining crumb mixture firmly on bottom of spring-form pan.

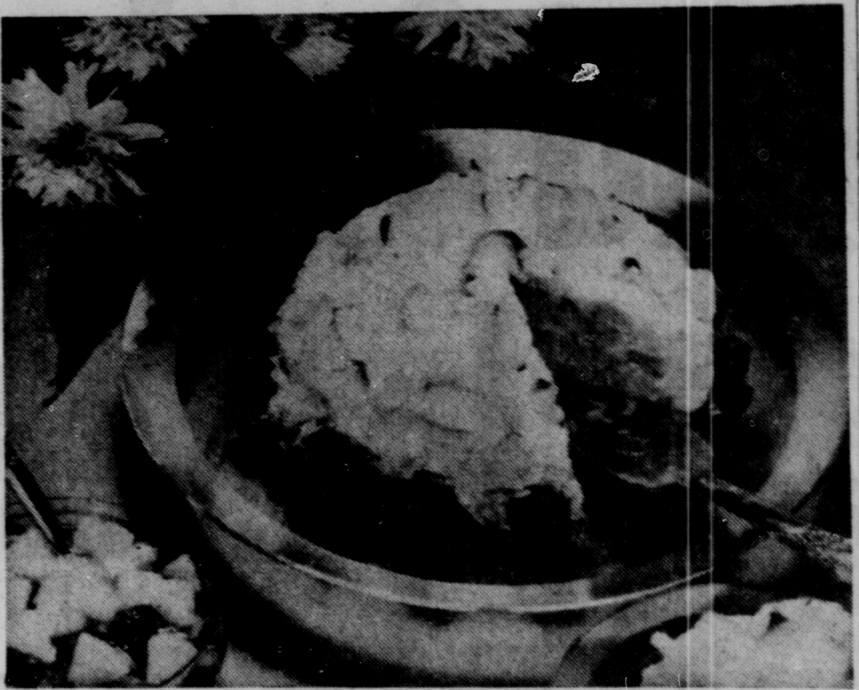
COMBINE PUDDING mix, ½ cup sugar, and milk in a saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Cover surface of pudding with wax paper.

In large bowl beat cream cheese until fluffy, using low speed of electric mixer, or beating by hand. Add egg yolks; beat well. Add lemon juice, vanilla, nutmeg, salt, and cooked pudding; blend well.

Beat egg whites until soft rounded peaks will form; fold into cream cheese mixture. Pour over crumb mixture in spring-form pan. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) 30 minutes, or until center is set when lightly touched and top is golden brown. (Cake becomes firmer when cooled.)

Cool to room temperature. Spread with pineapple pie filling. Then store in refrigerator. Makes 10 to 12 servings. (SH

Fancy Party Fixins' Call For Fruited Baked Alaska



LEND A FESTIVE NOTE to your next party by serving luscious baked alaska at the final. Pineapple, symbol of hospitality in the islands, is paired with strawberries for this fruited delight.

Fresh, warm and tantalizingly fragrant, this pineapple oven delight says the nicest things about your skills as hostess.

Ever since friendly island natives used pineapple as the symbol of hospitality in their homeland, that custom has reigned supreme.

And because it is such a magnificently beautiful fruit, pineapple lends a decorative air and festive feeling whenever it is used.

A SPECTACULAR pineapple version of baked alaska is probably one of the most breathtaking creations in the category of pineapple oven delights. As with most alaskas, this dessert is whisked in and out of a hot oven just enough to brown the meringue that covers the pineapple topped ice cream.

The chosen flavor of ice cream is strawberry, and it's frozen into a round to match the round cake base. The strawberry accent is repeated in a glamorous pineapple cointreau sauce which may be passed at the table, if desired.

Pineapple's Spanish name is derived from an Indian word, "anana," which means fragrance.

PINEAPPLE STRAWBERRY BAKED ALASKA

1 (9-inch) round cake layer
1 quart strawberry ice cream
1 (13½-ounce) can pineapple tidbits
1½ cups strawberries, sliced*
¼ cup cointreau or curacao
4 egg whites
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons powdered sugar

Bake and cool cake layer ahead of time; chill. Spread ice cream in round 8-inch cake pan with removable bottom. Freeze several hours, until brick hard. Set aside ½ cup drained pineapple. Combine rest with strawberries and liqueur; chill.

Cover a small board with brown paper or foil. Place cake on foil; unmold ice cream onto cake. Sprinkle reserved pineapple tidbits over ice cream. Return to freezer to freeze firm again while making meringue. Heat oven to very hot (450 degrees F.). Beat egg whites in large bowl until they stand in peaks. Slowly beat in ½ cup sugar until meringue stands in stiff peaks.

SPREAD QUICKLY over ice cream and cake covering completely in a thick layer. Swirl to stiff points. Sprinkle with powdered sugar. Bake 3 to 4 minutes, until delicate gold and tinged with brown. Slip onto serving plate.

Cut into wedges and serve a spoonful of fruit sauce with each. Makes 8 servings. *Or use 1 (10-ounce) package frozen strawberries, thawed. (SH

Fruited Ham Is Gay Dish

Cooking something special for some special people—such as your family—can be truly gratifying. They're sure to be delighted when they sit down to this savory ham dish.

The slice of ham is baked, then decorated with a gay, colorful sauce of dark sweet cherries and bright orange sections.

It's the perfect entree for a luncheon or brunch you may have coming up this spring states meat expert Reba Staggs.

HAM SLICE WITH CHERRY-ORANGE SAUCE

1 smoked ham slice, cut 1-inch thick
Cherry-Orange Sauce

Place ham slice on rack in open roasting pan. Bake in a slow over (300-350 degrees) 1 hour. Serve with Cherry-Orange Sauce. Four to 6 servings.

CHERRY-ORANGE SAUCE

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/8 teaspoon ginger
1 can (17 ounces) pitted dark sweet cherries in heavy syrup
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 orange, peeled and sectioned
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Melt butter or margarine. Blend in cornstarch and ginger. Drain cherries and add juice to cornstarch mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is thickened.

Add cherries, orange rind, orange sections and lemon juice. Cook just until heated through. Yield: 2 cups sauce. (SH

Week's Best Food Values

Chicago area food values for the market week of Sept. 21-26 include the following:

MEATS: Beef steaks, rump and rib roasts, blade cut chuck roasts, pork chops and steaks, picnics, ham slices, bacon, lamb rib and shoulder chops.

POULTRY: Turkeys, stewing hens, eggs, fryers.

PRODUCE: Apples, prune-plums, grapes, pears, Honeydew melons; broccoli, eggplant, onions, radishes, cucumbers, spinach, midwest potatoes, lettuce, cauliflower.

The report is from a survey by the University of Illinois.

Convenient Cruet

One advantage of using Spanish Olive Oil in cooking is that the cruet or can of oil may be kept right beside the range-top at all times—since pure, fresh olive oil does not need refrigeration even in the hottest weather. As long as olive oil is stored in a clean container and kept covered, it may remain anywhere in the kitchen.

FOOD VALUE

A three-ounce serving of cooked beef chuck (bone out) provides about one-third of the protein, more than one-fourth of the iron, and nearly a fifth of the niacin recommended by the National Research Council as the daily allowance for a normally active 25-year-old man.

Family
Pot Luck

BY HELEN HALE

Hospitality Plus

A cooked ham slice makes a nice dinner for unexpected guests. Blend together ¼ cup brown sugar, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, ¼ teaspoon allspice and top the ham with this. Surround with pineapple spears and bake.

Season canned peaches with dill or thyme and serve around your chicken broiled on the rotisserie. Pretty is as pretty does.

Use refrigerated cookies that can be sliced and baked—freshly baked and served with lemonade or fruit punch they're nice refreshments for friends just dropping in.

Marinate dates, orange and grapefruit sections in French dressing with banana slices and you have a delightful salad treat.

Assorted melon balls use the last of the fruit and look pretty enough for a party when molded in fruit-flavored gelatin.

Quick dessert uses canned mandarin orange sections with pineapple chunks, cherries (maraschino), and coconut. It's ambrosia.

Helen's Favorite:
Honey-Rice Pudding
(Serves 6)

2 cups cooked rice
2 eggs, beaten light
⅓ to ½ cup honey
½ cup dates or raisins
1 cup rich milk

Mix beaten eggs and milk. Mix in honey. Make alternate layers of rice and dates in a lightly buttered casserole. Pour egg-milk mixture over this and bake in a moderate (350° F.) oven 45 minutes.

Mealiest Potatoes

For extra-flavorful mashed potatoes, after boiling until tender, drain thoroughly, then sprinkle with salt from a shaker and place pan containing potatoes over moderate heat, shaking vigorously until potatoes are mealy-dry.

The salt draws out excess moisture, points up potato flavor. Next, add butter and milk in usual way, beat until fluffy.

Chef's Carving Hint

Don't try carving a roast when it first comes from the oven, advises master chef Pierre Franey of the Howard Johnson's Restaurant chain. The meat, whether beef, lamb roast, or turkey, will slice more easily if it is allowed to "rest" for 10 to 15 minutes after removal from oven.

PUT YOUR VALUABLE PAPERS IN ORDER — WHEN 65 COMES

YOU WHO will be going into retirement during the September-to-December "retirement season" will need a job to do after your first few days of playing freedom.

Here is one.

You should have done it long before this. But being mortal you probably haven't. The time is here.

The job is to put into order the complex affairs of your life. If you don't think they're complex, you will after reading this.

The best way to approach this job is to visualize the following:

You and your wife are turning into your driveway at night in the car, are struck by a hit-run driver. Your car is knocked against the side of your house, explodes, and the house burns. You and your wife die in the tragedy.

This is a bizarre situation — you are sure it can never happen to you, just as you're sure nothing else can — but it is a good one to emphasize the need to have your affairs in order.

Should the above situation happen to you, somebody would want to know at once whom to notify; where your money is; and your life insurance, fire insurance, and car insurance; and who's going to pay for the funeral.

How, in your case, would they find out?

So important have personal papers become in the life — and death — of today's citizen that one of the gravest obligations of the man who retires is to see that they are in order. Here's a list that will help you with the job:

1. Write an information sheet, in duplicate, telling whom to notify in case of unexpected tragedy to you and your wife; and where your money and valuable papers are kept. One copy can be kept in the home. The other should be outside the home, preferably in the files of your lawyer.

Put in a safety deposit box, preferably, or in a fireproof, burglar-proof container at home —

Wills of yourself and wife
All life, house, car, and other insurance policies
All stocks, bonds, and other certificates of investments
House deed, car title, marriage license, birth certificates of both husband and wife, military records, pension papers
Income tax returns of the last three years
A written, and complete, list of every place you have deposited money — postal savings, savings & loan, checking accounts, savings accounts, credit unions, everything
A statement, over your signature, telling the name of the lawyer, relative, or whoever, you want to step in and take charge of your affairs if you become incapacitated, or die
Copies of all contracts you hold
Notes, signed by yourself, on any verbal agreements you have with anybody, and any moral obligations you have not paid.
Instructions, signed by you, telling where you want to be buried, and with how much folderol.

This list will give you ideas of other personal papers to get in order. The important thing is to realize that retirement is the time to get on with the job.

Autumn Suits Styled for Motion

Suits for fall have taken a notion to get into motion. The new fall array features lively skirts with pleats in every shape, form and type — in front, all around or on the sides.

Speedier travel and other modern activities have inspired a need for fashions on the move, and the new suits are young, clean-cut and mobile, according to Wilbur Daniels, executive secretary of the National Board of the Coat and Suit Industry.

Suit jackets are often narrowed and pared down to balance skirt motion. Collars are cut closer to the neck, and the collarless suit is gnerally conspicuous by its absence.

WHEN THERE is jacket shaping, it is in front, and usually high placed. To indicate this shaping, ubtle seaming and sometimes patch- or crescent-shaped slit pockets are used.

Multiple pockets are present this fall, but they are more flat, more gentle, in keeping with new suit shapes.

While double-breasted closings are frequently seen, the single-breasted styles continue important. Even then styles are "skinny," there is never a feeling of restriction, for clever designers have added ease to narrowed jackets with raglan shoulders, yoked or belted backs.

Belts, when they are seen up front, are generally the all-around, slotted types, or built into jackets, in the manner of the new-again Norfolk suit.

WHEN A suit is coordinated with a blouse, the jacket neckline is cut to show off th blouse, which may be cowled, collared, bowed — or collared and bowed.

Fabrics fall into two categories, the very textured and the very flat. Tweeds, shetlands, mohairs are among the textured types. Flattened surfaces include twills, herringbones, checks and novelty worsteds.

Furs Used Many Ways This Fall

The fall furs have arrived in town and country—furs from tip to toe; furs from tiny ascots to floor-length evening wraps; whimsical furs for active sports or fireside; hardy furs for country living; elegant fur suits; layered, reversible furs.

Fur pullovers, fur dresses—you name it. Virtually any fashion is now available in supple furs, tailored as meticulously as cloth.

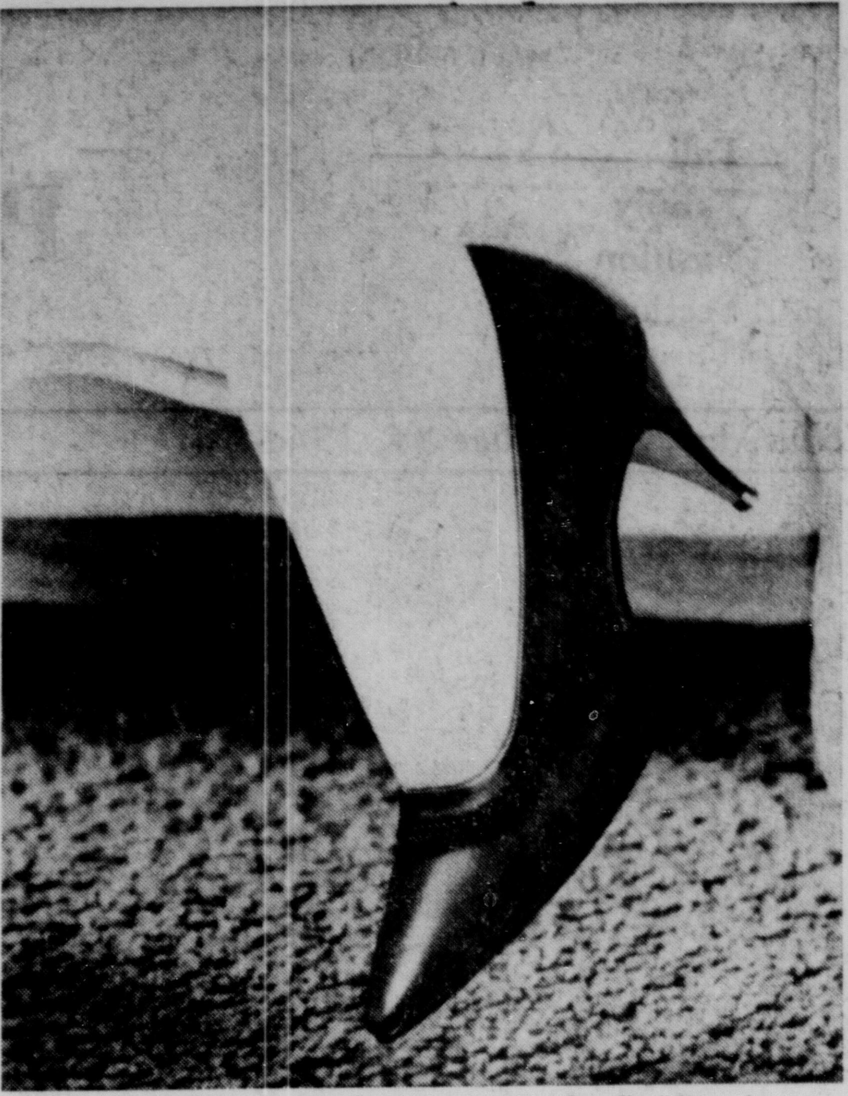
Fur news finds fashion flipping for the spotted set, with leopard, jaguar and tiger shining bright. Going sportive in ski parkas are fitch, snow leopard, snowy lynx. Pony shows up in little waistcoats.

FURS ARE capes and tunics and trench coats in sable, chinchilla or ermine. Furs are suits or dramatically line suit jackets.

Along with a flood of color in furs comes a flow of dark furs—natural ranch mink, black-dyed minks worked horizontally, velvety-deep Alaska fur seal in inverness capes, coat dresses, free-flowing silhouettes or slim coats with ease.

And with all the talk about stretch in fabrics, furs are not to be outdone. A newly patented stretch process on Fouke-processed Lakoda, Alaska fur seal, makes this tawny fur ideal for active wear. (SS

THE ELEGANCE OF GOLD is featured this autumn season as Mrs. Dorothy Jarvis is emphasizing with her showing of interesting pins and earring sets. The entire accessory department at House of Jarvis, 524 W. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights, glows glamorously in new gold mesh draperies. These make a perfect background for the new fall versions in jewelry, handbags and other delightful accessories that give chic and good taste to the fall costume. (Staff photo) (SS



THE PROFILE of this Expresso pump by Socialites has a young contemporary look. The clinging, wide-fold topline runs straight from plumb-like heel to finger-tip toe. Boys' Shoes Both Stylish And Sturdy Footwear for pre-teen males is traditionally built to suffer the slings and arrows of outrageous boyhood. This fall's crop of shoes are as stylish as they are sturdy.

The leather boot and demi-boot, every boy's favorites, take their punishment and come back for more. Western boots in black and authentic leather colors are a natural this year, but the unadorned boot is also popular.

Brawny oxfords and brogues, neatly spare in detailing, are ready for action in classroom or playground. Combinations of colors or leathers are often used for style interest.

Young party-goers seen studying their own feet aren't bashful; they're just admiring their elegant slipons. In polished smooth and very handsome dress shoes may be highlighted with gored insets or strap closings.

Top colors include bold brown, trout brown, stirrup tan and black (SS

Pretty Details in New Girls' Styles

Girls will be girls this season, as the stark simplicity of former years gives way to gently curving lines, newly-defined waistlines and the romantic touch of organdy and ruffles.

The waistline has found its way back through the maze of skimmers that dominated the girls' wear scene so long. Now, newly-lowered or natural, its return heralds a completely new look in girls' fashions.

The blouson looks newest, belted at waist or hip and topping an A-line or pleated skirt. Yoke-hung pleats look well, as do coat dresses with a hint of princess line.

The skimmer is still with us, softened now with the addition of white collars and cuffs, long shirt sleeves and an occasional ruffle. Plaids are back in full force, looking bolder and snappier than ever, especially with touches of white.

For dresswear, it's velvet and more velvet. Even the tiniest charmers look marvelous in rich black velvet, romanticized with white organdy, ruffles or flower-tied sashes.

Colors run up and down the fashion spectrum from "pencil-box" bright shades of red, blue, green and citron to deep carnation red, midnight blue and dark greens. Black and white checks and plaids look newer than ever when teamed with bright yellow-golds.

Fabrics are greatly diversified. Knits and wool jerseys still look fresh, as do corduroys and stretch fabrics of all types. The addition of suede and leather-look cottons and vinyl "patent" add excitement to the list.

Sportswear and separates are crackling with news . . . big, bold skiwear patterns, lots of stretch and texture, unusual color combinations make this category better than ever.

The layered look of sweaters and sportswear continues strong, and jumpers of all types, teamed with turtleneck pullovers or ruffly, feminine blouses, are the favorites.

Coats are fuller than ever, except in dress coats, where close-to-the-body shaping looks best. Pile linings are practical, warm and attractive, look newest under leather-look cotton or vinyl "patent."

Underneath all these pretty new fashions, delighted mothers will find a bevy of new lingerie styles, designed especially for the new dress shapes her little girl will be wearing this fall.

The A-line slip, often with a newsy inverted front pleat, gives just enough fullness to the skimmer and shift styles. (SS

AMONG THIS FALL'S popular colors is green. Sue Carle of Arlington Heights models a double knit suit of forest green, worn with a sculptured knit shell of forest green and royal blue. Wear Blossoms to Accent Lady Look

Shape is the keyword to fashion this fall — shape that is soft, rounded and definitely on the slim side. Fresh way to underscore the favored "look of a lady" is to wear a real blossom with everything.

Floral designers from Florists' Telegraph Delivery suggest choosing one or two flowers for daytime wear — tucked under the collar of a skinny-silhouette suit.

Accent new low-belted styles with a blossom placed at the hipline; brighten a double-breasted suit or coatdress with a splash of bright color-flecked carnations on the collar.

Coat and dress costumes come into particular fashion play this fall. Try wearing a contrasting color rose on the coat lapel.

For the sophisticated black suit with gala blouse, sport a spray of tiny rosebuds on the jacket revers, or tuck a single fragrant gardenia along the blouse collar-line.

For late day and later, beading glimmers on sheers; the sparkles, and shapely, slim dresses that move easily mark evening fashion.

Local FTD florists can suggest a subtle, color blended small corsage that will complement every late-date costume.

Another new way to look fashionably lovely is to highlight hair-dos with fresh flowers. Soft, shapely coiffeurs have deep waves just waiting for small orchids, gentle camellias or tiny corsages to be tucked into them.

Wear flowers in a trim tiara, placed carefully at the nape of the neckline or nestled flirtatiously along the side of a softly-curled coif.

SOMETHING NEW in men's support hose is a machine-wash and dryable blend of wool, nylon and spandex. By Tycora.

HERE'S A luxurious fur felt that has trimly tapered center crease style. Note jeweler's ornament. By Dobbs. (SS

Fall Boy's Wear Is Bolder, Brighter

The rugged look, the bright look, the bold look—these are the looks that are catching on in fall's boyswear. The range of styles, colors and textures sizzles with excitement.

The layered look is foremost among the new trends. Shirts and stretch turtleneck pullovers under sweaters, sweater sets, vests with suits look specially well in a variety of textures and color combinations.

A RETURN to tradition is seen in slacks sporting cuffs and new, wider belt loops, to accommodate wide, chunky belts and, often, Western touches.

Fit is important to boys of all ages. Hence the popularity of stretch fabrics in everything from sportshirts to suits.

Colors are brighter and richer. Burnished tones of pumpkin, rust, gold as well as vintage shades stand out.

Textures make news, especially brushed mohair and tweed, and fleece in outerwear. (SS

Wear Blossoms to Accent Lady Look

Shape is the keyword to fashion this fall — shape that is soft, rounded and definitely on the slim side. Fresh way to underscore the favored "look of a lady" is to wear a real blossom with everything.

Floral designers from Florists' Telegraph Delivery suggest choosing one or two flowers for daytime wear — tucked under the collar of a skinny-silhouette suit.

Accent new low-belted styles with a blossom placed at the hipline; brighten a double-breasted suit or coatdress with a splash of bright color-flecked carnations on the collar.

Coat and dress costumes come into particular fashion play this fall. Try wearing a contrasting color rose on the coat lapel.

For the sophisticated black suit with gala blouse, sport a spray of tiny rosebuds on the jacket revers, or tuck a single fragrant gardenia along the blouse collar-line.

For late day and later, beading glimmers on sheers; the sparkles, and shapely, slim dresses that move easily mark evening fashion.

Local FTD florists can suggest a subtle, color blended small corsage that will complement every late-date costume.

Another new way to look fashionably lovely is to highlight hair-dos with fresh flowers. Soft, shapely coiffeurs have deep waves just waiting for small orchids, gentle camellias or tiny corsages to be tucked into them.

Wear flowers in a trim tiara, placed carefully at the nape of the neckline or nestled flirtatiously along the side of a softly-curled coif.

Men's Fall Shoes Made Light, Trim

There's a leaner look in men's shoes. Traditionally beefy footwear styles, such as the brogue and the boot, now sport trim styling and lightweight leathers.

Now the up-to-the-minute man can enjoy the broguey shoe's solid appearance and the comfort of zephyr-light leather simultaneously, reports Shoe Fashion Service of Leather Industries of America.

HEAVY SINGLE-stitching or fine double and triple stitch effects, are novel trims used on brogue versions. Flexible support is provided by medium-weight leather soles which also cut down on the weight, while smooth linings offer friction-free comfort.

The burgeoning boot boom has brought a barrelful of style innovations. On both dress and casual chukkas, elasticized insets are wider and deeper than ever and often placed in front of the boot rather than at the sides.

The Western influence, spurred on by a President from Texas, is evidenced by hand-tooling and tasteful touches of color on calf-high boots.

THE LATEST oxfords and slipons also reflect the lean look. Not only smooth and grained textures, but cordovan brushed, embossed and soft suede leathers make up this striking fall collection. Dress slipons show only the beauty in contrasting binding, medallion tips and raised tongues.

For those lovely, loafy, leisure hours, nothing beats the mocassin in hand-sewn and machine-stitched variations. (SS

Jewelry Trend Is Toward Movement

As fashion goes, so goes jewelry. This season's trend is to fluid movement, and jewelry is no exception.

Earrings swing nd sway; pendants go into discreet motion; long ropes and chains reach below the waist or double up at the neckline; glittering sashes with their own pendants mark waistlines; wide, supple collars of gold-look mesh, pearls and gems are on the move after dark.

DRAMATIC PINS make a fashion point alone, but they are also frequently designed for attaching to chains—the result, a pendant as well as a pin.

From quiet elegance to "fabulous fake" opulence, fashion jewelry makes good use of the look of gold, the pearly gleam, the glamor of amber and other gems. Tailored styles in chains and pendants often present burnished gold effects, which in the case of the pendants is accompanied by discs, ancient-coin effects and crystal drops with "heirloom" gold framing.

The heirloom look itself inspires a wide choice of jewelry, from wide enameled bracelets to "watch fob" pins. (SS

THE PRETTIEST sailors this fall will wear their middies blouson-style, with newsy pleats falling from a button-trimmed hipband. Of American woolen.

Suede Stars

New Designs, Fabrics Seen In Topcoats This Autumn

Topcoats for this fall come in a combination of smart new model designs plus handsome new fabrics, putting them among the most appealing in a very long time.

Dee Dee Moser

A newcomer on the scene is a slim, trim, two-button model tailored of sleek worsted topcoating fabrics and enhanced by choices of softly rounded cloverleaf lapels and the new "no-notch" lapels.

Another fresh starter in the topcoat category is a slim raglan shouldered balmacaan with a handsomely trimmed down shoulder area. It comes in bold plaids and checks, in the new, lighter tweeds and gabardines in shades ranging from putty to black.

Chesterfields in cheviots and shetlands as well as in dressy meltons, suit the natural shoulder man. Camelhairs make the traditional mark in both easy fitting single-breasted box coats and in the classic double-breasted polo models. Another favorite double-breasted of the traditional group is the short warm adapted from the English officer's coat.

Here are some things to look for in all categories of fashion: more distinct patterns, such as plaids, checks and clearly defined herringbones; overcoats that combine beautifully colored shells with fleece linings.

Some of the more luxurious overcoats find cashmeres and vicunas the featured fabrics and these sometimes carry real fur collars. Some of the new tweeds are finished with handsome wool and tartan linings.

Shorter knee-lenghth and slightly longer models are well established in the fashion picture, and the long coat is virtually the mark of the elderly man. Even the generously collared ulsterettes are in the abbreviated lengths.

Brides Will Find Variety of Styles

Wedding traditions and bridal fashions offer fall brides scope enough to reflect individuality. Innovations in styling and revivals of popular designs present a wide selection of flattering wedding gowns.

The bride with a fashion image of her own visualizes herself in a portrait: her headdress, hair style, cosmetics, and wedding jewelry.

Whatever the jewelry — a cherished family pin, earclips or a neckalce from the groom —it should be an integral part of the fashion plan as a complement to the gown design.

TWO "CLASSIC" pieces of jewelry are worn by the American bride: her diamond engagement ring and either a necklace or a pair of earclips. A welcome change from the standard bridal jewlry is a pin or a set of pins, versatile enough to be placed on the wedding dress or on an unornamented headveil.

Necklines are a guide as to what type of jewelry a bride can wear. Gown necklines should "frame" a jeweled piece —a necklace or a pendant. Portrait and "V" necklines require long-line jewelry: a matinee-length strand of creamy pearls or a delicate diamond drop pendant.

A horizontal neckline, also called bateau, should not have a necklace draped over it. Rather, two pins or clips add beauty and balance when placed on the far edges of the slashed neckline. For asymmetrical interest, a duo of pins can be placed on the dress shoulder.

DIRECTOIRE and empire-style gowns offer excellent background for jewelry. An inverted center skirt pleat unfolds beneath the cropped bodice — a splendid location for a pin. Another pin accent can be made where a court train cascades from the shoulder of a directoire gown.

A favorite cameo pin or clip can focus attention on a high-rising empire waist.

Sleeves, skirts and collors lend themselves as fashion highlights for the jeweled bride. For quiet beauty, a pair of pins define the shoulder-wide bertha collar. Peplums also allow for pin drama at the waist of column-slim skirts.

One impressive pin can define a bolero-jacketed gown or rest on a sleeve.

A IS FOR ACTION . . . action skirts, that is . . . combining ease of movement with casual good looks. Here, a tweed A-line wraparound skirt teams up with a stretch turtleneck pullover. By Russ. (SS

Loungewear Has 30's Opulence

The regal, elegant, frankly fabulous look of the 1930's movie stars is interpreted in fall's newest loungewear fashions.

Long, ankle-length wrap coats look newest, done in rich, jewel-toned fabrics. Separates, or two-part look jumpsuits, often double as pajamas. (SS SHAPED FOR smooth fit, active comfort, tapered stretch pants are fashioned in a wool and nylon blend. It's Enka nylon. (SS GIRLS WILL stop traffic in a coat like this . . . fly front coat in colorful wool has a newsy pull-through belt, velveteen piping on rounded collar. Of American woolen. (SS

Shaped Suits Coming Back

Fashion is really shaping up in suits for fall, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, and shaping up will be more than a figure of speech when it comes to the new models in men's clothing.

For the first time in many years, the fitted suit shows signs of making a real comeback. New fall suits have enough waist definition to take them out of the loose fitting straight-line category, without sacrificing easy fitting comfort. Versions of the new shapely beauties can be found in the conservative "classics," the very modern "contemporaries" and the natural shoulder "traditionals."

The spring-summer "lighter and brighter look" has also been carried forward into the handsome fall offerings, now supplemented by an attractive revival of the "tweedy look" in cheviots, shetlands and rugged tweeds.

In direct contrast, iridescents are on the way to score further gains in both subtle and flashing varieties.

This is a banner season for sharkskins, too, most of which are unadorned by pattern. Many, however, are embellished with both subdued and distinct designs. The usual tiny stepladder weaves are accompanied by both "birds-eye" and "nailhead" sharkskins.

Among the other fabrics are stretch fabrics, whipcords, worsted flannels, mill finished worsteds and many blends of mohair and worsted.

Contemporary models appear with some new lapels this fall. These include several "no-notch" lapels — some with a down-slope angle and others with a peaked and semi-peaked effect. There are also some "notched-shawl collars" and "peaked shawl collars."

The conservative classic models have been taken out of the dowdy class and influenced by the styled-up contemporaries and natural shouldered traditionals.

Traditionals both with and without vests are strong and frequently carry patch-and-flap lower pockets when tailored of tweeds for country and casual wear. Traditional lapels are a bit wider on some suits and seem wider on others because they are pressed to roll to the center button rather than the top button.

All in all, this fall season offers a wide variety of colors, fabrics and models to whet the fashion tastes of men of all style persuasions.

BACK-OF-THE-HEAD beauty becomes an important part of this fall's look of togetherness. Here, it's achieved by a softly shaped back beret. Fragrance, too, adds to the over-all fashion impression. (SS

EVER HAVE A SHOE SALESMAN TELL YOU YOUR FEET ARE TWO DIFFERENT SIZES?

If you're one of those women who have been told by the salesman that one foot is just a smidgen shorter than the other, Air Step's "Hidden Fit" feature is especially for you. The answer is in the hidden piece of elasticized goring, strategically placed in the heel, to allow the shoe to adjust to both feet. Just enough to give you the most perfect fitting pair of pumps you've ever worn.

THE NEW FEMININITY, as interpreted in this fall blouse, relies on a soft cowl neckline, narrow stovepipe sleeves, supple crepe and a swirling, brushed print. Style shown is designed in black, red or royal print on a white background. It's by Macshore.

Brides Will Find Variety of Styles

Wedding traditions and bridal fashions offer fall brides scope enough to reflect individuality. Innovations in styling and revivals of popular designs present a wide selection of flattering wedding gowns.

The bride with a fashion image of her own visualizes herself in a portrait: her headdress, hair style, cosmetics, and wedding jewelry.

Whatever the jewelry — a cherished family pin, earclips or a neckalce from the groom —it should be an integral part of the fashion plan as a complement to the gown design.

TWO "CLASSIC" pieces of jewelry are worn by the American bride: her diamond engagement ring and either a necklace or a pair of earclips. A welcome change from the standard bridal jewlry is a pin or a set of pins, versatile enough to be placed on the wedding dress or on an unornamented headveil.

Necklines are a guide as to what type of jewelry a bride can wear. Gown necklines should "frame" a jeweled piece —a necklace or a pendant. Portrait and "V" necklines require long-line jewelry: a matinee-length strand of creamy pearls or a delicate diamond drop pendant.

A horizontal neckline, also called bateau, should not have a necklace draped over it. Rather, two pins or clips add beauty and balance when placed on the far edges of the slashed neckline. For asymmetrical interest, a duo of pins can be placed on the dress shoulder.

DIRECTOIRE and empire-style gowns offer excellent background for jewelry. An inverted center skirt pleat unfolds beneath the cropped bodice — a splendid location for a pin. Another pin accent can be made where a court train cascades from the shoulder of a directoire gown.

A favorite cameo pin or clip can focus attention on a high-rising empire waist.

Sleeves, skirts and collors lend themselves as fashion highlights for the jeweled bride. For quiet beauty, a pair of pins define the shoulder-wide bertha collar. Peplums also allow for pin drama at the waist of column-slim skirts.

One impressive pin can define a bolero-jacketed gown or rest on a sleeve.

Loungewear Has 30's Opulence

The regal, elegant, frankly fabulous look of the 1930's movie stars is interpreted in fall's newest loungewear fashions.

Long, ankle-length wrap coats look newest, done in rich, jewel-toned fabrics. Separates, or two-part look jumpsuits, often double as pajamas. (SS

New Designs, Fabrics Seen In Topcoats This Autumn

Topcoats for this fall come in a combination of smart new model designs plus handsome new fabrics, putting them among the most appealing in a very long time.

Dee Dee Moser

A newcomer on the scene is a slim, trim, two-button model tailored of sleek worsted topcoating fabrics and enhanced by choices of softly rounded cloverleaf lapels and the new "no-notch" lapels.

Another fresh starter in the topcoat category is a slim raglan shouldered balmacaan with a handsomely trimmed down shoulder area. It comes in bold plaids and checks, in the new, lighter tweeds and gabardines in shades ranging from putty to black.

Chesterfields in cheviots and shetlands as well as in dressy meltons, suit the natural shoulder man. Camelhairs make the traditional mark in both easy fitting single-breasted box coats and in the classic double-breasted polo models. Another favorite double-breasted of the traditional group is the short warm adapted from the English officer's coat.

Here are some things to look for in all categories of fashion: more distinct patterns, such as plaids, checks and clearly defined herringbones; overcoats that combine beautifully colored shells with fleece linings.

Some of the more luxurious overcoats find cashmeres and vicunas the featured fabrics and these sometimes carry real fur collars. Some of the new tweeds are finished with handsome wool and tartan linings.

Shorter knee-lengthth and slightly longer models are well established in the fashion picture, and the long coat is virtually the mark of the elderly man. Even the generously collared ulsterettes are in the abbreviated lengths.

THE FIRST chapter in fall's fashion story stars easy, attractive separates. Here, inverted pleat A-line skirt, topped by V-neck weskit, is underscored with print crepe blouse. For young juniors by Russ. (SS

Shaped Suits Coming Back

Fashion is really shaping up in suits for fall, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, and shaping up will be more than a figure of speech when it comes to the new models in men's clothing.

For the first time in many years, the fitted suit shows signs of making a real comeback. New fall suits have enough waist definition to take them out of the loose fitting straight-line category, without sacrificing easy fitting comfort. Versions of the new shapely beauties can be found in the conservative "classics," the very modern "contemporaries" and the natural shoulder "traditionals."

The spring-summer "lighter and brighter look" has also been carried forward into the handsome fall offerings, now supplemented by an attractive revival of the "tweedy look" in cheviots, shetlands and rugged tweeds.

In direct contrast, iridescents are on the way to score further gains in both subtle and flashing varieties.

This is a banner season for sharkskins, too, most of which are unadorned by pattern. Many, however, are embellished with both subdued and distinct designs. The usual tiny stepladder weaves are accompanied by both "birds-eye" and "nailhead" sharkskins.

Among the other fabrics are stretch fabrics, whipcords, worsted flannels, mill finished worsteds and many blends of mohair and worsted.

Contemporary models appear with some new lapels this fall. These include several "no-notch" lapels — some with a down-slope angle and others with a peaked and semi-peaked effect. There are also some "notched-shawl collars" and "peaked shawl collars."

The conservative classic models have been taken out of the dowdy class and influenced by the styled-up contemporaries and natural shouldered traditionals.

Traditionals both with and without vests are strong and frequently carry patch-and-flap lower pockets when tailored of tweeds for country and casual wear. Traditional lapels are a bit wider on some suits and seem wider on others because they are pressed to roll to the center button rather than the top button.

All in all, this fall season offers a wide variety of colors, fabrics and models to whet the fashion tastes of men of all style persuasions.

BACK-OF-THE-HEAD beauty becomes an important part of this fall's look of togetherness. Here, it's achieved by a softly shaped back beret. Fragrance, too, adds to the over-all fashion impression. (SS

Here's Fall in Sportswear

Here comes the sportswear for fall. Here come the mixable separates, the skirts and jumpers, the blouses and sweaters, the jackets and weskits, the pants, the pants suits, the jump suits. Here come the casual dresses and the knits of every variety. Here come the go coats, ready for walking or driving.

Here come the Tom Jones look and the feminine look. Here come the schoolboy look and the sporty look. Here come the traditional classics and the lively new entries.

Here come stretch fabrics. Here come leather and the look-like leathers. Here come the furry piles. And here comes fur, looking more dashingly sporty than ever.

Sportswear fashions for fall arrive with everything to make a woman's wardrobe both wonderful and wonderfully versatile.

In separates, the key word is mixable. All the component parts get together with carefree ease, blending fabrics and colors. The certain sign of fall '64 appears in neckline interest for tops — whether it's a cowl collar, a "Tom Jones" bow, a ruffly frill or a cascading jabot. For instance, this fall's version of the "old school tie" is youthful, flowing, usually threaded around a middy collar.

The season's fashion news is reflected, too, in "action" skirts and jumpers. Skirts take on the lively look with pleats — single pleats, set at the side, front or back; pleats from a "tummy band"; all-around pleats. Jumpers and skirts swing out with low-placed pleats, are eased with side or back wraps. Even the most classic, basic sportswear fashions show hints of this new fall approach to ease.

Beginning with top interest, blouses soften up in more ways than one. The gentle blouson is an important example, paired with slim, but supple, paints or skirts.

Sleeves contribute to the air of ease. They're long and free-flowing, in the Tom Jones manner; they're full and puffed, with the "Hello, Dolly" influence that is responsible for much of this fall's fashion femininity. A differen view of the puffed sleeve shows it slim from the shoulder, then blousing out low on the arm.

Jackets, varying from classic blazers and Chanel looks to "schoolboy" and cutaway treatments, are notable for their good-mixing properties. Weskits complement every look from the Tom Jones to the classic.

Pants suits are planned partnerships of pants with shirts, vests and jackets — at least two parts, and usually more, definitely meant to go together. While they're not intended for town wear, they serve a wide variety of needs, country walks to airplane travel.

Fabric news reveals lots of checks, plaids and tweeds. Knits show up looking smiith, looking textured, looking bulky, looking great in the sportswear fashions of fall '64.

Sportswear Strong On 'Ski,' 'LBJ' Look

In sportswear for fall the "Ski Look" and the "LBJ Western Look" are strong.

"Stretch" is an accepted comfort component of many slacks, shirts and jackets. The "layered look" in sweaters, shirts and outerwear is big, and new shapely sports coats with a slight English accent are also making news.

BOTH FUNCTIONAL and good looking, the new ski-parkas take their styling from the "pro" with big herringbones and bold glen plaids. The LBJ touch is clearly seen in the many suedes with Western style touches.

Luxury leisurewear for fall includes long, real suede coats, shearlings, smooth leathers and suedes teamed with both knit and corduroy trims.

V-neck pullovers are sparked with narrow waistbands and contrasting knit trims at the neckline. Turtlenecks also feature prominently in this fall's sweater line.

Saddle shoulder crew-necks are here for young men and those shoulders get the nod in many of the new six-button cardigans which continue to ride high among the favorites.

LEATHER front sweaters make the autumn scene in an exceptionally wide assortment of pullovers and cardigans. The link alpacas, in more colors than the rainbow, meet the approval of golfers and loungers in coat styles and pullovers, some with modified bellsleeves.

Sport shirts add color and comfort to the autumn scene with button-down collar models still tops for traditional men, while the contemporary dressers enjoy new designs in panels and stripes as well as fancy front knits.

The Western look appears again in slacks with pocket, belt loop and slim-legged style features.

Contemporary-type slacks are long on iridescents while traditionals supplement their gray flannels with Bedford cords and basket weaves in clay tones and putty shades.

IN TAILORED sports jackets the tweed look is very evident. The fitted, more shapely coat sports the English look carrying deeper vents of both the center and side types.

Blazers are still popular as ever. Ranging from traditional flannels to hopsacks, velours, cashmeres and vicunas, there is apparently no end in sight for either the varieities or popularity of the solid color sportsters. (SS

MULTI STRIPES at the closing complement the body, solid sleeves and back of this cardigan sports shirt with rib knit collar. In Acrilan acrylic.

GLAMOUROUS IDEA for fall finds amber at the neckline, in graduated strands of amber beads. (SS

New Hats Are Sporty In Styling

The new hats for fall are charged with revitalized appeal for young men as well as for the more mature fellows in an array of leathers, fabrics and furs.

The LBJ hat, a modified Western-type felt, is returning supplemented by darker "big city" colors and in an assortment of brim widths to suit every taste. This represents what could be an important turning point in hat styles.

In the first place, it is the first time in many years that a new model has been accepted in larger dimensions. Secondly, it is the first time since the beginning of World War II that an "off-the face hat" has met with other than very limited acceptance.

CASUAL HATS with their jaunty styling are geared to the new sportswear. Sueded leathers are keyed to the popular suede look in outerwear and sweater trims in both texture and colors. Cotton suedes are also used in smartly styled hats and caps.

Fabric hats and caps utilize all the popular sportswear tweeds. There are lighter and brighter solid and self patterned cloths as well as a host of checks and plaids. Some of the fabric hats are further enchanced with leather trims and metal ornaments.

Town felts go a shade or two lighter as a natural result of the lightening of fall suit and topcoat colors. Look for new grays, browns, olives.

It's a Technicolor World of Fashion

What milady wants, milady gets this fall in a wide-screen view of color. It's a technicolor world, with the fall fashion lights going up on greens and golds, reds and pinks, blue and purples.

Focusing into fashion is a vast range of greens. Some are light and bright, bringing a delightfully apring-like touch into the fall scene. Woodsy greens make a colorful contrast. In the array from chartreuse to peacock to olive, there's a green to please every woman's wishes.

True blues are strongly in the picture—but then, so are many of blue's kissing cousins, such as cerise, magenta, fuchsia pink, blue spruce and wine bottle.

The winey hues find burgundy and many other "vintage" colors in the limelight. A panorama of royal blues plays up purple, and mauves and lilacs appear alone or, in tweeds, mingling with pinks and greens.

Like true blue, true red sends its fashion message bright and clear. It pales to pink or blends to rust in many fall designs. The russet tones, like the woodsy greens, bring autumn foliage colors into view.

The palest golds light the way to fall, with rich, deep golds to keep them company.

Along with the burst of color, expect to see many important neutrals, led by the most basic colors of all, black and white.

FEMININITY PLUS is the trend in mink fashions for fall. Witness this Black Diamond mink jacket. Standup collar provides a flattering frame for the face. Satin cord bow tie adds a dressmaker touch and secures the neckline. (SS

Back Interest in Hats

Fall Accent on Togetherness

It's a season of togetherness in fashion. Whether classic, sporty or ultra-feminine, the look for fall is a complete look. And it's the hats, the shoes and the accessories that aid and abet a woman in achieving her "togetherness" with fashion.

Starting at the top, new hats crown the looks of fashion in several ways. The look of the gentlewoman can begin with a ladylike toque, a turban, a brimmed hat with wide or narrow curving brim or one of the new scarf hats that drape delightfully. For the active look, set in motion by the swing of pleated skirts, or the trim and tailored look, there are the "scout leader" and safari.

The latter are reminiscent of the "LBJ," and of course, fashion presents many a femininized version of the LBJ itself.

Back action in hats finds everything from little caps to turbans moving to the back of the head, where they are adorned with tiny-to-big bows—a fall presentation of summer's popular, back-of-the-head big hairbow.

JEWELRY ACCENTS the twin looks of the gently feminine and the casually classic. The look of gold is right for either, depending on how it's interpreted. For instance, simple gold chains for the classic look, fuid mesh collars for the faminine evening look.

Pendants from simple crystal drops to heirloom-look clusters and ropes that double and triple around the neck or around the waist are other important entrants.

Handbags swing from shoulder straps in a sportier mood, or accompany the gentlewoman in simple, elegantly detailed shapes. Quilting, chain handles, soft pleating are some of the grace notes for the thoroughly feminine handbag.

DRESSMAKER detailing adds softness to gloves, whether leather or fabrics—bows, pearls, stitching, pretty cuffs. The "good sport" gloves like stiching, too, and interesting texture adds to their classic charm.

Stockings, in everything from diamond and rib patterns for day to lacy weaves for evening, lead to down to shoes, which step forth with a pretty open look and a softer spectator look.

Fabrics Match Tailored And Feminine Silhouettes

Fabrics for fall have personality. In fact, they have two personalities.

This is one case, however, when a dual personality is a decided advantage. Fashion itself looks two ways—toward the softer, more feminine look and toward the tailored, somewhat sporty look. Fabrics pair off perfectly with both these looks.

IN THE SOFT, gentle mood, there are richly textured fabrics—nubby wools, bubbly mohairs, surface-interest tweeds. This is texture with a different, lighter look very much in keeping with the fashions it enhances. Curls, loops and nubs are delicately spun and woven to melt in the fabric. Bulk has vanished, in favor of a lightweight and supple air.

A flash of printed wools — the feminine kind of prints— is on hand to bring still more pretty softness to a variety of fashions.

Fabrics for the tailored look are smartly sophisticated, very smooth and suave. These range from men's wear type woolens with flattened, but elegant, surfaces to crisp silks.

Supple and successful for fall are such fabrics as crepes and lightweight wools. And supple, too, are knits that in themselves display a whole new personality.

KNITS ARE artfully textured to look crocheted. They're ruffled and tucked; they're open and loopy — fisherman types, for example.

Much of the news in fall fabrics centers around stretch. The widest use of stretch fabrics continues to be in sportswear, with lingerie moving up strongly in the use of stretch crepes, laces and tricots. New developments find stretch appearing more frequently in suits and dresses, too. Stretch wools are particularly exciting.

New textured cottons take on the look of brushed leather or suede, vying with the real thing —leather itself—for fashion attention.

Feminine Look Has Foothold on Shoes

Femininity has gained a new footbhold on leather shoe fashions this fall. Gracefully styled leather footwear flatteringly underlines the season's prettiest and most elegant costumes.

From the flattie to the formal evening shoe, there is an increased feeling of delicacy in women's footwear, says Shoe Fashion Service of LeatherSHRiDLU

Shoe Fashion Service of Leather Industries of America. A panorama of leathers — smooth, suede, grained, brushed, waxy, embossed, patent — bring textural beauty to the shape and detailing of fall shoes.

Fresher and truer than in years are fall's shoe colors. Shoes glow in leather shades like berry red, caramel, gold-digger, bright blue and woody brown. Also in the picture are paler tints such as taupe, fawn and pale gold. The natural leather colors and, of course, black continue important.

Shoes for daytime have their ups and downs. They are opened "up" at back or sides, or trimmed "down" for a shallower silhouette. After their successful revival this past spring, leather sling-backs are more popular than ever.

BUCKLES AND bows help carry through the faminine look —tiny bows attached to the straps of a shoe at the side, larger flat bows or buckles at the front.

Even the walking shoe and the spectator have been softened for fall. Leather specs sport slimmer heels, trimer soles and more dramatic color contrasts in tips, stitching and perforations—all adding up to the prettiest spectator in seasons.

Walking shoes are perked up with small buckles, tongues or kilties, and smart stitching effects.

Along the boot beat, lively leathers swing through fall and winter. Leg-hugging boots beguile in polished smooth leather, rugged grains and brushed leather, silky suede and glistening patent leather.

LEATHER-lined, they come in heights from ankle to knee and are at ease in park or parlor. For chilly sessions out of doors, boots with fleecy shearling linings keep toes frost-free.

For entertaining at home, it's chic to shoe up in something special—like a suede bootee in snow violet with gold leather piping, or a red and green printed leather mule with turned-up toes. Mules, thong sandals, bootees and flats in a vatful of colors accessorize gaily with lounging outfits. (SS

Fall Accent on Togetherness

It's a season of togetherness in fashion. Whether classic, sporty or ultra-feminine, the look for fall is a complete look. And it's the hats, the shoes and the accessories that aid and abet a woman in achieving her "togetherness" with fashion.

Starting at the top, new hats crown the looks of fashion in several ways. The look of the gentlewoman can begin with a ladylike toque, a turban, a brimmed hat with wide or narrow curving brim or one of the new scarf hats that drape delightfully. For the active look, set in motion by the swing of pleated skirts, or the trim and tailored look, there are the "scout leader" and safari.

The latter are reminiscent of the "LBJ," and of course, fashion presents many a femininized version of the LBJ itself.

Back action in hats finds everything from little caps to turbans moving to the back of the head, where they are adorned with tiny-to-big bows—a fall presentation of summer's popular, back-of-the-head big hairbow.

JEWELRY ACCENTS the twin looks of the gently feminine and the casually classic. The look of gold is right for either, depending on how it's interpreted. For instance, simple gold chains for the classic look, fuid mesh collars for the faminine evening look.

Pendants from simple crystal drops to heirloom-look clusters and ropes that double and triple around the neck or around the waist are other important entrants.

Handbags swing from shoulder straps in a sportier mood, or accompany the gentlewoman in simple, elegantly detailed shapes. Quilting, chain handles, soft pleating are some of the grace notes for the thoroughly feminine handbag.

DRESSMAKER detailing adds softness to gloves, whether leather or fabrics—bows, pearls, stitching, pretty cuffs. The "good sport" gloves like sticning, too, and interesting texture adds to their classic charm.

New Hats Are Sporty In Styling

The new hats for fall are charged with revitalized appeal for young men as well as for the more mature fellows in an array of leathers, fabrics and furs.

The LBJ hat, a modified Western-type felt, is returning supplemented bv darker "big city" colors and in an assortment of brim widths to suit every taste. This represents what could be an important turning point in hat styles.

In the first place, it is the first time in many years that a new model has been accepted in larger dimensions. Secondly, it is the first time since the beginning of World War II that an "off-the face hat" has met with other than very limited acceptance.

CASUAL HATS with their jaunty styling are geared to the new sportswear. Sueded leathers are keyed to the popular suede look in outerwear and sweater trims in both texture and colors. Cotton suedes are also used in smartly styled hats and caps.

Fabric hats and caps utilize all the popular sportswear tweeds. There are lighter and brighter solid and self patterned cloths as well as a host of checks and plaids. Some of the fabric hats are further enchanced with leather trims and metal ornaments.

Town felts go a shade or two lighter as a natural result of the lightening of fall suit and topcoat colors. Look for new grays, browns, olives.

It's a Technicolor World of Fashion

What milady wants, milady gets this fall in a wide-screen view of color. It's a technicolor world, with the fall fashion lights going up on greens and golds, reds and pinks, blue and purples.

Focusing into fashion is a vast range of greens. Some are light and bright, bringing a delightfully apring-like touch into the fall scene. Woodsy greens make a colorful contrast. In the array from chartreuse to peacock to olive, there's a green to please every woman's wishes.

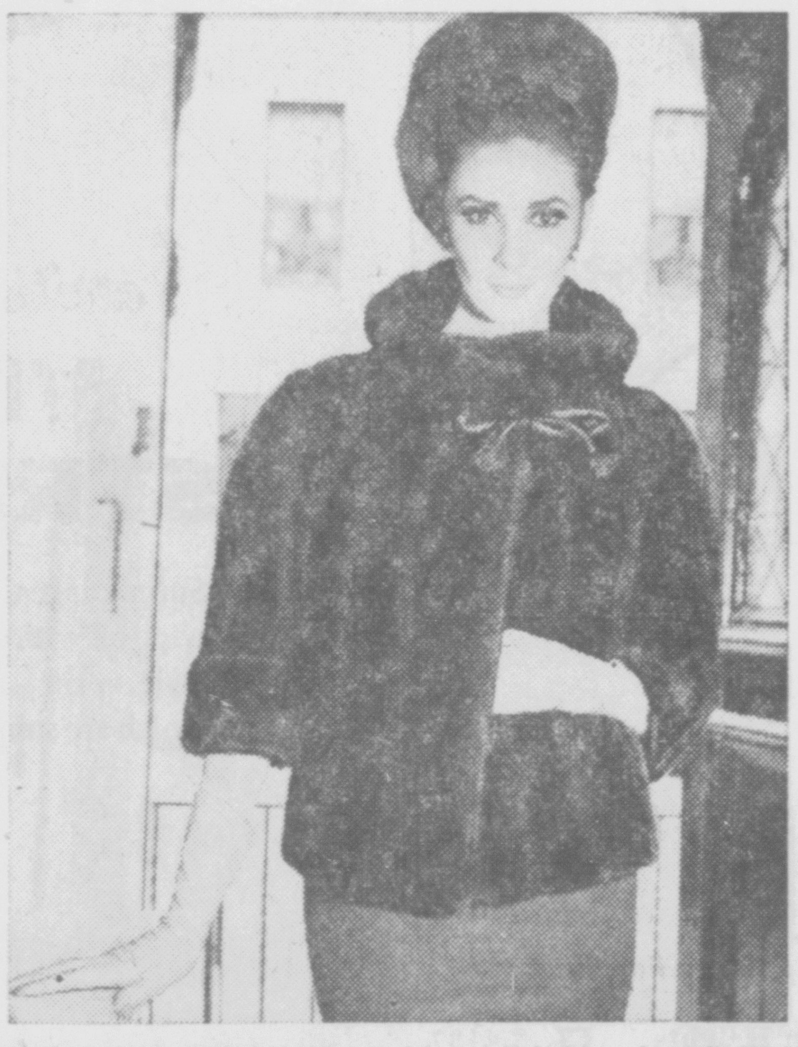
True blues are strongly in the picture—but then, so are many of blue's kissing cousins, such as cerise, magenta, fuchsia pink, blue spruce and wine bottle.

The winey hues find burgundy and many other "vintage" colors in the limelight. A panorama of royal blues plays up purple, and mauves and lilacs appear alone or, in tweeds, mingling with pinks and greens.

Like true blue, true red sends its fashion message bright and clear. It pales to pink or blends to rust in many fall designs. The russet tones, like the woodsy greens, bring autumn foliage colors into view.

The palest golds light the way to fall, with rich, deep golds to keep them company.

Along with the burst of color, expect to see many important neutrals, led by the most basic colors of all, black and white.



FEMININITY PLUS is the trend in mink fashions for fall. Witness this Black Diamond mink jacket. Standup collar provides a flattering frame for the face. Satin cord bow tie adds a dressmaker touch and secures the neckline. (SS

Girls' Shoes Sport Fancy Footwork

Fall sees some fancy young footwork as girls step smartly into fall in new shoes designed for comfort, styled for fun and built for wear.

Style interest for school-age girls is heightened by a new and large choice of leather textures, including smooth, grained, patent, brushed, waxed, suede and embossed reports Shoe Fashion Service of Leather Industries of America.

The fashion-minded young miss starts her season off on the right foot in a pair of smartly styled slipons or sandals. The lass who likes the classics steps out in trim updated moccasins and saddle shoes.

SADDLE treatments may be the standard type or the rounded "bubble"—in smooth leather or in newer versions of patent leather or suede.

Pert tie shoes in brushed, smooth and grained leathers appeal to pert young ladies. Gaily colored ties, tassels, ghillies are featured. These trim ties are perfect playmates for all corduroys and plaids.

The grammar-school gang—junior division of the boot brigade—likes the calf-high boot and the ankle bootie for school and play. In polished leathr, textured grained and brushed leathers, and interesting embossed leathers, children's boots use buckles, Western fringe or buttons as trim. Long play periods out-of-doors call for sheepskin-lined boots. (SS

Foundations Control in Fine Style

A bevy of beautiful prints highlights the foundation garment collections for fall, which are closely allied with fashionable shapes as well as with the colors of new outer apparel.

The prints include a number of florals in brilliant jeweltone combinations, such as emerald with bright blue. There are feather prints in muted tones, and several patterns in a sharp contrast of black against white.

RICH BLACK foundations abound, fashioned of sheer elastics and delicate laces. Ivory is seen in several of the collections; there are browns, bright reds and blues, and soft-to-shocking pinks are returning in foundations for mature as well as for "sweet young thing" figurs.

Stretch laces are used in all types of shapemakers, sometimes as trimming banding the thighline of a pantie girdle, for example—but frequently as the entire fabric of a brassiere, girdle, pantie girdle or corselet. Many slips have stretch lace brassiere sections, and some are all-stretch.

Backs plunge low in a majority of brassieres and corselets, and some bras have no visible back band at all, the anchorage being provided by a ribbon of elastic that circles the waist.

NEW FRONT-plunging foundations for fall have wiring to separate the cups, or demi-cups that curve upwards, into wide-set camisole straps.

Stretch straps continue popular as do long line brassieres with elastic bands fitting well down over the girdle.

Girdles depend upon bias banding, double sections of elastic or sculptured 'round-the-body panels for curve control, and most pantie girdles are constructed to curve rather than to flatten the derriere. Originally styled for wear under stretch pants, the natural-seat pantie girdles are now suggested for suits and casual dresses as well.

Junior-size Fashions Attractive, Practical

Take the latest news in fall fashion. Mix well with youthful liveliness. Stir in an extra helping of dashing, colorful separates.

That's the recipe for junior-size fashions this autumn, and the result is a most attractive, as well as practical, one.

Juniors can expect to find a plentiful variety of important fall fashion ideas, reflected in styles sized for correct fit of the junior figure and planned for their active young lives.

For the daytime wardrobe, both the soft, pretty look and the smart, jaunty look are represented in suits, dresses and separates. Plaids and tweeds, pleats and ruffles all add to the excitement of fall, and all appear in the new junior fashions.

Since juniors are usually among the first to try any new fashion development, the autumn offerings for the young set make good use of stretch fabrics, with their properties of active comfort and smooth fit. Leather looks, especially the cotton suedes, are slated for particular popularity with juniors.

ALL-AROUND coats find color, plaids and tweeds prominent, with double-breasted styling most prevalent. Many junior coats take the added luxury of a fur collar.

The sporty cover-ups get junior attention in such styles as the poncho, the cape and the ubiquitous blazer jacket. Corduroys continue important in the all-weather coat picture, although for really wet weather, the trend among juniors as other fashion groups is toward the "wet look" raincoat in shiny, patterned vinyl.

Shirt-vest-jacket-skirt combinations add up to individuality in a variety of combinations for juniors. Shirts and blouses show new softness, with flowing bows or cowl collars.

Although the jumper retains its popularity with juniors, this fall there's a greater array of smart casual dresses ready to go wherever a jumper might.

FOR AFTER-DARK the dancing dress with supple skirt is expected to gain junior favor.

Juniors have a natural affinity for sweaters, and this fall they'll find a wealth of patterns and styles. Fluffy mohair blends in cardigan and pullover novelty styles are smart with skirts and slacks alike. New fisherman knits are warm and attractive in rich autumn shades.

The sleeveless sweater which can be worn with a shirt or pullover under it or by itself for late-day or at-home wear is gaining in popular appeal. Flat-knit turtleneck and V-neck sweaters appear. (SS

RECORD(S)

BY DUBBIES BASSETT
(Pinch-hitting for Linda Norris)

Are records made to be broken?

Picking up a copy of a trade paper in the amusement field the other day, a classified ad hit your reporter in a tender spot.

This guy wanted to buy all the old "phonograph" records he could, buy them by the pound. (They are then re-sold to fun(?) centers.)

Cracking them over people's heads?

It looks from here as if there is a better use for these old 78's.

Sure, some of them are poor when judged by modern electronic recording standards, but a heck of a lot of them have plenty of fidelity for most of us ordinary listeners.

Surely somewhere they could be put to better use.

They do, after all, represent current (or at least recent) American culture.

Yes, they're out of date as far as we are concerned, and sure, they junk-up auntie's attic, but nevertheless there were some great ones back in the true jazz era and even earlier.

With jazz still on its' world-wide orbit of ever-increasing popularity, somebody ought to be smart enough to buy them (by the pound, just as the "fun" people do), and distribute them where they could be used and enjoyed in a manner more befitting the talented artists who composed, conducted and rendered them as hit tunes back in one of the most wonderful periods of our emerging national musical culture.

A better fate they deserve then serving as clay pigeons for beer-heads at the boiler-makers annual outing.

Come on, one of you enterprising record makers. Figure out a plan and maybe make an unusual contribution to the job our hard-pressed foreign information people are doing, to let the rest of the world know, how good is the voice of America.

Late-Day Gowns Have Lively Look

Late-day dressing answers the fashion call to the active look with a variety of slim but lively shapes. The "little black dress" and its companions in white and colors are getting ready for a busy fall.

The new look for evening fashions gets its impetus from a wave of interest in dancing and especially in new dances. The twist and the hully-gully have been joined by a host of others, with such unlikely names as the "Madison," "Jamaica," "ska," "surf," "watusi" and "chicken back."

SINCE lively dances require lively fashions, new dresses show more ease. While bodices are usually simply shaped and gently fitted, dress skirts particularly are designed to be ready for movement. Pleats, flares, fringe, bias cuts give a pretty, feminine look, and give the wearer room for agility.

Ruffles are the rage. In some cases, a dress may be all ruffles — tier after tier from neckline to hem.

Following along with the mood for movement, fabrics are supple. Laces, crepes, velvets, matelasses compose many of fall's late-day dress.

Also allowing for action, the short dress for evening wear is back in full force.

Glamour Afoot

Pairing up with at-home fashions, glamorous slippers appear with higher, shapelier heels, in opulent fabrics. Fur trims and linings add elegance.

Duty is carrying on promptly, and faithfully the affairs now before you. —Goethe

ALL-AROUND coats find color, plaids and tweeds prominent, with double-breasted styling most prevalent. Many junior coats take the added luxury of a fur collar.

The sporty cover-ups get junior attention in such styles as the poncho, the cape and the ubiquitous blazer jacket. Corduroys continue important in the all-weather coat picture, although for really wet weather, the trend among juniors as other fashion groups is toward the "wet look" raincoat in shiny, patterned vinyl.

Shirt-vest-jacket-skirt combinations add up to individuality in a variety of combinations for juniors. Shirts and blouses show new softness, with flowing bows or cowl collars.

Although the jumper retains its popularity with juniors, this fall there's a greater array of smart casual dresses ready to go wherever a jumper might.

FOR AFTER-DARK the dancing dress with supple skirt is expected to gain junior favor.

Juniors have a natural affinity for sweaters, and this fall they'll find a wealth of patterns and styles. Fluffy mohair blends in cardigan and pullover novelty styles are smart with skirts and slacks alike. New fisherman knits are warm and attractive in rich autumn shades.

The sleeveless sweater which can be worn with a shirt or pullover under it or by itself for late-day or at-home wear is gaining in popular appeal. Flat-knit turtleneck and V-neck sweaters appear. (SS

Late-Day Gowns Have Lively Look

Late-day dressing answers the fashion call to the active look with a variety of slim but lively shapes. The "little black dress" and its companions in white and colors are getting ready for a busy fall.

The new look for evening fashions gets its impetus from a wave of interest in dancing and especially in new dances. The twist and the hully-gully have been joined by a host of others, with such unlikely names as the "Madison," "Jamaica," "ska," "surf," "watusi" and "chicken back."

SINCE lively dances require lively fashions, new dresses show more ease. While bodices are usually simply shaped and gently fitted, dress skirts particularly are designed to be ready for movement. Pleats, flares, fringe, bias cuts give a pretty, feminine look, and give the wearer room for agility.

Ruffles are the rage. In some cases, a dress may be all ruffles — tier after tier from neckline to hem.

Following along with the mood for movement, fabrics are supple. Laces, crepes, velvets, matelasses compose many of fall's late-day dress.

Also allowing for action, the short dress for evening wear is back in full force.

Glamour Afoot

Pairing up with at-home fashions, glamorous slippers appear with higher, shapelier heels, in opulent fabrics. Fur trims and linings add elegance.

Duty is carrying on promptly, and faithfully the affairs now before you. —Goethe

DRESSED FOR A DATE or a day downtown, Jackie Spicer wears a princess style Maggie Stover dress in wool crepe with trumpet skirt. The color is sailor blue with red braid trim on collar and sleeves and red tie. She wears matching blue gloves and carries a red clutch bag by Margolin. The outfit may be had at Maison de Romayne at 43 S. Dunton St., Arlington Heights, where Jackie's mother has just taken a position as assistant buyer. (Staff Photo).

Girls' Shoes Sport Fancy Footwork

Fall sees some fancy young footwork as girls step smartly into fall in new shoes designed for comfort, styled for fun and built for wear.

Style interest for school-age girls is heightened by a new and large choice of leather textures, including smooth, grained, patent, brushed, waxed, suede and embossed reports Shoe Fashion Service of Leather Industries of America.

The fashion-minded young miss starts her season off on the right foot in a pair of smartly styled slipons or sandals. The lass who likes the classics steps out in trim updated moccasins and saddle shoes.

SADDLE treatments may be the standard type or the rounded "bubble"—in smooth leather or in newer versions of patent leather or suede.

Pert tie shoes in brushed, smooth and grained leathers appeal to pert young ladies. Gaily colored ties, tassels, ghillies are featured. These trim ties are perfect playmates for all corduroys and plaids.

The grammar-school gang—junior division of the boot brigade—likes the calf-high boot and the ankle bootie for school and play. In polished leathr, textured grained and brushed leathers, and interesting embossed leathers, children's boots use buckles, Western fringe or buttons as trim. Long play periods out-of-doors call for sheepskin-lined boots. (SS

Tells Reasons for Opposing Bank's Plans for Davis St.

As a person whose background and experience are in the field of communications, I have been impressed for many years with your splendid publication, one of the finest of its type in the country, and with your constructive efforts to improve and refine it.

It was, therefore, embarrassing, as if I myself had been guilty, to find a bit of narrow reporting in last week's front-page article on the suit by Arlington Heights National Bank against the Village.

The article accused the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Association of "strenuous" opposition to the Bank's plan for a 21-foot extension on their present building to house the drive-in windows.

The article added that the Association's reason for opposition was the fact that "a second story atop the windows would serve as a massive billboard and block the front view of their building." Any one who attended the hearings before the village board—or simply read the accounts of these hearings in your newspaper — would be aware of far more substantial reasons for opposition. These reasons are important not only to the Association and its members, but to every citizen of Arlington Heights.

Traffic Congestion. Practically every downtown community in America is suffering from inadequate streets to accommodate burgeoning populations and rising percentages in the use of automobiles.

Closing off Davis Street to allow the bank to build on it would badly impair downtown traffic flow, causing serious back-ups particularly on Campbell, Dunton and Evergreen Streets.

While this would seem self-evident, the Association engaged a firm of planning engineers whose traffic experts analyzed the impact of a closed Davis Street on downtown congestion. Their findings were submitted to the village board in hearings last November.

Such congestion is not a matter of concern only to the Association and downtown merchants; it is of vital importance to all Arlington Heights property owners for in time it will affect the value of their homes. Reduced downtown sales and sales-tax revenues will consequently mean higher assessments on income.

Traffic congestion was a concern to the village board members throughout these hearings. They were obviously reluctant to approve the vacation of Davis Street until they could learn how extensively the bank planned to use it.

At the September, 1963 meeting, Trustee Stephens stated that he was opposed to granting an ordinance for the vacation of Davis Street between Dunton and Evergreen until an indication was submitted by the police chief as to "what effect there will be on traffic and what type of building is to go up, and where the traffic flow will be routed."

At the Sept. 30 meeting, Village President Woods said that the bank's proposed parking layout and drive-in facilities were "clearly a departure from anything that was ever discussed."

At the same meeting Douglas Dodds, executive vice president of the bank, told the village trustees, "I think you are going about it wrong to try to visualize now everything that can happen."

But at the Oct. 21 meeting he announced to the trustees, "now I am going to shock you" and he proceeded to inform them that he had in mind putting two stories of office space above the drive-in windows. Later, on Nov. 5, 1963, he said he may be thinking in terms of a 10-story building!

Is it any wonder that the Association—indeed every Arlington Heights citizen—should be concerned about the vacation of Davis Street and the bank's intention with respect to its use?

Development According to Plan. Downtown communities cannot much longer expand and congest on a laissez-faire basis without attention to well-conceived and approved over-all plans. Such a blueprint for Arlington Heights, popularly known as the Plaza Plan, has received general acceptance since its publication in 1959.

Again, the village trustees have made repeated references to the plan and to the desirability of preserving its features.

Village President Woods at the Nov. 5, 1963, meeting reviewed the purposes of the plan, which he said "were recognized as beneficial by the entire business community."

Among these purposes he noted an increase in the number of free shopper parking facilities, the prevention of open land from being sold piecemeal for indiscriminate commercial use, the prevention of buildings "from being constructed along the railroad frontage with a resultant obstruction of the extensive view of the existing and proposed retail facilities from autos travelling on Northwest Highway and other principal arteries" (here he was quoting the exact words of the Plaza Plan), and the revitalization of the downtown area with additional free parking.

Earlier, at the Oct. 22 meeting, President Woods noted the "over - riding importance" of downtown parking and of preserving a park-like effect in the unoccupied land north and south of the railroad tracks. These have been major considerations at all times when downtown planning was considered.

The Association believes that the Plaza Plan should be adhered to—unless and until another plan, involving comparable study and research, shows even more compelling logic and widespread approval.

I hope these observations will make clear to your readers that the directors of the Savings and Loan Association, with whom I am proud to be associated, have more sound and selfless reasons for the actions they have undertaken than opposition to a "billboard" that blocks their view.

Finds News Reports of 'Great Value'

Your recent questionnaire to subscribers was a vivid illustration that the Herald has been constantly recognizing that, though we may wish for the small village, Arlington Heights is leaping forward in size and changing in views.

We are still small enough not to want to injure our neighbors because of distasteful printed discussion of their personal problems, thanks be. But we no longer can easily find out if it is true that John fell while painting, or Elsie was hurt in a car, or why the sirens went by last night. We all wish for this small local news to be increased.

Meanwhile, your incisive reporting of the village administration, and of the issues involved, have been more penetrating as time has passed and been of great value to all.

We were warned of the children behavior problem in Arlington before moving here, Owning property for 25 years, could not believe it possible.

Mr. Cooney, as your property is being wrecked the parents are relieved of their responsibility. We see children roam the streets from dawn to dusk with no parental supervision.

Youth Week Helpers Thanked By Teen Mayor

As ex-teen mayor of Rolling Meadows, I would publicly like to thank all the people of our city who participated in any of our activities of the recent Youth Week.

There are many people who deserve special thanks for their part in planning our youth week including: Mayor Woods, Mr. Campion, Mr. Reznick, Officer Golden, Mr. Conley, Mrs. Hester Kline, and many others too numerous to mention.

Because of their help and guidance, our Youth Week was a complete success. Special credit should go to the teenagers who worked long hours on the various committees. A special "thanks" to Linda Eberhard and Pat Marcucci for a job well done.

I am proud and grateful for the opportunity of having been your teen mayor. I have enjoyed my term and will look back on it with fond memories. I wish the new officials the best of luck.

I believe that with hard work and determination, their goals will be reached and they will do their part in making Rolling Meadows a better place in which to live.

'Let Us See More of the Right Side'

We have been reading the Register for 22 years; the last two years we've had it mailed to our home. I never in all those years have seen such a disgraceful picture and story as "How to Survive Your Own Party."

What kind of ideas do you suppose the young people derive from it? We hear and read about what's happening to our young people and what should be done about it. The description and pictures you had in Suburbia Today did not leave much to their imagination.

We've been reading in our daily papers about the drive on smut, to stamp it out, and now you come along with a flagrant disregard for our young people.

I dearly love young people and I hope and pray I always shall. Any civic drive, sport event, the Scouts, etc., pertaining to helping the young, we help all we can. You see, we are grandparents of 9 and great grandparents of 6 so you can understand I love children.

I wouldn't want any of them or any I know to see that awful picture and story you had in Suburbia for September. Why show the wrong side? Let us see more of the right side.

WANT AD INFORMATION

DEADLINES

Classified advertising now appearing in Thursday editions, can also be scheduled in Sunday Suburbanite at the same time at advantageous discount. No classified advertising will be accepted for just the Sunday Suburbanite, without also appearing in the Thursday editions.

Tuesday at 3 p.m. for Thursday editions, and for Thursday-Sunday combination. Ads received until 10 a.m. Wednesday will appear in "Too late to Classify" section of Thursday editions. Thursday at Noon for Sunday Suburbanite for Sunday-Thursday insertions.

RATES

Reader classified rates: 20c a word first insertion, 17c a word repeated consecutive insertions. Minimum charge for any ad $2.00.

Display classified rates: $4.90 per col. inch first insertion, $4.20 per col. inch repeated consecutive insertions.

We also offer a contract rate to display classified advertisers. Special introductory offer, for limited time only, 50% discount on classified advertising appearing in the Sunday Suburbanite in addition to the Thursday editions.

BLIND ADS

A $1 service charge will be made for all ads when replies are to be received through this newspaper.

ADJUSTMENTS

If your ad appears incorrectly, notify us immediately. We accept responsibility for the first incorrect insertion only. Such responsibility is limited to such a proportion of the entire cost of the advertisement as the space occupied by the error bears to the entire space of the advertisement.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Ads will be taken over the telephone on a charge basis if the advertiser is listed in the phone book, or a subscriber to one of our newspapers. All ads appearing under "Situations Wanted" classification must be paid in advance.

KNITTERS WHAT'S NEW?

Those are the first words of many of you when you come in — and we've been so involved lately we haven't even had time to tell you.

Today let's talk about Reynold's DANSK. It's new. A water resistant yarn that Mr. Reynolds found in Denmark. A perfect yarn for a really elegant ski sweater. The colors are very Scandinavian. The feel — it's soft but its cablee twist makes it hard wearing. Also Reynolds came out with a beautiful new book — devoted entirely to DANSK — and a most exciting collection of new Ski Designs. Price to make $15 to $20 for an adult. Your finished sweater will be worth many times that amount.

KNITTERS WHAT'S NEW?

Those are the first words of many of you when you come in — and we've been so involved lately we haven't even had time to tell you.

Today let's talk about Reynold's DANSK. It's new. A water resistant yarn that Mr. Reynolds found in Denmark. A perfect yarn for a really elegant ski sweater. The colors are very Scandinavian. The feel — it's soft but its cablee twist makes it hard wearing. Also Reynolds came out with a beautiful new book — devoted entirely to DANSK — and a most exciting collection of new Ski Designs. Price to make $15 to $20 for an adult. Your finished sweater will be worth many times that amount.
